Township To Drop Caucus For Primary

NEW ELECTORAL PLAN FORCED BY GROWTH SUPERVISOR DECLARES

Like Topsy, the political caucus has grown out of size in Tecumseh township.

Ruled cumbersome and unwieldy, this antiquaited system of nominating political candidates in old-fashioned town meetings was dropped in favor of a more modern and streamlined method of choice by primary election.

At its December meeting the township board decided that the increased population (registered electors now exceed 3,000) forced the petition-and-primary system here.

Supervisor LeRoy Titley said the old system of an annual public meeting of each party is now impractical. It had been in use since the original organization of the township.

The changeover becomes effective immediately.

So township candidates who seek to run in the April general election must follow a new procedure for nomination.

First they must circulate petitions and file same with the township clerk (H. H. Hanna) on or before Dec. 29. These must bear signatures of a minimum of 1% of the registered voters. As approximately 3,000 are currently registered, 30 names are required on every petition.

Secondly, primary elections for both parties will be held on Feb. 16 to determine the candidates who will run in opposition in April along with state and county contests.

This affects all township officers, supervisor, clerk, treasurer, justice of the peace and four constables.

Titley said the system is common with thickly populated townships who, like Tecumseh, have found the caucus awkward and unwieldy.

Steel Poles For Village Approved

COUNCIL GOES ALONG WITH C OF C OPINION

Twenty-six out of 39 main street merchants indirectly advised the village council—through a Chamber of Commerce voice of opinion—that they favored installing new metal light poles for the downtown area with modern illuminating fixtures plus overhead wiring. So Monday night the village trustees decided to follow the consensus and approved a plan to install the favored "steel poles."

This action came after nearly two months flare-up over an earlier decision by the council to put wooden poles up.

After a group of interested businessmen intervened, the C of C studied the lighting controversy and reported to the council the following results of a recent poll of public opinion:

26 favored new steel poles, new light fixtures and overhead wiring

7 favored the same lighting

5 favored underground wiring

Santa's Still Favorite With Local Kids

Old friendships were renewed in Tecumseh last Friday night when 2,200 youngsters turned out to greet the jolly little man from the North Pole who brought the spirit of Christmas into the hearts of his most ardent followers.

And Santa didn't let his admirers down as boxes of candy were distributed to each boy and girl on hand after he and his eight tiny reindeer — Dasher, Dancer, Dunder, Blitzen, Comet, Cupid, Vixen and Prancer — paraded through the business district before an awe-filled audience.

It was the beginning of another Yuletide shopping season and a reacquaintance between Santa and the kids of Tecumsehland.

Arrangements for Santa's visit and the kid's party were completed by the Exchange and Rotary club, Veterans of Foreign Wars and American Legion, Village Council and Community Fund. Harold Easton was general chairman.

Stores have thrown their doors open to an army of holiday shoppers who are reportedly doing a good turn by local retailers. Stores will remain open nights right up to Christmas eve — next Wednesday.

Santa has been on the street during the afternoon early this week but will go on an evening schedule starting today and continuing through Wednesday. After his tour of duty Christmas eve, St. Nick will visit the hospital and Parrett nursing home with gift-boxed candy.

Arrangements can still be made for Santa to visit sick children at home by phoning 259. Christmas carol groups are also asked to phone this number if willing to sing any evening in the business district.

The post office will stay open Saturday until 5:30 to handle the avalanche of mail which may set a local record if the current volume continues.

Elsewhere the spirit of Christmas has engulfed Tecumseh as a wide variety of activities have kept local people in the holiday whirl.

MORENCI 3RD VICTIM OF INDIANS 67 - 50

Big Jim Wilson worked the nets for 27 points Tuesday night as Tecumseh high Indians whooped to their third straight win in as many times out this season.

It was Tecumseh in front at all quarter stops 17-9, 37-19 and 53-35 before rolling up a 17 point margin on the local hardcourt.

Lanky Jack Greenwald was a thorn in the loser's side all evening as he cleared both boards to set-up scoring combinations. Coach Lawson had nothing but praise for the entire squad which had earlier dumped Addison and Hillsdale.

On Thursday, Lawson takes his cagers to Clinton for their final pre-holiday clash. On January 6 they resume play at Monroe and return home against Hudson January 9.

Morenci reserves knocked off the little Indians in a preliminary game Tuesday night 43-28.

JAMES H. HATCH BURIED IN MACON

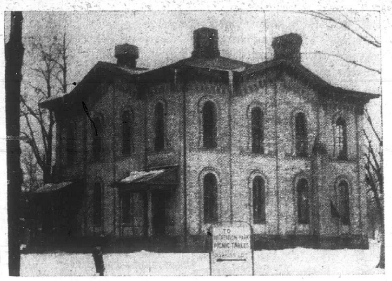
James Harold Hatch, 74, died suddenly of a heart attack Saturday at 1 a.m. in his room at the Hotel Cheif.

Born, June 10, 1878, one mile south of Macon, he was the son of the late James D. and Anna Mills Hatch. He had lived in Tecumseh for the past 20 years and had been an active Republican worker in late years. Preceeding the last election Mr. Hatch was reported to have walked many miles registering voters for Tecumseh township. His hotel room was filled with statistical materials on political and national issues.

Surviving are several nieces, nephews, and cousins. He was preceded in death by his wife Georgia in 1932, and two brothers, William B. Hatch in 1939, and Mills Hatch in 1940.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 in the Collins Funeral Home, the Rev. Edward Escolme officiating. Burial was in Macon cemetery. The bearers were Robert L. Hatch, George B. Hefferan, Donald Blatchford, Peter Goehif, Raymond Hatch, and Mills Swick.

East Branch Was Early Answer To Overcrowded Schools---Now For Sale



After 83 years, Tecumseh's East Branch school, pictured in its current stage of vacancy, may be removed as a local landmark. For its destiny was written by the Board of Education who recently offered the structure and its property on East Chicago "to the highest bidder."

By Miss Clara Waldron

The present problem of too many school children and too few schools is not a new one in the annals of our town. At least twice before in its history Tecumseh has been faced with a similar situation. In one case the solution was the "New East Branch," the two story, brick building at Maumee and Chicago Blvd. soon to be sold by order of the School Board. It was built in 1869 and was considered quite a magnificant supplement to the "building program" of a still earlier day.

The first crisis had come at the end of the decade between 1830 and 1840, when the high tide of western pioneer migration had increased the population of Tecumseh township from 771 to 2503. Then three, one-room, brick schools were built in the village, one in Brownville which still stands, one on the site of the present West Branch and one on the north side of East Kilbuck street near Oneida. This was the first East Branch and was sold in 1870, building and lot, to Wm. McCowan for $600.00. These buildings housed the primary grades for about thirty years, while "higher education" was supplied, first, by a branch of the University of Michigan and, then, by the " Tecumseh Institute," both of which were held in the Court House, then standing in Adams Park. Learning in both these institutions was obtained for a price and, odd as it now seems, even when the first public High School was opened in 1856 its students all paid a tuition fee for several years.

The period immediately following the Civil War was one of expansion for Tecumseh, both in population and in building and in September 1868, the school meeting voted (with some opposition) a direct tax of $3000.00 for the erection of a new grade school in the east part of town. In January, 1869, a loan of $6000.00 at 10% was also voted to complete the building and in the fall of that year it was ready for use. The pale yellow brick used in its construction seems to have been much favored during that period; it was heated by two wood-burning furnaces; enclosed by a wooden fence and reached by side walks of wooden planks. A chain pump was installed in the well and in the spring a careful school board ordered the building equipped with lightning rods.

New Gift Policy For Teachers Set

BOARD ALSO APPROVES JR. HIGH FOOTBALL

A new gift policy, which was originally discussed and outlined by the teachers, was approved by Tecumseh's board of education at a meeting last week and is outlined here by Supt. James McDowell as a four point suggestion for parents and pupils alike.

All grade school parties must be uniform in regard to amount spent for refreshments and gifts. Drawing of names, teachers included, will be permitted with the limit of one gift to each person. A definite limitation on the amount to be spent must be agreed upon before-hand. The teachers suggested a 25c limit for this year.

Teachers will be allowed to accept small individual gifts from pupils.

All collections by pupils, or parents, for gifts to teachers must be eliminated at once.

The faculty as a whole discourages the giving of elaborate gifts to teachers. The amount spent on gifts must be approved by the Student Council in the case of secondary schools.

In another action, the school board last week approved a plan to inaugurate a Junior high football program, not on a competitive basis between schools, but on a schedule between teams within the local school. Four teams will probably be organized next fall on a weight basis, possibly two teams over 110 pounds and two under.

High school principal Neville Hart and Coach Victor Lawson who proposed the program, look to it as a safety precaution in contrast to a material building project. They point to a dozen Tecumseh high injuries this season with the thought that youngsters should be taught to use proper equipment in Junior high and receive some basic coaching before they develop any bad habits of awkward gridiron play. They said that every fall dozens of dangerous tackling games go on uncoached on sandlots and backyards around the village.

Hart and Lawson said similar programs are underway at other schools where seventh and eighth graders are issued standard football equipment and play under the guidance of a Junior high athletic director.

The school board further announced that bids will be let to sell the old East Branch school in the near future and that anyone interested in its purchase should contact Supt. McDowell. The building was condemned a number of years ago for further school use and has stood vacant on East Chicago Blvd.

An approval was received from the Department of Public Instruction for the contractors to go ahead with building both the Patterson Elementary school and the high school additions. This final approval from Lansing is almost automatic, McDowell said, but necessary. The local board also approved two final contracts, which were plumbing bids for this work. Dunbar Borten Co., Adrian, was granted a contract for $68,188 and Young & Ost, Milan, granted another for $76,087, these are separate bids for plumbing and heating.

Jail For Drunken Drivers — Chief

Police chief George Kilbourn has announced that his department has joined the Michigan Association of Chiefs of Police in sponsoring the State Safety program aimed at reducing traffic accidents caused by drunk driving.

According the Chief Kilbourn "A car that doesn't know where it's going can find a hundred different ways to kill people. Such a car is one in the hands of a drunk driver."

The drunk driving problem is so serious that the State Liquor Control Commission and the Michigan Table Top Licensees Congress have joined forces on a vigorous public education program. 20,000 posters reading "Drunk Drivers Go To Jail" and 235,000 table tents reading "If You Are Driving Take It Easy—Don't Lose Your Driver's License" will be used in every bar and tavern throughout the state.

In appealing to all motorists to cooperate on the December safety program Chief Kilbourn said, "The approaching holiday season makes everyone look forward to parties, receptions and reunions where everybody may enjoy a celebration. It is also important for everybody to look forward to getting home safely from these celebrations. Don't let a drunk driving accident spoil your holiday."

THOSE YOUNG PEOPLE — If you have ever declared doubt about the younger generation, your question marks would have been answered with exclamations last week if you were among the throng on hand for the Christmas program at Central school. The 500-or-so youngsters who portrayed early Christmas customs and sang the beloved Christmas carols can be credited in the strongest superlatives for more than a job well done — for a reaffirmation of belief in the boys and girls who are now wading through grade school. Their capable instructor Mrs. Schippers (pronounced Skippers) has a share in the avalanche of praises for the acting and singing which, editorially, is minor to the spirit of obedience and good behavior that comes only from the home, and was evident everywhere among those younsters at their grade school Christmas program.

BEHIND THE SCENES — Behind the hurdy-gurdy of our stepped-up Christmas tempo is a deep inward spiritual meaning of Christiandom's beginning which is sometimes lost in the commercialized advertisements, in the jammed mail box, in the lighted front lawn or in the holiday party. For the show window of Christmas is ablaze with greetings while the holy sanctuary of worship gleams only with the same joy of a Living Christ which was abundant last, and the year before and the year before that.

Let us bring this gleam back to life by seeking out a meaning to the birth of Christ. In Him was life, and the life was the light of men. In a time of world confusion and perplexity, when many are anxious and over-burdened, when others have lost their central purpose and way, surely at Christmastide comes the call to repentance, to reconsecration, and to thanksgiving to God. The real Christmas is not to be found in externals but within the human heart. As we kneel at the table of the Lord on Christmas Day, we learn one of the great lessons of life, that they who wait upon the Lord will renew their strength.

IKE FACES LONG STRUGGLE — General Eisenhower is not to be envied when one takes into the consideration the magnitude of the international danger he will face as he begins to serve his first term (or terms) as President.

The President-elect probably understands the threat of communism as well as most people, perhaps as well as anyone alive. If he does, he knows that many of us — most of us — are still unaware of the problems that confront a divided world, which is living in an atomic age plus a hydrogen bomb threat.

America refuses to believe that another war is inevitable. Most of us seem to think that our atomic research and weapons will prevent Russia from touching off WWIII. We are even so sure and willing to take a risk that we refuse to adopt universal military training service, defer young men by the millions, who in time of all out war would have no training to make them useful to their country. In fact, if a war developed suddenly, the only available manpower available would be the veterans — veterans of WWII and of the present mobilization and the Korean War.

General Ike must keep the country strong and must match cold blooded Russian patience with a patience of his own — AND he must keep the nation's minds alert and thinking in terms of the times and the conditions. We must keep our guard up even though the American people have a tendency to let down. He must keep the Allied countries together. It might be a big order for Ike but he has the blessing of America's trust and confidence.

— o —

EVERYDAY TEAM PLAY — You simply can't beat old fashioned cooperation, whether it be on Tecumseh's main street or in a large industrial plant. Elbert Hubbard puts this thought in an interesting, though different, way, "If you work for a man, in heaven's name work for him. If he pays you wages that supply your bread and butter, work for him, think well of him and stand by him and the institution he represents. So long as you are a part of an institution, do not condemn it, when you disparage the concern which you are a part of, you disparage yourself."

All Can Feel
Sincerely Welcome . . .

There is no mistaking the warmth and sincerity of our welcome to everyone, and the true spirit of our service. It is a quality present with all whom we serve, and with every visitor calling. Sincere, alert and friendly service to all is our promise to every family we serve. Be assured that friends calling to pay respects will be most welcome.

East Branch

The building, however, is of passing interest compared with its site, for part of the ground on which it stands was one of the four plats of land given to the citizens of the town "for the public good," by the original founders. Almost before the first house had been built in the new settlement, these men, Austin E. Wing, Joseph Brown and Musgrove Evans, had petitioned the territorial government to have their town named the county seat of Lenawee, and, because Wing was a close friend of Gov. Cass and others in authority, commissioners were sent at once to examine and approve the location and the 1824 meeting of the Territorial Legislative Council made it official. There were, however, several provisions to be fulfilled among them that four plats of land were to be set aside for the "Public Good." These were immediately decided upon and included in Evan's survey of the town plat. They were: a Military Square, now used as a play ground for the Central school; a public burying ground, now Elliott Park; a court house square, the present Adams Park; and on the opposite corner a plat for a "Public Promenade." All of the land of the original town site had been purchased by Wing at the Monroe land office and stood in his name but, as a Wing, Evans and Brown company had been organized it seems probable they all shared in the gift.

Then, more than forty years later the School Board of another generation wished to build a school house on the Public Promenade and, while there seemed to have been no protest from the public, there was a question of legal title. Fortunately—perhaps—this was a period when the fortunes of the town were largely dominated, politically, culturally and educationally by lawyers, and three of the most astute, Judge Consider A. Stacy, Edwin B. Wood and Perley Bills were members of the school board. So a way was found. A court order was applied for and granted by the Circuit Judge, voiding the public claim; the heirs of Austin E. Wing signed off any claim they may have had and the school board assumed possession. But even that was not quite all, more land was needed to give the school ample grounds. This was obtained by purchasing a strip from members of the Presbyterian church whose first "Session House" stood just north of the Public Promenade on land given them by Musgrove Evans. The price was $100.00 and about this title there is no question.

The "Ward Teachers" for the year 1869, who must have presided over the four new class rooms, were the Misses Jennie Chase, E. M. Barrett and Caroline Colvin and Mrs. F. M. Banta, each of whom received a yearly salary of $280.00, while Janitor Ezekiel Wilson fed the wood burning furnaces for a wage of $375.00. Other early teachers include Grace Parkhurst, Grace Willetts, and Florence Shepherd while the one is probably best remembered for her long association with the building was Miss Nannie Kyle.

The East Branch was in constant use for almost fifty years until the opening of the Central Building in 1918, when grade classes were transferred there, and the branches were closed. This continued for about ten years until the increase in population again necessitated the use of the two class rooms on the first floor, and for some time the Boy Scout meetings were held on the second. Three years ago its use was permanently discontinued and now the East Branch is to be sold and the Public Promenade will no longer be held "for the Public Good."

MISS DOROTHY M. BOWEN WEDS CHARLES THUMSER

The First Presbyterian church was the setting for a lovely pre-season wedding when Miss Dorothy Morgan Bowen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Bowen, became the bride of Charles Frederick Thumser of Birmingham, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Thumser of Fowlerville. White lighted candles and chrysanthemums formed the background for the single ring ceremony performed by the Rev. George Walworth, Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore her sister's wedding gown of ivory satin, fitted bodice and long pointed sleeves. The high collar and keyhole neckline embroidered with sequins and pearls and full skirt extended into a long circular train. Her double finger tip veil was attached to a small net hat edged with satin and pearls. She wore three strands of pearls and carried a cascade bouquet of white roses and ivy. Mrs. Louise Bandemer of Grosse Pointe Park, was her sisters only attendant, and she wore a gold ankle-length gown of tiered net with a velvet midriff and carried a matching bouquet of yellow roses.

Mrs. Frederick C. Dickinson was organist and played nuptial music, as the guests were being seated by Howard Love of Franklyn, and Robert Richards of Royal Oak. Harold Hanson of Birmingham served Mr. Thumser as best man.

Mrs. Bowen chose for her daughter's wedding a steel blue taffeta gown with sequins and black accessories and wore a corsage of white camellias. Mrs. Thumser chose an aqua crepe dress trimmed with lace and a corsage of pink camellias. Mrs. Mae Morgan, grandmother of the bride, wore a pink camellia corsage.

A reception was held at the Tecumseh Country Club for 175 guests with Mr. and Mrs. Dale Bowen acting as hosts. Mrs. Morris Tubbs was at the guest book. The club was decorated in keeping with the holiday season. The bride's table centered with the traditional bridal cake was trimmed with gold bells and chains. Mr. and Mrs. Jack Harrison were at the punch bowl and Miss Dulcie Bowen and Miss Sally Morgan assisted with the serving. The Misses Ann McHugh and Carol Armstrong of Birmingham poured. Mrs. Jack Dillon and Mrs. Bud Erickson of Birmingham cut and served the cake.

For traveling the new Mrs. Thumser changed to a lilac beige silk shantung dress with black accessories and wore a rhinestone necklace a gift of the groom. Her corsage was of yellow rose buds. Mrs. Thumser is a graduate of Tecumseh high school and from Michigan State College where she received her B.S. degree. She has been teaching mathematics in Birmingham since graduation. Mr. [illegible] of Howell high school and Michigan State Normal College where he received his B.S. degree. He served overseas in World War II and has taught mathematics in Birmingham for the last four-and one-half years. Both will continue teaching in Birmingham. They will reside at 888 Chapin, Birmingham.

Following this wide percentage for steel poles, the council favorably considered an immediate order with Consumers Power. The proposed standards will be higher with an overhanging fixture and shaded bulb which projects all the light downward. Each of 16 poles will cost $125 with the exception of four on the main intersection on which will cost $175.

PUBLIC OPEN HOUSE

In a further action Monday night village President Ed Heilman announced that the $285,000 sewage disposal plant is near completion and will be thrown open to the public for inspection on Saturday, January 17.

At this time, Heilman now feels, the job should be done and on this date the plant thrown into operation.

Two thousand people are expected at the open house which starts at 9 a.m. and continues all day. The new plant has many points of extreme interest.

PETITIONS APPROVED

Also at the Monday night meeting, the council approved two petitions for curb and gutters, one on north Union between Shawnee and Logan, the other on West Brown between Union and Mill. The petitions were accepted on the basis of 50% or more property owners signed and are subject to future hearing.

As the village pays a share of the curb and gutter work, petitioners are asked to file prior to January 1 and the acceptance of the 1953 budget.

A number of new ordinance revisions were also accepted by the council. A purchase of $3,800 was approved for new fire hose from a Detroit firm.

This was the last meeting of the council until after the holidays.

Something new in motion pictures may be just around the corner. It's a new technique involving use of cameras with three lenses shooting on separate films and the projecting of three reels simultaneously from as many projectors on a giant semi-circular screen.

The effect is to make one feel he's right in the picture. Audiences clutch their chairs, scream, and lean from side to side as they see and hear themselves going on a roller coaster ride or a breath-taking plane trip up through Grand Canyon, so great is the realism produced by the "Cinerama" technique.

The gift they never gift-wrap

The simple little box you see above contains a very special gift. It holds a doctor's prescription . . . an important aid to better health.

Each time your physician prescribes a medicine for you, you benefit from the practical application of that physician's knowledge, and the training and skill of your pharmacist. Often, too, you benefit from some recent and hard-won discovery by men of research.

Because of the continuing advances in the field of medicine, there are happy endings today to many illnesses that would have been real tragedies only a few years ago. But although these gifts of modern science are now available, too many of us neglect to take advantage of them in time.

New drugs, new skills in diagnosis, better methods of treatment —all are most effective during the early stages of illness.

If you are not feeling as well as you should, visit your physician and take advantage of his professional advice. Don't wait until it is too late to reap the full benefits of the gifts that medical science has brought within your reach. Reprinted from a copyrighted advertisement published by Parke, Davis & Company, Detroit 32, Michigan.

Grade School News

Third Grade
Mrs. Buttolph

We now have only 35 boys and girls in our room. Raymond and Lavern Decker left recently to live in Mt. Pleasant.

Donna Cubberly had her tonsils out a week ago. When she got back she told us that it wasn't so bad after the first few days.

We have been studying Christmas songs, poems, and stories. Next Thursday we are planning to dramatize for our mothers and the other two sections of third grade, "'Twas the Night Before Christmas" and "The First Christmas."

Everyone has been busy decorating our room with red and green chains, pictures, Christmas trees, and many other things.

First Grade
Mrs. Garlick

We have made our plans for our Christmas party. We plan to have a Christmas tree and a lunch.

Almost all of us are now reading "We Look and See." Dick and Jane and Sally are our friends.

We have listened to many Christmas records. "Silent Night" and "Away in a Manger" are our favorites.

We each need a spring clothespin with our name on it. We fasten our boots together this way. It is much easier to find them when it is time to go home.

John Hughes, Susan Davison, and Phyllis Brown have left our room. Jo Anne Gainey has entered.

We wish all of you a very Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

Second Grade
Mrs. VanWinkle

We are going to have a Christmas party on Friday. We drew one anothers' names and are planning on having a jolly good time.

We have been talking about how we can make the birds have a Merry Christmas. We are all going to see that all the birds in Tecumseh do not go hungry on Christmas or any other day this winter.

We all wrote letters to Santa and have them up on our bulletin board. We feel sure that one of Santas' helpers will be around to read them before Christmas.

Last week Mrs. Puffer's Second Grade invited us in to see some movies and sing songs. We enjoyed this very much.

Our room is all dressed up in red, green and silver. All the Second Grade wish the readers of this column a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

Fifth Grade
Mrs. Boltz

Patty Teagarden and Christine Gainey have joined our group since we sent in our last news. We are very glad to have them with us.

We are decorating our room for the Christmas season. Several scenes have been pictured on the black boards and wall murals.

A play, showing the purchase of New Orleans and the Louisiana Territory was put on by our room. We invited Miss Hopkins' and Mrs. Whiting's rooms in to see it.

The committees for our Christmas party are as follows:

Program: Sharon Ann Mitzner, Jim Beach, Fred Jeschke, John LeBarron, Janet Harris.

Serving refreshments: Rosemary Buku, Patty Teagarden, David Withrow, and Steven Naugle.

Clean-up: Harold Underwood, Johnny Green, Sally Hunt, Doris Oliphant.

We drew names for the Christmas party and we're looking forward to December 19 with pleasure.

Fifth Grade
Miss Hopkins

The fifth grade in Miss Hopkins' room are making preparations for the Christmas party. Ann Cameron is chariman of the committee. Her helpers are, Betty Marine, Harriett Blanden, Kendra Ringman, Mary Seager, Gail Lohrman, Patricia Gurtzweiler, Shirley Head, and Linda Baldwin. The holly and evergreens have been sprayed with artificial snow. We have a snow-man and a snow-woman. We are making chains.

In our sicence class we studied about the melting points of various materials. In our experiments we melted color crayons and paraffin and poured them into cookie cutters to harden. Now we plan to use them to decorate the Christmas tree which Roger Mead is giving to us.

We have sold eighty-nine Christmas seals. Billy Conklin is keeping the record for us and doing the selling.

We are learning about the climate of our country and the mountain ranges and rivers. We plan to make some maps to show these physical features.

Sixth Grade
Mrs. Uckele

A week ago we held our annual Christmas program under the direction of Mrs. Schippers, our music teacher. The third, fourth, fifth, and sixth grades took part in the program.

For Christmas decorations we made snowmen, gayly colored bells, candy canes and candles to bring out the Yuletide Spirit. Raymond Lasky and Gerald Chase drew and colored a large Christmas tree. LeRoy King made a Santa's sleigh and reindeer.

Our vacation begins December 19 and ends January 5.

Our class welcomed a new pupil, Ruth Jedele, from Clinton, on December 3.

In history we are studying about "The Later Middle Ages."

We are having our Christmas party Friday.

CARD SHOWER FOR FORMER SUPERINTENDENT

Lawreice Hall of Blissfield, a former pupil of W. L. Reed of Middleville has requested that all former students and friends of Mr. Reed join in a shower of Christmas cards. They will all be greatly appreciated and may be sent to his above address. Mr. Reed was a former superintendent of Tecumseh and Blissfield high schools.

This is no time to buy a farm on a "shoestring", Michigan State College farm economists advise. In any farm purchase, be sure of the title before you close the deal, they also caution.

Record Share of Consumer Dollar Now Goes to Tax Collector

An insight into the impact of the present tax burden on the personal pocketbook in provided by the Federal Reserve System in a study showing where the consumer's dollar goes and how this has changed in the last decade and a half.

This study shows that personal taxes now take more than three times as much of the consumer dollar as they did back at the beginning of World War II, and that the current proportion is the highest on record. Largely because of this development, there has been a marked decline in the proportion of the consumer dollar going into the national marketplaces for the combined purchase of durable goods and nondurable goods and services.

How Taxes Have Grown

The Federal Reserve estimates that this year 11.6 cents of every dollar the consumer will use will go directly to pay personal taxes. This compares with an average of 10.1 cents at the height of World War II, from 1942 through 1945. Back in the 1938-41 period, the annual average of the consumer dollar going for personal taxes was only 3.4 cents.

Translated into aggregate dollar amounts, personal taxes will take an estimated $31.5 billions of all funds used by consumers this year as against an annual average of approximately $16 billions in the 1942-45 period, and an average of $2.8 billions from 1938 through 1941.

The Federal Reserve analysis is based on all funds used by the consumer in the course of the year. This involves not only personal income but it also includes funds realized from borrowing and sale of assets as well. These sources add significantly to the consumer spending stream every year. In 1952, for example, some $10 billions of the total estimated funds consumers will use will come from sources other than personal income.

Rate of Saving Maintained

With more of the consumer dollar earmarked for the tax collector this year than ever before, the proportion left for spending and saving decisions is naturally smaller. The figures show that consumers in the aggregate have elected to maintain their rate of saving and even to increase it somewhat. For example, 5.9 cents of the consumer dollar will go toward a net increase in finanical assets in 1952, according to the Federal Reserve, a higher proportion than in any recent years except during the 1942-45 period. The comparable figure for the 1938-41 period was 5 cents.

The over-all result of these developments has been a marked contraction in the spending share of the consumer dollar. Aggregate purchases of goods and services are placed at the equivalent of 77.8 cents of every consumer dollar this year, a lower proportion than in any previous time except during the last war when shortages had such an important influence on consumer spending and saving decisions. Back around the beginning of World War II, consumers were spending over 88 cents of their dollar for goods and services, or 10 cents more than the proportion this year. Most of this 10-cent difference reflects the change in the personal tax take between then and now.

An equally significant aspect of the present tax burden as far as its broad economic impact is concerned is the fact that the growth of taxation in recent years has been running far ahead of the expansion of the economy itself, spectacular though this has been.

Impact on the Economy

For example, taking recent periods in the nation's history by decades, total national income in current dollars increased from $599 billions for the 1930-39 period as a whole to an aggregate of $1,677 billions for the decade of the Forties. This represents a rise of approximately 180 per cent. As against this, net Federal tax revenues (less refunds and exclusive of Social Security receipts) rose from $35 billions for the Thirties to $274 billions for the decade of the Forties, an increase of more than 680 per cent.

As a result of this trend, the Federal tax take for the Forties was the equivalent of 16 per cent of the total national income for the period as against under 6 per cent for the Thirties. Even in the prosperous Twenties, a period when taxes were high enough to cut the public debt by some $8 billions, Federal tax receipts were the equivalent of only about 6 per cent of the total national income for the period.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY ENJOYS CHRISTMAS PARTY

The Escolme parlors of the Friends church were attractively decorated Friday evening when 52 members of the Missionary Society assembled for their annual Christmas party. Mrs. Walter Weimer led the group in singing, Mrs. Amos Wilson led in prayer and Mrs. Edward Escolme related the Christmas Story from St. Luke. A brief business session was conducted by Mrs. Wiemer at which members decided to draw names of a mystery daughter from the younger groups of the church, to be revealed at the Mother and Daughter banquet in May.

Assembly singing of Christmas carols opened the program with Mrs. Ralph Comfort as leader. She presented a group of girls, Sharon Muhn, Marilyn Manley, Marjorie Chase, Ruth Meads, and Astride Freimanis who sang "The Golden Carol" accompanied by Linda Johnson. Ruth Meads then gave a reading "The Christmas Tree;" and a Christmas exercise "The Christmas Star" was presented by the girls' group with Mrs. Comfort as narrator. Marilyn Manley and Astride Freimanis sang a vocal duet, "There's a Song in the Air," and Sharon Muhn played a concert solo, "Away in the Manger," singing two verses with Mrs. Comfort accompanying at the piano. Mrs. Emma Day presented "The Messiah" and Mrs. Wilson and Linda Johnson played as a piano duet, "Holy Night." Assembly singing brought the program to a close.

Mystery sisters were revealed when the hostesses, Mrs. Harry Creger and Mrs. Ernest Hammack conducted the gift exchange. Refreshments were served from a holiday-decorated table covered in green and red, with Mrs. Escolme pouring. Mrs. Robert Baird assisted the hostesses.

MONDAY CLUB ENJOYS CHRISTMAS PROGRAM

Christmas carols and the Christmas Story as told by St. Luke and St. Matthews, with Mrs. Joe Rice as the narrator was the program presented to the Tecumseh Monday Club Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Methodist church. Fifty-one members and guests were in attendance. Mrs. Robert McCoy presided at a short business session and requested members to send cards to Mrs. Wilford Waldron, Mrs. Charles Williamson, Mrs. Jennie Satterlee and Miss Bess Pulver who are ill.

Source: Bureau of Labor Statistics average retail prices of foods in more than 50 large cities, combined, as of December, 1940 and September, 1952.

Most of the foods you buy are basically the same as they were twelve years ago. Yet the prices of many food items have doubled or tripled in that time. The reason is that it costs more to produce the same product than it did in 1940.

By the same token, it costs more to produce telephone service today. Had telephone service not been expanded and improved in the last twelve years, it would still be necessary to charge more for it.

However, with twice as many telephones in service system-wide, the "Telephone Package" has increased in value since 1940.

Obituary

Mrs. Maude M. Day, a former resident of Macon township, Lenawee county, died Monday, December 8, 1952, at the home of her brother, John C. Howell, in Adrian, Michigan, where she had lived for more than the past year. Her death, due in the main to infirmities of old age, was hastened by a fall on January 26, 1952, which resulted in a broken hip bone under conditions where recovery became impossible.

Maude Marian Howell was born June 30, 1867, in Macon township, Lenawee county. Her parents were Edwin Howell and Rachel Chambers Collins Howell, pioneer residents and farmers of this township.

She attended the Macon village school, which though not a graded school, employed two teachers and actually carried many pupils to tenth grade studies. From this school, she passed the entrance examinations to the Michigan State Normal school in Ypsilanti, from which she graduated twice (after intervals of teaching) finally obtaining a life certificate.

She taught in Macon township schools, in Mooreville village, Cadillac city and Tecumseh village.

In 1902, she was married to Frank J. Day, a Macon farmer, and worked with him in this occupation until his death in 1944. The greater portion of the married life of Mr. and Mrs. Day was spent on the Howell Centenary farm now owned by a sister-in-law, Mary B. Howell, surviving wife of Joseph W. Howell a deceased brother of Mrs. Maude Day, and their son Joseph Edwin Howell and daughter Idamaude Tingley, and occupied by Mary B. Howell. Mr. and Mrs. Day were located on this farm when her father, Edwin Howell died in 1906, and at her mother's death in 1915 both of them giving their utmost of service and consideration to these ageing parents and also making of this farm home, a vacation playground in summer time; a homecoming attraction for relatives and a place of refuge for many in need; also a place where a sincere, simple devout half-hour of family worship was observed daily by three generations for the larger part of a hundred years, by grandfather, father and by this daughter in log house and frame house on this site.

As Maude Marian Howell, she joined the Methodist Church at the age of 14 and remained a faithful working member for more than 70 years, her one regret being that she was not able to do more.

During her long illness she was helped and encouraged by the calls and visits of her many friends and by cards and letters from them. While she was able to do so, she answered all letters and acknowledged greetings.

She is survived by her brother; John C. Howell; three sisters-in-law: Katherine Garner Collins, widow of James Sumner Collins, a deceased half brother; Metta Nelson Howell, wife of her surviving brother, and Mary B. Howell, wife of Joseph W. Howell, her deceased brother. Also by Mrs. Rachel Collins Ward and Idamaude Tingley, nieces; Joseph Sumner Howell, Edwin Day Howell and Joseph Edwin Howell, nephews, together with several cousins.

Funeral services were held Thursday, December 11, 1952, at 2:30 p. m. at the Macon Methodist church, the Rev. Vaughn Whited officiating. Burial was in Macon cemetery. The bearers were Ralph Halladay, Ralph Michel, Clarence B. Hall, Elton Osborn, William Swick, and Ray Gilmore.

Those attending the services from away were Edwin D. Howell, Rome, N. Y., Sumner Howell, Ferndale, Joseph Howell, Tulsa, Okla., Mrs. Bessie Howell, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Nelson, and Mrs. Mary Stoll of Ann Arbor, Mr. and Mrs. Clark Shook and LeRoy Chambers and daughter of Ypsilanti, and Mrs. Idamaude Tingley of Detroit. Several relatives attended from Macon, Adrian, Saline, Hudson and Tecumseh.

"The golden gates were opened,
A gentle voice said "Come",
And with farewells unspoken,
She entered her heavenly home."

PENSION FUND BUYS COMPANY

An employees' pension fund recently bought the $1,500,000 company that set it up.

The fund was set up in 1943 by Ernest G. Shinner of E. G. Shinner & Co. He said he hoped all along that the fund would take over the company, which has 33 meat markets in Illinois, Wisconsin, Michigan, and Iowa, when he retired.

India Opens Her Eyes

The blunt Soviet rejection of India's Korean resolution in the United Nations has at last shaken many Indians' faith in Russia as a proponent of peace. Reports from New Delhi reveal that Indians from the ranks of scholars to top officials considered the blast made by Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky, in the United Nations Assembly, insulting and rude.

Vinshinsky not only turned down the Indian resolution, but condemned India in doing so. It has been reported that the Chinese were thinking seriously about the Indian plan when the Russian made this blunt rejection before the U. N. Assembly.

Whether this last report is true or not, the Russian certainly decided to move quickly and Vinshinsky squashed all hopes of a compromise, on the basis of the Indian resolution, with his harsh speech.

The Indians are now learning what some of us could have told them years ago—that all the Soviet talk of peace is mere camouflage for a brutal aggressive plan which includes every corner of the globe. Even Prime Minister Nehru himself seemed strangely gullible where the Soviet peace propaganda was concerned until more recently, and his attitude was the general pattern in all parts of India.

Vishmsky's blunt speech seems to have done more than the United States and its allies have been able to do in several years, in convincing India Russian propaganda is a screen hiding an aggressive plan which is continuing to be pushed actively by the Soviet Union.

"Silent Night" Born In Beauty Matching Its Own Simplicity

High in the Austrian Alps, in the region known as the Tyrol—"the land of the mountians" — is to be found the birthplace of "Silent Night, Holy Night."

Here, the towering Tyrolean peaks, centuries-old and famed for their snow-capped granduer, rise in lofty simplicity into the cool, clear air, guarding similing, peaceful valleys.

Far up in these Alpine mountains, where love of music is nature's gift to every child, nestles the town of Obendorf, Austria. Here in 1818 lived a devout young Austrian priest named Father Joseph Mohr. With his friend, the village schoolmaster and church organist, Franz Gruber, he was destined to give the world this most famous of all Christmas hymns.

The two men, both lovers of great music, had often talked of the fact that "the perfect Christmas song had not yet been found." Thinking about it, Mohr sat in his church study on Christmas Eve, 1818. Outside the hushed silence of the night heightened the snow-covered beauty and stillness of the mountain scene.

The purity and calmness of the high peaks filled his heart with radiant joy as he recalled those first Christmas tidings, "Jesus, The Savior is born." And the thoughts that had been long forming in his mind suddenly found musical expression in the song which we have come since to know and love as "Silent Night, Holy Night."

The next morning, Christmas Day, Mohr hurried to his friend's home with the manuscript of his precious song. Gruber read it intently and exclaimed, "Friend Mohr, you have found it — the right song — God be praised!"

Gruber, thrilled with the spirit of his friend's verses, set to work to compose the perfect melody for "the perfect song." Finally, the soft, flowing air we now use came to him. "It sings itself, your song," he cried to the delighted priest. Gruber's real contribution to music lies in the beauty and simplicity of the tune, in the perfect blending with Mohr's verses. The two men san the new hymn together, to have it ready for the church devotions that night.

Later in the same evening, when the villagers were gathered in the gray little mount church, Mohr and Gruber sang their Christmas song before its first audience. It touched the listeners deeply, and, after the service, they thanked the two friends with tears of joy in their eyes. A new hymn had been born.

The story of how the song spread from its mountain home in the Tyrol to become one of the Christmas favorites in all parts of the world is an enchanting one. Only very slowly did it come into fame. For nearly a year after its first rendition, the song lay almost forgotten in Gruber's desk.

Then, in November, 1819, the church organ had to be repaired, and the repair man, when he had finished with his work, asked Gruber to play something to test the organ.

The beautiful melody of "Silent Night" came back to Gruber's mind and he played it with all its powerful yet simple beauty. So entranced was the organ-builder that he begged to take a copy of the song home with him to his own town across the mountains.

From one music-lover to another the hymn was passed on. Still it was without a name and was known simply as "The Tyrolese Song," because it had first come from the Tyrolean Alps. With that title is was printed in 1842 for the first time, 24 years after it had been composed!

From that time on, the song has been put into countless other languages and carried to all parts of the world to become the best loved of all Christmas songs and hymns. It touches a heartfelt need, and to all who hear it, it brings the Savior's calm and peace in its strains of beauty and joy!

Council Sets Sewerage Rate By Water Use

NEW PLANT BILLED AT OPERATING COST OF 12c PER 1M GALLONS

A sewerage charge plan has been announced by the village council which will distribute the operating cost of the new disposal plant over all water users on the basis of volume consumption.

The plan calls for a charge of 12c per 1,000 gallons of water used.

"This new sewerage charge, though based on water meter reading, has nothing to do with the village water charge," councilman Joe Rohweder said, "as only the actual number of gallons that passes through the meter will determine the sewerage charge."

Water users will continue to pay $9.50 a year for water—one of the lowest rates in this area—plus 12c a gallon extra for sewage levied for the first time in April.

Thus the average householder who uses 40,000 gallons of water per year will pay as follows in 1953:

$9.50—Water Charge
4.80—Sewerage Charge (40,000 gals. x 12c per gal.)

The sewerage bonds which total $285,000 will be retired by normal sewerage taxation allowing the personal consumption charge to be used entirely for operational costs.

ORDINANCES REVISED

In further recent action by the council, a number of "horse trough" ordinances are being modernized and revised. They will be kept in loose-leaf form in the future for easy reference and revision.

The council meets again on Jan. 5.

There's More To Christmas Than Santa!

When Santa Claus scales down the many chimneys that dot Tecumseh's landscape, another Christmas tradition will be fulfilled and thousands of awaiting stockings will be rewarded with gifts for Santa's young admirers.

It will go down in record as a glorious Christmas in 1952 which saw a number of records broken and equally as many "firsts" established.

Church attendance is reported at a new Yule high, Christmas cards flooded the local post office in greater numbers than ever before, outdoor home lighting and decorating displays are more numerous, Santa reported a new high in sidewalk business with children and last of all local businessmen said shopping stepped-up to faster tempo than expected — for Tecumseh shopped at home and liked the wide variety of merchandise in stock.

At the United Savings Bank $43,248.50 was dispersed to 700 Christmas Saving club members. Mrs. Bernice Duncan reported the $2 and $5 clubs increasing popular and already going strong for next year.

Postmaster Jack Metcalf said that 184,400 letters passed through the post office canceling machine for a new mark exceeding last year's number from Dec. 1 to Dec. 22 by an astounding 30,000. No exact count of the tons-upon-tons of parcel post mail handled is available.

School was let out with a gusto Friday afternoon and will continue on a holiday schedule until Jan. 5. A Junior high dance Thursday night and a high school party Friday night brough the holiday curtain down on activities. These replaced the class and room parties of past years.

A group of THS Future nurses went caroling last week under the direction of Mrs. Sam Sisson and collected a free will offering of $76. for the Billy Still Family fund.

The Chamber of Commerce followed a Chuck Butler origination by offering free parking to shoppers over the holiday shopping season. Printed paper bags covered the standards for 10 days and expressed the season's greeting from the village council.

Mr. Weatherman doubted Tecumseh's hopes for a white Christmas. Sunday was the first day of winter and the shortest day of the year but warm temperatures and mist engulfed the area.

But business zoomed to a new high under the broadcast melodies of Christmas music. Main street and store window decorations were in keeping with the occassion.

The Christmas greetings in today's edition indicates the unified co-operation by merchants in making this Christmas a joyous one and of their gratitude for patrons of Tecumseh's cosmopolitan shopping center.

CONTINUED SUPPORT OF APPRECIATION DAYS IN TECUMSEH

Throngs of Saturday night shoppers continue to show the popularity of the Appreciation Days program supported locally by the Chamber of Commerce.

Last week awards went to Mrs. William Milosh, Dorothy Staulter, Jack Hicks, Otto Baaske and Jeanne Callihan.

Nearly 100 per cent support by merchants is reported by the Chamber of Commerce.

GRANGE PARTY TO BE DECEMBER 30

This will be the Christmas party and members have been asked to bring popcorn or candy, and a 25 cent gift for each member of their family. EASIER TO READ — In this day of easiness when everything is streamlined to suit the impatient public, we have for Christmas 1952 a new version of the Bethlehem story which is taken from the New Standard Version of the Bible, Luke II, 1-21. Age old in reference, the new presentation of the birth of Christ is an invitation to read more from the Bible, revised now after 14 years study and research in wordage and meaning.

"In those days a decree went out from Caesar Augustus that all the world should be enrolled. This was the first enrollment, when Quirinius was governor of Syria. And all went to be enrolled, each in his own city. And Joseph also went up from Galilee, from the city of Nazareth, to Judea, to the city of David, which is called Bethlehem, because it was of the house of lineage of David, to be enrolled with Mary, his bethrothed, who was with child. And while they were there, the time came for her to be delivered. And she gave birth to her first-born son and wrapped him in swaddling cloths, and laid him in a manger, because there was no place for them in the inn.

"And in that region there were shepherds out in the field, keeping watch over their flock by night, and an angel of the Lord appeared to them, and the glory of the Lord shone around them, and they were filled with fear. And the angel said to them, 'Be not afraid, for 1 bring you good news of a great joy which will come to all the people, for to you is born this day in the city of David a Savior, who is Christ the Lord, And this will be a sign for you: you will find a babe wrapped in swaddling cloths and lying in a manger' And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host praising God and saying, 'Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace among men whom he is pleased!'

"When the angels went away then into heaven, the shepherd said to one another, 'Let us go over to Bethlehem and see this thing that has happened, which the Lord has made known to us.' And they went with haste, and found Mary and Joseph, and the babe lying in a manger. And when they saw it, they made known the saying which had been told them concerning this child; and all who heard it wondered at what the shepherds tol dthem. But Mary kept all these things, pondering them in her heart. And the shepherds returned, glorifying and praising God for all they had heard and seen, as it had been told them.

There are other relating passages which add to the completeness of the Nativity story and give meaning to our beautiful Christmas carols. There are also numerous Christmas customs which add to the festivity of the Yuletide. The carols seem to have come from Germany where they were sung first around the year 1,000. The custom of decorating homes in green originated in England while the Christmas tree was introduced in Holland. The French and Spanish announce Christmas with fireworks while the Italians fly flags.

Santa Claus, as a giver of gifts, originated in Germany. Patterned after St. Nicholas, Santa is supposed to have given three young women, who had no suitors, bags of gold, after which gift they quickly were married and lived happily ever after. From this legend and spirit, the Santa Claus story has grown into the grand custom that it is today. The Norse inserted the chimney descent to the German legend.

So the Christmas season and its story is derived from the legends and customs of many countries in the world. But in no land has the traditional observation taken on more meaning than in the United States. As we observe the holiday season, it's well to remember the contributions of all in the spirit of true brotherhood and to once again resolve that there will, some day, somehow, be peace on earth and goodwill among men.

For Every Christmas ...The Nicest Dreams

Lovely and exciting, dreams are always a part of Christmas . . . dreams of sugar plums, and candy canes, and the delicious goodies that come but once a year. Or dreams of a doll house, or of a toy train, of a sled . . . . or of the beauty that is Christmas. They may be dreams that happiness will never cease . . . . because you are in love and together . . . . forever . . . . or dreams of little ones around in the twilight of our life . . . . merry laughter helping those who might not otherwise be so happy . . . Christmas would be wonderful if only for the dreams alone. Palman's would like to have the dreams that go with every gift come true . . . . and sincerely wish that this will be your very happiest Christmas.

Grade School News

Third Grade
Mrs. Ward

We have the show case this week. The scene is Santa Claus Coming to Town.

Linda Dick is absent from school because she has pneumonia.

Ellery Ferguson is going to Florida for two weeks.

Friday afternoon we have a Christmas party with games and gift exchange. Refreshments will be served by the room mothers: Mrs. Bishop, Mrs. Green and Mrs. Elliott.

We have a very lovely Christmas tree trimmed with decoration made by the children.

Some of the children in the room have started their second third reader.

Our room is decorated with paper chains, candles, poinsettas, and various other decorations brought by the children.

Fourth Grade
Mrs. Osburn

Miss Baker's fourth grade entertained us with a program Thursday p.m. which we enjoyed very much. At the close they treated us all to a candy cane.

At the Christmas program last Thursday night several parents visited our room. Three of our pupils were chosen for the pageant.

Don Linden brought the Christmas tree for our room this year.

Our room was decorated for Christmas by the following committee: Bradley Bruce, Rosilyn Wilson, Michael Tucker, Jean Ann Hoag, Billy Shavelier, Clarence Champanois, Margaret Hensen, and Bernard Laphan.

We had a spell down today. It ended in a tie between Linda Wilson and Dean Eddy. They both missed the word "Halloween."

Fourth Grade
Miss Baker

In social studies we were studying about the settling of California and old missions. Reverend [illegible] brought his slides of their trip West to show us some pictures of the missons and California. We wish to thank him for showing them to us.

We have decorated our room for Christmas with things we made. All the decorations on the tree were made by us. We strung popcorn and cranberries for rope. Other articles we used were straws, nails, paper, cotton, corks, pretzels, screws and toothpicks.. These were dipped in a mixture of Duz and plastic starch. Dennie Harrison made us a life size Santa going down a chimney.

We gave a pantomine play "Santa Was So Tired," for Mrs. Osburn's and Mrs. Bailey's rooms. Those taking part were Chuckie Mueller, Jane Hodges, Vickie Peterson, Sandy Staulter, Dianne Fuller, Bill Ross, Michael Robison, Bill LaPrad, Dennie Harrison, George Heeman, Jim Bashore, Bruce LeFevre, Kenny Beevers, and Elmo Rucker.

The outcome of our Merry Christmas contest was having Merry win.

We wish you a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

Fifth Grade
Mrs. Whiting

Our room is decorated for our Christmas party which will be held Friday, December 19. Carolyn Pease brought the Christmas tree and many of us brought decorations for it. Robert Dick and Jerry Ireland gave up their table for the tree. We have drawn names for Christmas presents.

Our citizen for the month of December is Janice Wilbur.

We have been making a products map in social studies and hope to get it completed this week. We cut pictures from magazines of different things each state is famous for and pin these on the wall map we have colored.

We had our Christmas program Thursday, December 11. Robert Dick and Kay Schultz were in the pageant and the rest of us were in the chorus.

Morale involves an element of spiritual strength, something that is not measurable. I have never seen a definition [illegible] satisfactory One that comes closest was given me by a Seabee in these words: "Morale is when your hands and feet keep working when your head says it can't be done." Morale is tied in with the human spirit; and therein lies the strength, the resilience and the courage of democracy.—Ben Moreell.

Fire Losses Rise Sharply

The National Board of Fire Underwriters reports that fire losses throughout the United States in 1952 will run at least six per cent higher than the total in 1951. Losses are heaviest in the winter months and faulty stoves, furnaces and boilers account for a major portion of all fires during these months.

The Board lists other causes as overheated chimneys and flues, hot ashes and sparks on roofs and the ever-present ones of matches, smoking and the misuse of electricity. In a special warning, the Board appealed to all American families to observe extreme care around fir Christmas trees. Each year there are a number of tragedies which occur during the Christmas week, when a fir goes up in sudden flames.

The Board explains that the fir tree is filled with resin and is one of the most combustible objects known. Thus, once ignited, it burns rapidly and is virtually impossible to extinguish.

A cow given a 6-to-8-weeks "vacation" between lactations will produce more milk, suggest Michigan State College dairymen.

Farm costs will continue to rise in the coming year, warn Michigan State College economists.

American industrial research was carried on by 300 laboratories with 9000 employees in 1920, the Committee for Economic Development finds. Twenty years later there were 2200 laboratories with more than 70,000 employees.

Judd- Eberhardt

A lovely holiday wedding was solemnized in the Congregational Christian church, Saturday evening at 8 o'clock when Polly Eherhardt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer W. Eberhardt became the bride of Donald Lee Judd, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas V. Judd of Tecumseh. The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. Morgan Reese at a candlelight service amidst Christmas greens and white mums.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her parents approached the altar on the arm of her father. She was dressed in a strapeless ballerina white satin gown trimmed with chantelly lace. She wore a matching balero jacket with a Peter-Pan collar and long sleeves that ended in points over the hands. She carried a bouquet of camellias centered with a white orchid. Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Willard Exelby as matron of honor and Peggy Hintz and Judy Sisson as bridesmaids all wore identical ballerina gowns of red nylon tulle and carried white fur muffs trimmed with holly and red roses with fur head bands to match. Patty Eberhardt, sister of the bride acted as junior bridesmaid, Sue Henckel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Levett Henckel was ring bearer and Susan Leighton, cousin of the bride as the flower girl all wore identical gowns of pleated nylon tulle trimmed with chantilly lace. The rings bearer's dress was red and she carried the rings in a fur muff trimmed with holly and red roses. The junior bridesmaid and flower girl's dresses were white. They carried a muff and a basket of red roses respectively. David Murphy of Tecumseh acted as best man and Tommy Judd, brother of the groom and Jim Sloan were ushers.

The bride's mother wore an ice blue beaded dress and hat with white accessories and a corsage of pink rosebuds. The bridegroom's mother wore black with white accessories and a corsage of red roses.

Willard Exelby, cousin of the bride sang "Because" and "O Promise Me" before the ceremony and "The Lord's Prayer" while the couple knelt at the altar. He was accompanied by his mother at the organ who also played Christmas music while the guests were arriving.

A reception was held in the church parlors immediately following the ceremony. One hundred and fifty guests were seated at tables beautifully decorated in silver and white. Mr. and Mrs. Edward B. That's What Christmas Means To Us

To some folks Christmas means only the giving and receiving of gifts, a large [illegible] splendid dinner, Santa Claus, and a Christmas tree. And in the mad rush to get everything ready some people forget, perhaps, just what Christmas really is. They forget that Christmas means helping those who need it, bringing cheer and joy to those who may not otherwise experience it. They don't seem to remember that we celebrate Christmas not because of gifts and the Christmas-tree, but rather because a CHILD was born in a stable on the first Christmas night long years ago.

Tecumseh Edges Clinton

The Tecumseh Indians traveled to Clinton Thursday night and extended their winning streak to four straight games by edging the Clinton varsity 49 to 41.

In the first period Clinton looked as if an upset was in store as they jumped to a 17 to 12 lead. The Indians roared back but only enough to close the gap as Clinton held a 24 to 20 halftime lead. With about 30 seconds remaining in the half, Tecumsehs' forward, Bill Benham, crashed into the brick wall at the west end of the floor, the game was delayed about 35 minutes while an examination was being made.

In the third period Tecumseh went on a scoring spree netting 18 points while Clinton could only push in 8. The third period ended with Tecumseh leading for the first time 38 to 32.

In the final stanza Tecumseh pushed in 11 more points while Clinton scored 9. The final score was Tecumseh 49, Clinton 41.

Jim Wilson for the third time led the Indians with 18 points while Newton paced the losers with 13 points.

F. F. A. NEWS

Last Wednesday, December 17, the Tecumseh Chapter of the F.F.A. went on a field trip to the Drigg's Dairy Farms in Palmyra. Transportation was furnished by F.F.A. members Edward DeLisle, Wilbert Wilcox and Mr. Paul Burns, the Ag. teacher.

Mr. Farnam, the herdsman, told the group about management practices. The most interesting point of the tour was the slop method of feeding the cattle. This practice came from Sweden by means of a farmer herdsman employed at Driggs. The farm milks 90 of the 201 head of cattle on the farm.

The F.F.A. group also toured the Drigg's Dairy plant, and each boy was given an ice-cream bar by Mr. Don McCrae, the farm manager.

Morenci Trounced Tecumseh J.V.'s.

The Tecumseh reserves lost their third straight game when the Morenci J.V.'s visited the home court, Tuesday the 16th., to down them 43 to 28.

Jr. Indians Attack Jr. Redskins

Tecumseh's J.V.'s edges Clinton's undefeated reserves Thursday, the 18th., 37 to 34. Tecumseh scored the first basket of the game and stayed on top until the end.

The Indians threw an air tight defense against Clinton so that they couldn't work the ball in past the forwards. But the Tecumseh fans were a little worried when the Redskins started hitting their longs, and drew within one point of the leaders in the third quarter, but was beating when the Indians came back in the last stanza.

Bob Waltz made 12 points from his guard slot by sinking six field goals, to take top scoring honors for the game. Marvin Yoakum drew top honors for the Indians with nine points. Ritchie Davis was runner-up with eight.

Christmas Vacation

Joy to the world — schools out for fifteen whole days starting at 3:30 p.m., December the nineteenth. When we come back January fifth everyone will be expected to have recuperated. Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

If a thing is old, it is a sign that it was fit to live. Old families, old customs, old styles survive because they are fit to survive. The guarantee of continuity is quality. Submerge the good in a flood of the new, and the good will come back to join the good which the new brings with it. Old-fashionel hospitality, old-fashioned politeness, old-fashioned honor in business had qualities of survival. These will come back.—Eddie Rickenbacker.

GARDEN CLUB HOLDS CHRISTMAS TEA

The home of Mrs. R. J. McCoy was beautifully decorated in the Christmas motif Friday afternoon for the annual Christmas tea of the Garden Club. A Christmas tree, evergreens, candles, and miniature choir boys made the rooms glow with Christmas cheer.

Carol singing was enjoyed by the group with Mrs. John Hamilton, jr. at the piano. Mrs. Maynard Mulvaney sang a solo accompanied by Mrs. Hamilton.

Tea was served from a lace covered table with Miss Mary McWilliams, retiring president of the club, and Mrs. E. C. Boss, president for the new year pouring. Assisting hostesses were Mrs. Charles Kempf, Mrs. J. R. Thompson, Mrs. Henry Hamilton, Mrs. Thomas O'Hara, and Mrs. Harold Wilson.

Locals and Personals

Tom Will is home for the Christmas holidays with his mother, Mrs. Hilda Will.

Maurice Lathers and son Stuart of Ypsilanti called on Miss Mary McWilliams Saturday.

Mrs. Orval Minney and infant son David Lee returned Saturday to their home in Toledo after a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Collins.

Miss Nita Spangler, a student at Cottey College, Nevada, came Thursday for the Christmas recess with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Grenval Spangler.

OPPORTUNITY KNOCKS

Each of us, no matter what his job, can find an opportunity to make this world a better place. Take, for example, the case of Aloysius Mozier, a merchant seaman.

Instead of the legendary "sweetheart in every port," Mr. Mozier [illegible] friend he has just made and to whom, as soon as his ship docks in an American city, he mails a package of vegetable seeds.

It began last summer after the American seaman, in many countries, had looked upon so many half-starved adults and children. In the first six months of his one-man mission of mercy, Mr. Mozier sent 15,000 packets of seeds. So far he's received back word from grateful friends of flourishing kitchen-gardens in five different countries.

What are you doing to make life more pleasant for others? Giving a smile, or just a kind word, is worth a lot.

December Stars, Moon To Brighten Christmas Scene

The heavens' glittering array of December stars will be spotlighted this month by the Christmas Eve appearance of the Northern Cross high in the western sky.

Another shining Christmas constellation will be the Giant Hunter, which, according to Hazel M. Losh, University of Michigan associate professor of astronomy, is hard to excel in splendor and beauty.

Close on the heels of Orion, the Hunter, is his dog Canis Major, considered from earliest times one of the dogs he took with him when hunting. She points out that on maps the dog is generally pictured as standing on his hind feet watching or springing after the hare, found cowering under Orion's feet.

Two of the sky's brightest planets also will shine during the Christmas season. Venus will be seen in the southwest after sunset and will grow steadily brighter throughout the month. It is a common belief, the astronomist states, that Venus was the orginal Christmas star. Jupiter will also be seen high in the sky every night.

December will also have a double share of moonlight. In addition to the December 1 full moon, there will be another around midnight, December 30. The interval between full moons is 29½ days so it is easily possible to have two like phases in the same calendar month.

According to Professor Losh, winter will have its official beginning at 4:44 p. m. December 21 when the sun enters its winter solstice. This is the day on which it will reach the most southerly point in its apparent yearly journey around the earth, and its shortest daily path across the sky.

ONE HUNDRED SECOND YEAR — NUMBER 14 TECUMSEH, MICHIGAN, DECEMBER 30, 1952 5 CENTS A COPY

Township Petitions Filed By Titley, Hanna And Mohr

NO PRIMARY CONTEST AS FEW MEET NEW DEC. 29 DEADLINE

Only three petitions for major Tecumseh township offices were on file by 4 p. m., Dec. 29 — the new deadline for candidates to pronounce their desires as set early in December by the current township board.

The three major petitions were filed by:

LeRoy H. Titley, supervisor.
H. H. Hanna, Clerk.
Lawrence Mohr, treasurer.

All candidates are incumbent, all are Republicans and members of the township board which recently dropped the out-dated caucus form of nomination in favor of the more-modern petition and primary election form.

Frederick Dickinson Sr., also filed for one of the two township post on the board of tax review. Aden Mead is a carry over member of the board of review for the township. Two village appointees will join Mead and Dickinson when the tax board meets in March.

Wilfred Waldron and Mrs. Florence Howe also petitioned for posts of township trustees to serve on the township board.

Primary election is slated for Feb. 16 along with the county primary, but political observers believe now that there may not be any contests in either.

April 6 is the date for the regular election but as the Democrats failed to put up any candidates by petition there may be no township contests. A write-in candidate is still possible, however.

Week Of Prayer To Be Observed

The Week of Prayer, the first full week in January, will be observed in Tecumseh in the traditional way with services in five of the cooperating churches each evening from Monday to Friday at 8 p.m. The following schedule has been planned: Mon., Jan. 5, Assembly of God church, Rev. E. E. Escolme, preacher; Tues., Jan. 6, St. Peter's Episcopal church; Wed., Jan. 7, Friends church, Rev. Ronald Brunger, preacher; Thurs., Jan. 8, Presbyterian church, Rev. R. O. Petersen, preacher; Fri., Jan. 9, Baptist church, Rev. George Walworth, preacher.

The public is urged by the Ministerial Association to put itself into the spirit of a week of prayer, and cordially invited to attend these services.

STRAITS BRIDGED BY 1956 OR 1957

If everything goes well, Michigan could have a bridge across the Mackinac Straits by late 1956 or early 1957. After all the hullabaloo about the controversial span, such a statement might sound like a bit of winter wind, but progress now has reached final pre-building stage.

B. J. Van Ingen of B. J. Van Ingen & Company of New York, largest bond backer in the country, is handling the $100,000,000 in bonds. He is optomistic. As a matter of fact he has already spent some $15,000 of his own money in his selling campaign.

The company now is working up financial, traffic and engineering information for buyers. Construction could begin next spring.

A surprise to most in the capitol circle was the recent switch of Charles M. Ziegler, state highway commissioner. The commissioner, while never coming flat out and opposing the Mackinac bridge, has been a bastion of pasive resistance to the project.

There are several posible reasons for this, the principal one being the simple fact that Murray D. Van Wagoner, iZegler's Democratic predecessor, favored a bridge.

Also when the commissioner was campaigning for office back in 1942 he repeatedly said that he was opposed to spending too much money on any one project and he would hesitate to put the state into debt — and so forth.

JUNIOR CHOIR CAROLS

Twenty-three members of the Junior Choir of the Baptist church met last Tuesday evening for caroling at the Parrett Nursing home and Herrick Memorial hospital. Upon their return to the church refreshments were served by their directors, the Misses Marlys and Evelyn Arnold assisted by Miss Dola Lou Lanning.

BAPTIST FELLOWSHIP

Plans were made at a meeting of the Baptist Youth Fellowship Sunday evening to hold next Sunday's meeting at the Parrett Nursing home at 2:30 p.m. It was also voted to give $10 to the building fund, bringing the total donation of this group to $30.

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR JOHN NEMETH

Funeral services for John Nemeth who died at the home of his niece Mrs. Paul Kollar in Macon last Saturday morning, Dec. 20, were held Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 at the Collins Funeral Home with the Rev. Vaughn Whited, Clinton, officiating.

Burial was in Macon cemetery. The bearers were William Nagy, James Gal, Mike Magyarosi, Archie Scheffler, Lawrence Herbert and Lewis Young.

Friends attended from Detroit, New Boston, Carleton, Macon and Tecumseh.

Tecumseh Rings In New Year Wednesday Night

A public dance at the American Legion home, a party at the country-club, numerous church services and a host of private parties will keep Tecumseh on the go Wednesday evening as the village rings in another year — 1953.

Bells and whistles will announce an official welcome to the infant who creeps in where an aging 1952 departs. This is an old Tecumseh custom. Other noisey greetings are just as old, but less official.

Among the church services which have been reported to The Herald include the regular midweek prayer meeting of the Friends church which will be held Wednesday evening at 7:30 followed by a New Year's eve party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Amos Wilson northwest of town. All members of the church are invited to attend the party and Watch Night service to be held at the Wilson home. Anyone attending is asked to bring cookies.

A Watch Night service will be held at 11 o'clock New Year's eve at the Presbyterian church.

Services at Grace Lutheran church will be held at 8 o'clock Wednesday evening with no services on New Year's Day.

At 11:30 p. m. New Year's eve services will begin at St. Peter's Episcopal church. Holy Communion will be celebrated and specil prayers said at the 10 a.m. service New Year's Day, the Feast of the Circumcision.

St. Elizabeth's Catholic church will have Holy Hour Wednesday evening from 7:30 to 8:30. New Year's Day Masses will be at 8:30 and 11 a.m.

A final New Year's eve safety note was issued by police chief George Kilbourn who complimented motorists on the almost perfect holiday driving mark set thus far.

"New Years eve is a time," he said, "to take extra precautions while driving."

HAS 1852 INVITATION PRINTED BY HERALD FOR NEW YEAR DANCE

Mrs. Louise Bauman, sister of Mrs. George Schumm, turned back an even century when she recently brought a New Year's eve dance invitation into The Herald office which indicates at the bottom that this is the home of its original printing.

The invitation, kept through the years in a picture frame, reads, "NEW YEARS BALL 1952 — Sir, your company is respectfully solicited at the Assembly Room of W. R. Gates in Gambleville, on Wednesday, the 31st of December, 1851 at 2 o'clock p. m.

"Committee: W. S. Moore, A. H. Chapman, W. J. Mosher, G. Foster, F. Crane, J. Hawley, J. Vanette, W. P. McKnight, W. J. Gay, E. Hollingsworth, C. Gale, E. Locy, J. W. Kerr and O. D. Brown.

"Music: Whitlock and Drew.

"Tickets, two dollars.

"Tecumseh Herald Print."

Mrs. Schumm explained that Gambleville is the old name for Sommerset, Mich., located west of Cambridge Junction where highways 127 and 112 cross. The highway house there was originally established around 1830 and was built by Mr. Gates. It was a favorite stop-over on the old Chicago pike.

For the past 32 years Mrs. Bauman, Addison, has operated the hotel. John Burcroff operated it some 37 years before Mrs. Bauman. This is all part of Mrs. Schumm's family history.

PLEADS NOT GUILTY

Lowell Maynard, garbage collector, pleaded not guilty in justice court Monday in Adrian and was released for future trial on $100 bond by Justice John Lowe. Maynard was arrested by Tecumseh policemen Friday on So. Evans and charged with drunken driving after his truck was involved in an accident. Trial is scheduled for next week.

Around The Clock Police Duty Gives Local Protection

While Tecumseh eats, sleeps, works or pleasures an alert member of the village police force is constantly extending the protective arm of the "law" 24 hours a day. All officers are on call at all times and work on eight hour duty shifts.

The force is equipped with a patrol car, two-way radio operating on the same frequency as the county sheriff's. In case of emergency either the sheriff or state police can be summoned within ten minutes.

All the officers, with the exception of Chief Kilbourn, served in the Armed Forces. Skinner is alternate to the regular staff of four.

Their man duty includes traffic patrol, night door check and nuisance calls of all types. They enforce all village ordnances.

Police can be called by phoning 150 or asking the operator for the police station. An extension to this phone is connected at Kilbourn's home.

Though always busy, the force has nothing but words of praise for Tecumseh's all-out cooperation and close obedience to the laws.

PRESENT PIANO RECITAL

Mrs. Amos Wilson's piano students presented a recital Saturday afternoon at 2:30 at the Friends church. The 16 pupils taking part were Alice Jane Titley, Ann Cameron, Harriett Blanden, Judy Truesdale, Joan and Judy Kempf, Mary and Flora Nixon, Eddie Hodges, Janice Saling, Susie Rohweder, Astrida Friemanis, Danny Wiemer, Marilyn Manley, Carol Kilbourn and Marjorie VanValkenburg. Following the program Mrs. Wilson served refreshments.

Annual Commerce Banquet Jan. 14

PLAN FULL PROGRAM AT COUNTRY CLUB

A 6:30 dinner and program following will be the order for Wednesday evening, Jan. 14 when an expected 150 businessmen and women join in the annual Chamber of Commerce banquet to be held at Tecumseh's Country Club.

Judge G. A. Rathbun, popular banquet toastmaster, will direct the program which includes the annual election of Commerce directors, talks on city versus village form of government and discussions of club objective for the coming year.

C of C president Bob Moore said that regular Rotary and Exchange club meetings that week will not be held to concentrate all attention on the annual banquet and business meeting.

C. O. Butler, program chairman, is lining-up a full agenda of capable speakers. He said that all business people, regardless of their line of work or connection in Tecumseh, and regardless of their affiliation with the Chamber, are invited.

Banquet tickets are on sale at the Chamber of Commerce office, at Wright's Drug store and at Moore's Lumber Yard.

Tim Neill is shown in action on a huge Kroger semi-trailer just after he dropped one of nearly 3,000 Merry Christmas turkeys in the awaiting hands of John Anderson. It was the day before Christmas at Tecumseh Products and each employee received a frozen turkey for his family. Single Products workers were given fruit baskets. Assisting Neill on the truck is Earl Yoakum. Left to right, on the ground are Charles Pentecost, Anderson and Jack Arnett. The turkey and fruit basket distribution is an annual affair at Products.

Panel Is P.T.A. Program Jan. 8

A panel discussion of secondary school problems will feature the Jan. 8 meeting of Tecumseh's Parent Teacher Association at Central school.

Moderator Neville Hart will direct a discussion on such topics as "Excused and Unexcused Absences," "Honor Roll and Report Cards," "Book Rental" and others with a panel of Mrs. Jean O'Neil, Mrs. Lee Purkey, Mrs. Wade Hendershoot, Rev. B. O. Bashore and Dr. R. G. B. Marsh.

Other interesting problems will be discussed when brought up by the P.-T.A. group. Vice president Mrs. Lee Purkey said that many topics have already been suggested and others are invited at the January meeting.

As usual, teachers will be on hand after the meeting to talk with parents.

CONTRACT GRANTED FOR BRIDGE AT DEERFIELD

A much-needed bridge at Deerfield will soon be built by the Hanson-Ruckman firm of Ft. Wayne, Ind., which is busy putting the finishing touches on the Mill street span here.

The contracted 270-foot bridge over the Raisin at Deerfield will cost around $180,000, and will be assumed by the U. S. government under federal aid to Lenawee county. It is expected the bridge to be completed about mid-summer of '53. Traffic will continue on the old bridge.

Meanwhile Mr. Motorist in Tecumseh can expect to drive over the sleek Mill street span before the winter is over as work continues at a noticeable rate.

Engineers and builders of the Patterson Elementary school have also arrived in town and starting preliminary work. Ground breaking is expected to follow soon.

NOT CARELESSLY SPOKEN — This expression is so often carelessly used to convey a general sentiment, that The Herald staff searched everywhere for a new, but yet genuine, way to wish the people of Tecumseh and vicinity a new year of greater happiness and success. It is in our hearts to see our people prosper and realize the good things that are everywhere, just awaiting each person's invitation for a happier life. This hope is common with most of our fellow citizens.

And so, because The Herald has so often spoken for the entire community, we think it appropriate on our part and for the thousands of men and women hereabouts, to pass along our hearty greetings for the New Year.

On the eve of 1953 we look back over the wake of a happy year and watch the ripples of a fading twelve months disappear in the great sea of history. The course was not always smooth for our ship, but thanks to the patronage and cooperation of our big family of Herald friends, the journey went into our log as successfully completed.

Speaking for the Herald staff and for all "hometown papers" in general, we believe that no matter what advances are made to streamline printing and commercialize news, the "hometown" editor's attitude toward his job and his responsibility to his community will never change. We'll keep striving to make The Herald important enough in your life so you'll read it, every word. Look for Tecumseh news in The Herald during 1953.

SEASON FOR FIRES — Reading over a story of two children, one a baby, who were both burned to death in a home in which they were the only occupants, renews a warning of winter fires and their dangers. The adults at that home stepped out for what started out to be a "short" moment to visit, but lasted long enough to have their house burned down.

And it wasn't long ago when all but one child of some seven or eight in the same family were burned or suffocated when their home burned. We point to these incidents to call attention to the fact that young children are almost helpless when trapped in a house-fire — and the biggest majority of them occur in the dead of winter. Unattended, little children stand a slim chance of survival unless firemen reach the blaze at an early stage and the youngsters are in a part of the house which did not burn.

It is up to the parents to take notice and resolve to exercise every care in an effort to prevent tragedies.

THAT NEW YEAR'S RESOLUTION — If you have been seeking a new kind of resolution and can't find just the words to say the thoughts you have in mind, read this famous prayer by St. Francis of Assisi.

"Lord make me an instrument of Thy Peace!
Where there is hatred . . . . let me sow love
Where there is injury . . . . pardon
Where there is doubt . . . . faith
Where there is despair . . . . hope
Where there is sadness . . . . joy!
O Divine Master, grant that I may not so much seek
To be consoled . . . . as to console
To be understood . . . . as to understand
To be loved . . . . as to love,
For
It is in giving . . . that we receive
It is in pardoning . . . . that we are pardoned
It is in dying . . . . that we are born to eternal life.

MILLION DOLLAR BUSINESS — The tourist business brings an astounding large volume of outside business to southeastern Michigan, the Tourist Association serving this area reports, and Tecumseh, as many merchants realize, is benefitting as an increasingly popular trading center. How do tourists spend their money, 25% retail sales, 17% sleeping accommodations, 12% gasoline and car service, 12% refreshments, 9% entertainment, souveniers, 3%, and miscellaneous 22%. So the SMTA, with its attractive new advertising folder, bids for a bigger share of the tourist's dollar in 1953 with the slogan, Linger Longer in Southeastern Michigan.

There Was A Lower Cost Than Was Estimated . . . .

A national survey requested thoughts about the cost of funerals from several thousand members of the clergy. All could be presumed interested in keeping the funeral burden of their families low.
The average price suggested as what the funeral cost "should be" was little different from the actual average cost — showing that the prices of most Funeral Directors are fair by this most demanding standard.

RURAL FAMILIES ASKED TO FOSTER HOMELESS CHILDREN

Michigan Children's Institute, Ann Arbor, is beginning a renewed effort to find rural foster homes for Michigan's homeless children. It is the Institute's experience of many years that rural homes frequently offer children many more outlets for constructive activity and retraining for family living than are available in metropolitan areas. Rural families often have more activities that the whole family enters into than can be furnished an active child by the most enterprising city foster parents.

Michigan Children's Institute is especially anxious to find homes for school age boys and girls, particularly children from 10 to 14 years of age. Many of these children have had very damaging experiences. They need to be included as part of a family which shares affection, faith and trust in each other, pleasures and tasks.

The Institute is able to pay board, clothing, medical and dental expenses as well as reasonable incidental expenses. Persons wishing to apply to board a child can apply directly to Ann Arbor or in care of The Herald. Both Catholic and Protestant homes are needed, as well as white, Negro and Indian homes.

TAILOR FOUND BOUND, DEAD . . . The body of Morris Knopf, 76-year-old tailor, was found by police recently gagged and bound on the floor of his tiny shop on east 18th street, New York City. Knopf's worried family had reported that he had not returned to his Brooklyn home the night before. Police said the elderly tailor probably was the victim of looters. The old man, who suffered from a heart ailment, must have put up a struggle, and died from a heart attack. Disordered room confirms this belief.

The prince rides with all the glory of a Chalan, with a fur blanket on his saddle. He wears a white panama, alpaca poncho and a white scarf knotted at throat.

U-M Survey Gives Tips to Merchants

ANN ARBOR — Most Michigan families with children of school age rely on local stores for their daily needs, but in many cases go to another community to purchase higher priced items like furniture. University of Michigan surveys reveal.

Findings in 13 Michigan cities showed that in four commodity groups — meats and groceries, drugs and toilet articles, paint hardware, and housewares—local merchants receive 85 per cent or more of the trade.

However, furniture, men's dress clothes, and women's coats, suits and better dresses generally are purchased in other cities because of a lack of merchandise variety, real or imagined high prices and improper sales treatment in local stores.

In a majority of families in all cities is was found that: the family automobile is used for getting downtown, the feeling is strong that there is not enough parking space, the shopping days are Friday or Saturday, the general belief is that the stores open early enough, and that the local community generally is considered a pleasant and convenient place to shop.

Most frequent complaints recorded included: discourteous, indifferent salespersons; discriminating treatment favoring the tourist in preference to local persons; misleading advertising or spurious "sales"; and the urgent need for more clean public rest rooms downtown.

The surveys were conducted during the past nine months by the Bureau of Business Research in the U-M School of Business Administration as part of a continuing program of business services. Many additional communities have requested the service and will be surveyed within the next few months. The surveys are sponsored by local chambers of commerce and the Michigan Retailers Association (MRA).

The home-town merchants wanted the information so they can improve their services.

The cities which have been surveyed to date are: Cadillac, Coldwater, Dearborn, Frankenmuth, Gaylord, Grand Haven, Manistee, Marshall, Niles, Owosso, Petosky, Port Huron, and Ypsilanti.

Questionnaires were prepared in cooperation with MRA and distributed through the local schools and chambers of commerce.

The average family covered by these Better Service Surveys consisted of two adults and two or more school-age children, owns its own home and has lived in the community a long time.

Other findings indicated that:

While it is doubtful that customers always find what they are seeking when they go to another city to shop, they will continue to buy in other than their own communities as long as they think they can make a better purchase.

Merchants in smaller communities have difficulty in competing with the apparently lower prices of the large volume, low margin stores in larger cities.

High pressure salesmanship may have been the deciding factor in many cases where customers changed from one store to another in the local shopping area.

Saturday evening shopping is preferred to any other evening, with Friday night next.

In the average city high sales losses occur when there are large accessible competitor cities, and losses correspondingly are smaller when competing towns are not so near.

The surveys indicated that there is much that the local merchant can do to counteract the real and imagined reasons for shopping elsewhere, such as: more attention to public and customer relations; improved sales training of personnel; and better repair, credit and delivery services.

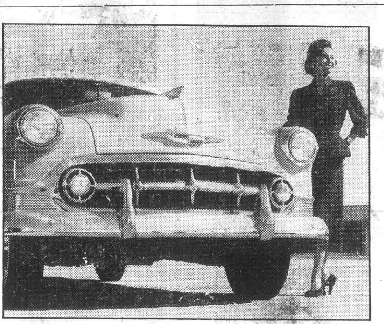
PRESIDENT ELECT'S GRANDCHILDREN . . .This charming picture of Mrs. John Eisenhower and her three children was made on the lawn of the National Golf Course, Augusta, Ga., during General Eisenhower's recent vacation with his family. The three youngsters who will soon be frolicking on the White House grounds and in the White House when dad takes over are Dwight, Jr., Susan (held by Mrs. Eisenhower), and Barbara Ann. The father, Major John Eisenhower, is in Korea.



Front-end styling of the completely re-designed Chevrolets accentuates the appearance of power and fleetness in the new line. As shown above, the surface of the hood this year extends farther forward before curving abruptly down to the radiator grille. Adding its note of beauty and distinction, the outer rim of the grille encircles the parking lamps and center bar mounting three decorative "prop bars." Increased performance, comfort and convenience are outstanding features of the 1953 Chevrolet line.

Catherine LaLonde Wed To John McKenzie

A mid-holiday wedding of impressive beauty was solemnized Saturday morning at St. Elizabeth Catholic church at 10 o'clock when Catherine Teresa LaLonde, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon LaLonde became the bride of John Raymond McKenzie, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elige McKenzie of Palmyra. The Rev. Fr. Michael G. Collins performed the double ring ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a gown of blush white satin and lace, fashioned with fitted bodice, high neck, long sleeves and a full skirt over a hoop with a lace panel extending into a short train. Suspended from a lace sweetheart hat with rhinestone trim was a double tiered veil of illusion. Her bouquet was of white carnations and ivy with silver glittered laurel.

As maid of honor, Miss Margaret LaLonde, sister of the bride, was gowned in orchid satin with bodice and overskirt of nylon tulle. The bridesmaids, Thelma Reeves, Martha McKenzie, niece of the bridegroom, and Donna McKenzie, a sister, wore aqua floor length, hoop-style strapless satin gowns with nylon tulle bodices. The maid of honor carried yellow mums and the bridesmaids' bouquets were of pink carnations and ivy. Another sister, Carolyn McKenzie, acted as junior bridesmaid and her small sister Wilma was the flower girl. Both girls wore orchid satin dresses with matching headdresses and carried nosegays of lavender and yellow pom pons centered with a white rose and tied with aqua ribbon. Charles Lauer attended Mr. McKenzie as best man.

A wedding breakfast was served immediately following the ceremony at the LaLonde home on Mill street to about 50 relatives and friends. In the evening a reception for 200 guests was held in the home with Mrs. Grace Orulette in charge of the guest book. Mrs. Alta Coogan of Lincoln Park cut the cake.

The couple returned from their weekend wedding trip Monday evening and plan to make their home with his parents in Palmyra. The bride is employed in the local office of the General Telephone company and the groom is employed in Adrian.

U. S. Churchgoers

The first nationwide survey of religious beliefs and practices ever made in the United States was recently completed and showed that only 35,000,000 Americans go to church every week. An equal number, 35,000,000, never go to church. A slightly larger number, 38,000,000, go to church periodically.

The survey showed that although only about oue-third of the population goes to church regularly, ninety-nine per cent believe in God. It is interesting to note that of the 35,000,000 Americans who never go to church, many nevertheless identify themselves as either Protestants or Catholics, or members of various denominations.

The survey indicates the attitude of many Americans toward the church is a casual one. Nevertheless, the fact that ninety-nine per cent of the population believes in God is a strong indication that the United States is a bulwark of Christianity.

Even so, it is a bit surprising that so many Americans never go to church and this fact is a chalcountry.

$10,000 Christmas

Christmas came early this year to Mrs. Melvin E. Hartzler of Downers Grove, Ill., when she picked up a check for $10,000 as grand prize in the Kroger Co.'s coffee election contest. Mrs. Hartzler is shown above with William C. Bell, Kroger Chicago branch manager, admiring the taller-than-herself $10,000 "bill" she found under her Christmas tree. As one of 530 prizewinner-finalists in the nationwide contest, the Illinois homemaker received the top award for a 25-word statement on "Why Kroger helps me live better for less."

CARE OFFSETS LICE LOSSES

Methoxychlor spray is the best means of fighting lice that cut milk production and cause other losses in dairy herds, advises Donald L. Murray, Michigan State College extension dairyman. If dairymen fear for cattle sprayed in cold weather, he suggests clipping the animals and then dusting on methoxychlor powder.

Sees Monotony In Education

The Northwestern Ohio County Superintendents met recently at Bellevue, and among the speakers was Robert E. Lucas, of Columbus, supervisor of elementary education of the Ohio Department of Education, who told the administrators that too many teachers "major in monotony." Ohio, he said is failing to provide a balanced educational program for elementary pupils.

The state official said schools should strive to rid their programs of artifical or fixed standards of scholastics, artificial separation of fsubject matter, the idea of humiliation to achieve discipline and the belief that children must be forced to learn.

Instead, he said, the teachers should secure an insight into the personality of each child and provide that every child find some measure of success.

Ideal teachers, he explained, have warmth and affection for their pupils and provide experiences according to their level of development.

Mr. Lucas said the old idea that children cannot learn without knowing how to read is false. Pupils, he said, sometimes learn more by observation or experimentation because many reading programs don't know where they are going.

Teachers should bring experiences from nature into their classrooms, Mr. Lucas advised to keep children working to capacity. Give every child the opportunity of accomplishing something," he advised.

Teachers are not dealing in scientific facts nearly as much as they are teaching attitudes, he concluded.

How rapidly teaching methods are changing, and how fortunate for the younger generation, that these methods are coming into wide use in our schools. What a lot more our children are going to get out of their school years than did their parents.

More Steel for U. S.

Production of steel was recently begun at the United States Steel Company's Fairless Works, the largest single steel production expansion of its kind in history. The new steel works sprawl over some six square miles of Pennsylvania and are expected to produce annually 1,800,000 ingot tons of steel when in full production.

This figure represents almost two per cent of the total U. S. steel production at present production is not expected to be reached until the summer of next year, although the plant is already in the early stages of operation.

The new plant is expected to turn out a sheet of steel four feet wide at a speed of eighty miles per hour which is the fastest steel production speed yet attained. The new steel production plant was begun in 1951 and represents a $400,000,000 investment.

Illustrating the cumbersome pattern of handling Federal lands, the Citizens Committee for the Hoover Report said cattlemen must sometimes apply to Federal agencies in three different States to get permission to move their herds over public lands in a single State.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to express my grateful appreciation to the many, many people who contributed to the Parrett Nursing Home to make it a merry and happy Christmas for my patients.

The cooperation of so many clubs, organizations and individuals was beyond my expectations. It seemed that the whole town opened their hearts to us this year.

It would have touched the heart-strings of all to have seen how the patients enjoyed everything that was done for them.

I want to especially thank the Future Nurses club for adopting us as their project and spending so much time and energy for us. Also all of the Girl Scout troops, the Garden Club, the Music Club, and churches for the favors which they made and the carols they sang. Thanks to Santa who came and made our Christmas party complete on Christmas eve.

May God bless all who shared their Christmas with us.

Mrs. Nyra Parrett

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to thank my friends, neighbors and everyone for the kindnesses shown me during my stay at Herrick Memorial hospital and after my return home.

THE TECUMSEH HERALD

ONE HUNDRED SECOND YEAR — NUMBER 15 TECUMSEH, MICHIGAN, JANUARY 8, 1953 5 CENTS A COPY

Night School Registration January 26

Registration for adult night school, sponsored by the Tecumseh Board of Education, will take place Monday, January 26, at 7:30 p. m. in Room 4 of the Tecumseh high school building. This year, in order to maintain higher class-room interest and standards, classes will be held twice a week for six weeks. The first class will meet Monday, February 2, at 7 p. m., and subsequent meetings will be held Mondays and Thursdays, the last session being on March 12.

A registration fee of $3 will be charged, which will entitle the student to enroll in as many courses as he can attend. The following classes will be offered if a minimum enrollment of ten is obtained in each class. In the oil painting class a maximum of 15 students will be allowed.

THE PRE-SCHOOL CHILD — Led by Mrs. Dorothy Updyke, this course is designed for mothers of pre-school and kindergarten children. Problems of young children and their parents will be discussed with individual desires and needs of class members determining content of course. Ample attention will also be given to all aspects of the kindergarten curriculum.

Importance of kindergarten in the educational system has risen rapidly during recent years.

'53 Finances Show Thrift Of Council

MANY IMPROVEMENTS AHEAD FOR VILLAGE, BUDGET UP $18,000

Monday was budget night for village councilmen who took their annual turn at dividing the various Tecumseh revenues to best cover the forthcoming year's expenditures.

For a council whose by-word is thrift—as a current bank balance of $80,000 indicates — the budget work meant little task for the trustees after finance committee chairman Charles H. Mensing presented a detailed analysis of how money will be handled in 1953.

Roughly, the budget is up about $18,000 over last year, but this is of little alarm as the '53 village income is proportionately higher than in '52.

Mensing roughly outlined the main features of the new budget to include the following village improvements:

New curbs and gutters
Street improvements
New street lights
Storm sewer Sanitary sewer
Addition to village garage
New truck
New fire hose

Mensing said the bank balance on hand at Jan. 1, 1953 showed the following village deposits:

General Fund	$68,528.93
Hospital Sinking Fund	4,676.86
Sewage Disposal Sinking Fund	7,480.38
Total on hand	$80,686.17

This is compared to a balance of $69,700 on hand at the same time last year.

The finance chairman paralleled this thrifty method of handling the village business with the manner that sewage disposal

500 FARMERS ATTEND 28TH ANNUAL JOHN DEERE DAY TUESDAY

Further proof of Tecumseh's popularity as a center for farm machinery sales, was evidenced Tuesday as 500 farmers enjoyed Hoyt E. Whelan company's twenty-eighth annual John Deere day.

A throng joined in lunch at the Whelan building, viewed new John Deere models and then jammed into the Strand theater for movies.

Fay Whelan introduced his son Dick, MSC student, and nine employees of the firm.

He reported registrations from a 25-mile radius with many from Manchester, Saline, Clinton, Tipton, Adrian, Palmyra, Blissfield and other surrounding communities.

My office will be closed indefinitely.

KEN MILLER SUFFERS FRACTURED ARM IN BASKETBALL FALL

Kenneth Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Miller, Tecumseh eighth grader, is in Herrick Memorial hospital with a fractured arm after a fall Friday during basketball practice at Central school.

Youthful Miller was working out with the seventh and eighth grade team he went into the air for a jump ball and fell backwards with his arm behind him causing a fracture near the elbow.

He will be lost to the team all season, a severe blow to coach George Tater's seventh and eighth grade squad, as youthful Kenneth was a promising star.

Curb Petition Held For 1954

MENSING SUGGESTS CURBING PROGRAM

A curb and gutter petition for West Bidwell street between N. Pearl and N. Union, presented Monday night to the Village Council, was referred to engineer Ed Nelson for 1954 construction unless funds in the 1953 budget allow construction next summer.

All approved petitions presented prior to Jan. 1 have been adjusted in the current budget for construction when weather allows, but Monday night's petitions, and all future requests, will be held over until '54 unless money is available after the present outlined work is completed.

Signers on the petition for curbing on West Bidwell were Earl Kruger, Burt D. Tate, Arlen LeBoroz, Hubert Mobly, A. R. Myers, Harold E. Treby, Harold Ruhl, Anna Haughn, Geraldine French, Barton J. Meyer, Hallie D. Mueller and Marion G. Tucker.

Following the petition reading, the council discussed Tecumseh's needs for a uniform curb and gutter program instead of the hit and miss more costly system followed in the past.

"Instead of jumping all over," Charles H. Mensing suggested a future program of "studying the curb and gutter needs of the village and following an organized plan."

Mrs. Flora Exelby, 73, Buried in Ridgeway

Mrs. Flora Exelby, 73 years old, died at the Herrick Memorial hospital Wednesday evening, December 31 at 11:45 where she had been a patient for one week. Mrs. Exelby had been in failing health the last year. She was born in Ridgeway township and had spent her entire life in the community. Mrs. Exelby was a member of the O. E. S. of Tecumseh, the Congregational - Christian church of Britton, the Ladies Aid of which she was president for 23 years, Dorcas class, Woman's club and was treasurer of the Ridgeway Cemetery Association. She was a member of the Board of Education. She was preceded in death by her husband, Walter L. Exelby sixteen years ago.

Survivors are two brothers, Cass D. Zeluff of Britton and Linus Zeluff of Toledo; two stepdaughters, Mrs. Allie McCrate of Columbus Grove, Ohio, and Mrs. Hazel Babcock of Grand Haven and ten grandchildren, one of whom is Mrs. Wiloween MacNamara of Detroit who was raised by Mrs. Exelby from the age of two years. She is also survived by 22 great-grandchildren and a number of nieces, nephews and cousins.

She was preceded in death by one sister, Mrs. Helen Serene Gibson; two brothers, Judson Eugene Zeluff and Frank Zeluff and one step-son, George Exelby.

Funeral services were held at the Niblack Funeral Home in Britton Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock with the Rev. J. Morgan Reese officiating. Willard Exelby sang a hymn and was accompanied by Mrs. Ford Exelby.

The bearers were Ford Exelby, Elmer Eberhardt, Samuel Gibson, Lawrence Zeluff, Richard Zeluff and Charles MacNamara. Burial was in Ridgeway cemetery.

PAYS $25 FINE

Pfc. Richard W. Hoag, USMC, pleaded guilty to disorderly charges before Justice Robert French Tuesday morning and was fined $25 plus $8.60 costs after spending the early morning in Lenawee county jail. He was arrested by village policemen after breaking off a parking meter. Originally from Tecumseh, Hoag's home address is listed as Saline.

PAYS $5 FINE

Gilberto Martinez, pleaded guilty to charges of disorderly conduct before Justice Robert French Monday morning and was fined $5 and costs of $8.60 after spending the weekend in Lenawee county jail. He was arrested by village policemen Saturday morning in a tavern.

Tecumseh's New Years Eve baby and its proud parents are pictured at Herrick Memorial hospital three days after the Dec. 31 blessed event. Cute Robert Rogers Godfrey, ninth child of Mr. and Mrs. Fabian Godfrey, came into the world at 10:24 p. m. on New Years Eve missing the stroke of twelve by an hour and thirty-six minutes. The Godfreys have lived on Sunset Drive for five years, came to Tecumseh from Adrian, and Petersburg before that. He works in the tubing department at The Products. Oldest of the Godfrey children is Leo who celebrated his tenth birthday Jan. 2.

Council Praises Work By Police

Tecumseh's alert police force received a pat on the back from the village council Monday night for a "job well done."

Many compliments had been heard from the general public prior to the council's exclamation of the department's smooth handling of law enforcement.

Chief George Kilbourn handed in his usual month and year end reports which list the following activity by the force:

	Dec.	Year
Accidents	8	76
Complaints	9	126
Traffic Sumons	8	121
Meter Violations	0	341
Arrests	3	32
Liquor Inspections	6	74
Traffic Fines	$49.40	$1,540.89
Meter Violations Paid	0	$221
Meter Collections	$446.60	$3,928.85

Kilbourn explained that the year column does not actually represent all of 1952 as he was only here nine months and recorded only the activities of that period.

He said the department's, and his own, New Year's resolution was to do better during the coming year than they, and he, did during the past.

But the council indicated that they were well satisfied. The police force operated on nearly $1,000 less during '52 than they did during the previous year.

SAY GOODBYE TO CHRISTMAS TREES

Saturday is round-up day for 1952 Christmas trees and evergreen boughs.

Village workmen will ride herd throughout the residential districts collecting trees Saturday — "providing the trees are put out along the curb," engineer Ed Nelson said.

There is no charge for this service of collecting and destroying old trees.

R. S. MOORE FIRST ON JOB AT 80

Still the "young man" in the firm, R. S. Moore celebrated his eighty-second birthday Wednesday by being the first man down to work at his lumber yard and the last man to leave the job at night.

For another birthday to the dean of Tecumseh merchants is just another work day after sixty years in business.

BEACH MARKS 20 YEARS IN STATION

Clarence Beach noted nearly 20 years in the service station business here when he recently sold his Fleet-Wing business on the corner of Pearl and Logan street to Harry Curry, formerly of Sherman Oaks, Calif.

Mr. Beach started in business at the same loaction in 1932 and for a number of years was associated with his brother Chester. He will retain the bulk fuel oil portion of the business while Mr. Curry operates the station. The Beaches are in Florida vacationing this month.

Ivan Maynard, who is Curry's son-in-law, will continue to act as service manager in the garage.

ACCIDENTAL WOUND

John Curtis Jr., 20, received a self-inflcted, accidental gun shot wound Friday afternoon while cleaning his .22 rifle. He was taken to Herrick Memorial hospital for treatment and released. Village police investigated.

Mrs. Fred Aylesworth Funeral Services Today

Mrs. Elsie O. Aylesworth, wife of Fred Aylesworth, died at 4 o'clock Monday afternoon at her home at Route 1, Tecumseh, where she lived for 50 years. Mrs. Aylesworth was born in Tecumseh township, Lenawee county, February 5, 1876, the daughter of the late Martin G. and Elizabeth Mead Updyke. She had been in failing health the last two years. She was married to Fred Aylesworth September 6, 1899, in Tecumseh township. Mrs. Aylesworth was a life member of the Tecumseh chapter, Order of Eastern Star and a member of the Tecumseh Presbyterian church.

She is survived by her husband, Fred; one son, Raynor at home; two grandsons, Douglas and Ramon at home, also several nieces and nephews. She was preceded in death by her parents and two brothers, Clyde and Ernest Updyke.

Funeral services will be held this afternoon (Thursday) at two o'clock at the Green Funeral Home with the Rev. Edward Escolme officiating. Burial will be in Brookside cemetery.

Annual Commerce Meeting Jan. 14 Year's Highlight

When an expected 150 business men and women gather at Tecumseh Country Club Wednesday night for a 6:30 dinner and banquet meeting which follows, they will be noting another year's active participation in the local Chamber of Commerce.

For the Jan. 14 meeting is a highlight of Commerce progress which the five point program illustrates.

* Don Nixon will review the chamber's activities during 1952.

* Bob Moore will tell of Tecumseh's many payrolls during the past year.

* Glenn Kohler will bring the housing situation up to date. He will tell of building in '52 and plans for '53.

* Ray Herrick will tell of Tecumseh Products' place in the community, present and future.

* A representative of the Michigan Municipal League will outline the advantages of city form of government over village form.

Program chairman C. O. Butler has announced that Judge G. A. Rathbun, dean of local banquet toastmasters, will handle the important duties of keeping the banquet "alive from the chair."

An invitation has been extended to every firm to be represented regardless of their Commerce club affiliation and regardless of their classification, retail, wholesale, manufacturing, etc.

Tickets are on sale at Wright's Drug Store, Moore Lumber Yard or the Chamber of Commerce office.

NO PARKING ACROSS FROM FIRE STATION

Beginning Monday three parking places in front of Garno's Barber Shop and Bagshaw's Tavern and one in front of Tecumseh Electric will become a no-parking zone and stripped of parking meters.

Rated as part of a fire lane, the new prohibited parking zone will give the fire department an easier departure from the station.

Signs are being installed to mark the zone, village engineer Ed Nelson said.

PETITE SALON

The 8-40 Petite Salon will meet Monday evening, January 12 at the home of Mrs. Milton Caughey in Adrian. Several members from here are planning to attend.

Open House At Disposal Plant Is January 17

Be prepared for such terms as trickle filter, digester tanks, sludge beds, stream control, settling tanks and hoppers when you join an expected 2,000 opening day visitors at the new sewage disposal plant Jan. 17 — which is grand opening day.

For when you roam about the vast concrete monster at East Chicago city limits you will hear explanations of what happens from the time sewage enters the plant, through its purification into the final stages of clear water filtration.

No small plant, this modern secondary treatment unit which is full of interesting equipment in every nook and corner. Village coucilmen feel the occasion warrants a full turnout by the community on Saturday, Jan. 17.

"After nearly a year's work," village president Ed Heilman, pointed out, "the plant is near completion and ready to throw into use."

It will be in full operation on the 17th although outside grading and a few odds and ends will remain unfinished.

If the ground is frozen on that date the council felt adequate parking facilities would be available, but in case of a thaw, arrangements will be made with the Button Factory across the street to accommodate the large crowd.

Cost of the sewage disposal plant will fall easily within the $285,000 bond issue, Mr. Heilman felt.

Disposal operating income, which in a sense is a sewage charge levied against the consumer on a per volume of water consumed basis, will be charged first in April at the rate of 12c per 1,000 gallons of water consumed. This income is earmarked for the operating cost of the disposal plant and will not be used for bond retirement. These are not income bonds, but will be retired from the general fund.

The 12c per 1,000-gallons-of water charge has no bearing on the regular city water charge which, including a meter fee, is set at a minimum of $11.00 a year. Water meters are read twice a year but billed quarterly at a minimum of $2.50 for each three months period. The $10 a year minimum charge is for 40,000 gallons of water or less. The annual meter charge is $1.00.

Indian Cagers Capture Fifth

There was no stopping Tecumseh's victory string Tuesday night as the Indian cagers romped to their fifth straight, 39-23, over Monroe Catholic Central in a S. E. Michigan conference basketball game on the loser's court.

While lanky Jim Wilson was keeping the nets busy with 21 points, coach Vic Lawson's lads were putting up their best defense of the season to snuff any Monroe hopes of victory.

Tecumseh led at all quarter stops 6-1, 15-10 and 27-14 before coasting home with a 16 point margin of victory.

The little Indians were less fortunate as they dropped a close reserve game 40-37.

Friday night Hudson invades for the first home engagement after the holidays.

CONSERVATION LEAGUE

The Tecumseh Conservation League will meet at the V.F.W. Hall for the regular meeting, tonight (Thursday) at 8 o'clock.

MINOR FIRE MONDAY ENDS LONG FAMINE

After nearly six weeks of fire famine, local blaze battlers got a taste of duty late Monday night when they answered a minor fire at the home of Dr. H. H. Hammel. No serious damage was reported though the Hammels called for help when the motor on their deep freezer started to smoke.

This is the first alarm since Nov. 29 when the rural home of Bernard LaVoy, 6501 Smith road, burned. That's the kind of duty firemen prefer though they are paid on a work hour basis. For fire means damage and winter-time is the real danger season.

But six weeks without an alarm is no record, a few years back the force went 95 days without a blaze, and nearly two months this past summer. Six weeks during the winter is a good mark though, considering the force answers many distant calls. They went over 15 miles last fall for an alarm at Cambridge Junction.

Looking back over their 1952 log, the force noted an average of a fire and a-half a week, a 52 week total of 76. There were no big fires like the Baldwin fire in Feb. 1950 or the Williamson blaze of a few years previous.

The local force, composed mostly of volunteers, is still proud of it's "out of the station in a minute and a-half" slogan.

Services Held Wednesday For Thomas M. Birdsall

Thomas Mead Birdsall, 73, died Monday afternoon at one o'clock at Herrick Memorial hospital where he had been a patient for six weeks. He had been in failing health for six and one-half years. Mr. Birdsall owned and operated a creamery business in Michigan and Ohio most of his active life and retired and moved to Ridgeway in 1935. He was a member of the Ridgeway Methodist church.

Survivors are his widow, Gertrude Smith Birdsall, one son, Wendell J. of Grosse Pointe Farms and one daughter, Mrs. Alice Landon of St. Clair Shores; two grandsons; one brother Dann S. of Albion and one sister, Mrs. Alice McKenney of Albion. He was preceded in death by one sister Mrs. Anne Pettit and his parents.

Funeral services were held at the Niblack Funeral Home in Britton Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. James G. Simmons of the Ridgeway Methodist church officiated and burial was in Ridgeway cemetery.

I will be at the United Savings Bank Saturday, December 13 and each Saturday thereafter until further notice for the collection of Tecumseh Township taxes, fire insurance, and dog tax. Will also accept payments by check or money order mailed to my residence, 211 W. Brown street.

Lawrence Mohr,
2/26 Township Treasurer.

SIGN OF THE TIMES — "Tragedy strikes every home at some time or other," as one father states it, and his misfortune came right on the holidays. "Our television set went on the blink and had to be in the repair shop for two days."

— o —

COMMUNITY CENTER — Tops on Tecumseh's list of 1953 needs is a community center to answer the recreational needs of all ages, a sort of get-acquainted center for sports, hobbys, crafts, square dances, etc., available to adult and youth groups alike. Nothing new, the community center answer has gone over big in dozens of places, some larger, some smaller than Tecumseh. It's not a top priority need, just a suggestion which would make the community a little better place to live.

DOES THE SHOE FIT? — There has been a parallel drawn between the United States and the Roman Empire, the latter grew in prosperity and fell in luxury despite their vast learnings of many ages. Some of these advancements have been handed down to us and are still in use today and are reflected in many of our customs. Note the five immortal reasons for the Roman fall; notice any 1953 parallel?

* Their rapid increase in divorce, their undermining of the sanctity and dignity of the home, which is the basis of human society.

* Their higher and higher taxes and loose spending of public money for free bread and circuses.

* Their mad craze for pleasure, professional sports becoming more and more exciting and more and more brutal.

* Their building of gigantic armaments and defenses when the real money was within — the decadence of the people.

* Their religious decay, faith wading into a mere form, losing touch with life and failing to further guide the people's destiny.

Could history repeat itself?

— o —

NOT ALL BLACK — There are very few arguments that are all black or all white, all wrong or all right, all one-sided this way or that. Some folks say that there's no use in arguing politics or religion, and the only thing you are ever sure of in this world is death and taxes — and high prices, which everyone hates to pay, or at least they say they do. But along with that high price you must pay today you are buying a share of the highest living standards of any nation in the world, and by a tremendous margin. No where else does the average family enjoy such luxuries and such convenient necessities.

Think how easy it is for the average wage earner to accumulate enough to buy food, transportation, clothing, shelter, medical aid or anything else compared to other nations today.

Think of the far superior stores we have, the more advanced services, the convenient way of marketing, we can put our money on the line and ask for almost anything. But is America satisfied? Far from it. A country that is satisfied stands still, we're seeking better ways and better means of living with a competitive instinct sponsoring the movement.

— o —

RESOLVED 1953 — To pause a moment every day to say "thanks" to someone for a gift of kindness. When Christ healed the ten lepers, only one returned to thank him. Forgetting to say thank you to the Lord and to others is a common failing of us all. Judge Samual Leibowitz saved 78 persons from the electric chair. Not one of them ever bothered to send him a Christmas card. A certain radio program obtained good jobs for 2,500 persons, but only ten ever bothered to express a simple word of appreciation. Like a verbal pat on the back, your thank you doesn't have to knock the wind out of anyone, just a pat now and then that doesn't hurt anyone.

There Was A Lower Cost Than Was Estimated . . . .

A national survey requested thoughts about the cost of funerals from several thousand members of the clergy. All could be presumed interested in keeping the funeral burden of their families low.

The average price suggested as what the funeral cost "should be" was little different from the actual average cost — showing that the prices of most Funeral Directors are fair by this most demanding standard.

"TAX" ADVICE ON LIVESTOCK

Farmers may treat some livestock sales as capital asset sales —and pay 1952 income tax on only 50 perecnt of their net gains, reminds Everett M. Elwood, Michigan State College agricultural economist. The farmer must have owned the animals 12 months or more; the animals must have been held for draft, breeding or dairy purposes. County agricultural agents can supply farmers with the MSC bulletin, "Farmers 1952 Income Tax."

Farm records are tools for better management, reminds Everett M. Elwood, Michigan State College farm economist. They are both financial and production tools.

HALL URGES FARMERS TO USE ACCOUNT BOOKS

"Start the new year off right with a good account book," Louis G. Hall, county agricultural agent urged Lenawee county farmers in announcing the new MSC gray covered farm tax record book.

"It undoubtedly will soon become one of the most popular account books ever used by Michigan farmers," he added.

Thousands of farmers in the state who are not now keeping a good farm record have been asking for just such a book. This record book is not intended to replace the blue college account book already in wide use and which will continue to be used and distributed. It is however designed to encourage other farmers to keep accounts.

"What's different about it?" Hall outlined.

1. New—available for distribution for the first time here in 1953.

2.Easy to keep—no instructions necessary.

3. Designed primarily to help the farmer fill out his income tax report.

4. The summary page in the book is the Income Tax Form 1040F. No changes need be made to file that income tax report directly from this book.

5. A special income column is included to provide for sale of livestock and equipment which can go into Schedule D income tax form. If the taxpayer can use this form, it oftentimes means considerable savings.

In adidtion to helping on income tax, the new book also has pages to handle the following—net worth statement, crop summary, map of the farm, and business analysis.

Most of the banks in Lenawee County have the books available. The bankers are distributing these books free to their farmers and friends. Other bankers state that they would be willing to get books if enough farmers ask for them. The County Extension Office will carry the blue book at a cost of 30c per copy and with the inventory 50c.

Reds Seek Penicillin

Various sources are now reporting that the Communists seem to be eager to obtain immediately at least one million vials of penicillin, preferably American. The penicillin is thought to be desired by Communist China for use by the Chinese armed services.

International traders, who know the channels through which Communists procure needed goods from the West, report that buying offers originated from various countries almost simultaneously, several years ago.

Concerns in Switzerland, Italy, West Germany and the Netherlands asked for delivery of the penicillin in various places. One firm asked for delivery in Amsterdam, another in Genoa and a third said it was needed in Hongkong. High prices were offered for swift delivery in each case.

Some observers have speculated that the Chinese Communists are in need of penicillin because of another epidemic or a high rate of casualties because of uncleanliness and infection behind the Communist front lines in Korea. These observers note that efforts to obtain penicillin were most actively pressed last spring, when the Communists are thought to series of epidemics. At that time, the Communists are thought to have succeeded in getting several hundred thousand vials of an American brand of penicillin, which was first shipped to Amsterdam, then to Israel and then —it is assumed—to Prague.

MISS KATHLEEN SCHULTZ BRIDE OF FRANK KEENEY

Miss Kathleen Elaine Schultz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Schultz of Onsted, became the bride of Frank Perry Keeney, son of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Keeney of Tipton, at an impressive quiet wedding last Wednesday afternoon December 31 at 2 o'clock in the home of her parents. An improvised altar of evergreens tied with white satin bows and cathedral candelabra formed the setting for the single ring ceremony performed by the Rev. Terrill Lytke of Manitou Beach in the presence of the immediate families.

Miss Shirley Netcher played nuptial music, "Because" and "I Love You Truly." Marion Schultz, brother of the bride, and John W. Keeney, brother of the groom lighted the candles.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a gown of sheer nylon over bridal satin, which was fashioned by her mother. A scalloped lace yoke and Peter Pan collar topped a fitted bodice trimmed with self-covered buttons. Long sleeves ended in points over the hands. The full skirt swept into a short train. The finger-tip veil of illusion fell from a headpiece of pleated tulle trimmed with pearls. The bridal bouquet was a white orchid with stephanotis, carried on a white prayer book, a gift of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Milton Williams of Tipton was matron of honor and was lovely in a gown of light blue lace and net over satin. A lace bolero jacket with mandarin collar was worn over the strapless bodice. She carried a bouquet of pink carnations and wore a spray of matching flowers in her hair. Mr. Williams assisted Mr. Keeney as best man.

Mrs. Schultz chose for her daughter's wedding a navy blue sheer dress and a corsage of sweetheart roses. Mrs. Keeney wore silver grey crepe with a sweetheart rose corsage.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the home for the relatives and friends. Mrs. Dean Briggs of Adrian, cousin of the bride cut the traditional three-tiered wedding cake. Miss Geneva Satterthwaite of Tecumseh, cousin of the bridegroom, served the bridegroom's cake. Miss Madeline Schultz presided at the coffee urn, Miss Leane Schultz served ice cream and Mrs. Charles Schultz was in charge of the punch bowl. Mrs. Ronald Brown and Mrs. Franklin Branch assisted with the serving. Miss Nancy Branch was in charge of the guest book and the Misses Barbara and Marcia Brown assisted with the gifts.

For traveling Mrs. Keeney changed to a gray taffeta dress with blue coat and navy accessories and wore the orchid from her bouquet. After a short wedding trip the couple will reside in their newly furnished home at [illegible] Orchards, Tipton.

Night School

Formerly regarded as little more than a "parking place" for pre-school children, the kindergarten is now everywhere accepted as an essential and integral part of the school program.

HOME GARDENING — The agricultural teacher in response to many requests by townspeople will offer a course in home gardening, lawn care, and flower culture. The course will be designed to meet the individual needs and problems of these enrolled. Such topics as soil testing, including the testing of your own soil, fertilizing, and seed bed preparation may be discussed. Lawn mixtures and flower arrangements will be presented if the group so desires.

However, the high school shop will provide an ideal place to do this work when room is not available at home.

OIL PAINTING — Develop your talent by enrolling in this course. With a maximum of 15 students allowed, the class will meet once a week on Thursdays from 7 p. m. to 10 p. m. Both beginners and more advanced students are urged to enroll early.

'53 Finances

bonds were handled a year ago. Mensing said those were handled in a very "timely" manner as they were sold at an extremely low 1.92% interest when other communities were paying up to 3% interest and more. He thought Tecumseh's credit on the financial board was "excellent".

In reviewing the village income and expenditures for '53, the council approved a general budget as follows:

(Estimated Revenues)
General	$66,825.30
Highway	58,523.00
Water	38,820.00
Sewer	16,418.10
Parking Meter	5,300.00
Cemetery	8,298.10
Hospital Sinking Fund	000.00
Sewage Disposal Sinking Fund	16,044.30
Total	$210,228.80

(Estimated Expenditures)
General	$72,542.00
Highway	63,412.00
Water	30,875.00
Sewer	17,749.00
Cemetery	8,670.00
Parking Meter	1,500.00
Hospital Sinking Fund	1,312.50
Sewage Disposal Sinking Fund	15,437.50
Total	$211,498.00

Actually the expenditures exceed the village revenue by $1,269, but Mensing explained that this is the best way for the council to budget as corners can always be cut if additional money is not received.

Dimes Drive

schler, chairman. Mrs. Quick invites all who expect to be away from their homes during the drive to leave their money or checks with her at 837 South Union street. All checks should be made out to "March of Dimes".

Mr. Ahleman wants the public to know that the books of the Lenawee chapter are open for inspection at all times. Lenawee county had twenty-five new cases during 1952, with one of them developing in the fall months. While no quotas are assigned to the areas, Mr. Ahleman says that $50,000 will be needed to carry the load in Lenawee county, and over the nation it will take millions of dollars that thousands may walk again. There are now almost 55,000 cases in the United States. 1952 was one of the worst years for polio in the history of the foundation. It is hoped that church groups and organizations will promote benefit parties for this fund in addition to regular drive.

Inquiring Reporter

Each week the Inquiring Reporter will briefly interview six persons on an interesting question.

THE QUESTION:

Did you start the New Year off with a resolution?

THE ANSWERS:

Don Bammer, American Legion club manager. "No I didn't make any, don't believe in them, they don't last. I wouldn't give up something I like to do just for a resolution."

Marj. Greenwald, waitress Cozy Cafe, "I didn't make any 'cause I wasn't gonna' break any. I only made one in my life and I'm always going to stick by it, to have my three children grow up to be good honest American citizens. Jack graduates from high school this year, Leonard's going into Junior high and Jerigene's going into the fifth."

Chris Taylor, barber, "Broke most of mine already, guess I didn't make very many this year though, except to go deer hunting. After all the stories those bucks are really getting big. I think all the deer hunters have been in here the last few days. I just got through with Ted La-Bounty. I also resolve not to talk to reporters anymore."

Jim Stutesman, THS senior. "Never make 'em, most people don't keep the ones they do make. I could keep one for about a week, but not a year. Once I lasted a whole week not eating candy."

Mrs. Kenton Hunt, substitute P.O. mail clerk, "No I didn't, because I figure you can make one anytime. If you're going to make a change, next week's as good a time as last."

Harold Sisson, news agency, "I'd like to make one to quit work, but I can't afford to do that and eat to too."

A Municipal Income Tax

The City of New York is reportedly studying a municipal income tax as a means of balancing its budget, which seems to give taxpayers a constant headache in the country's largest city. This would impose on New York's residents one more tax, added to an already considerable number, and a third income tax.

The unfortunate part of the New York picture is that once the nation's largest city imposes such a tax, other cities will be inclined to follow suit. Once before, New York enacted an income tax and the yield was estimated at an annual $15,000,000. However, the tax was never levied and the bill authorizing it was repealed the year after it was passed—in 1935.

At that time, too, the city was in extreme financial trouble. It was rescued from its plight then by a group of leading banks, that persuaded the city government to adopt an economy program, including general pay cuts.

In view of the serious disadvantages and grave objectionable features of a municipal income tax, it is hoped that the city will be able to avoid this step once again. What makes the New York picture a bit discouraging, however, is the fact that the city administration has been shot through with graft in recent years, the full story of which is just now being uncovered in sensational hearings and investigations. Funds of the city were squandered by crooks in pay-offs and protection and in many other ways.

Evidently the city is still suffering from the effects of some of this maladministration, and the municipal transit system has run up periodic deficits in spite of sizable increases in fares. One cannot help but conclude, in view of these dire happenings, that the city could operate without an income tax if crooked officials had not corrupted the city's government to the extent they did. It will be tragedy of an ominous nature if New York resorts to a city income tax to clean up its books.

He may look a little worried at the moment, but Salvatore Motta is a proud man indeed as he weighs his newly-born son, who arrived in this vale of tears with enough heft for two babies. BRIDE ELECT HONORED

Mrs. James Dick and Miss Beverly Hay were co-hostesses to a kitchen shower in the home of Miss Hay honoring Miss Diane Winfield, bride elect of Jan. 9. After a number of games were played, a buffet supper was served by the hostesses. Miss Winfield was the recipient of many lovely gifts.

A pantry sower was also held for Miss Winfield on Friday evening in the home of Mrs. Paul Breitenwischer, with Miss Joan Breitenwischer and Mrs. Ted Ehinger as co-hostesses. After dessert was served, games were played with prizes won presented to the honor guest who also received a shower of gifts.

The Rise Of Television

David Sarnoff, chairman of the Board of the Radio Corporation of America recently announced that the number of homes equipped with television had increased from 15,000,000 at the beginning of 1952, to nearly 21,000,000 at the end of the year. This increase amounts to a gain of about 40 per cent.

It is estimated that more than one-third of the population in this country is unable to receive television transmission. However, this situation is likely to be cleared up rapidly, since Mr. Sarnoff reported that, compared to 117 television stations on the air, at the end of the year, construction permits have been granted to 135 others. It seems likely that, considering the number of new stations which are expected to go on the air this year, the sale of new television sets will increase over the remarkable figure of 1952.

In fact, the year 1953 will be the greatest television year yet realized, with the greatest number of stations and the greatest number of viewers. By December 31st, 1953, it is likely that the 35% of the population which now is outside the reception capabilities of present television transmission will be reduced to a very low figure. The year is expected to mark the end of the television drought in all large areas and make the country truly and thoroughly "televised" from coast to coast.

The National Child Labor Committee reported that many of the 2,000,000 minors now working in this country illegally employed.

FARMERS CAN AVOID PIPES FROM FREEZING

Farmers who have had trouble with frozen water pipes this winter might save themselves work and grief by using electric heating cable, advises Louis Hall, Lenawee county agricultural agent.

A thermostatic system can be used as an extra "hired man" on the job, suggests the agent. Costs of installation and operation are very low, according to agricultural engineers at Michigan State College. The thermostat will help cut the costs and turn the juice in the electric cable along water pipes on just above freezing, about 35 degrees, and off at about 40 degrees.

Atomic Spy Freed

Dr. Allen N. May, 41-year-old British scientist, who was convicted of giving atomic secrets to the Soviet Union, was recently released from prison. May had served six years and eight months of a ten-year sentence, which was reduced for good behavior.

Questioned by reporters after his release from prison, the former espionage agent announced his belief that he had done no wrong and revealed a completely unrepentant attitude. Evidently, his six years in jail did little to convince him of any wrongdoing in selling his country's security secrets.

This is an amazing attitude and, certainly, an amazing one to admit to. It possibly indicates that Dr. May was not allowed enough time in jail to think over his disloyal acts.

Since its publication on September 30, 1,600,000 copies of the new revised standard version of the King James Bible have been sold.

WATER IS CHEAPEST FEED FOR ANIMALS

Dairy farmers with a hard water problem need not worry about its effect on milk production, reports Victor Cronk, assistant county agricultural agent. Cows need plenty of water—their least expensive feed—for milk production, whether its soft or hard.

The agricultural agent has word about the water question from extension dairymen at Michigan State College who agree with results found by scientists at Virginia Polytechnic Institute in tests on water. They picked 12 cows as near alike as possible in age, size, milk production and calving month. All received the same feed ration. Six spent 56 days on soft water; while the other six had hard well water. Then the two groups had their hard and soft water switched for another 56 days. The VPI scientists reported that cows drank the same amount of water, ate the same amounts, made equal body gains and produced about the same amounts of milk, whether on hard or soft water.

Farmers May Feel Pinch Of Lower Food Prices

Indications are that the U. S. farmer is going to feel the squeeze of lower food prices in 1953. Practically all of the "expert" forecasters, and government agencies, expect food prices to drop in the current year, even though they look for a generally prosperous year, with increased total profits, in all segments.

The trend has actually been downward in food prices since late summer. It is expected to continue well into the year. Since August, 1952, the average prices of retail food have dropped between 2 and 3 percent. And in most cases, the decline has been felt by the farmer producing the basic ingredients more than anyone else.

One of the problems facing the new administration will be how to keep the farmer from feeling the full effect of lower retail food prices. Up to now the middle men have come off without major losses, paying the farmer less but always serving a nice profit margin.

One reason food prices seem sure to decline further is the record number of livestock on U. S. farms coupled with a slackening of foreign demand for U. S. food. Large grain stocks are also on hand, which adds weight to the probability of slightly lower food prices. Although the U. S. population is steadily rising, as is the standard of living, both of which increase demand, the drop of foreign demand is expected to offset the natural increase in domestic demand.

The latest statistics show that farmers are paying less for goods and services but are also being paid less for their products, and the prices they receive have dropped faster than the prices they charge. Thus one of the major domestic problems of 1953 is how to keep that process from continuing. Congress may be forced to look into the matter for farmers are sure to complain to Congressmen. And many Congressmen already know there can be no total prosperity unless the farmer prospers — in a county where most of the people live on farms and in towns of less than 10,000 population.

Ike Medals Going Like Hot Cakes As Day Nears

The "Eisenhower medal" is proving such a hit with the public that extra help is being hired by Republican inaugural headquarters to take acre of the flood of orders.

The official inaugural medal for President Dwight D. Eeisenhower is being prepared in New York. The first one, in solid gold, will be presented to Ike himself. Bronze copies are being sold at three dollars apiece. Anybody can buy one, or a dozen; and hundreds of orders are coming in.

Gilbert Hahn, Jr., chairman of the medal distribut [illegible] mittees, said: "Some people seem to have the mistaken impression that distribution of the medals is to be limited to close friends and associates of General Eisenhower. That isn't the case at all. Anyone who wants one can place an order for any number of medals desired."

Designed by Walter Hancock of the Pennsylvania Academy of Fine Arts, the medal shows a profile of Eisenhower on the face while on the reverse is an American bald eagle symbolizing peace, with a border of wheat sheaves from Kansas. Ike's boyhood home state.

The first design showed the General with his lips in a serious expression. He and many others objected that it made him look too grim. So the corner of the lips has been turned up a touch to indicate the famous Ike grin. Hahn says the likeness will be "a bit more relaxed and folksy."

A sample letter sent in with one of the orders for the medal is this one from an Eagle Scout: "I was at the Valley Forge National Jamboree of the Boy Scouts of America when General Ike spoke to us. Since then he has been tops for me . . . . I believe in him so much I want one of the Ike Inaugural Medals."

HOUSE PETS CAN CAUSE ASTHMA, U-M DOCTOR WARNS

ANN ARBOR — Your dog's whiskers or your cat's "meow" may be making you an asthma victim.

Dr. Robert G. Lovell, a University of Michigan allergist, says off tiny particles from their fur, feathers or skins to cause severe respiratory symptoms in allergic persons.

Short haired or "non-sheddin animals can't be ruled out either, he cautions. That's because it's often the saliva of the pet which dries and blows in tiny particles through the air like pollen to bring in asthma.

Thus, a cat's friendly "meow" can actually be an asthma victim's enemy.

Animal dander also carries trouble for the asthmatic as it floats in the air, either from a pet or a rug pad made of hog or cattle hair.

Medical treatment of such asthma patients usually requires giving the animal or pad away to eliminate the source of the allergy, Dr. Lovell explains.

MISS CLARA LOFSTROM AND DAVID GREEN WED

An informal wedding, beautiful in its simplicity was held last Friday evening at St. Thomas Episcopal church in Trenton when Miss Clara M. Lofstrom, daughter of Albert Lofstrom and the late Mrs. Lofstrom of Benoit, Wisc., became the bride of David Marvin Green, son of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Green, of Tecumseh. The Rev. Allan L. Ramsay of Trenton, brother-in-law of Mr. Green performed the double ring ceremony at 8 o'clock. Mr. and Mrs. George E. Green, jr., brother and sister-in-law of the bridegroom were the only attendants.

A reception for immediate friends and relatives was held at the Ramsay home immediately following the ceremony.

The bride is a graduate of Andossgon high school in Benoit, Wisc., and off Englewood School of Nursing in Chicago, Ill., last June. She is employed at the University of Michigan hospital and is continuing her studies in nursing. POLIO IMMUNIZATION NEXT YEAR

President E. R. Harriman, of the American Red Cross, recently revealed that children in stricken areas will receive protection agianst polio next year, in the form of immunization. This will mark a major step forward in the the progress against paralytic poliomyelitis.

The project announced by Mr. Harriman calls for production of gamma globulin on a greatly increased basis. It is estimated that at least two million children will need gamma globulin next year as a protective treatment.

Gamma globulin is a blood component which provides temporary immunity from polio. Tests conducted indicate that while inoculation with this preventative does not prove one hundred per cent effective. it does reduce the outbreak of polio, from the second to fifth weeks after inoculation to a fraction of results experienced when no inoculations were given.

Further study is being made into the possibilities of gamma globulin and other possible immunizations, but, mean-while, the first polio immunization project is scheduled for next summer. This project is sure to prove a great physical and psychological aid in the continuing fight against infantile paralysis and it is hoped that, from the use of this preventative, medical science will find the answers necessary for the perfection of an immunization which is one hundred per cent effective.

NITROGEN FROM AIR

The claim has been made that plowing down a heavy crop of legumes could supply enough nitrogen for a 100-bushel corn crop. Elmer C. Rossman, Michigan State College corn specialist, agrees. An acre of good legumes can take 150 pounds of nitrogen out of the air; when plowed under, the legumes make the nitrogen available to corn following in rotation.

Buick, Chevrolet Coming Friday

'53 INTRODUCTIONS AT SCHNEIDER BROS.

Two new cars will be in town Friday — Buick and Chevrolet — both 1953 introductions, both featuring numerous body and motor changes, both coming out at Schneider Bros. garage in a gala all day open house.

The technical improvements are so numerous the local dealer invited the public to come in — morning or afternoon Friday — and "see for yourself." Most remarkable change in Buick is the V-8 motor, new to this car. "Chevrolet's completely new," he said, "ground to top, bumper to bumper".

Louis S. Schneider has now completed 30 years as a Buick dealer and is rated as one of the oldest in southern Michigan. At a recent national dealer's convention in Atlantic City where the new models were previewed, Mr. Schneider was presented an engraved tray for his long service. The award was one of eight presented to Michigan dealers.

He founded the Buick agency here in 1922 and the Chevrolet in 1932.

Coffee, doughnuts and decorations will be part of the open house Friday.

CULL FLOCKS TO CUT BILL FOR FEEDING

Cull your laying flock now, urges J. M. Moore, extension poultry specialist at Michigan State College.

There are two seasons of egg production, he explains; the season of scarce eggs at higher prices is passing and the season of more eggs at lower prices is starting. Your flock must be efficient to be profitable.

If a layer produces two eggs a week, it is doubtful if she pays for her board. If she is laying four eggs a week, she should give a profit.

No time should be wasted over birds that are not laying, stresses the MSC poultryman. Send them to market right away. Look for the hens with the small combs and wattles and the small combs like heads. The place for these birds is in the stew pot for the low-priced egg season.

By culling out low-producing hens you cut your feed bill without cutting egg production. The good producers that are left will increase in efficiency.

This low-priced season lasts for six months, cautions Moore; it's time to act on the culling job now. It's one New Year's resolution that will pay.

CARD OF THANKS

We would like to take this means of expressing our sincere appreciation to the friends and relatives who helped us in so many ways during the long illness and death of our beloved mother and wife. Especially do we thank the staff of Herrick Memorial hospital, Dr. R. F. Helzerman, donors of the many beautiful flowers, and all who assisted in any way, Rev. Escolme for his comforting words, the Green Funeral Home, those who called on her so faithfully during her long days in bed. It is hard to find words to express what we feel in our hearts.

The family of Wesley Handy.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to thank our many friends for the cards I received during my recent illness while confined at home. They helped so much to brighten the gloomy days. I also wish to thank the Tecumseh Grange for the fruit, flowers and cards received, and the Culbertson P.T.A. for flowers, and the gift from the Presbyterian Woman's Association. They were all very much appreciated.

Mrs. I. W. Boltz.

IN MEMORIAM

In sad but loving memory of my nephew, Herbert E. Handy who gave his life for his country January 11, 1945, somewhere in Germany.

Beyond the gleam of the morning sun,
Beyond the sunset when day is done,
Beyond the moon's clear silver beam,
There lies our hero, our faith, our dream.

Lovingly,

Indian Basketball Quintet Rolls Over Six Straight Foes

A formidable six game victory string will be at stake Friday night when Tecumseh's Indian cagers invade Blissfield for an inter-conference game.

Unbeaten Tecumseh tops the Southeastern Michigan circuit while the Sugar Boys rule the L.C.A.A.

But victory or defeat is secondary in the mind of popular coach Victor Lawson who puts such things as good sportsmanship and team play ahead of taking a mere triumph off the court.

Youthful Lawson, who hails from Cadillac and was schooled at Western Michigan, likes to win along with every competitor, but when you're sending out a handful of teen-age lads to represent a school, and a town, Vic puts top priority on their playing by the rules and making a clean showing for the folks at home.

This year he's not much worried about the representation Tecumseh will get from his six-foot average quintet which plays as fair as it does hard. To date they have downed all comers and have a high rating among state class B squads.

In six times out they have survived as follows:

Tec. 56	Addison 50
Tec. 38	Hillsdale 34
Tec. 65	Morenci 50
Tec. 49	Clinton 41
Tec. 39	Mon. Cath 23
Tec. 58	Hudson 31

Aside from the starting varsity team of Jim Wilson 6'1", Bill Benham 5'9", Bob Binns 5'10", Jack Greenwald 6'1" and Wayne Patton 5'10" as sketched above by THS artist Ernie Kollar, Coach Lawson has a varsity reserve team of Jack Betzoldt, Melvin Boltz, Albert Hart, Jerry Barron, Doug Hooton and Tom Baldwin.

Of the entire group, Benham, Hart, Hooton and Baldwin are the only players who are not graduating seniors.

Artist Kollar, also a senior, eyes a career in commerical art and from the likeness of these pencil drawings, he has a natural and capable beginning.

BILLY STILL'S MORALE EVEN HIGHER AFTER BRIEF VISIT HOME

• Billy Still of Clinton a polio patient at the University hospital in Ann Arbor spent two hours with his family Tuesday afternoon, through the courtesy of Mr. Proctor's ambulance service. Mr. Still was greatly amazed at the progress made on his new home through the efforts of friends and neighbors. Morale-building is an important factor in fighting polio.

On Saturday, January 24 at the Clinton high school auditorium there will be a benefit public dance for the Billy Still fund. The Tecumseh Products orchestra will furnish the music for dancing.

GREEN OPENS IN NEW CLOTHING STORE SATURDAY

Harold Green will hold a public open house Saturday as his clothing store completes a move one door west of their old location on Chicago blvd.

Following the purchase of his old location by the United Savings bank last fall, Mr. Green purchased the store formerly occupied by Tecumseh Electric and started an extensive remodeling program.

A new front, new entrance, new interior fixtures, shelves and floor covering are featured in the store.

Mr. Green will mark the opening with favors on Saturday.

United Savings Bank will extend its bookkeeping facilities into the former Green building, extending also the bank's brick front. This work will take an estimated three months for completion.

Former Resident Dies At Home of Daughter

Ira Lamkin, 83, former resident of Tecumseh, died Tuesday evening at 11 o'clock at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Dewey Berry, R.F.D. 3, Blissfield. Mr. Lamkin had been in failing health the past fourteen years and had lived with his daughters the last eight years.

Born September 30, 1869, in Macon township, he had lived his entire lifetime in Franklin township. May 4, 1891 he married Lottie Corner who survives. Mr. Lamkin, one of ten children, was preceded in death by six brothers and sisters. He was a member of the Tecumseh Baptist church and attended regularly while his health permitted.

Survivors besides his widow are two daughters, Mrs. Robert Hutton of Detroit and Mrs. Berry; two sisters, Mrs. Nettie Butrick of Detroit and Mrs Ben Roberts of Tecumseh and one brother Perry Lamkin of Ypsilanti; five granddaughters and one grandson. Several nieces, nephews and cousins survive.

Prayer services will be held Thursday evening (tonight) at 8 o'clock at the Mann Funeral Home in Blissfield. The body will be brought to the Tecumseh Baptist church Friday noon where funeral services will be held in the afternoon at 2 o'clock with the Rev. George Q. Woomer of the Blissfield Methodist church and the Rev. B. O. Bashore of the Baptist church, officiating. Burial will be in Brookside cemetery.

Dance at Tecumseh Grange, Saturday, Jan. 17. Driscoll's orchestra, Bock calling. Dancing 9 til 1. adv. 1/15.

Mrs. Fred Aylesworth Buried in Brookside

Funeral services for Mrs. Fred Aylesworth who died last Monday afternoon at her farm home were held Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Green Funeral Home. Rev. Work Starts This Week On Schools

NO GROUND BREAKING CEREMONIES PLANNED

Excavation started this week on the northeast addition to Tecumseh high school as the Miller-Davis Construction Co., Kalamazoo, moved in men, machinery and materials to start full scale operations at both the high school and at the Patterson Elementary school site.

Work shanties are up at both locations, bench marks and surveyor's stakes have been spotted so that actual construction can start immediately.

Both projects are to be completed within 410 days from Dec. 4.

At a meeting of the school board Tuesday night, Supt. James McDowell reviewed this progress. He said that construction steel will be on location this week while digging is in progress.

The board has selected Ohio Buff smooth-faced brick for the high school addition which matches the present brick; it is first quality with five per cent green added. A contract was awarded to the Kurtz Brick Co., Detroit, at $63 per thousand bricks standard eight inch size, or $115 per thousand norman brick of twelve inch size.

A rougher red and orange Kingswood brick was selected for the elementry school and a contract awarded to the Claycraft Co., Columbus, O., for $59 and $98, standard and norman.

McDowell said the board had decided to hold a ceremony at the time the cornerstone is placed at the Patterson school and not hold any ground breaking ceremonies.

Other matters handled by the school board Tuesday were reports on additions to the teaching staff for next year and completion of minor projects.

A new snow plow attachment to the tractor which Jens Touborg gave to the Agricultural department has been constructed by Harold Warren, Paul Burns and Amiel Teske. It works very well, McDowell reported, and will save the board considerable money in snow removal fees.

The exits at the Library and Brownville are finished and were well done. There is no longer a

Sewage Plant Open House Is Saturday

Saturday is visitor's day at the Sewage Disposal Plant on Chicago Blvd. near east village limits.

Though not entirely complete in every detail and landscapping, the unit will be thrown into operation early Saturday and opened to an expected 2,000 visitors.

The village council extends a cordial invitation to everyone so that the public can see what came out of their $285,000 bond issue—to view the equipment and structure of Tecumseh's new sewage treatment plant.

This plant represents the most modern, acceptable means of sewage treatment for the conditions which prevail at Tecumseh. The plant equipment is of the best and most reliable type obtainable.

The Council undertook the construction of this plant by order of the Water Resources Commission of the State of Michigan, which body, by legislative authority, has the power to order construction of sewage plants where required to protect the streams of the State from pollution.

The plant construction was financed by general obligation bonds approved by the property owners of Tecumseh by popular vote in the fall of 1951. Contractors were asked to submit construction bids on December 10, 1951. Eleven bids were received, the lowest bid being considerably above the consulting engineer's estimate cost. The council therefore decided to reject all bids and to proceed with the work on a force account basis. Construction work was started April 10, 1952 and the plant is now substantially complete and will be completed at a saving of over $50,000 as compared to the low bid.

Church Celebrates 125th Anniversary

METHODISTS TO HOLD BANQUET, PAGEANT

Plans are under way for the 125th anniversary celebration of the organization of the Methodist church, following closely the lines of the centennial celebration of January, 1928.

A banquet, served by the W.S.C.S. at 6:30 p. m. Friday, January 23 will begin the festivities. Mrs. Truman Rentschler will be toastmaster. Following a short program downstairs, the audience will adjourn to the church sanctuary where an historical pageant depicting the history of the church will be given. The pageant is being written by Mrs. Luther Wood with assistance from Wilfred Waldron, sr., and Miss Lavie Snedicor. It is based on an expanded history fo the church which Rev. Ronald Brunger, pastor has been working on for a year.

The general public is invited to the pageant. Tickets for the banquet will be limited to 150, and may be secured from Mrs. George Wittrup.

The anniversary celebration will continue with three services on Sunday, January 25. At the 10:45 a. m. service district superintendent Frank L. Fitch will conduct the worship and Bishop Marshall R. Reed, resident bishop of the Detroit area, will preach. A coffee hour will follow the morning service.

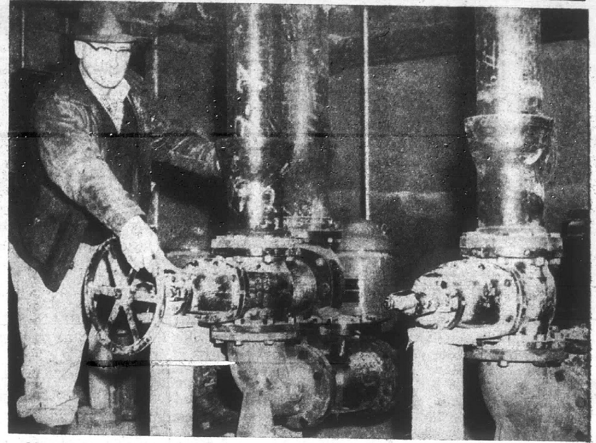
At 3:30 in the afternoon there will be an historical exhibit of old church records and pictures and other items of historical interest. At 4 p. m., a musical vesper concert will be given by the choir of the Adrian Methodist church.

The evening service at 7:30 features special music, fraternal messages from neighboring churches, and a sermon by Dr. Dwight S. Large, pastor of the First Methodist church, Ann Arbor.

The general committee in charge of the celebration is composed of Mrs. Truman Rentschler, Wilfred Waldron, sr., Mrs. Floyd Elliott, Miss Lavie Snedicor, Mrs. Charles Schoenholtz and Rev. Ronald Brunger; invitation committee, Mrs. Floyd Elliott, Mrs. Earl Updike and Mrs. Ernest Robison; banquet committee, Mrs. Truman Rentschler, Mrs. Charles Schoenholtz and Miss Lavie Snedicor; vesper service committee, Mrs. Herbert Dillon and Mrs. Wilfred Waldron.

As a special feature, sauvenier plates with a picture of the church and a 100 word history on the back have been ordered. The public is cordially invited to attend the anniversary services.

Effective Jan. 26, haircuts $1.25. Children under 13 will remain at $1 except Sat. and day before holidays. All haircuts will be $1.25. Henkel's Barber Shop. adv. 1/22



Of particular interest to visitors during Saturday's open house at the Sewage Disposal plant will be the numerous basement pumps in the main building. Construction superintendent Ervin Bolsum is shown turning the valve on one of four suction pumps. These will be in operation Saturday for visitor's inspection. Other sludge pumps and chlorinating equipment will be found in the basement. Office and laboratory facilities are on the main floor of the low brick building which centers the project. This is Bolsum's fourth recent construction job of sewage disposal plants. He will leave here when the work is completed and a full time superintendent will be named. Village engineer Ed Nelson will be general head of the operation as he is over streets, water and other village departments.

Polio Drive Underway, Plan Benefit Program Tuesday

MANY ACTIVITIES ADD TO MARCH OF DIMES DRIVE

Today officially opens the March of Dimes campaign in Lenawee county which will run through February 15, according to Paul Ahleman, chairman of the Lenawee chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

Mrs. George Quick, chairman of the drive in Tecumseh, Tecumseh township and Raisin township says that everything is in readiness for the drive in this area. Mrs. Quick has placed canisters in business places and asks that all persons leaving on extended vacations send their contributions to her at 837 S. Union street before leaving town. All checks should read "March of Dimes."

Several organizations have given treasury gifts to the polio fund already, some are planning benefit card parties and bake sales and others are having free will offerings for this cause. The churches are asked to interpret contributions to this fund as applied Christianity and not charity. It will take millions of dollars that thousands may walk again. More than 55,000 cases were reported over the United States last year.

All expenses of the patient are paid from the time that the case is diagnosed as polio until no further treatment is needed. If the patient has polio insurance, the National Foundation picks up where the insurance leaves off.

Mr. Ahleman finds that cooperation of families who have experienced polio is remarkable. They are very willing to help make the drive a success and in many cases act as chairmen of local drives. Patients are anxious to show their appreciation in some way and will contribute their talents whenever possible. Other workers on the drive receive no remuneration for their services. The books of the Lenawee chapter are open for inspection at any time with headquarters located on South Main street in Adrian.

Renewal Problem

With most weekly newspapers, an expiring subscription is a signal to pile on the pressure for renewal — but The Herald values your subscription — and your intelligence — too highly to indulge in high pressure virtuosity.

We of The Herald staff are trying to do such a fine job—bringing you, week upon week, local news of varied interest and substance — helping you to keep in closer touch with your local government, your local schools, churches, organizations and most of all your local friends and neighbors — that your renewal will arrive at our office without over urging.

We count it a pleasure and privilege to serve you and our resolution is to try and make Tecumseh's public printing of news and advertising increasingly valuable in the years to come so that you will remain with us...

After 102 years of service, The Herald still looks to its big family of readers as the "best folks on earth".

MUSICAL BENEFIT PROGRAM FEATURES ROBERT BARNES

A musical benefit program for the polio fund will be co-sponsored by the Music Club and the Monday Club on Tuesday evening, January 20 in the American Legion Home at 8 p.m.

Mrs. Wilfred Waldron has arranged for Robert Barnes of Adrian, a polio victim to play several piano numbers. Mrs. Clarence Seizert of Blissfield will give an interesting chalk talk on her latest subject, "The Story of the Trees," one of which became the manger for the Baby Jesus, another Peter's Boat, and the third the cross.

This program is open to the public with everything donated through the efforts of the two organizations. There will be no charge for the program but a free-will offering will be taken for the polio fund. Refreshments will be served to all who attend.

Mrs. Ralph Westgate has appointed Mrs. Arthur Schwartz and Mrs. Lester Runk to serve jointly with the committee appointed by Mrs. R. J. McCoy, namely, Mrs. T. Rentschler, Mrs. Veva Connor, Mrs. Leon Johnson, Mrs. Paul Maves, Miss Edith Ingersoll, Mrs. Virgil Deming, and Mrs. Herbert Murphy. Mrs. Westgate and Mrs. McCoy are presidents of the organizations respectively.

Gloria Underwood Fetkenhier expects to be present to greet friends old and new. Mrs. Wilfred Waldron is in charge of the program arrangements.

HUMANE SOCIETY PUTS CANISTERS IN STORES

Canisters have been placed in stores this week by the Lenawee County Humane Society for the purpose of raising funds for an animal shelter. Over $4,000 has been raised to date with a goal of $11,000. Plans are being made to take possession of the shelter within the coming week.

FORMER RESIDENT DIES

Friends here have received word of the death of Mrs. Jane Harris Crane, formerly of Tecumseh, which occurred January 7 in University hospital. Mrs. Crane, wife of Prof. Verner W. Crane of the University of Michigan history department, was the daughter of the late Theodore C. and Elizabeth Rawson Harris. Mr. Harris was a member of the firm of Harris & Hiteshu.

A graduate of Tecumseh high school in 1907 and the University in 1912, Mrs. Crane had lived in Ann Arbor since 1930. Surviving besides her husband is a son, Theodore R. Crane, a graduate student at Harvard University.

The body was cremated and memorial services were held Friday in the chapel of St. Michael and All Angels at St. Andrew's Episcopal church in Ann Arbor.

I will be at the United Savings Bank Saturday, December 13 and each Saturday thereafter until further notice for the collection of Tecumseh Township taxes, fire insurance, and dog tax. Will also accept payments by check or money order mailed to my residence, 211 W. Brown street.

Village Charter Not Adequate For '53 – Bell

MUNICIPAL LEAGUE MAN SPEAKS AT CHAMBER BANQUET

"Tecumseh's present General Law Village Charter was adequate for the Tecumseh of 40 or 50 years ago, but not adequate for the Tecumseh of 1953," Jay T. Bell, representative of the Michigan Municipal League told members of the Chamber of Commerce at an annual meeting Wednesday night.

Bell, who is editor of the Michigan Municipal League Review and the league's charter consultant, said that most of the members of the audience will probably live to see the day when, in Michigan, there will be no villages over 2,000 population.

He pointed out that a modern Home Rule City Charter will permit the citizens of Tecumseh to take advantage of all that has been learned about municipal government since 1895 and that a modern charter would provide more democratic and economical government for Tecumseh.

Entitled, "What City Incorporation Would Mean to the Village of Tecumseh," the interesting and informative talk was summarized by Bell with, "the exercise of Home Rule at the grass roots level is vital to preserving the real strength of democracy."

Bell's statements were given The Herald prior to Wednesday night's meeting held at the Country Club.

He came here at the request of the Chamber and sanction of the village council.

Also on the program were Bob Moore, Ray Herrick, Don Nixon and Glenn Kohler. Judge G. A. Rathbun was toastmaster.

Following a banquet for nearly 150 local retailers, wholesalers and manufacturers, the C of C elected three new directors.

Further details of the annual meeting will be in next week's issue.

ELMER BURLESON TO COMMAND CAP HERE

Tecumseh's own squadron was activated in the Civilian Air Patrol Tuesday night with Elmer Burleson new commander. The local unit will be a part of the Michigan wing and fly with Adrian, Flat Rock and Monroe as group 17.

Thirty-one members were activated. Burleson said his staff is not yet complete. An L-16B airplane will be given to the local squadron when a cadet program is started.

CAP purpose is cadet training, readiness and mobilization. It is affiliated with the AAF under Lt. Gen. Lucius Beau with national headquarters at Bowling Field, Washington, D. C. There are 52 national wings.

Local meetings will be held every Tuesday night.

ONLY PART OF THE ANSWER — Though work shanties are up and engineer stakes in the ground for the new elementary school and two spacious additions to the high school, far-sighted Supt. Jim McDowell shakes his head in wonderment whenever he happens upon the file of present kindergarten enrollment. Tecumseh will fare alright next fall (providing construction progresses on schedule — if it doesn't and the Patterson school is not ready, McDowell wonders now where they will all fit in). But it is even farther ahead that poses the real school room problem.

For Tecumseh, like the nation is short on space. Actually 325,000 schoolrooms are needed in this country and all the total school building programs only add up to a quarter of the needs. It has been suggested that a federal-aid program be inaugurated to provide matching funds for states in the construction of new schools. Such a program has worked successfully in the field of highway and hospital construction, and could fit right into our school picture.

There is not a single state that does not have schoolroom problems, and their solution is of primary importance. In a land of government for and by the people, why not serve their primary needs first?

HOW DO FARMERS FEEL? — Economists, politicians and second-guessers paint a rosy agricultural picture for '53 but a news analyst who wanted to get down to earth and find out how the farmers feel about prospects coming up, ran into a big story. There are many who do not like what he found.

For indications point that the current slump in farm prices is setting the stage for another agricultural depression similar to that of '29. Prices are behaving the way they did prior to the last deflation, farm prices are dipping while the stock market is soaring. If something isn't done to restore farm incomes we may be in for a ready-made depression when defense spending slacks. Main complaints are from cattlemen who note sharp drops in livestock prices which have not been reflected in retail meat prices. Oldtime farmers see a dim parallel to '29.

THE READING HABIT — There is no better habit to get into than that of reading books, and there is no better time to start than as a youngster. This inscription on the children's reading room in Boston tells what wonderful things our book friends can be.

> "Books are keys to wisdom's treasure;
> Books are gates to lands of pleasure;
> Books are paths that upward lead;
> Books are friends, come let us read."

WASHINGTON MARDI GRAS — Every four years Washington, D. C. has a gala Mardi Gras, not a business sponsored promotion like New Orleans', but a taxpayer's whoop-de-la that has snowballed to unknown proportions. Millions of people on special buses and trains from all over (hotels have been over-booked for months so many will live right on their excursion trains), will jam in the nation's capital for the celebration. There will be more grandstands (one is under construction to seat 100,000), more floats, more trimmings, more color, more money spent than ever before.

All for the short, but traditional inauguration Jan. 20 which has gotten a little out of keeping with the deadly serious task President Eisenhower is undertaking.

If you want to sit on the political hilarity, Mr. and Mrs. Taxpayer will have their first video view of such a ceremony. For along with other trimmings, television will make an all out day of it.

KROGER SALES UP 5 PER CENT IN '52

Billion-dollar-plus sales for 1952 were reported by the Kroger Co. for the first time in its 70-year history. Sales of $1,051,803,354 during 1952 place the retail food firm among 26 American companies that last year could claim sales topping the billion dollar mark. Kroger's 1952 sales were five per cent higher than sales of $997,086,223 during 1951.

Growth of the company has been steady. A typical product of the American free enterprise system, the company was founded in 1882 by the late B. H. Kroger, son of a German immigrant. His first small store on Cincinnati's riverfront represented an investment of only $772. But at the end of the year the business showed assets of $2600 and it continued to grow. Sales reached the million mark for the first time in 1902.

Another company record was set in 1952 when sales for the thirteenth four-week period ending December 27, 1952, totaled $85,236,986. This tops by two per cent the previous all-time high of $83,913,201 for the thirteenth period of 1951.

Average number of Kroger stores in operation during the period was 1,893 compared with 1,985 stores during the 1951 thirteenth period, a decrease of five per cent.

World's newest V8 with a million miles behind it

HERE, in literal fact, is the most advanced V8 engine ever placed in a standard-production American automobile.

It is the first such V8 to reach an 8.5 to 1 compression ratio, and the first with a dynamic flow muffler that cuts power loss to zero.

It is the first V8 to utilize vertical valves together with a 12-volt electrical system instead of the usual 6. It is also the first designed with new "T" type intake manifold to replace the "Y" type conventionally used in V8s.

It is, quite simply, the first V8 Fireball Engine—the engine that brings electrifying performance to the greatest Buicks in fifty great years—the engine that powers the 1953 Buick ROADMASTER with 188 hp., and the 1953 Buick SUPER with up to 170.

Naturally, this spectacular new V8 has been proved—by eight years of developing, testing, improving, perfecting—and by more than a million miles of driving through desert, mountains, cities and plains. Only then did Buick engineers mark it: Released for Production.

But these hard-to-please engineers gave these Golden Anniversary Buicks far more than new power.

They gave them, too, a still finer ride, more superb comfort, new braking power and handling ease—and a sensational new Twin-Turbine Dynaflow Drive* that adds new quiet and whip-fast getaway to absolute smoothness.

Nothing, we believe, will do more justice to your automobile dollars—or to your love of magnificent motoring—than a visit to us right now.

Standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.*

Sewage Plant

Path of Sewage Flow

The sewage treatment plant is of the single stage high rate trickling filter type and provides facilities for 80% purification of the sewage from a population of 7000. Following is a description of the path of the sewage flow through the plant.

1. Sewage enters the plant through a Parshall flume which measures the volume of the sewage.

2. It then flows through a comminutor which cuts up the larger solid particles in the sewage.

3. The flow then continues through either of two primary settling tanks where about 60% of the settleable solids are removed.

4. The sewage is then discharged through spray nozzles onto the high rate trickling filter which consists of a 6-foot deep bed of stone with underdrains. As the sewage trickles through the stone it is aerated and bacterial growth on the stones remove additional impurities from the sewage.

5. The sewage then flows to the suction well where it is pumped to the splitting box—a part of the sewage is returned to the primary tanks for further purification and—a part of it flows through the final settling tank where most of the remaining settleable solids are removed.

8. The purification sewage then flows through the outfall sewer into the Raisin River.

9. The solids (sludge) which were removed in the primary and final settling tanks are pumped through a sludge heater where the sludge is heated and it is then placed in either of two digestion tanks.

10. In the digestion tanks the sludge decomposes at a temperature of 90°F, in the absence of air, giving off a gas which is used for operating the sludge heater.

11. After remaining in the digestion tanks for a period of four weeks the organic part of the sludge has been completely reduced to inorganic material called digested sludge. This digested sludge is then pumped from the bottom of the digestion tanks to the sludge drying beds where the material dries.

12. After the digested sludge has dried, it is removed by shoveling from the beds and can be used for a soil conditioner or fill material.

13. During the summer months, the purified sewage is sterilized by the addition of a chlorine solution at the upper end of the outfall sewer.

Inquiring Reporter

Because of the brevity of this week's answers, the inquiring reporter asked two (instead of the usual one) questions.

THE QUESTIONS

Do you think the winters are milder than they used to be? Do you expect any changes under the Republicans?

THE ANSWERS

Duane Gillin, store clerk, "Just about the same, I think they run in cycles. Changes? Definitely! Maybe not right off in four years though."

Sylvia Golat, THS junior, "Gee I don't know, I like the winter time, don't mind it cold. Yes I think there will be changes, within six months, most likely in taxes."

Bert Filter, Products carpenter foreman, "Well yes they're milder now, we used to have real winters, one right after the other. You're bound to see some changes. May not be too noticeable because they have a lot of work to do."

Mrs. Donovan Hook, clerk, dry cleaning firm, "The winter now seems milder, looking back as a child. Back in '17 and '18 it was terribly cold and we had so terribly much snow. Oh, I don't think there will be any immediate changes, maybe in a little while."

Mrs. Margaret Kempf, cashier, phone office, "This one so far is milder but not last year. Back in '29 or '30 in Jackson we had a up I think there will be some uu. I think there will be some changes, everyone will be fooled if there are not." Her husband, Henry Kempf, Products assembly worker, added "The mercury doesn't go down like it used to, I think its milder, worst storm I remember was in '26 when all the trains were tied up in Tecumseh. I don't think you'll see any peace in Korea, but taxes will be lower."

Mrs. Lena Pocklington, who tentative plans are to visit the nation's capitol for Ike's Inauguration, "Winters are much milder, we used to walk to school on top of snow crusted higher than rail fences. We'd better see some changes. I have no idea what they'll be. Ike will make us a wonderful President."

On Winter Driving

Wilson P. Green, automotive expert at the Armour Research Foundation at the Illinois Institute of Technology, lists the following suggestions to winter drivers:

A heated garage is the best place for your car on cold nights. When parked outdoors, you can reduce the effect of cold weather on the engine by burning a large light bulb under the hood all night.

Your engine will start more quickly if you use a light-weight oil and a husky battery. Disengage the clutch while starting.

Idle your engine before driving off. Do not race your engine for long periods when it is cold.

Apply brakes gently when slowing or stopping in winter, and if you have the new power brakes, test them cautiously for new responses before driving at high speeds. Remember that it takes a greater distance to stop on wet and icy roads than on dry concrete.

The main rule is to drive slowly and keep your distance behind the car ahead. Your headlights, windshield wiper blades and defrosters should all be checked.

If you follow this advice, the chances are that accidents will pass you up this winter. And since accidents kill over 600 people in this country each week, these winter-driving rules might save your life, if you follow them.

Activities of interest to every poultryman will be included in the Farmers' Week program at Michigan State College, reminds Victor Cronk, assistant county agricultural agent. Farmers' Week will be the last week of January. Egg Marketing Day will be Tuesday, January 27, Wednesday will be Poultry Management Day and Thursday will be Turkey Day.

Poultry activity this year will be divided between formal programs in the Poultry Building, on South MSC Campus, and exhibits under the football stadium, Cronk has been informed. Most of the formal program will be January 27, 28, and 29.

Tuesday morning's program will include talks by Mel Flock of DeKalk Hybrid Seed Co., Casper Blumer, Alcona-Oscoda agricultural agent; Al Silk, a southern Michigan egg buyer, and J. W. Stacey of Kroger Baking Co., Detroit. An afternoon panel discussion will be led by J. A. Davidson, poultry husbandryman at MSC. Panel members will include Warren Mueller, Dansville farmer; Ralph Sheppard, manager of Napoleon Egg Cooperative; Mahlon Sweet, former Ohio extension poultryman and now a marketing magazine editor; Bill Cate, Michigan egg grading supervisor; Miles Nelson, chief of the State Department of Agriculture's bureau of marketing and enforcement, and Mary Bodwell, MSC home economist.

DAIRYMEN TO MEET TUESDAY

The annual Lenawee County D.H.I.A. meeting will be held at the Michigan Producers Dairy Company auditorium on Tuesday, January 20, 1953. The four associations will have their separate business meetings in the morning session which begins at 10:30 a.m. All dairymen who are doing dairy herd testing and owner-sampler testing are urged to attend the meeting.

Larry Johnson, extension dairyman, Michigan State College, will be on hand to talk about dairying and the dairy herd testing program. The feature educational part of the program will be a panel discussion concerning the preparation of grass silage and how it affects dairy production. This will be conducted by a group of dairymen who have had varied experiences with this feed preparation practice.

A noon luncheon will be served to all members by the association. Members are asked to pick their tickets up at the door from their tester supervisor.

U. S. Spies And Russia

The latest intimation that spies and intelligence agents of the United Satest are penetrating the [illegible]artain around [illegible] itself is a newspaper article in Red Fleet, the Soviet Navy newspaper. The naval publication recently warned that "enemies of the Soviet State" are striving to employ "unstable elements of Soviet society for their dirty purposes."

The newspaper called on Russian workers and armed forces members to exert maximum vigilance against such activity. Then the paper continued: "It is impossible to forget that enemies of the Soviet Union try every way to stimulate unhealthy moods."

This article follows a number of similar articles and references which have appeared in Russian and satellite Communist newspapers recently. It is another indication that the U. S. intelligence system ,set up after World War II, is not completely idle. In fact, the Red Fleet story indicates the Russians are seriously concerned with inroads being made by United States or other Allied agents. This concern has been more clearly evidenced in more recent months than at any time in several years.

REDS AND A-BOMB . . . Carlton S. Proctor, president of the American Society of Civil Engineers, stated at the Chicago centennial of engineering recently that he did not believe Russia has a single atom bomb.

McDowell said, in looking forward to Tecumseh's 1953-54 teaching staff, "To take care of the present kindergarten we will need six first grades of better than thirty pupils each. We now have four so this will mean the hiring of two additional first grade teachers. The present four first grades will make four second grades of which we now have three; therefore, we need an additional second grade teacher. Since we expect to open the Patterson school in September and the new Gym sometime in December or January we should plan to inaugurate a suitable physical education program for both the elementary school and the high school.

"To do so means the procuring of two additional physical education teachers, a man and a woman, each to teach one class in the secondary school and spend the rest of the day in the elementary schools. This would give us a complete physical education program from the fourth grade through the twelfth. In the secondary school we have paid seven teachers to take an extra class or study hall this year, but we feel tha ta teacher does not give the best possible service under these conditions for they have no free time in school for conferences, etc.

"To take care of increased enrollments from last year and for next year, we need an additional high school math and science teacher, and an additional half teacher for history and study halls to fill out for Mr. Waldron who now teaches only half days. This will enable us to augment our curriculum by two girls' gym classes, 2 boys' gym classes, 1/2 year of general business, 1/2 year of general math., 1/2 year of consumers problems, and 1/2 year of remedial reading."

The school board also voted Tuesday to advertise the East Branch school for sale immediately (legal advertisement will be in next week's Herald) and hold all bids for vote at the annual meeting in July.

A tentative plan was also approved to buy a right-of-way from Harold Naser for a new sewer line to go through his property on No. VanBuren to the Patterson school.

CHURCH SERVICES CHANGED

At the annual parish meeting of St. Peter's Episcopal church Monday evening, it was voted to have only two services on Sunday. Beginning with Sunday, January 18, there will be a celebration of the Holy Communion at 8 a. m. and family services and church school at 11 a. m. The nursery and kindergarten will meet at 11 a. m.

Four vestrymen were also elected at the meeting. Jack Curtiss, Glenn Driscoll, Harold Morey and Lee Randall were chosen to serve on the vestry for the next three years.

A Record 1952 Christmas

The National Safety Council recently announced that the four-day Christmas weekend exacted a highway death toll of 556. This is an all-time record, surpassing the previous record of 555 fatalities in the Christmas holiday of 1936.

When considering the 556 deaths, due to highway accidents during the recent Christmas weekend, one must also take into account the thousands temporarily or permanently injured in these and other accidents. It occurs to us that the offering of some 500 lives each Christmas is a sacrifice which is almost as unappreciated as it is unnecessary.

At least one state has attempted to remind motorists of the death threat which always hovers above the highway by erecting crosses along the highway where deaths have occurred. It is a sobering sight to see three or four crosses in a spot on the side of the road as one speeds along to his destination. The sight, and resulting meditation, has caused more than one driver to slow down.

This method has been tried by the State of Florida, and it is worth the consideration of all states who have not tried it.

HOSPITAL AUXILIARY

Herrick Memorial Hospital Auxiliary met in the Fellowship Center of the Presbyterian church Tuesday evening for the annual meeting to elect officers. Mrs. Ronald Harris was in charge of devotions. New members welcomed into the auxiliary were Mrs. Duane Service, Mrs. Lester Runk, Mrs. James Hartsell, Mrs. Earle Green, Mrs. C. O. Bailey, Mrs. Melvin Boltz, Miss Alice Hopkins, Miss Marjorie Wickwire and Mrs. Lillian Buttolph of Britton.

Three committees were appointed for the planning and decorating of the new addition to the hospital. They are: lobby and joining rooms, Mrs. Paul Ammer, Mrs. J. F. Furry and Mrs. Carl Fosbender; second floor, Mrs. R. C. Carey, Mrs. R. K. Anderson and Mrs. Joseph Rohweder; nursery and first floor, Mrs. M. R. Blanden, Mrs. Raymond Kempf and Mrs. Robert Laidlaw.

Mrs. Hoyt Whelan was elected as the new president; Mrs. Chas. Mensing, first vice president; Mrs. Carey, second vice president; Mrs. Paul Eddy, secretary; Mrs. James Barton, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Hugh Andrews, treasurer.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Fred Dickinson, sr., as chairman assisted by Mrs. Sam Sisson, Mrs. Hal Kelso, Mrs. Leo Bishop, Miss Beth Satterthwaite, Mr. Gerald Osworth, and Mrs. James Beardsley. Mrs. Whelan, the new president, and Mrs. Keyser, outgoing president, poured.

Tables Turned! Teachers Tested

Tables seem to have been turned, Monday, January 12, when the senior high school students were given time to take tests concerning teachers.

This procedure, odd as it may seem, happens every four years and seems to be helpful and advisable to many of the teachers.

The tests were made up of choice questions concerning the teachers, teaching each class taken by the student. The tests will not be given to the teacher but will be taken as an overall majority of each question. Each student played an important part in answering the questions to the best of his ability concerning he was a student of Tecumseh High School.

Exams Arriving

The time has arrived, where Semester Exams are just around the corner. Arriving January 20th through 22nd. Leaving us the 23rd with a day's vacation.

As usual, along with the hustle and bustle of books, papers (which have been saved for around 4½ months, being lucky if they're found) and the staying home at night studying for those astonishing exams, (wondering if you'll ever catch those little things which you — well — just didn't get at one time or another). Along with all that cramming, cramming, and more cramming, your mind in a spin, wondering if it would have much simpler to get it at the right time and REMEMBER and you know "Maybe it would!?"

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Pretty "Foxy" Terrier

Talking about dogs the other night—and Sandy Johnson topped everything off with a tall story about his fox terrier, "Boscum."

According to Sandy, "Comes bird season and that dog won't stir if I take down my rifle. Same, if it's deer season and I go for my shotgun—he won't move, but he's scratching at the door if I so much as look at my rifle!"

One day, Sandy decided to fool him. He took down both his shotgun and his rifle — and swish, Boscum was on his way! So Sandy put the guns back and took out his fishing rod. He went outside and there was Boscum—digging like crazy for worms!

From where I sit, a dog that can outguess humans is as rare as a human that can outguess other humans. For instance, I like a glass of beer with lunch but I wouldn't think of pouring you one without first asking. Everybody has preferences—and it's finding out what they are and respecting them that keeps freedom from "going to the dogs."

Grade School News

Miss Hopkins, 5th Grade

We all had a very nice Christmas vacation. Monday we made reports on our vacation. Our teacher went to Florida. Roger Mead got his hand caught in his traps.

We have six people out today because of sickness. Carole Wotring went to Ann Arbor this week to have her ears checked and the doctor said they were improving a lot. Last night Jim Kotts was walking with his pet calf when they both fell down. When his calf got up it stepped on him and this morning he has a sore head and back.

Yesterday in Science we did an experiment with a candle and a bottle. First we lit the candle and then we put the bottle over the lighted candle. It went out in about a minute because the oxygen was gone.

Most of the children think they are improving in their times tables. In Social Studies we are studying the Middle Atlantic States. In Language we are making outlines on training a pet. We are almost through with our Science book so we can study Health.

Today we are trying another experiment with limewater and a straw. Ann Cameron blew into the limewater with a straw and the water turned a milky color because carbondioxide makes the limewater milky.

Miss Warner, First Grade

We made some snowflakes. We cut them out of white paper.

We have been bringing our toys which we got for Christmas to show at Show Time.

We have been making A. B. C. books. We put pictures in it for each letter.

Mrs. Puffer, Second Grade

Our room looked bare after we took down all the pretty Christmas decorations so we made snow scenes to hang on the bulletin boards. We drew them with white chalk on blue paper.

We have had an arithmetic test consisting of 42 addition and substraction problems, and have had two vocabulary tests in reading. Most of us did very well.

We have changed the science table into a play table during the winter months. The Lincoln logs and tinker toys on it are fun to play with before the bell rings in the morning and at noon.

We won two dollars as a second prize in the P. T. A. membership contest. We are going to buy a flag for our room with the money.

Mrs. Colson, Third Grade

We are all back again after our long vacation, and are happy to see all of our friends.

In arithmetic we are learning to multiply with two and five. This is new work for us, and we are trying hard to learn these multiplication facts.

One reading group has finished "Streets and Roads" and we have taken our reading test. We are going to read more "Streets and Roads" next semester.

Nancy Beland and Jean Osworth are in charge of the bulletin board this week. They are putting up winter scenes and pictures of winter sports.

Mr. Kaiser, Sixth Grade

We enjoyed the program of varieties presented by Smith and Dane in the Central auditorium on Jan. 6.

Sharon Kramer has had the cast removed form her arm.

The following officers have been elected for the rest of the year: president, Richard Gregory, vice president, Lloyd Watson, secretary, Janet Osworth, and treasurer, Jerry Fox.

In social studies we have been discussing the Korean war and the United Nations.

PHONE CO. APPEALS RATE ADJUSTMENT

On January 3rd General Telephone Company of Michigan, which serves Tecumseh, appealed to the Circuit Court for the County of Ingham to find that the new telephone rates set by the Michigan Public Service Commission in its Order of December 5th, 1952 do not cover all of the Company's costs of rendering telephone service and are therefore under the laws of Michigan and the 14th Amendment to the United States Constitution confiscatory and illegal.

Mr. Fred E. Norris, President of the Company, said that the Commission set the new rates at such a level that the Company is unable to pay investors for the use of the capital they provided to build the plant now dedicated to public service and cannot therefore attract sufficient additional capital needed to improve and expand the service to meet the public demands for telephone service.

"The Company," he said, "is anxious and willing to continue to give the public it serves the quality and quantity of telephone service it wants, but cannot, under the law, accomplish its service objectives from the revenues derived from the charges for telephone service. Those charges, however, must be at a level sufficient to cover all the Company's costs of rendering service, including its capital costs. If we cannot cover those costs people won't buy our securities, the sale of which we must depend upon to attract the investors capital needed for service improvement and expansion."

CARD PARTY FRIDAY

A card party will be held at the Tecumseh Country Club for the members Friday evening. Honors will be awarded every hour and the choice of card games. The committee in charge are Mr. and Mrs. Ray Sluyter, chairman, with Mr. and Mrs. Howard Truesdale, Mr. and Mrs. George Adamson, Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth Collins, Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Partridge and Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Titley assisting.

Miss Diane Winfield and Charles O'Brien Wed

The Tecumseh Methodist church was the scene of a lovely winter wedding Friday evening at 7 o'clock when the marriage of Miss Diane J. Winfield, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Winthrop Winfield, of 215 N. Oneida street, and Charles J. O'Brien, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Harper, 404 North Maumee street, was solemnized by the Rev. Ronald Brunger. The double ring candlelight ceremony was held before an altar of white chrysanthemums and pompoms banked with palms.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in her gown of embroidered white nylon over blue taffeta, featuring a Peter Pa[illegible] tons on a fitted bodice, puffed sleeves and full length gathered skirt. Her fingertip veil of French illusion was held in place with pearls. For her bridal bouquet she carried a lace covered Bible topped with miniature sweetheart rosebuds, varigated ivy cascaded with narrow white satin ribbon interlaced with ivy and rosebuds.

Miss Mary Jo Weller, maid of honor and Carol Winfield, junior bridesmaid wore gowns of yellow nylon over yellow taffeta fashioned the same as the bride's. The maid-of-honor carried an arm cascade arrangement of yellow hibbard roses centered with light blue iris on tufts of light maline. The junior bridesmaid carried a small miniature colonial bouquet of bebe white pompoms centered with bebe rosebuds edged with blue lace. In her hair she wore a barret of pink roses.

James Sloan assisted Mr. O'Brien as best man and Larry Harper was the ring bearer. Mrs. Herbert Dillon played nuptial music during the ceremony and accompanied the Misses Marlys and Evelyn Arnold as they sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Mrs. Winfield chose for her daughter's wedding a dress of taupe blue with powder blue accessories and Mrs. Harper wore a red dress with black accessories. Both mothers wore a camellia corsage. The maternal grandmother of the bride was dressed in blue with black accessories and the paternal grandmother of the bride wore a grey dress with black accessories. Both wore a corsage of gardenias.

A reception for the guests was held in the church social rooms immediately following the ceremony. The color scheme of yellow and white was used with white pompoms and yellow roses. The bridal cake was topped with a miniature bride and groom encircled with a ring of white pompoms. The serving table was centered with yellow rose buds and white pompoms with lighted candles in crystal holders. The cake was cut by Jackie Rhines of Charlotte, cousin of the bride, and Carol Harper, sister of the groom. Mrs. James Sloan was at the punch bowl and Mrs. Harold Harper at the coffee urn. Miss Kay Morden was in charge of the guest book and Mrs. James Dick the gifts. All who assisted with the reception wore nosegay corsages of white carnations with yellow lace backing.

Out of town guests were registered from Jackson, Grass Lake, Adrian, Clinton, Charlotte, Detroit, Napoleon and Tecumseh.

For a short wedding trip the bride chose a pink jersey suit with black accessories and wore the sweetheart rosebuds from her corsage.

Mrs. O'Brien is a graduate of Tecumseh high school with the class of 1952, and Jackson Business school. She is employed as a stenographer in a law office in Adrian. Mr. O'Brien is a graduate of Tecumseh high school in 1951 and is employed at the Tecumseh Products Company. They will reside at 430 South Main street in Adrian.

President-elect Eisenhower meets 1953 March of Dimes Poster Girls Pamela (left) and Patricia O'Neil, of Raleigh, N. C.

NEW YORK CITY—President-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower called on the American public to support the 1953 March of Dimes being conducted throughout the nation during all of January.

He joined in the annual appeal after meeting the two Raleigh, N.C., sisters who are pictured on the 1953 March of Dimes poster. They are Patricia, 6, and five-year-old Pamela O'Neil, both of whom were stricken with polio but now are recovered completely.

"It's hard to believe that these are the same little girls whose pictures are on the March of Dimes poster," he noted. "Now they're completely recovered from polio, thanks to the generosity of the American people."

He urged all Americans "to help the others like them by joining the March of Dimes."

Later, he joined the poster girls in making a short film which is being shown by television stations throughout the nation.

This year's March of Dimes follows the all-time record polio epidemic of 1952 in which more than 55,000 were stricken. At the beginning of 1953, there were 58,000 polio victims of former years still undergoing treatment, with financial help from local March of Dimes chapters.

CULLIGAN SOFT WATER ON TAP in your home will provide water that's better for cooking and drinking. You see, Culligan Service filters the water as well as softens it. A clear, cool glass of filtered, sparkling soft water is a refreshing thirst-quencher that you can have right on tap from your own faucets ... the Culligan Way! Home economists will tell you that vegetables like peas or beans are actually water softeners themselves. Thus, when these foods are cooked in your hard water, they absorb this hardness and become shrivelled and less tasty. And have you ever had a cup of soft water coffee? M-M-M! Since a cup of coffee is over 95% water, it's easy to see that the quality of the water you use has a direct bearing on the quality and flavor of the coffee you brew. Yes, soft water is better for cooking and drinking ... and here in Tecumseh you can have soft water by calling 131J, Gambles for Culligan Soft Water Service. That's soft water ... the Culligan Way! 1/15

A public record of news and advertising printed in Tecumseh since 1850.

ONE HUNDRED SECOND YEAR — NUMBER 17 | TECUMSEH, MICHIGAN, JANUARY 22, 1953 | 5 CENTS A COPY

Three youthful testimonies of how March of Dimes funds are locally used by the National Foundation to fight infantile paralysis, were present at a recent meeting of the Tecumseh leaders for this year's collection. Mrs. Reinhart Radant, seated left, is next to her son Philip, a victim of last year. Next is Sandra Petrovich, and David Quick, (both were also polio victims) sitting beside his mother, Mrs. George Quick. In the back row are, left to right, Mrs. Waldo Mohr, Mrs. George Wittrup, Mrs. Grenval Spangler, Mrs. Virgil Lowry, Mrs. Don Coleman and Mrs. Purnell Osburn. It is at many meetings like this that the variety of this year's activities are planned to again make Tecumseh's March of Dimes a success. The picture was taken at Mrs. Quick's home.

Annexation Plans Made By Council

EASY FOR VILLAGE TO EXTEND BOUNDARY NOW BY STATUTE

A Michigan statute describing the action a village must follow to annex new territory was read at a meeting of the village council Monday and primary plans were laid to extend the boundaries of Tecumseh.

The law, found among the state statutes by village attorney James Beardsley and read by Joe Rohweder, states in part, "Whenever the council of any village shall determine by resolution to alter the boundaries of such village, by taking in lands and premises adjoining thereto, they shall petition the board of supervisors."

After a discussion of possible boundaries for annexation and a plan of procedure, President Ed Heilman appointed a committee of Mr. Rohweder, George McCombs and Howard Truesdale to work with engineer Ed Nelson in studying the needs of the areas most interested in coming into the village and outline a further plan of action for annexation.

Mr. Beardsley said he felt the county board of supervisors would go along with the village and approve any petition which would be presented. At that time there would be a public hearing open to persons in the area under consideration providing if any are interesetd in contesting the action.

It was pointed out by the village attorney that this has nothing to do with change to city form of government.

"In fact," he said, it is much easier to annex territory under village government than under city.

"If these outlying areas can be taken in now," he felt, "it would be easy to change forms later."

The council discussed many of the future benefits to be offered annexed areas.

There was a variety of other business presented Monday night. Archie Porter, who has sold his printing business and plans to spend sometime in Florida, tendered his resignation. It was unanimously accepted after due praise. Paul Clauda was named to fill the vacancy until the spring elections.

A petition for new sidewalk, storm sewer and road work in the last block on South Union was presented to the council and referred to engineer Ed Nelson for study. The council felt that if petitioners will deposit their share of the cost in an escrow account in the bank, work could be done this summer.

The petition read, "We the undersigned residents of South Union street petition the village of Tecumseh to (1) fix the road, (2) put in sidewalks, and (3) storm sewers: Mr. and Mrs. Don Morley, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hooten, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hicks, Mr. and Mrs. Rhinehart Radant, Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Woods, Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Meyer, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Brighton, David Higgins, Norman W. Seitz and Harold R. Butler.

Village assessor T. J. Wagner was also present Monday night and discussed appointment of two representatives to the tax board of review to meet in April with the township representatives.

Ira Ashley and John Smith were appointed. Mr. Wagner is evaluating village property at the present time.

Joe Rohweder, who has been revising many of the out-dated village ordinances, said little interest has been shown in the old law dealing with solicitors and peddlers and in the trailer ordinance so the two have been temporarily tabled.

The sewage disposal plant is reported near completion with an estimated 10 days work remaining, except for outside grading.

"Think It Over" Theme Of Annual Chamber Banquet

A simple four letter impromptu challenge by Ray Herrick somehow became the by-word of Tecumseh's annual Chamber of Commerce assembly last week.

"Think it over," the inspiring president of Tecumseh Products told 138 Chamber members and their guests and the Country Club walls resounded all evening with "Think it over".

For some of the facts that followed filled the hall with thoughts which many merchants carried back to their firms and are today still "Thinking it over."

As Mr. Herrick traced the development of his industry in Tecumseh and foretold future plans there was a general feeling that the community's growth is but an embryo.

The Products payroll — number one in Tecumseh—may reach the nineteen million dollar ($19.000,000) mark this year if the present pace continues, the speaker said.

"But that's '53, we've blueprinted that and are new working on 1954 to increase our business volume to $140,000,000," Mr. Herrick went on.

Right now the Products is debating a million dollar expansion. "Where shall we go?" he frankly asked.

Many Products workers live away, some 800 in Adrian. Tecumseh is only getting a small share of the retail dollars.

He said, "Tecumseh has the largest bank in Lenawee county, 62 now work in the hospital, 54 teachers now in the schools and the Post Office shows a large growth. But there's nothing new on main street."

Mr. Herrick complimented on many new store fronts but felt the retail floor space had not increased with the industry's expansion.

He thought many of the merchants are "too satisfied".

"The American way offers a challenge. Business men should expand, offer more goods and services," he said, "don't wait, fight for it, a good honest debt doesn't hurt anyone."

Mr. Herrick praised two Americans, who he said were outstanding citizens in the community, Earl Wickwire and Floyd Elliott. The assembly honored their passing in a moment of silent prayer.

In conclusion, the Products president told of a new subdivision planned to go up on the old Ford property across the Mill pond. He also said Tecumseh should modernize its charter and become a city with an efficient manager form of government. He praised the work of such men as Mayor Heilman, Trustees Mensing, Truesdale, Touborg and others.

"You can't expect to keep men like these at the price you're paying them. Think this city deal over," he ended.

Toastmaster Judge G. A. Rathbun added, "You can't stand still today, your competitors are going to progress past you if you don't keep up with the times."

After J. T. Bell, Municipal League representative outlined the advantages of city form,

HELP! HELP! GOOD THINGS NEXT WEEK

Help! Help! Tecumseh merchants need help to clear out an avalanche of left-over winter merchandise.

So next week, the first in a series of city-wide End-O-Month clearance sales will be held in an all out effort to show shoppers of Tecumseh's cosmopolitan shopping area what a variety of goods and services are offered at such low prices.

Watch for the End-O-Month bargains next week and on the last week of every month during this series of month end clearance sales.

Register Monday For Night School

CLASSES BEGIN FEBRUARY 2

The following adult night school classes will be offered during the six weeks on Monday and Thursday evenings: general shop, upholstery, beginning typing, refresher shorthand, bookkeeping, advanced typing, pre-school child, gardening, photography. See schedule of classes and the time offiered on page six.

The class in art will be offered only on Thursday evenings from 7 until 10 for a six weeks period. The class is limited to 15. Registration must be made on Monday evening, January 26. We are fortunate in getting Mrs. Phyllis Shoenberger Peterson of Adrian, Michigan to be the teacher. Mrs. Peterson started painting at an early age under the instruction of Walter E. Baum, N. A. at the Kline Baum Art school in Allentown, Pennsylvania. She continued post-high school study at Moore Institute in Philadelphia where she completed a four year course in Fine Arts and Illustration through a scholarship award. Her study at Moore was with numerous inter-nationally known artists.

After graduation most of her time and talents were spent not only painting scenery both inland and along the Maine and Massachusetts coast, but also many portraits, some of which were commission. Her work has been exhibited in Philadelphia, New York and other cities in the East.

Since moving to Adrian four years ago, she has had paintings accepted in the annual Toledo area artists shows.

Her paintings have been purchased by many private collectors and individual art patrons from coast to coast. Her awards are numerous.

Prior to her numerous series of Adult Education Painting Classes in Adrian her teaching was with the Baum Art School and private classes.

New Evans Bridge Open To Traffic

FIRST CARS PASS OVER SPAN TODAY

There were no ribbon breaking ceremonies at the new $93,340 Evans creek bridge early this morning, but the sleek concrete span on Mill street (M-52) was officially opened to motorists after seven months of detouring.

The project started last June 17 and was continuously delayed. Traffic was routed on temporary M-52 over N. Union and W. Brown streets.

The main pavement slab and the bridge deck, which were poured during a warm spell earlier this month, had satisfactorily "cured" to allow traffic for the first time today.

State bridge engineer A. R. Larson, however, pointed to the temporary guard rail as one of a number of last minute details which remain incomplete.

He said that the four-foot sidewalks on each side are but a week old. Up-right concrete posts and steel railings have yet to be poured and installed. There is also the matter of cleaning up the approaches.

But Elmer Ferguson, Middletown, O., foreman of the Ruckman-Hansen contracting firm, looked to the cleaning up as more of an equipment moving project than anything else as both men and materials shift to either the Raisin river bridge job on M-50 east of town or to the Deerfield bridge job. Pilings have been placed at Deerfield and work will continue through the remainder of the winter. The east Tecumseh bridge will be delayed until spring. Peterson is confident it will be completed by fall.

The three bridges compare in cost as follows:

Evans Creek	$ 93,340
Deerfield	135,048
East Tecumseh	138,658

Described as 23 feet over the Raisin river bottom, the east bridge on M-50 will be 145 feet long with two 40-foot end spans and a 65-foot middle span. It will have a 38-foot roadway and two four-foot sidewalks. All will be supported by two piers and two abutments.

This work will all begin as soon as the flood waters are down.

In putting the finishing touches on the Evans creek bridge in an effort to have it open for all purpore use Saturday, both state engineer Peterson and contracting foreman Furgeson said they have enjoyed living in Tecumseh. They described it as a "nice little town, a place they'd like to call home."

They agreed that after the east bridge is completed, Tecumseh will still need a further bridge in the not too distant future to replace the old Mill Pond steel bridge.

FOREST ABNER SELLS TEC. ELECTRIC SHARE

Two war buddies, George Derby and Ralph Sager are now in business together in Tecumseh.

They both served overseas in the Eighth Air Force and both married English girls.

Mr. Sager, whose former home was in Rockford, Ill., announced the purchase of Forest Abner's share in Tecumseh Electric and will now be associated with Mr. Derby on a partnership basis.

Mr. Abner has taken a position with Myers Aircraft.

A comparative newcomer to Tecumseh, Mr. Sager has worked on a number of local electrical jobs through Tecumseh Electric. Mr. Sager and his wife, the former Edna Hammond of Dover, Eng., reside at 311 N. Pearl.

Before coming to Tecumseh, he had electrical experience with the Central Illinois Electric & Gas Co., and more recently with B & F Hi Line construction. During WWII, he spent three years in the Eighth Air Force, mostly in England. He and Derby were asigned to the 450th Sub. Depot.

Mr. Sager is a member of Masonic Lodge and has been a member of I.B.E.W. union since 1938.

Local Firm Opens War Against Taxes

"When a Quaker Oats employee, earning $3,400 a year, must shell out $1,100 for hidden and income taxes, it's high time to act," Donald T. Nixon told a group of local businessmen at a luncheon meeting last week.

The Tecumseh Quaker Oats manager said his firm was initiating a war against the squandering of tax money in a program entitled, "I'm Gonna' Holler About Taxes." It will be staged in each of the 19 towns where Quaker Oats plants are located.

At the meeting, held at the Country Club, Mr. Nixon said the campaign will be non-partisan and in no way will there be any voice as to where taxes should be cut, which taxes should be cut, or how much.

"That is the job of the congressmen we elect," he told the businessmen, manufacturers, educators and ministers, "but it is our job to let them know in no uncertain terms how we feel about the measures on which they will vote."

The Quaker Oats plan is to make the entire community tax conscious, not in any way to oppose taxes for necessary improvements, but to check the flagrant tax spending. They plan to do this through publicity, membership and display.

CHIEF SITES DANGER IN LEAVING CAR KEYS

"What Tecumseh needs is an ordinance against leaving ignition keys in parked cars which are unattended," police chief George Kilbourn told the village council Monday night.

"It is a crisis the way people leave their keys dangling from ignition locks, or in certain models leave unlocked ignitions," the head officer declared in announcing a recent survey of easy-to-steal cars.

On Saturday he spotted 23 cars on main street with keys awaiting either a professional auto thief or an amateur who just seeks a free ride and a good time in someone else's car.

Then on Monday to prove his findings, Chief Kilbourn spotted 26 parked cars, keys left in the lock, owner not to be found.

He asked the council for an ordinance to make this practice unlawful as many other localities have. He felt the offense should be punished by a stiff fine as "such laxness suggests trouble."

I will be at the United Savings Bank Saturday, December 13 and each Saturday thereafter until further notice for the collection of Tecumseh Township taxes, fire insurance, and dog tax. Will also accept payments by check or money order mailed to my residence, 211 W. Brown street.

Lawrence Mohr,
2/26 Township Treasurer.

WHO IS THE BOSS? The "boss" of a business isn't the free agent many of us think he is. His decisions aren't made on whim or because of his own particular tastes and desires and prejudices.

The "boss"—if he is to succeed and keep his job—simply passes on the orders he gets from the business customers. He must learn what those customers want and what they are able and willing to pay for it. And he must frame his policies accordingly.

We see that truism in action all along the production and distribution line. If a manufacturer produces something that people don't want and won't buy, either a drastic change must be made or bankruptcy will result. The trade goes to the manufacturer who produces the things the masses of people want, and who offers them at a fair price.

Exactly the same thing is true on the retail level. The storekeeper must stock the goods the people want and he too must sell them at a fair price. If he fails to please the public, his trade will go to other stores which are doing a better job.

The force that makes this system tick is competition. Every producer, from the little shop to the biggest manufacturer, must meet competition every working day. Every retailer, from the one-family store to the chains with thousands of outlets, is in the same position. The customer is the real boss.

ADVANTAGES OF CITY FORM — Tecumseh heard a summary of advantages of city form of government over village form last week when Municipal Leaguer J. T. Bell spoke before the annual Commerce club banquet. Unfortunately only 138 business people were on hand though a busy reporter jotted down such copious notes that the speaker's main conclusions are here for editorial comment.

Change to city form is not here for trial, it has been tested in over 50 Michigan localities, all of which are now cities. Some of these are Allen Park, Birmingham, Bloomfield Hills, Davison, Durand, Grayling, Grosse Pointe, Melvindale, Morenci, Oak Park, Pinconning, Plymouth, Saline, South Lyons, Utica and Vassar.

The basic difference between a village and a small city is not great. A city is simply a village to which has been added the right and responsibility to perform certain functions which the township now performs for its village residents. Changing from a village to a city — reduced to its simplest terms — is merely withdrawing from the township and adding the necessary township functions to the village government.

Incidental to making the change, the new city obtains additional powers from increased governmental activity and the opportunity to modernize the framework in which local governmental activities are carried on.

The majority of the township duties which the new city takes over are the legally required duties in connection with assessing property and collecting taxes for county and school purposes; conducting county, state, and national elections; sending representatives to the Board of Supervisors; and providing a primary or justice court system. Each of these services is provided in a more efficient and more convenient manner by a city than by a township, and each is done either at a lower cost or at no additional cost to city taxpayers.

Any local services which the township has been providing which the new city wishes to continue may be continued by paying for them out of the city taxes instead of township taxes, or on a contractual basis with the township.

When it is realized that village residents are the only citizens in Michigan who must support, and deal with, town local governments, certain other advantages of separation from the township become obvious. First, there is a general simplification of government. Second, there is a complete removal from any partisan element in local afairs. There is no change in the character of the community or in conduct of schools or social welfare. Simultaneously with the process of incorporation as a city, there is the possibility of expanding boundaries in a much easier and more practical manner than by annexation.

The other major group of advantages, in addition to those of separating from a township, which arise from city incorporation are the modernizing of the form of local government. This modernization takes the form of preparing a tailor-made home rule charter, which charter usually provides for reducing the number of elected administrative officials, for giving greater powers to the municipality, for providing for non-partisan elections and nominaton by petition instead of by caucus, for unifying the responsibility for municipal affairs in the elected council, and frequently in the provision for the council-manager form of government.

There has been a steady trend of other Michigan villages to change to the city from of government. The municipalities which have made the change have been well satisfied with the resulting progress. As a result, there are at this time numerous other villages in the state — like Tecumseh — considering the change to the more advantageous city form of government.

The next step, which both the Chamber of Commerce and Village Council agree upon, is to hold a town meeting and talk the question out before setting up the machinery to vote.

(As a regular weekly feature The Herald brings you this column by Kirby Page, author of "Living Creatively", "Living Joyously," and 24 other books).

Man does not live by bread alone, but by beauty and harmony, truth and goodness, work and recreation, affection and friendship, aspiration and worship.

Man does not live by bread alone, but by the splendor of the starry firmament at midnight, the glory of the heavens at dawn, the gorgeous blending of colors at sunset, the luxuriant loveliness of magnolia trees, the sheer magnificence of mountains.

Man does not live by bread alone, but by the majesty of ocean breakers, the shimmer of moonlight on a calm lake, the flashing silver of a mountain torrent, the exquisite patterns of snow crystals, the exalted creations of master-artists.

Man does not live by bread alone, but by the sweet song of a mockingbird, the rustle of tall corn in the breeze, the magic of the maestro's violin, the grandeur of Handel's Messiah, the sublimity of Beethoven's Fifth Symphony.

Man does not live by bread alone, but by the fragrance of roses, the scent of orange blossoms, the smell of new mown hay, the clasp of a friend's hand, the tenderness of a mother's kiss.

Man does not live by bread alone, but by the lyrics and sonnets of poets, the mature wisdom of sages, the holiness of saints, the biographies of great souls, the life-giving words of Holy Scripture.

Man does not live by braed alone, but by comradeship and high adventure, seeking and finding, creating and cooperating, serving and sharing, loving and being loved.

Man does not live by bread alone, but by being faithful in prayer, responding to the guidance of the Holy Spirit, taking up cross and following the living Christ, finding and doing the loving will of God now and eternally.

The congregation voted to establish a new Deacon's organization, composed of 12 members elected on a term service plan and governed according to the provisions outlined by Presbyterian Law. Mrs. Walter Pfaus presented the proposed budget for 1953 and Otto Meier asked for an amendment to the budget to include money necessary to redecorate, carpet and light the sanctuary. Trustees were advised to complete projects in the order named in so far as appropriated funds make this possible, exercising diligent effort to complete the projects by April 1, 1953.

At the corporation meeting following the congregational meeting L. H. Titley presided and James C. Beardsley, Wayne Pence and Wellington Wotring were elected trustees for a term of three years.

SMART FOLKS—THOSE BUICK ENGINEERS!

They've made the 1953 BUICKS 87 ways better

OUR hat's off to the men who made the 1953 Buicks what they are—the greatest Buicks in fifty great years.

They came up with a new kind of V8 for the SUPER and the ROADMASTER — a brilliant V8 Engine with a long list of engineering "firsts."

They redesigned the F-263 Fireball 8 for record horsepower and compression in the spirited Buick SPECIAL.

They kept every inch of room in the roomiest six-passenger Sedan in America — and still shortened its turning radius considerably.

They did new wonders with the wonderful Million Dollar Ride. They stepped up visibility, comfort, handling ease, control.

And man! — what they did with getaway!

They dreamed up, designed and developed a new Twin-Turbine Dynaflow Drive* that whisks you away quick as a wink—and just as smooth, almost as silent.

In fact, no other car in the world gets away with all the combined quickness, quiet and smoothness of a Twin-Turbine Dynaflow Buick.

Wouldn't you like to see for yourself just how great these Golden Anniversary Buicks really are? Drop in soon—we'll be happy to do the honors.

At the Sunday morning service at 10:45, Bishop Marshall R. Reed, resident Bishop of the Detroit area, will preach. He is widely known as a fluent and able preacher.

Dr. Frank N. Fitch, district superintendent of the Ann Arbor district, will lead the worship. The choir will bring special music, including one anthem that was sung in this church 52 years ago. A coffee hour will follow the service.

At 3:30 in the afternoon there will be an historical exhibit of old church records and pictures and other items of historical interest, in the Primary and Nursery rooms.

At 4:00 p.m., a Musical Vesper Concert will be given by the choir of the Adrian Methodist church. The public is cordially invited to this concert. Following the service, the local choir will give a coffee hour to the Adrian choir. The historical exhibit will again be on display.

At 7:30, the evening service will feature special music, including a vocal solo by Edna Taylor O'Connor, daughter of this church; fraternal messages from neighboring churches, and the sermon by Dr. Dwight S. Methodist Pastor Traces Tecumseh's Early Settlement

By Rev. R. A. Brunger

(This is the first in a series of historical sketches which outline the settlement of Tecumseh, founding and growth of the local Methodist church).

In the year 1820, the population of Michigan was still less than 9,000 whites, plus the Indians of the Pottawatamie, Chippewa, and Ottawa tribes, and a few Hurons and Miamis. Most of the whites were of French stock, a reminder that 60 years before, Michigan had been a part of the vast empire of New France. The towns were Detroit (whose population had now come up to 1100), Monroe (which had been settled by French settlers in the 1780's), Mackinac Island, and Sault Ste. Marie with a population of 200 whites and 40 Indian lodges.

The war of 1812 which had brought the sad Massacre of the Raisin at Monroe, Jan. 23, 1813, and which had ravaged Detroit, was now happily past. In 1818 the first public land office in Michigan, was opened for sales at Detroit. That year the first lake steamboat, "Walk-in-the-Water" was launched in Buffalo and plied between that city and Detroit. It carried 200 passengers. Michigan now began to be more accessible to immigrants.

The westward migration which since the Revolution, had populated Kentucky, Tennessee and southern Ohio, and later much of Indiana and Missouri, now began to be attracted by Arkansas, Illinois, and Michigan.

The country in and near Tecumseh, had been surveyed as early as Feb. 1816, by Joseph Fletcher, district surveyor. He reported the section line on the south boundary of section 33 (Russell Road west from S. Evans) to be thinly timbered with "white and black oak generally." In what is now the heart of Tecumseh, at the corner of sections 27, 28, 33, and 34, he set his corner post, and used as his marker trees, a 14 inch white oak 53 links (a link is 7.92 inches) south and 61 links east, and a white oak 6 inches in diameter, 76 links east, and 11 links north.

He reported "high barren land, thinly timbered with W. & B. Oak generally." Running east between sections 27 and 34, he came at 38.58 chains to a creek (Evans), 30 links wide, course southeast. At the half mile point (40 chains), he set his section post, and used as marker trees a red haw and an elm. At 72.74 chains, he came to a "River 150 lks wide cot SE." Fletcher, was the first white man, that we know of, who saw the site of Tecumseh. We assume however, that some of the French settlers at Monroe, who engaged quite extensively in the fur trade, must have ascended the river as far as Tecumseh.

Lenawee County was proclaimed by Gov. Cass on Sept. 10, 1822, as including the territory west of Monroe county to Lake Michigan. Until the county should be somewhat populated and properly organized, it was attached to Monroe county for government. It was detached Dec. 31, 1826.

The U. S. Land Office was opened at Monroe in 1823, for the sale of Lenawee county lands. In 1823 Musgrove Evans, a surveyor, came from New York state to visit Austin E. Wing of Monroe, to whom he was related by marriage. Wing and Evans made a trip exploring the valley of the River Raisin, and decided that the location of Tecumseh would be ideal with its water power, and its timber and open prairie country near by. Here the Indian trail westward from Monore to Lake Michigan, cross the trail from Detroit and Saline Springs to the Wabash. This place had long been a favored resort of the Indians.

A partnership was formed between Wing, Evans, and Joseph W. Brown who was Evans' brother-in-law and a miller, to promote the settlement of Tecumseh. Early in the spring of 1824, Musgrove Evans with his wife and children, Joseph Brown, and 12 other men, left their homes in northern New York to make a new home in the Michigan wilds. Arrived in Detroit, the women and children were left behind, while "the men with a French guide and a pony to carry luggage started through the woods on foot" following the Indian trail which led southwestward toward the Wabash. They arrived here on May 21, and proceeded to build a log cabin house.

Sugar Boys Stop Indians J.V.'s 55-31

The Tecumseh J.V.'s lost their sixth game Friday night to a hot Blissfield quintet by the score of 55 to 31. Tecumseh led by one point for the first few minutes as Ritchie Davis dumped in a free throw. But Blissfield came back to stay ahead for the rest of the game.

Davis's point was the only one that the Indians could get in the first quarter, while the Sugar Boys gathered seven. The second quarter, the Sugar Boys racked seven while holding the Indians to a measly eight, to lead at the half by five points. The rest of the game went the same way with Blissfield gradually pulling ahead.

Three of the Sugar Boys hit double columns while the top man for Tecumseh could only hit two field goals. Keller took top honors by scoring 16 points, making six field goals and four charity shots. The other double columners were Ganum with 11 points and Williams with 10. Marvin Yoakum took tops for Tecumseh with six points.

Grade School News

Kindergarten
Mrs. Heimerdinger

Our kindergarten classes have been drawing snow pictures. We use dark construction paper and draw scenes with white chalk.

Every child is learning to make his name in manuscript. Each day a card with his name is handed to the child as a pattern.

The children have learned several winter songs and rhythms. They especially like to pretend ice skating to music.

During our story hour we have dramatized "The Little Red Hen" and learned several finger plays.

Kindergarten
Mrs. Updike

We are enjoying our new kindergarten work books. Many of us have shown extra good work to the first and second grades.

We have missed Christine Pence who has been ill for several weeks and we hope she will be back soon.

Donald Baird, Tim Heflin, Ruth Ann Brooks have birthdays this month. Toni Herrick and David Mueller also have birthdays.

There are many of us who are able to find any number asked for on our January calendar. We like to count and make numbers, too.

Mrs. Updike took our pictures one day and we are planning a big surprise with the pictures. We cant' even tell Mother about it for awhile.

Kindergarten
Miss Hammack

We all had a very nice vacation and were happy we had so many days to play with the toys Santa brought us.

Now that we are back in school we are learning to write our names.

For two weeks we are going to pretend that we are cowboys and cowgirls. We are talking about how they dress, how they work and play, and how they help us.

Some of our folks have had birthdays. They are Kathy Thompson, Kaye Laurel Luke, Mildred Griewahn, and Junior Havens.

First Grade
Mrs. Faling

Vacation is over and we are all glad! Santa Claus was very good to all of us this year. Most of us received everything we wanted.

We decided to use our Christmas tree we had at our party for the birds. We know they are hungry and cold. We each brought some things from home to tie on their tree. It is fun to watch them visit their feeding place.

In reading most of us are almost finished with our first preprimer, "We Look and See." We are proud to know as many words as we do. Now that we can read words, we are anxious to read more.

In our writing class we are making dictionaries. We have written all the words that we have learned in school so far this year. Many of us know twenty words or more. We are going to make covers for them.

For art we all made self portraits and signed our names. We certainly are a nice looking group of boys and girls.

We are talking about the ways animals move in our science class. We are going to make booklets to take home.

We are sorry that Nancy Kennel and Ricky Teske are ill. We miss them and hope they will be back soon.

Birthdays are frequent in our room. We have had two parties since vacation. Alison Derby and Candy McEnroe are now seven years old.

First Grade
Mrs. VanValkenburg

We are all glad to be back to school after our Christmas vacation. We enjoyed the movie, "Tippy, the Town Dog," presented in the kindergarten.

This week we expect to complete our three pre-primers. Next week we will begin reading our primer, "Fun with Dick and Jane." We are having much fun playing phonic and letter games.

In our books "Look and Learn" we have found out many new things about animals and birds, their habits and what they eat.

Second Grade
Miss LaPointe

We were sorry that Deborah Holden, one of our second grade girls, fell in her home and broke her leg. She is now in a cast and it will be some time before she can return to school.

We are enjoying the story of the "Eskimo Twins."

Roy Caldwell of Talledaga, Ala., is a new pupil in our room.

We are now writing sentences using our past spelling lesson words.

Sixth Grade
Mrs. Runk

Mrs. Runk's room is proud of its Safety Patrol boys and its Service Squad girls. They will be relieved January 26 by the fifth graders who will be shown the rules and procedures by the sixth graders for a week.

Our Patrol boys are Gerald Kruse, Jerry Woodward, Bill Fielder, John Browne, Greg Mason and Gary Abner. We have two girls helping us. They are Sherry Tucker, and Betty Kiser.

Our Service Squad is Anne Preston, Joanne Wing, Nanette Walper, Sandra Smith and Sarah Wright.

We have been writing poetry and limericks. We enjoyed this poem by Nancy Day:

My Parents

My parents make me go to bed
And won't let me sleep 'till my prayers are said.
They tell me to eat. They tell me to work,
And behind each corner and door they look.
They have me do just what I'm taught,
And make me do just what I ought,
That's what I think they do! Don't you?

We were sorry to learn that Jerry Johncox moved away during the Christmas holiday.

In our science class we are studying about bacteria and germs. We are making reports on scientists who discovered them and find Louis Pasteur, Edward Jenner, and Robert Koch especially interesting. Many of us have written the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company for their Health Heroes Series.

Donna Nixon was ill all last week. We hope to have her with us again soon.

DO YOU REMEMBER how your grandmother collected water in a rain barrel . . . even though she had a perfectly good well that gushed with clear, clean water? You see, grandma knew that rain water is softer than well water. And even today, rain water is softer than the water which is on tap from the faucets in your home! Do you collect rain water? Of course not! But listen to this: the water on tap in hundreds of homes here in Tecumseh is SOFTER THAN RAIN WATER! That's right! Softer than rain water. Culligan Soft Water Service simply connects a compact softening unit at a convenient place in the home which provides all the soft water that's needed in the household. "KOHLER REAL ESTATE"

The outcome of the election shows the stability of the American democracy, thus guaranteeing the stability of Real Estate.

Trends already observable since the election show that there will be continued employment, peak industrial output and high commercial volumes, all of which will create greater demand for real estate. Because of public confidence, there will be renewed buying of homes, industrial plants, commercial property and land. Business will not be on the defensive, but will have a voice in government. Although increased interest rates may prevail, there will be greater economic stability and a higher level of activity.

Because of these factors, our builder has already made plans to build several new homes in both Herrick Park and Tecumseh Acres this year. We also have plans to build custom housing for those whose needs require it. To learn more of these building plans stop in at our office or call us anytime for detailed information concerning construction and financing.

What Lies Ahead For Tecumseh ?

City Form Of Gov't Popular Many Places

High costs of opeartion and technical methods of engineering have stimulated numerous Michigan villages—like Tecumseh—to consider the more modern form of city government with its city-manager charter.

Until 1931, when the Michigan Municipal League first began publicizing the advantages of city incorporation, very few village officials or citizens considered or understood the possibilities of becoming a city. However, since 1931, 47 villages have become cities. The most recent to change are Oak Park, Rogers City, and Williamston in 1945; Belleville and Sylvan Lake in 1946; Kingsford in 1947; Gaastra in 1948; and Bridgman and Grosse Pointe Farms in 1949. The change is also being actively considered in several other villages at this time.

There has been general satisfaction in these cities with the city form of government. In 1944, a citizens' committee in Williamston sent inquiries to 38 cities in Michigan which had changed from the village form asking as to the success of the change. "Practically all the towns furnished the information requested and only one person stated he favored going back to the old plan. Some went at length to point out the advantages in making the change . . . in fact, it made us wonder why we had slept so long at the switch while other villages went ahead of us on the road to a better, more efficient and more economical form of local government." In this same survey, 98 per cent (all but one city) answered affirmatively to the question, "Do you consider your city gained or lost by making the change?"

In 1945, a citizens' committee in Flushing sent questionnaires to 36 of the cities in Michigan which

In Tecumseh You Can Buy It Cheaper!

New shoppers to Tecumseh find the saying, "You can buy it here — cheaper" more than an advertising claim.

Long a by-word with seasoned shoppers, the familiar slogan simply means, Tecumseh merchants have the goods at the low dollar price buyers can expect in a competitive market anywhere.

It's the old story of shopping at home and getting the most for your money where it means the most, does the best, goes the farthest and delivers the most merchandise.

But goods and merchandise are only a part of the offerings of modern day Tecumseh where services of all types go hand in hand with retailing. When you buy it in Tecumseh you get a Tecumseh-backed guarantee of satisfaction.

This week's many Month-End clearance advertisements are only the first of a series which will be offered locally on the final weekend of each month to follow.

Look these values over carefully for real savings and when you shop you will also agree, "you can buy it in Tecumseh — cheaper".

Indians Garner Ninth Straight

It was a rematch, but the result was again Tecumseh's victory.

On Dec. 5 the Indians whipped Addison 56-50 on the tiny Panther gym, Tuesday night coach Victor Lawson sent his cagers out on the Central school court and they came through with another triumph over Addison, 55-35—Tecumseh's ninth straight.

This time substitutes played a big share of the fray as Lawson cleared the bench to give every player experience for Friday night's invasion of Hillsdale. Next week the local unbeaten quintet invades Morenci and returns home Feb. 13 for Clinton.

Tecumseh 14	32	39—55

The preliminary also went to Tecumseh as the B-squad won over the Little Panthers 46-24.

Just as they once did a century and a -quarter ago, four Indians interrupted a Methodist church meeting Friday night to ask for food and drink. But this time it was all part of an elaborate pageant staged as part of the 125th anniversary celebration of Methodism in Tecumseh. The Indians shown above in colorful headdress with Indian blankets and hand woven baskets, are, left to right, Barry Packard, Alan Hizer, Wilfred Waldron, sr. and Roger Mead. An early settler's spinning wheel forms the background.

THIRTY-SEVEN JOIN LOCAL CAP FLIGHT

Tecumseh's Civilian Air Patrol squadron now totals 37 members and has started on an active program, commanding officer Elmer Burleson declared after Tuesday night's meeting in the high school.

Cpt. Mike Hoben, Adrian, spoke at the orientation meeting. Earlier Col. Melvin Beebe, also of Adrian, spoke to the squadron on the general purpose of CAP, its function to the community and contribution to national defense.

Assisting Burleson on the local staff are Bill Powell, executive officer; Mrs. Richard Jacobs, adjutant; Leslie Calhoun, operations officer; Herbert Cleveland, operations officer; Ernest Peters, supply officer; A. L. Roe, finance officer; Father Michael Collins, chaplain and Richard Roe, assistant personnel.

A number of flying and non-flying positions are still open, Commander Burleson said.

Meetings are held every Tuesday night.

Pageant Showed How Methodists Formed Church

METHODISTS MARK 125TH ANNIVERSARY HERE BY INSPIRING SERVICES

Indians, storms, lack of a regular pastor, shifting membership, an occasional fire and numerous other obstacles which faced early pioneer life in the Michigan wilderness failed to daunt a sturdy band of Christians who established the first Methodist church in Tecumseh 125 years ago.

Back in January 1828 eleven charter members met in the home of Josiah Wheeler with Rev. George Walker, circuit preacher. This meeting formed the setting for act one of a colorful and inspiring anniversary pageant Friday night at the Methodist church.

The historical review was written by Mrs. Luther Wood with Arthur J. Eaton sketching the church's progress as narrator.

In the first scene at the Wheeler home, the part of Rev. Walker was taken by Embury Howson, of Josiah Wheeler (class-leader) by Harold Miller, and of Mrs. Wheeler by Mrs. Arthur Crawford. Others depicting the original members were Mrs. Maynard Mulvaney, Diane Woodward, Mrs. Harold Warren, Carson House, Mrs. Embury Howson, Kenton Hunt, Joyce Warner, Edward Shank, and Arlene Sherman. The part of Indians was taken by Wilfred Waldron, sr., Barry Packard and Alan Hizer and Roger Mead. Following the first scene Wilfred Waldron, sr. gave the story of the articles of furniture on the stage which belonged to his ancestors nearly a century ago or more. A crock was shown which his great-grandfather Thomas Griswold and family, brought from New York state in 1825, filled with butter. Other articles in-

Oath of Allegiance Must Be Signed By All Local Teachers

Probably the last thing Tecumseh's Board of Education suspects of any member of the public school teaching staff is Un-American activities or even Un-American thinking, but to assure a continued flavor of patriotism in the training of its young people the board ruled recently that each teacher must sign an oath of allegiance as part of the contract.

The oath is part of the teacher's original certificate which in many cases was issued some years back. The new ruling provides for a reaffirmation of allegiance to the United States and its constitution.

When a teacher signs the oath, he or she will "swear (or affirm) that I will support the constitution of the United States of America and the constitution of the State of Michigan and that I will faithfully discharge the duties of the office of teacher according to the best of my ability." The teacher's signature will be notarized.

A further announcement by Supt. James McDowell listed the placing of seven veteran Tecumseh teachers on the Patterson Elementary school teaching staff. These teachers have all full four year college degrees with experience locally in the past and have expressed a desire to continue teaching here.

The following received appointments to the school which is due for completion by next fall:

Mrs. Bertram Updike, kindergarten
Mrs. David Faling, 1st grade
Mrs. Gordon Garlick, 2nd grade
Mrs. Edgar Buttolph, 3rd grade
Mrs. Homer Colson, 4th grade
Mrs. Purnell Osburn, 5th grade
Wayne Kaiser, 6th grade

Mr. Kaiser, who holds a master's degree in administration and educational supervision, was named teaching principal. He will be responsible to Earle Green, in charge of all elementary schools.

Mr. Kaiser has three year's experience teaching here and was praised by Mr. McDowell for his ability to handle problems of discipline, meet the public and serve as educational leader.

The superintendent further reported that construction by the Miller-Davis firm is being concentrated right now on the northeast addition to the high school where footings have been poured for a classroom addition. Foundations will probably be poured this week.

Both the gymnasium addition and the Patterson school are still in the laying-out stage.

ROTARY CLUB

Allen Grabiel of the Adrian Federal Savings and Loan Association was the speaker at the Tuesday evening meeting of the Rotary Club. Mr. Grabiel explained the functions of a building and loan association and said that his organization had loaned more than $3,000,000 in the Tecumseh area. He was the guest of Glenn Kohler.

QUAKER MILLER FILM APPEARS SUNDAY AT ASSEMBLY OF GOD

Perry Hayden, the "Quaker Miller" of Tecumseh, who planted a cubic inch of wheat in 1940 that grew in six years to cover 2,666 acres of land, producing a harvest of 72,150 bushels of wheat, worth $150,000, appears with the late Henry Ford in the world-famous, color-sound fifilm, "God Is My Landlord."

It is to be shown at Assembly of God church on Sunday, 7:45 p.m.

The inspiration for Mr. Hayden's experiment is the text of a sermon, John 12:24, preached September 22, 1940, which spoke of wheat. It attracted the attention of Hayden, head of a milling firm in Tecumseh, an active layman and an enthusiastic tither. He decided to "take God at his word and see what would happen" by planting, harvesting, and tithing wheat.

That very week, Hayden planted one cubic inch of wheat seed, 360 kernels, on a tiny plot of land, four by eight feet, furnished by the late Henry Ford. He determined to pay a tithe of the crop, as commanded in Malachi 3:10, and to plant the remaining nine-tenths, repeating this for six years as God commanded in Leviticus 25:3.

The 1941 harvest was one quart; the 1942 crop, 70 pounds; the 1943 harvest, 16 bushels; the 1944 harvest, 370 bushels. The fifth harvest in 1945 amounted to 5,555 bushels, all grown on land furnished by Henry Ford, who said "This will go around the world."

The sixth and final harvest in 1946 required 2,666 acres of land, supplied by Christian farmers of 30 denominations, Protestant and Catholic, and multiplied to 72,150 bushels of "Dymanic Kernels" of wheat. Robert Ripley stated that if the project were continued until 1950, it would require all the land in the United States, and by 1953 would cover the globe.

The film "God Is My Landlord," taken over a six-year period, is packed with human interest, and graphically depicts what has been called the "greatest tithing, demonstration in all history." There is no admission charge, and the public is cordially invited.

Annexation Is Proposed By Council

Under Tecumseh's present Village charter, governed by a common council, annexation of outlying areas is comparatively simple and can be done with a minimum of time, effort and expense.

These were the findings of the village council in meeting last week and provided the ground for taking definite action in the direction to extend Tecumseh boundaries in the near future.

The Michigan statute which provides for any non-village area like Tecumseh Acres, Tecumseh Small Farms, or others to join the village is outlined as follows:

"Whenever the Council of any village shall determine by resolution to alter the boundaries of such village . . . by taking in lands and premises adjoining thereto . . . they shall petition the board of supervisors . . . such petition shall contain a description . . . of the lands . . . to be added to . . . such village, and shall set forth the reasons for the proposed change, and shall contain a copy of the resolution of the council in relation thereto, and shall be signed by the president and clerk of such village.

"Before such petition shall be presented to the board of supervisors notice shall be given by the clerk of the time and place when the same will be presented for consideration, by publishing the same in a newspaper published in such village for a least 3 weeks immediately preceding the presentation of the same.

"At the time of presenting such petition all parties interested may appear before such board of supervisors and be heard touching the proposed boundaries of such village, and after such hearing and due consideration of such petition, it shall be the duty of the board of supervisors to order and determine as to whether the prayer contained in the petition or any part thereof shall be granted, and they shall make an order of such determination, which order shall be entered upon their records, and thereupon the boundaries of such village shall be fixed and shall exist as provided in such order".

Many residents of bordering areas look to this law and to the council's recent decision to study the prospects for annexation with added hope, for they feel that, "you get what you pay for".

They see the possibility of higher taxes which are balanced by added services. Reference is mainly to sewer and water facilities for the many who are now using pumps and septic tanks.

In overcrowded residential areas, such as fringe Tecumseh, septic tanks soon become a danger and possible agent of epidemic. The sanitary village sewer connected to the new sewage disposal plant is the answer to their problems. If annexed, these areas would receive deep well water from the village mains.

Street maintenance, fire and police protection would also offset higher taxes.

All these factors are being studied and weighed by the village council committee of Joe Rohweder, Howard Truesdale and George McCombs who are laying the ground work for annexation in the near future.

Need For Interest In Local Politics

VOTERS REGISTRATION DEADLINE IS FEB. 9

First publication notice appears in this week's Herald to remind qualified voters of the Feb. 9 deadline for registering to vote in the annual village election.

But at the same time registration notices are being posted, political observers cite little interest in the annual vote for key village posts which takes place March 9.

The Progressive Party is said to be a thing of the past and the People's Party is badly in need of enthusiasm to fill the following vacant offices:

Village President Village Clerk
Village Assessor
Village Treasurer
Council Trustees (3)

E. C. Heilman currently holds the position as president, Bob Kroner, clerk; T. J. Wagner, assessor; Mrs. Myrna Tingley, treasurer; C. H. Mensing, Carl Fosbender and Paul Clauda, trustees.

A definite need has been cited for women on the council and for young men to show an interest in the affairs of village government.

Under the present system, Feb. 17 is the last day for a village caucus to be held. The procedure calls for candidates to file with the village clerk requesting a caucus, then a notice of caucus meetinf will be posted. After the caucus (which takes the place of a party primary election) is held, the results are filed with the county clerk.

Village clerk Bob Kroner asks interested candidates to request a caucus as early as possible before the final Feb. 17 deadline.

1st Village Charter Was Dated 1837

By CLARA WALDRON
VILLAGE HISTORIAN

Tecumseh's form of government, a council made up of a village president and six trustees, plus a clerk, treasurer and assessor, is essentially the same today as that etablished when the village was first organized, May 27, 1837.

Prior to that date the village had been merely part of the township of Tecumseh, which, incidentally, included in its area roughly the north one-third of Lenawee county, and whose officers were the same as those of the present township with the addition of two overseers of the poor, two pound masters and seven overseers of highways, who were "also fence-viewers".

That first village election was held in the Court House, with Consider A. Stacy as clerk, and resulted in naming Selleck Boughton as president and Stillman Blanchard, Stephen Fargo, Dr. M. A. Patterson, Seneca Hale, Sirel La Baron and Chas. Hewitt as trustees. Village officers also elected were a marshall, treasurer, clerk and three assessors. These men were all business or professional men, a their successors have been during the ensuing one hundred and sixteen years, serving without compensation, or with only "token pay."

The problems they were called upon to solve were surprisingly similar to the modern ones varying more in form and complexity than in kind. Streets sidewalks, sanitation, fire, health and maintaining order were objects of their attention, while that very first meeting resulted in a most familiar ordinance, forbidding dogs to run at large. Which ruling was probably as well enforced as it is today. To be sure they also included swine in this ban and as late as 1853 there was a rule against "oxen and cows running at large and lying on the sidewalk".

The names of many of the first trustees reappear frequently over a long period of years as do those of such well known early citizens as Editors Charles and Samuel Spafford, hotel keeper Jesse Button, Dr. A. B. Palmer and those perenial public servants, Attorneys Consider Stacy, Perly Bills, E. B. Wood, B. L. Baxter and P. R. Adams.

Their fire regulations began with inspections by the marshall and the placing in strategic spots of fire buckets and ladders with iron hooks, progressed in 1841 to a "fire engine", a hook-and-ladder cart in 1846, and a horse drawn engine in 1888, which was the forerunner of the present equipment. They paid a physician as much as $40.00 a year to care for the health of the poor, met the expenses of relatives who nursed smallpox patients in an "isolated house", and compensated the owner of the Michigan House for the closing of his hotel when a guest was stricken with the disease. In 1840, $100,000 was appropriated to build a bridge over Evans creek near the Episcopal church and in 1872 a "wrought iron bridge with stone abutments" over the river near the Globe Mill cost $3000.00.

Until the late 1890's, elections took place at open public meetings, without the present preli-

EVERY DIME HELPS — A newspaper ad read, "Dance, that others may walk," a poster pleaded, "Give an extra dime, every one counts." If you think back a few weeks to 1952, you may recall in that year we experienced the largest polio epidemic in history. More than 56,000 people were struck down by the disease—a total that exceeds highway fatalities by many thousands. It is true also in 1952, that a vaccine was tentatively approved which seems to immunize most of those who are given the serum. However, there is only a limited supply of the immunization and residents in most areas of the country cannot expect to see this new weapon against polio widely used this year or even next.

It seems then that the March of Dimes, the request for donations by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, is unusually appropriate this year. It comes when new discoveries may be on the horizon, thus making this year's victims even greater tragedies, in a way, than before. Surely, the preventative is foreseeable in the near future and every donation will help to spur the discovery of the final solution and help those addicted to recover as rapidly as possible in the interval between now and the final answer to poliomyelitis.

It should be unnecessary to urge anyone to contribute to the March of Dimes. A reminder might be needed, but, in view of the facts cited above, that is all that should be necessary for all of us to do our part during the 1953 March of Dimes.

BACK TO BOOKS? — A recent statistical report shows that fewer people read books in the United States than in any other democracy, that the typical Englishman reads nearly three times as many books as the typical American, and that Denmark has proportionately 15 times as many bookstores as the United States.

But a number of people are coming to feel that American attitudes toward books are not a laughing matter.

Americans are a preeminently practical people. Since frontier days the emphasis has been on doing things, and more recently progressive education has put the emphasis on "learning through doing" rather than on old-fashioned "book learning." This is a healthy development when measured against the sort of intellectualism that knows everything except how to put its knowledge to wise and fruitful uses. But it needs to be kept in balance.

The founding fathers of the Republic were men of practical sagacity but they were also men of learning who had drunk deep at the wells of English and French political and philosophical thought. Even the Puritan pioneers before them cultivated rich intellectual interests, and one of their earliest achievements was to set up a university in the wilderness. The very foundation on which they established their society was a book — indeed the Book.

It is small comfort to know that from 1945 to 1951 Americans bought 62 milion paper-backed mysteries and 35 million cheap westerns. The lowering of prices through inexpensive reprints is not equivalent to the raising of standards through better education. In fact, a steady decline in book-reading habits has gone on through the past 15 years.

We are glad to see professional educational associations and high school English teachers paying more attention to this urgent problem. Books must hold a more respected place in American life if America's intellectual maturity is to match its practical energy.

A PROGRAM FOR SURVIVAL — Commentators and columnists have been speculating on what Mr. Eisenhower's government fiscal policy will be. The consensus, based on his statements and those of his close advisors, runs about as follows:

Spending will be cut in every possible direction. Waste and non-essentials will be curbed. Every effort will be made to balance the budget immediately. Once that is done, taxes will be reduced both for businesses and individuals. There is a possibility that the so-called excess-profits tax will be abandoned entirely when the current law expires next June. This tax, most economists agree, is an unfair and dangerous burden on business—and most especially on the smaller business, which is deprived of funds needed for growth purposes.

That, so far as one can see now, will be the Eisenhower program. It is the only kind of program that can be trusted to save this country from bankruptcy. No nation—no matter how wealthy and how well supplied with resources—and no system of government can forever survive official corruption and deficits in the national treasury.

The Frailty Of Man
And Security Of God

. . . are perfectly exemplified in the passing from this life. Never does the faith of our fathers come closer than while participating in the funeral service.

To convey in true beauty our worship of God should be a function of the funeral.

TWO TURBINES are quicker than One

We raised our eyebrows the first time the engineers told us about it.

A new Dynaflow Drive? Better than the one that over a million and a third people are so happy with?

That's right, the engineers assured us. A new Dynaflow that's just as smooth, just as simple to operate—but far faster and quieter on getaway, and a great deal more efficient.

This, we told ourselves, we have to see. And we did.

We tried the new Golden Anniversary Buick with Twin-Turbine Dynaflow Drive*— and mister, it's spectacular!

As before, no gears ever shift in this wonder drive.

As before, you have infinite smoothness through every speed range—feel wonderfully fresh and relaxed even after a long day's drive.

But on getaways you can soar to cruising speed in less than a half dozen seconds—and with lullaby quiet.

At every speed range you have more efficient power transfer. Acceleration is increased 20%, but with fewer engine revolutions — which means you get going quicker, with less engine speed, less getaway sound.

What works these wonders is a new kind of engineering which places two turbines instead of one in the Dynaflow transmission. At the same time, fewer parts—four elements instead of five—simplify the unit even more.

But there's more than just this sensational Twin-Turbine Dynaflow to be had in the 1953 Buicks.

There's new power — including the world's most advanced V8 Engine in SUPERS and ROADMASTERS. There's a still finer Million Dollar Ride. There's superb new comfort and handling ease, and a host of other advances—87 in all.

Why not come in this week and try one of the greatest Buicks in fifty great years?

They Challenged Us !

YES MANY OF OUR FRIENDS HERE IN TECUMSEH HAVE CHALLENGED US TO BRING OUT A "CHAMPION MILK."

We have accepted their challenge believing that many are not satisfied with less than the best in the world's most complete food . . . .

OUR 100% PREMIUM ALL-JERSEY

MILK

the answer to your challenge with —

EXTRA HEALTH
EXTRA FLAVOR
EXTRA VALUE
EXTRA HEALTH GUARDING

All These Extras In Milk Coming Exclusively

From Meadowridge Jersey Cows!

EXTRA HEALTH . . . .

Meadowridge Premium All Jersey MILK with nothing added and nothing taken away gives you extra health because it contains:

1. 28% more energy building units per quart
2. 20% more calcium, an essential found almost entirely in milk, lack of calcium in milk slows down growth in children and hastens old age in adults
3. 7% more milk sugar, 9% more phosphorus and additional vitamins in excess of 10c retail value of vitamins

EXTRA FLAVOR . . . .

Everyone in your family will fall in line with eager anticipation when you serve them with Meadowridge Premium All Jersey Milk. Its richer and creamier tasting because all Jersey cows give milk with 32.5 more butter fat than average cows. Rich creamy full-bodied flavor comes natural in Jersey Milk and tempts lazy appetites of young and old alike. From the very first taste to the last drop you will enjoy a new taste thrill.

EXTRA VALUE . . . .

Scientific facts recently conducted at leading colleges prove conclusively that compared with ordinary standard milk, all Jersey Milk contains food and energy values twice to three times its price. Steak at $1.00 a pound contains 70 to 80 grams of protein compared to 72 grams of protein in Meadowridge Premium All Jersey Milk at 48c per half gallon when purchased in Meadowridge's new Drive In Cash and Carry store or a savings of 52c for the same amount of protein. Remember that 60% of our daily requirements in food is protein.

EXTRA HEALTH GUARDING . . . .

Is insured by insisting on Meadowridge Premium All Jersey Milk because it comes entirely from Meadowridge Jersey cows and these cows are regularly tested through federal supervision for Bangs and T. B. Our herd is ACCREDITED, which means it is free of T. B. and Bangs. Only a few herds in the state are accredited.
Meadowridge has set their standards high insisting on cleanliness in the barns and processing plant. We feel that our high standards of an accredited herd will some day be a requirement of all herds in order to sell milk. We predict that someday our city ordinance will require that all milk sold in Tecumseh must come from cows that are free of T. B. and Bangs.

minary caucuses, and voters were registered for the first time in 1875, four hundred and ninty-seven of them, although there were rarely more than one hundred and fifty at the meetings. The present council building was built in 1871, enlarged in 1885, and in 1873 the bell was installed that for many years "doubled in brass" to peacefully call the council members on Monday evenings or to rouse the village with its brazen clanging for a fire.

The tempo of the time is embodied in a speed regulation in 1877; six miles an hour and no more than a walk over any bridge; but in 1895, when Joseph Smith was president, the formal abolition of the "office of lamplighter" might be said to herald the coming of more complicated living.

In 1908, under president John Combs, the village was bonded for the installation of the sewer system and it was not until 1939, that Pres. Karl Schneider officiated at the burning of the last bond to celebrate our freedom from debts. Albert Boyce was president during the trying years of the depression and the closing and reorganization of the village banks. During his administration, also, occured one of the few public council disagreements when three trustees resigned in a squabble over the water rates and for nearly two weeks there was no quorum, hence no government, until new members could legally be appointed.

The names of many men—no women have, to date, served on the council—have become almost synonymous with our village government. Floyd Elliott served many years, both as trustee and as president and held the later office at the time the Products company established their business here. "Ernie" Van Vleet served on many committees during the fourteen years of his service on the council. Three generations of Satterthwaites have been council members, Joseph C., in 1857, E. Newbold in 1895 and Perry for several terms in the 1920's. For over twenty years, Wade Jones, as clerk, almost personified the village government to most citizens, while perhaps the longest term of service is held by our present "Mayor" E. C. Heilman, who has a total of twenty-three to his credit.

The council lists over the years read like a roster of the business and professional men of the town, hundreds of them, who have given generously of their time, energy, and above all, patience to make it possible for the town to prosper.

If arguments were postponed until all participants got the facts, life would be simpler and intelligence would replace emotion.

Pageant Showed

cluded pictures, and Indian relics loaned by Mrs. P. B. Hardy. Costumes of yester-year were generously loaned by several persons for the use of the cast.

The second scene depicted the close of a church service early in 1860; early pews probably taken from the first church on Shawnee and Pearl, were used. The part of Rev. William E. Bigelow (uncle of Mrs. Frank Turner) was taken by Walter Beck; the part of Alonzo Murray, prominent leader in the church at that time, a trustee and builder, was taken by Aden Mead. Others representing the congregation were Harold Miller, Carson House, Kenton Hunt, Edward Shank, Wilfred Waldron, jr., Mrs. Maynard Mulvaney, Mrs. Harold Warren, Mrs. Embury Howson, Mrs. Robert Wood, the Misses Joyce Warner and Arlene Sherman. In the business meeting following the church service, the church wrestled with the problem of what to do about the problem of an over-crowded church and a very poor parsonage. Should an extra room or addition be put on the church. Alonzo Murray pleaded for wise planning, and urged the members to look forward to the generations ahead. He suggested that a large lot was available on Pearl and Chicago streets, and that they should obtain it and plan to build a new parsonge and church. Rev. Bigelow pleaded for faith. The congregation decided to make the venture and sang the Doxology.

The third scene was a scene contrasting the church of 11 members in early 1828 who stood again on the stag in their costumes of yester-year, with the church of today, represented by some of the church officials who were introduced.

Dr. Truman Rentschler, chairman of the board; Mrs. Rentschler, secretary of the board; Mrs. Edna Codling, church treasurer; Earle Green, church lay leader; Mrs. Green, church school superintendent; Mrs. Robert Bonner, president of W.S.C.S.; Mrs. Luther Wood, W.S.C.S. secretary; Mrs. George Wittrup, W.S.C.S. treasurer; Mrs. Edward Leighton, chairman of Reliable Circle; Mrs. Walter Beck, chairman of Mary-Martha Circle. The contrast of dress in different generations, the on-going continued program of the church, was highlighted by a wedding scene with two couples marching up the aisle to the familiar strain of the Wedding March—Miss Diane Woodward and Wilfred Waldron, jr. depicting the couple of long ago, and Thomas and Betty Kampmueller (one of the couples recently married in this church) the modern bride and groom.

Between the scenes music was given; a vocal duet by Mrs. Crawford and Mrs. Howsen and a vocal solo "The Lord's Prayer" by Wilfred Waldron, jr., accompanied by Mrs. Herbert Dillon.

The interesting pageant followed the opening anniversary banquet in the church social rooms. Members of the Reliable Cirele served a ham dinner to 150. Table decorations and floral arrangements were made by the Mary Martha Circle. A replica of the church marked each place as a banquet program.

The speaker's table was centered with a beautiful tiered cake, topped with a sugared replica of the church and circled with candles, made by Mrs. Aden Mead. The master birthday cake frosted in white and decorated with pink roses and blue buds, and 125 tiny blue candles, the work of Mrs. Mary Black, was presented to the audience before it was served.

A short program followed around the tables, with Mrs. Truman Rentschler as toastmistress. Guests were introduced: Rev. Harold Herrick who gave the invocation, Dr. Frank L. Fitch, district superintendent and his wife, of Ann Arbor; Rev. Edward Escolme, pastor of the Friends church who has served Tecumseh longer than any other minister. Rev. Kenrick who lived in Tecumseh between the age of 11 and 17, told of the influence of this church on his early life. He is now a member of the Genesee Methodist Annual Conference in New York, and temporarily retired to recover from a recent illness; he is living at North Adams. A men's quartette composed of Aden Mead, R. A. Brunger, Wilfred Waldron, jr. and Embury Howson, sang two numbers.

Rev. Ronald Brunger gave a short talk on "Our Heritage" stressing the heroism and sacrificial toils of the early Methodist circuit riders in Tecumseh. Special recognition was then given to the long-term members of the church—Elizabeth Beamish who has been a member of the church nearly 70 years, Grace Bryant Austin (1889) who is in the Parrett Nursing Home, Ella Potter Williamson and Edna Potter Updyke (1894), and LaVie Snedecor (1895); Arthur Harding (1889), John and Lavern Austin (1890), Robert McCoy (1896), Wilfred Waldron and Earl Updyke who also joined the church the same day.

Rev. Edward Escolme, pastor of the Friends church, spoke briefly, complimenting the church on its record through the years of religious service to Tecumseh.

On Sunday morning, a large congregation gathered to worship under the leadership of Dr. Frank L. Fitch, district superintendent, and to hear an anthem "Crown Him with Many Crowns" which was sung in this church 52 years ago. Bishop Marshall R. Reed of Detroit, who was brought up as a boy near Prospect Hill and is a graduate of Tecumseh high school, brought a fitting message. Following the service a coffee hour was held in the Social Rooms, providing an opportunity of fellowship with old-time members who were present, and an opportunity to meet Bishop and Mrs. Reed and Dr. and Mrs. Fitch.

At 3:30 p.m. an historical exhibit was held in the Primary and Nursery rooms, with old furniture and other heirlooms in the possession of the Waldron family, the old and new church records and records of church organizations, pictures of members and events in the past, brought by Mrs. Floyd Elliott, Miss LaVie Snedecor, Rev. Harold Kenrick, and others.

At 4:00 p.m. a Vesper Concert was presented by the Chancel Choir of the Adrian Methodist church, under the directorship of Mrs. Mahlon Smith, with Richard Wegner at the organ. The concert featuring anthems, several solos including a saxophonist, and an organ offertory solo, was well balanced and greatly appreciated. A coffee hour for the visiting choir followed, served by the local church choir. The historical exhibit was open again.

At the closing service at 7:30, Edna Taylor O'Conner, a daughter of this church, sang a solo. Fraternal greetings were read from the Methodist church in Marshall which was organized by Rev. Elijah Pilcher of the Tecumseh circuit on Nov. 6, 1831, from the Coldwater Methodist church which was organized by the Tecumseh circuit preacher on June 19, 1832, from the Jackson First church which was on the Tecumseh circuit in 1831-32, from the Grass Lake Methodist church (also on this circuit in 1831-32), and from the Manchester Methodist church, organied by Rev. Pilcher of Tecumseh circuit in 1831. Fraternal letters were also read from the Tecumseh Friends church and St. Peter's Episcopal church. Greetings were extended by Rev. Blair Bashore of the Baptist church, Rev. James Simmons of the Ridgeway Methodist church, Rev. Vaughn Whited of the Clinton and Macon Methodist churches, and Dr. William C. S. Pellowe of the Adrian Methodist church.

Two baskets of flowers were given by the W.S.C.S. in memory of Rev. and Mrs. E. F. Hildebrand. Rev. Hildebrand was a former pastor of the church and organized the W.S.C.S. in 1940. Mrs. Hildebrand was a charter member and past president.

Flowers were also sent by the Friends church and by Mrs. Lloyd Hanford in memory of her father, Aaron K. Waldron, grandfather of Wilfred Waldron, sr.

City Form

had changed from the village form since 1931. Replies were received from 21 cities. In response to the question, "Do you feel the town has benefited from the change to a city?" 19 of the 21 answered, "Yes." One answered in the negative, one did not answer this question.

Twelve of these 21 cities said specifically there were no disadvantages in the change, six more did not specifically answer the question but listed no disadvantages. One stated that its advantages outnumbered its disadvantages, one stated that it resulted in slightly higher costs (additional services being added), and the clerk of one village which had voted to become a city but had not yet operated as such stated that it would be more expensive.

City government is not limited to large communities. In 1940, there were eleven cities under 750 population, five between 750 and 1,000, and 22 between 1,000 and 1,500. Now, 40 per cent of all cities in Michigan have less than 3,000 inhabitants and 20 per cent have less than 1,500 population.

Tecumseh has been considering the change to city form for a number of years but has taken no other definite action than committee meetings by a Chamber of Commerce group. The change is seen by many as a definite need and sure to be forthcoming someday as a replacement for the village form which has served the community for over a century.

BENEFIT MUSICAL WAS DIMES DRIVE FEATURE

A highlight of this year's March of Dimes drive was the jointly sponsored musical benefit held last week in the American Legion.

Arranged by the Music Club and Monday Club, the polio fund entertainment and tea brought Robert Barnes, Adrian and Mrs. Charles Seizert, Blissfield, both polio victims here. Mr. Barnes played several piano numbers while Mrs. Seitzert presented an interesting chalk talk.

Seventy-three dollars was realized by a free will offering.

Mrs. Ralph Westgate, president of the Music Club, and Mrs. Robert J. McCoy, president of the Monday Club, presided at the coffee urns and were assisted by Mrs. Perry Hayden and Mrs. Gloria Underwood Fetkenhier. Mrs. Wilfred Waldron was in charge of the program and Mrs. Herbert Murphy assisted by Mrs. Lester Runk planned the setting for the refreshment tables. Mrs. Arthur Schwartz, Mrs. George Wittrup, Mrs. George Schippers and Mrs. Murray Day of the Music Club and Mrs. Leon Johnson, Mrs. Paul Maves, Miss Edith Ingersoll, Mrs. Virgil Deming, Mrs. Floyd Bryan, Mrs. Ed Aebersold, Mrs. Veva Connor, and Mrs. T. Rentschler of the Monday Club were in charge of the refreshments. The services of those appearing on the program were donated to the cause and the refreshments were provided by members of both organizations.

BUSINESS WOMEN

Members of the Business and Professional Woman's Club heard of "Life in a Parsonage" as described by local minister's wives at their meeting Monday evening in Fellowship Center. Following a dinner served by the Golden Rule Division of the Presbyterian church, forty-eight members and guests were told of interesting experiences as the wife of a minister by Mrs. A. Jeschke, Mrs. A. S. Dimbat and Mrs. Ronald Brunger. Mrs. Edward Escolme was unable to attend and her story was read by Mrs. Naomi Sallows.

Mrs. Jeschke remarked that music played an important part in life in the parsonage and presented a group of young people from the junior choir of the Lutheran church who sang "Grandfather's Clock," "Home of the Woodland Grove" and "Mill Wheel." Lyrics for these songs had been written by the Rev. Jeschke. The group included Judy Baxter, Dorothy Goodwin, Nancy Dinse, Brenda Heeman, Gerald Watson and Carl Jeschke. They were accompanied by Mrs. George Schippers.

The program committee was Mrs. Gordon Greiman, Mrs. Mills Swick and Mrs. Maynard Mulvaney. Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Gordon Garlick and Miss Ruth Harding.

During the business meeting the name of Miss Carol Pearson was submitted for membership. Mrs. Ray Sluyter, chairman of the welfare committee, asked all members to notify her of any old furniture, bedding or such articles available as they are urgently needed. Mrs. Duaine Service was appointed to introduce the club woman of the year, Miss Gertrude Spaulding, March 5 at 11 a.m. over station WABJ. Fifteen dollars was voted to the March of Dimes.

Mrs. Howard Truesdale reported on a Christmas box sent to the County Infirmary. Mrs. Nyra Parrett expressed her appreciation for the part played by the B and PW in making it posible for the nursing home to have a television for patients.

The next meeting will be Monday, Feb. 23, with Mr. and Mrs. Edward Boss telling of "France Through American Eyes." Hostesses will be Mrs. Ruth LaPrad, Mrs. Purnell Osburn and Miss Myrtle Mattis.

Mrs. Virgil Lowery has organized Raisin township according to the school districts.

Your porch light or a candle light in the window will be the signal for the workers to stop at your door for a contribution. Make all checks read March of Dimes. Mrs. George Quick is the chairman for the village of Tecumseh, Tecumseh township and Raisin township. The results of the porchlight drive will be reported to the chapter headquarters in Adrian immediately following the drive.

PAY TAX EARLY, AVOID PENALTY, MESC HEAD WARNS

Nearly 30,000 Michigan employers who are covered by the Michigan Employment Security Act and also by the Federal Unemployment Compensation laws were warned today that prompt payment of their state payroll tax will save them money on their Federal Tax.

"The Federal tax is 3% of the taxable payrolls of employers who hire eight or more people in each of 20 weeks in a calendar year," Max M. Horton, Director of the Michigan Employment Security Commission said today. "However, if the state unemployment compensation tax for the previous year is paid in full by January 31 each year, 90% of the Federal Tax is suspended, and the taxpayer pays only 3 tenths of one per cent of the taxable payroll to the Federal Government. If the state tax is not paid or is only partly paid by January 31, however, there is a 10% penalty imposed by the Federal regulations as follows: Instead of 90% of the tax, the suspension amounts to only 81%," Horton pointed out.

"Although the percentile difference is small, it could account for many thousands of dollars in the case of large employers," Horton said.

Railroad workers may win pay rises totaling $100,000,000 a year as the result of a Government referee's ruling approving an increase based on higher productivity.

CORRECTION

In a recent issue, The Herald incorrectly stated that the United Saving bank purchased the building formerly occupied by Green's Menswear which is just west of the bank and now being remodeled for bookeeping use.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Lowry, who are now in St. Petersburg, Fla., still own this building and have leased it to the United Savings Bank.

CONSUMERS POWER PLANS 15 MILLION DOLLAR EXPANSION IN 1953

Consumers Power Company will spend more than $15,700,000 in its Jackson Division in 1953 to expand and improve electric and gas service.

Division Manager Herman H. Koelbel, announcing the division program, said more than $14,000,000 will be invested in various electric projects, the most important of which is the construction of a third electric generating unit, of 106,000 kilowatts, at the Company's new Justin R. Whiting steam-electric generating plant at Erie, south of Monroe. Two generating units, of 85,000 kw each, went into operation at the Whiting Plant in 1952.

Mr. Koelbel said an additional $1,300,000 will be invested in electric distribution system projects, and other projects, including transmission lines and substations and improvements to the gas system, will consume the balance.

He said the Company's Page Avenue substation in southeast Jackson will be constructed to receive 140,000 volt electric transmission lines from the Whiting Plant, greatly increasing the company's power supply potential within the city and the general area.

Important substation projects will also be completed at Hudson and Tecumseh, as well as in Waldron, Blissfield, Reading, and Morenci. Also, a portion of the power line between Deerfield and Holloway will be rebuilt.

Mr. Koelbel said the company contemplates constructing a gas distribution system to serve the village of Deerfield, and plans in addition certain improvements to the existing gas distribution system.

He revealed that the Jackson division expects to add 700 new gas customers and 1,800 new electric customers this year, with Consumers as a whole expecting to add 20,000 new electric and 15,000 new gas customers. The company now serves more than 700,000 electric and 350,000 gas cusomers in its service area, which embraces 63 of the 68 counties of the Lower Peninsula. In this area the company will invest a record total of $58,000,000 in 1953 on expansion and construction.

Senior Profiles

We of Tecumseh high school wish to present our beloved seniors to you, the public, before they leave us, the high school. They have been here for four years and we think it only fair to let you know something about the future citizens of tomorrow, the people who will take over your jobs and try to do them just a little better. This we are going to try to do through the Herald, by presenting a synopsis of two to four seniors each week. Here are the first two.

INTRODUCING SHIRLEY BAILEY:

Shirley has light brown hair, blue eyes and stands at five feet three inches. She will be graduating in June from T. H. S. after having attended Britton High for two years and graduating from the eighth grade in Ridgeway.

Shirley is one of our cooperative training girls. She is using her pleasant voice as a telephone operator and she plans to continue this work after graduation.

MARY LOU ALDERDYCE

One might think of that blond poised young lady as an assistant secretary of T. H. S. because she can—more often than not—be found helping Mrs. Jacobs, the Secretary to the Principal. Mary Lou is the daughter of Leo and Ziska Alderdyce of East Logan Street, Tecumseh.

Majoring in English and History and with a minor in Mathematics, Mary Lou plans to obtain another minor by taking Chemistry in summer school this year. Her plans are to attend Michigan State college or Sienna Heights and receive training as a home economics teacher.

To our question, "Would you ever choose to carry on your teaching career in Tecumseh High School?"

Mary Lou replied, "I would like to very much."

Although she is busy with school and office tasks, Mary Lou is very much interested in school sports and other activities, attending as many of the games as possible.

Mary Lou will be 18 years old on senior class night and will graduate with 19 credits, 3 more than are required for graduation. She is looking forward to the five-day senior trip this Spring to New York City as are all the seniors.

Indians Edge Bedford 32-25

The Tecumseh Indians won their eighth straight basketball game as they edged the Bedford Kicking Mules 32-25 here last Friday night in this, their third league game. This puts the Indians in an undisputed first place in the Southeastern Conference League. This game was also the halfway mark of the season.

The Indians led at the end of a fast first half 23-13. With a 10 point lead at the beginning of the third period the Indians went into a semi-stall in which they formed a semi-circle around the basket and just passed the ball while waiting for a chance to break for the basket. Although this play worked well the crowd yelled for more action.

Jim Wilson took top scoring honors for the Indians with 11 points. Wayne Patton and Bob Binns tied for second place with six points each.

Lavern Spotts was high point man for the Kicking Mules with 10 points.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Surprise Ending!

That raffle for our Volunteer Fire Department went over fine. We're going to have money to get a new engine—and then some.

Our local merchants really donated some wonderful prizes. Like Buzz Ellis, the radio-TV dealer, giving that big television set . . . and the Superior Motors putting up a brand-new car.

There was a humorous note, too. The prize of a year's supply of coal—donated by Baker Coal Yard—was won by Mrs. Thayer, whose husband is the biggest fuel-oil dealer in the county! What did Mrs. Thayer do with the coal? She gave it to a church she's not even a member of. (Her Church uses her husband's fuel oil.)

From where I sit, that's real generosity. But then, Mrs. Thayer never did believe in dividing people into groups. She's "for" everybody — whatever church they go to, whether they like TV or radio, people who enjoy temperate beer, people who don't. A really warm-hearted person.

Methodist Pastor Traces Tecumseh's Early Settlement

By Rev. R. A. Brunger

(This is the second in a series of historical sketches which outline the settlement of Tecumseh, founding and growth of the local Methodist church).

On June 1, Musgrove Evans started with his wife and children for Tecumseh, from Monroe; they encamped at the Macon that night, and arrived here late in the afternoon of the 2nd. Peter Benson and his wife had left the day before, and arrived here also on June 2nd. The crude home to which the women and children came, was 20 feet square with walls about 9 feet high. "There was a low garret, two logs in height above the ceiling, which was used as a bed-room for the boys and hired men. There was no floor, as the nearest saw mill was at Monroe; the roof was covered with bark peeled from elm trees, and until the following November, the house was provided with neither chimney nore fireplace. A bake-kettle served the purpose of an oven for several months. For cooking purposes a fire was made on the ground, the smoke ascending through a hole in the roof." The site of this first Tecumseh home is today marked by a boulder, on the east side of Mill St., north of the Raisin River bridge, and the power plant.

Musgrove and Abbi Evans on their second Sunday here, June 13, 1824, wrote letters east to the Browns; on the outside of the letter is a mark, "Twenty-five cents, French-town, M.T. June 18." Musgrove told of the garden which had been planted the second day after their arrival. "The peas, beans, radishes, cucumbers, melons, lettuce and some other things are up, and are looking finely. We brought some cabbage plants with us from Monroe, and although they were three days or more out of the ground they all lived and look well. We succeeded much better with ploughing than I had any idea we should."

Abbi writing to her sister Cornelia Brown, manifested a bit of home-sickness, "I suppose you have been to church. Perhaps I may yet see the day when the gospel will be preached at our place. Among the number who have purchased there are two Methodist Ministers, who expect some of their families to come on next spring." One of these Methodist ministers mentioned was Rev. Joseph Bangs, who did not come until the fall of 1828. (Note: these letters were called to my attention by Miss Clara Waldron; I am indebted to her for her generous help in several matters, in this history).

In the crude cabin which we have described, the Evans family, the Bensons, and several men, living during the summer months; Mrs. Evans and Mrs. Benson preparing food for from 15 to 20 persons daily. "In the following November a floor was laid, a chimney and an out-door oven, and two small shanties were added to the house, for two other families had arrived to occupy the mansions during the ensuing winter." General Brown had brought his family, and George Spafford and wife arrived. Brown brought a dozen chairs and some other furniture, 10 children, two hired girls, 10 hired men, spent the winter of 1824-25" in that house. It can be imagined that they were more than a little crowded.

Several other families settled here before the end of the year 1824, a fact forgotten in many accounts I find. Abner Spafford and family with two yoke of oxen and a lumber wagon arrived in July. Locating on the flat by the creek, north of the present railroad station, they elevated their wagon-box on "crotches and poles and camped under it until a log house could be raised" later. They had no floor until Nov. 27 when the new saw-mill had commenced operations. Ezra Blood, a bachelor, and member of the original Evans party, took up a quarter section 1½ miles southeast in May, and built a log house in the fall of 1824. James Patchin and family and Elisha Champlin and family settled just east of Brownville, that year. Turner Stetson, one of the original party, built a house on the bluff of Evans Creek, naer the present Episcopal Church.

In the fall of 1824, an Indian trader by the name of Knaggs built a small house on the north side of Chicago street, in the block east from Maumee. John Borland and family arrived late in the fall and took up residence with Ezra Blood. Horace Wolcutt came in the fall and settled north of Evans; Peter Lowe located east of town; Jesse Osborn located on Evans creek in the vicinity of Union St. Dr. Ormsby arrived that fall. That first winter, the population of the village is said to have numbered about 50.

In Aug. 1824, the men at Tecumseh with the help of men brought from Monroe and Detroit, built a sawmill. Then a dam was built, but it was November when the saw-mill was put into operation. In true pioneer spirit, the first settlers of Tecumseh did not forget the education of the children. They managed a building of tamarack poles and tan bark for a school house that first winter. There were seven pupils.

In 1825, Joseph W. Brown built the first tavern or public house west of Monroe. Knaggs erected a store in the summer of 1825. That fall, Rev. Noah Wells, a Presbyterian minister from Detroit who was exploring the country, preached the first sermon in Tecumseh.

The year 1826 was a year of progress. The grist mill was put into operation and that was a great aid to the settlers. In 1826, Evans was appointed by the federal government to survey a military road from Detroit to Chicago. In a few years this point on the Monroe Methodist Circuit by Rev. John Baughman, and Tecumseh now, for the first time, had regular church services.

Indonesia said to be receptive to United States military aid to be paid for, but still opposed to help as a gift.

Hostess fever is an odd disease that frequently attacks some of the most normal women. It is caused by a number of situations that result in "entertaining jitters." A few of the most frequent causes of this malady are: lack of advance preparation. over-planning, and general fatigue from too many holiday guests. So the moral of this story is—keep New Year's parties simple!

At your next party, try serving a large tray or Lazy Susan featuring your own jams and jellies. Start with several shimmering molds in the center and surround them with a selection of crackers and potato chips. Homemade jams and jellies are such pretty party fare and they can be made with such great speed and ease. Just see if your friends aren't asking you for your favorite recipes.

Today jelly making has no secret formula when you use natural fruit pectin in bottled or powdered form. Follow the thoroughly tested recipes with care and in just 15 minutes you'll have a row of gleaming jams and jellies. Try the two recipes we've given below and make this New Year's resolution . . . serve more homemade jams and jellies to your family in 1952.

GRAPE JUICE JELLY
(Using bottled juice)

Yield: about 5 medium glasses

- 2 cups bottled grape juice
- 3½ cups sugar
- ½ bottle liquid fruit pectin

Combine juice and sugar in a large saucepan and mix well. Place over high heat and bring to a boil, stirring constantly. At once stir in liquid fruit pectin. Then bring to a full rolling boil and boil hard 1 minute, stirring constantly. Remove from heat, skim off foam with metal spoon, and pour quickly into glasses. Cover jelly at once with ⅛ inch hot paraffin.

Living With Peace Of Mind

By KIRBY PAGE

To be at home in the invisible world of the spirit is man's highest accomplishment and deepest joy. Learning how to pray is our most important endeavor. The good news is that every person can pray, can pray because he can desire of God. Prayer is the soul's sincere desire, uttered or unexpressed.

Through desire we open the door to God. Because love is a voluntary relationship, the Kingdom of God can be entered voluntarily only. Our Father always treats us as free moral agents, never manipulating us as puppets and never regarding us as robots. It is the nature of God's love to yearn over us, to persuade us, to win us, but never to enslave us or to drive us unwillingly.

God speaks to us through our minds and emotions, our consciences and our wills. When we desire his help, he is able, with full respect for our freedom to choose, to provide guidance and power. The door to human personality cannot be unlocked from outside, it must be opened from within. Desire opens it, the way we use our freedom decides how accessible our senses are to divine instruction. Therefore, learn what to desire.

Desire may be high or low, strong or weak. Thus there are many qualities of prayer. Self-centered prayers are low, God-ecntered and Christ-centered prayers are high. When self-centered desire is strong, God is denied full opportunity to help us. When desire to know and to do his will is dominant, God has abundant opportunity, and God never misses an opportunity.

Thus desire determines relationship to God and to man. So the training of desire is decisive for character and for destiny. Learning how to pray is learning to want what God wants and to do what he wants us to do. It is easy to see, then, that prayer is man's most important business.

Grade School News

First Grade
Mrs. Garlick

Three people have brought us birthday treats since Christmas vacation. We enjoyed helping them celebrate their birthdays.

We were very interested in Inauguration Day. That was one day when we had two presidents —Mr. Truman in the morning and Mr. Eisenhower in the afternoon. We will be in the fifth grade before there is another Inauguration Day.

We are reading a new book about our friends Dick, Jane and Sally. It is called "Happy Days with Our Friends."

We have been hearing stories about Peter Pan. We like them.

Some of us have been out of school with bad colds. We hope to have everyone back real soon.

We have been studying machines in science class. We were surprised to think of all the machines which are used every day.

Second Grade
Mrs. VanWinkle

We read a story in our second grade reader about a scarecrow. We have been having fun making scarecrows out of sticks, straw, and old pieces of cloth. They are very funny looking and scary, too.

We are studying about the Eskimos who live way up near the North Pole. We had fun finding the North Pole on the globe. We are learning some Eskimo words and are writing stories and drawing pictures for an Eskimo booklet.

Each one of us have made a set of addition flash cards. We are now making a set of subtraction flash cards. We have fun playing games with them and are learning to give the correct answers much faster than we used to.

Our bulletin board is covered with pictures of President Eisenhower's inauguration. We learned to pronounce, read, and write this big word and we all know its correct meaning.

Third Grade
Mrs. Buttolph

Robert Richardson is a new pupil in our room. He has been attending a rural school near Milan.

In art we made some nice snowflakes. We now have them up in our room along with many snowladies and snowmen made of paper plates, cotton, colored paper, fancy ribbons, and flowers.

Bobby Holmes has a new bicycle. He got it for his birthday.

In social studies we have been seeing several film strips about the Eskimos in Alaska. We are planning to make our own movie showing how the Eskimos live.

Mary Wing brought us many empty small glass bottles. We are using them for science exhibits.

Fifth Grade
Mrs. Boltz

Carole Lynn Runk went to Ann Arbor to hear the Vienna Boy's Choir. The choir was made up of twenty-two boys who came over from Europe.

The following people received one hundred in their semester spelling test: Doris Oliphant, Alice Titley, and Karen Hall.

The boys and girls who were taking piano lessons have completed their work. Several thought the series of lessons had helped them in music.

We have finished our tour of the United States. Most of us can locate and spell the states and name the right capitol of each state. We play a baseball game in geography using states and capitols for balls. Alice Titley, Judy Monyhan, Jane Dillon and Jim Beach each made a home run.

Our room has already collected over six dollars for the polio fund.

In history we have begun to study the story of the Civil War. Jim Beach has brought to class a miniature bale of cotton, an orange, a tangerine, and some Spanish moss, all of which has come directly from the southland.

Sixth Grade
Mrs. Uckele

Our class elected new officers last week. They are: president, Donna Spangler; vice president, Bonnie Iseler; secretary, Susie Rohweder; treasurer, Katherine West.

We have been studying the Middle Ages in social studies. This included the crafts of that period. To make this more impressive we have been making stained glass windows of colored cellophane.

We have all been enjoying listening to book reviews given by the pupils in our class.

During vacation Mrs. Uckele was in California. When she came home she brought a mysterious plant called the "Resurrection Plant." The plant looks like a bunch of dried hay. When it is put into water, it slowly opens up and turns green.

Mrs. Uckele is reading to us "The Book Knight of Reims" by Eloise Lownsbery.

It does the same job—
but a new telephone pole costs twice as much

● We buy thousands of new telephone poles each year . . . the majority of them for replacement of old poles. A 1953 Model telephone pole costs more than twice as much as a 1940 Model, but it does the same job.

That is why the cost of maintaining a telephone exchange, served by the same type of equipment in operation twelve years ago, has increased greatly too.

Team Spirit Keeps Indians On Top

"Team spirit tops 'em all," Coach Victor Lawson insisted after practicing his undefeated Indian cagers Monday night.

Asked, "What makes this Tecumseh high outfit a great little team?" the likeable Lawson insisted that "team spirit" was the key, "whether you call it team play, team work or anything else."

"These boys work well together on or off the hardcourt. There's no scramble for high points or for personal glory."

That's what the coach had to say for his gallant quintet—actually a six-man squad—which is riding a remarkable 10-game winning streak. The Indians have downed all comers to-date and sight an invasion of LCAA leaders, Morenci, Friday night.

Their remaining schedule reads:

Feb. 6	Morenci	there
Feb. 13	Clinton	here
Feb. 17	Hudson	there
Feb. 20	Blissfield	here
Feb. 24	Monroe Catholic	here
Feb. 27	Bedford	there
Mar. 4-7	District B at Adrian

E. C. Heilman Will Not Run Again

BOB KRONER ALSO STEPS OUT, DATE OF ELECTION MAR. 9

E. C. "Ed" Heilman looked back on 30 years of public service to the village, when he announced at Monday night's council meeting that, "Tecumseh will soon be needing a new president."

The council had been discussing the forthcoming March 9 annual village election, and the Feb. 17 caucus deadline, when the president, who is often mis-called Mayor, for he preforms the same duty as a city mayor, announced that he will step out of public office.

Heilman carries the praises of the village for his untiring service, on and off since 1920, at the low pay of $60 a year. He was the inspiration that directed the present council to its up-to-date method of operation.

Also going out of public office is clerk Bob Kroner who announced his business does not allow him enough time to handle the clerk's duties.

The terms of Charles Mensing, Paul Clauda and Carl Fosbender also expire but they are expected to be named at the caucus sometime before the Feb. 17 deadline. However, the council declared a need for more interest in village affairs and need for young men to enter into council service.

Other business Monday night included awarding a bid to Schneider Bros. for a 2-ton dump truck for $2,700. Water and sewer were voted at village expense to be extended to the Boy Scout cabin. Sewer tile and street will be extended from N. Van Buren to the new Patterson school.

In acting as an advisory board of directors for Herrick Memorial hospital, the council passed on a $2,500 request for a new elevator.

Another action, passed by the council, provided for a new door on the village garage.

It was announced that the April water bill will include a 12c per thousand gallon surcharge to meet operating expenses of the new sewage disposal plant. This charge will be based on January readings.

Chief George Kilbourn asked for a pay raise for the force to put the police force on the same level as those in other communities in this area. He said that ordinary patrolmen elsewhere receive $325 a month.

In a discussion of parking conditions in Tecumseh, George McCombs suggested that the Logan street village parking lot be improved and cleaned-up and meters installed.

Tuesday was visitors' day for about forty distributors and jobbers from eastern states who viewed the vast plant of Tecumseh Products. The group, all of whom handle Products units, came here by chartered bus from Marion, Ohio, where they had visited a branch plant.

After the conducted inspection tour of the local plant, they were er, Harlene DeLisle, Allen Dick- guests for a luncheon at Tecumseh Country club.

He especially mentioned, as two important lines of probable manufacture units in the future, window air conditioners and air conditioners for home hot air systems.

Jim Spooner, center, service manager of Butler Motor Sales, is standing at the actual point of impact between two demolished cars which collided last week on the Tecumseh-Macon road a mile east of M-52. Spooner is about to "walk into" the totally demolished car (left) driven by George C. Hawkins, 18, Rt. 2, which hit the car (right) in which Mrs. Helen House and son Stephen were riding. All were taken to Herrick Memorial hospital for treatment and Stephen was later moved to Ann Arbor. State troopers who investigated have charged Hawkins with reckless driving.

Billy Still Knows Money Is Used By March of Dimes

Billy Still is a hometown example of how the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis uses the dimes and dollars you and your family give through the annual March of Dimes.

In Ann Arbor's University hospital since last August the youthful father of four children received direct benefit from the foundation and is patiently recovering from the dreaded disease to someday return home — to his family and to his new home on the Tecumseh-Clinton highway.

The attractive one-story brick dwelling is rapidly nearing completion, thanks to a voluntary group of Good Samaritans and virtually an Army of workers and persons who offered financial aid.

To-date the group has paid construction expenses of $2,381 and are busy putting down flooring and interior painting. A balance of $500 remains in the treasury which is kept by Mrs. Worth.

Director Will Sproul and his right hand assistant Clarence Keller are the guiding force behind the Samaritans who at present are anxious to complete a list of the many people who gave so freely of their time and materials. The total value in modern day standards is beyond imagination.

A Red String To Remember

Do you remember how mother used to tie "red strings" around our fingers to keep us from forgetting something important?

Something very important to The Herald is your subscription renewal, so let this brief reminder be like mother's red strings around your finger. If the date on your label shows "times up," or coming up soon, please renew today before you lose the red string, and The Herald will continue with all its Tecumseh news at the low rate of less than 4c a copy.

If you are one of the many new subscribers, or one who has recently paid up for another year, disregard this reminder, and thanks for your continued cooperation in making The Herald a better paper. For of all the papers that are circulated hereabo uts, The Herald is the only one that "gives a hoot" about Tecumseh. Through its pages a better community can be built.

In fact the local force has only been called out four times so far this year. The other calls were to a rural farm house near Ridgeway and a refrigerator motor at Dr. H. H. Hammel's.

Full Scale Work Now Underway At Patterson School

Men and machinery moved "on location" this week as full scale operation started at the north end of Van Buren street on the new Patterson Elementary grade school.

Herbert J. Clapp, construction superintendent for the contracting Miller-Davis firm from Kalamazoo, reported a starting force of 21 men at work as he eyed Sept. 1 with the firm hope of completing the sleek, modern one story building.

School building is an old story for Clapp who works hand-in-hand with a crew of construction foremen, all of whom hail from Kalamazoo.

This is the same firm which is also adding two additions to the high school, a classroom section on the northeast and a large gymnasium on the southwest. Footings have been partially poured and fabricated steel has arrived for uninterrupted work.

However, the Patterson school is of much greater proportion and requires a lot of preliminary ground moving and excavating.

Supt. James McDowell said one section is ready to have the footings poured if weather remains warm.

An infinite amount of ground work and staking is being done so that spring work will go along on schedule.

Tecumseh Boasts A Michigan First

Meadowridge Dairy will hold the grand opening Friday of Michigan's first drive-in dairy service station, an event which may serve as a precedent in dairy merchandising throughout the state.

The service station is actually a drive-through-station which allows the customer direct from his car shopping.

Announcement of the drive-in dairy station, which is an addition to the Meadowridge store on Logan street, completes an extensive building program which started last summer when Meadowridge purchased the Tecumseh Dairy.

Now using new, modern-type milk processing equipment to handle their own Jersey milk, the Meadowridge firm opened a new garage and warehouse behind the dairy store last December.

Another recent addition to the community's dairy needs is the new Meadowridge 5% Premium milk.

Ken Blummerick is manager of the Meadowridge dairy plant.

Ground members are needed as well as air crews, commander Elmer Burleson said.

(This is a reprint in part of an editorial by the late publisher of The Herald, Earl L. Wickwire and was an expression of his views on the need for City form of government in Tecumseh in March, 1951)

DON'T SHOOT THE PIANO PLAYER — Somewhere, sometime, we read that an old Western saloon once displayed a sign which said, "Don't shoot the piano player, he's doing the best that he can." That philosophy might well apply to the men in government in Tecumseh. They are trying to operate a corporation that is today, nearly three times as large as it was 20 years ago — and they are trying to do it with the same "tool." If they make mistakes — or hit sour notes, so to speak — they shouldn't be shot at verbally. Given a good instrument, they'd probably be able to play an entirely different kind of tune.

That in a measure, is how we feel about the Chamber of Commerce program which calls for a change in Tecumseh's form of government. In the 1951 vernacular, the Chamber is asking that the residents of Tecumseh provide the men in local government "with a new piano." The old one is worn out, it's out of tune and needs to be replaced.

We suppose that there are some folk in Tecumseh who, even today, shy at the word "city." Some feel that there's something mysterious about a city and that it is synonimous with "big town." Such is not the case. In Michigan, for example, there are about 90 cities smaller than Tecumseh such as Morenci, Hudson and Saline.

Before any change is made in Tecumseh's form of government the people will be given an opportunity to study and vote on such a step. Should we decide to become a city there are distinct advantages, for example, having three or four representatives on the board of county supervisors. That is important. Tecumseh is the second largest community in Lenawee county and, as such, pays the second largest tax in the county. It should have a greater voice in the county board meets. Today only ONE supervisor represents the township and the village.

Duplication of government functions, always confusing, would be eliminated. Taxes would be paid to one treasurer instead of two, there would be only one point of registration for voting. Only the city would assess property for taxes.

Some folk seem to fear that operating Tecumseh under city form of government would cost more than under village form. As we see it, there should be little or no difference in the cost. Should there be a difference, it should be in a savings to the taxpayers, for there should be an elimination of duplicating government functions.

For several years we have been verbally "shooting at the piano players" in local government. Many local folk have become "gun shy" and are refusing to "play" any more. As we see it, now is the time to get a new "piano."

SOMETHING NEW ADDED — In gathering the nation's top men about him to run the government, President Eisenhower tapped Michigan's great industrial builder C. E. Wilson on the shoulder for the important Cabinet post — Secretary of Defense.

What followed in Washington brought back memories of olden days when great Americans stepped down to help syncronize the cogs of a gargantuan business. Look at what this man gave for the privilege of serving his country. Mr. Wilson sacrificed a huge salary and the highest GM post. He paid a huge sum in capital gains tax by the sale of stock, and for that he gets the pay of a cabinet member. How would the seven Senators who opposed the Wilson appointment have acted in a turnabout? How many would sacrifice a million dollars or more to become an officer in the Eisenhower cabinet?

OPPORTUNITY FOR GROWTH — We salute the Boy Scouts of America, observing its 43rd birthday during Boy Scout Week, Feb. 7 to 13, with a membership at an all-time high of nearly three and a-half million boys and leaders. Our nation is all the richer, for since 1910 more than 20,200,000 Americans have benefitted by the training, fellowship, handicraft skills and high adventure of Scouting, and have been strengthened — by the high ideals of the Scout Oath and Laws.

Boy Scout Week this year places a major emphasis on "The Scout Family." This is a two-way recognition. It honors the many fathers of Scouts among the 850,000 adult volunteer leaders in the organization. It salutes the 127,300 mothers who give generously of their time as Den Mothers in the Cub Scout ranks. It is here that the enrichment of family life is a main objective. Through doing things together boys and parents learn to know each other better. This emphasis upon strong family ties helps to build a strong America. Just as churches and other organizations give boys from 8 to 18 a big break in their young lives.

This community should be proud of its Scout program and pause in humble tribute to the Boy Scout movement during the week of Feb. 7 to 13.

Scott Brady and Mitzi Gaynor reunite in this scene from the technicolor musical Damon Runyon's "Bloodhounds of Broadway." Sun., Mon., Feb. 8, 9 at the Strand Theatre.

Meet Tecumseh's Many Merchants

By Carol Pearson

(This is a new weekly Herald feature which Chamber of Commerce office clerk, Miss Carol Pearson has prepared as part of the Chamber records on local business firms).

Eggleston's Jewelry

Richard R. Eggleston, formerly of Adrian, purchased the jewelry store which now bears his name from L. R. Mix in 1949.

Located at 144 E. Chicago, the Eggleston store is moving this week into its new location (one door west) in part of the Eggleston Cleaners building.

In fact Dick's grand opening in the new store is this Saturday.

Eggleston's Cleaners

Dad Eggleston, whose name is Halsey and whose 30 years experience ranks him as an expert craftsman in the dry cleaning field, came to Tecumseh in 1939. He worked 10 years for E. M. Campbell before purchasing the Campbell Cleaners in 1949.

Since then Halsey has installed modern equipment and dressed the building up with a new, attractive front.

Fisher Pontiac

After 25 years experience with the General Motors corporation, Gale H. Fisher moved to Tecumseh from Royal Oak and opened Fisher Pontiac Motors Inc., in July 1949 on the corner of East Chicago at Maumee. Since then he has added a garage, parts department and additional office space.

Ray W. Puffer became manager of Allison's clothing store in 1942 after traveling as a salesman for the Krolic Co. The Puffers had moved to Tecumseh from Detroit in 1918.

Allison stores are also in Ypsilanti and Coldwater. The local store was founded in 1935.

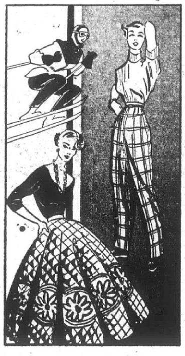
Fascinating Fashions By Judy Seaton

Winter sports—and winter living in general — call for a lot of bundling up against sharp winds and low temperatures, but the clothes in the shops for winter informal wear are so exciting and dramatic, that most clothes-conscious girls welcome the winter season.



Pretty Mary Shipp, of CBS-TV's "Life With Luigi," lives in Southern California — but it is an easy trip from there up to many resort sections where skiing, skating and other snowy weather activities abound. A good, sturdy skiing outfit is a good investment if you are at all an out-of-doors girl, since it has many seasons ahead of it — and many uses. Mary, a busy actress, homemaker and mother, has limited leisure time, but she feels that no matter how seldom special-occasion clothes are worn, it is a good investment to get the best-made you can afford, if only for the very reason that their use will be stretched over a long period, rather than crowded into one season.

Also in the winter leisure and sports category go warm separates of wool jersey tops and quilted skirts—or sweaters and wool on the very new felt skirts. These separates, like other mixable garments in one's wardrobe, have the double advantage of fitting into your everyday wardrobe as well as your special clothes department. . . . Another busy actress—she plays opposite Robert Young in NBC's "Father Knows Best,"—is Dorothy Lovett, who agrees with Mary about the practicality of sturdy, well-tailored sports clothes, and who also feels that there is a wonderful morale value in colorful leisure-time wear. "When you go home and put on a turtle-neck sweater and warmly-colored plaid slacks," says Dorothy, "you feel as if you have shucked the cares of the day, and can really relax."

Grade School News

Third Grade
Mrs. Ward

In social studies and language we are studying about the pioneers. Mrs. Ward is reading the story of "Singing Wheels" to us. So far we have made small log houses from paper. We have pictures of the things that go in a pioneer house. We have also learned a little about Indians. We plan to make a large wall painting about the Indians.

Jay Andrews brought us a toy covered wagon ,a stage coach, and a farm wagon that he had made from wood and paper.

We have been studying carrying in adidtion and borrowing in subtraction. We have had some multiplication and division also.

We made Valentines in art class and plan to have a Valentine party Feb. 13.

We have been doing achievement tests.

A lot of us have been sick with tonsilitis and flu.

Robert Jedele is in the hospital with severe burns. We hope it is not too serious and that he will soon be back in school.

Fourth Grade
Mrs. Baily

We, as well as most of the children in our building, had achievement tests Thursday. We had a good time doing our work in a different way.

Several children in our room have been absent because of illness.

We are getting decorations ready for Valentine's Day also George Washington's and Abraham Lincoln's birthday.

We have a new pupil in our room, Thelma Richardson. She comes from a rural school near Milan.

We are having a contest with the other fourth graders, making individual Valentine boxes.

Fourth Grade
Miss Baker

The end of the first semester found us with four students having perfect attendance. They are Eugene Brion, Karen Butler, Carol Greiman and Larry Titley.

Most of us earned our money for the March of Dimes. We did all sorts of things—washed dishes, cleaned sidewalks, baby sat, etc. We earned close to $15 to turn in.

Some of us brought our hobbies to school for display. We have money, dolls, shells, scrapbooks, old model cars and trains, and painted figures of animals and children.

In social studies we are studying about New York City. We have a collection of pictures, a small Statue of Liberty and have enjoyed film strips of New York.

Dianne Fuller brought her view master and pictures which we projected on a screen. They were fun to look at and very interesting.

In science we are finding out what makes day and night and in geography we are on a trip to the Congo Basin in Africa.

Bill LaPrad gave us a birthday party January 26. He was ten on January 25. We had ice cream and cake.

A Sad Christmas

I walked to the city for Christmas;
I walked to grandma's house.
Grandma wasn't home,
Grandpa wasn't home,
So I had to spend Christmas all alone.

Our new pupils are, Karen Yedele and Abraham Evans, who came here from Clinton.

Bernard Latham has moved to Clinton. We were sorry to have him go.

Jerry Breitenwischer and Jacqueline Dunn have each brought two gold fish for our room. Jerry's are big enough to eat.

We are making a collection of raw materials and manufactured products. Nancy Smith has brought a raw potato and a sack of potato chips. Rosilyn Wilson, some straw and a straw purse. Dan Morey brought some rabbit skin and a tanned deer skin. Susan Nichols brought an onion and some onion soup. We expect to have a lot more.

Linda Wilson has returned from a trip to Virginia, where she visited her grandmother.

We are taking health this semester in place of science. We finished the science book with exception of the last chapter. That chapter is about gardening and growing things so we will finish it in the spring.

In language, apostrophes are giving us quite a little trouble.

In social studies we are studying about New York City. None of us has ever seen a subway. We are very interested in this great city of ours.

Fifth Grade
Mrs. Whiting

We all enjoyed our Christmas vacation but were glad to get back to school again.

We have been making scrapbooks and posters on Transportation and Communicaton. We also made posters on good breakfasts, lunches and dinners. We have finished our science books and on Monday we will start our health books. The year is half over and we have had our semester tests. Today we had achievement tests. We have all been working very hard, but we enjoy it.

Our citizen for the month of January is Larry Hartsell.

Our grade started patrol and service squad duty this week. The boys chosen for patrol duty are Richard Stephenson, Larry Hartsell, Tom Norris, and Gerald Rucker, with Gary Hall, Robert Dick, Steve Kruger and Jerry Irelan as substitutes.

The girls chosen for the service squad are Mary Colgrove, Mary Roberts, Eleen Beal and Jane Crawford, with Janice George, Judy Truesdale, Iva Wilkins and Jean Wagner as substitutes.

To be on the patrol and service squad is a great honor because you must be a dependable person in all respects and have a good scholastic record also.

MONDAY CLUB

Forty members of the Monday Club met at the home of Mrs. Roscoe Hewlett Monday afternoon to hear a most informative and interesting talk by Mrs. James Plumer of Ann Arbor.

A resident in Japan for several years, Mrs. Plumer gave a graphic picture of the life of the women of that island, indicating the progress they have made socially in the last few years. The speaker was introduced by the program leader, Mrs. Hoyt Whelan, and the business meeting was conducted by the president, Mrs. R. J. McCoy.

A report of the tea given jointly with the Music Club told of a balance of $73.00 for the Polio fund.

Election of officers for the coming year resulted in the following: President, Mrs. Thomas O'Hara; first vice president, Mrs. Joe Rice; second vice president, Mrs. Herbert Murphy; recording secretary, Mrs. Robert Bonner; treasurer, Mrs. Ted LaBounty; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Nina Heath; new members of the executive committee, Mrs. R. J. McCoy and Mrs. Wilfred Waldron.

For the religious thought at the opening of the meeting Mrs. Perry Hayden presented an interesting comparison of a reading from the new and old versions of the Holy Bible; while Mrs. Howard Truesdale read a closing prayer. Tea was served at the close of the meeting with Mrs. Earl Wickwire and Mrs. Charles Williamson pouring.

The next meeting of the club will be February 18th with Mrs. Ted LaBounty, the program being a dramatic presentation by the students of the High School Speech Department.

RURAL ELECTRIFICATION EN MASSE: MICHIGAN'S CONSUMERS POWER CO. EMPLOYS NEARLY 9,000 MICHIGANDERS AND PROVIDES MORE FARM HOMES WITH ELECTRICITY THAN ANY OTHER GAS AND ELECTRIC COMPANY IN AMERICA. WITH MORE THAN 100,000 RURAL INSTALLATIONS IT NOW BRINGS THE ADVANTAGES OF ELECTRICAL LIVING TO ABOUT 99% OF THE FARM HOMES IN THE LOWER PENINSULA AREA WHICH IT SERVES.

DO YOU KNOW: MICHIGAN GROWS NEARLY ALL OF THE NATION'S CHICORY AND WORMWOOD. CHICORY PRODUCTION CENTERS IN THE THUMB DISTRICT, AND IT IS BLENDED WITH COFFEE IN LOUISIANA. WORMWOOD, GROWN LARGELY AROUND CASSOPOLIS, IS USED IN MEDICINES. WHILE OF NOMINAL FINANCIAL VALUE, THESE PLANTS ILLUSTRATE THE GREAT DIVERSITY OF CROPS AND HIGH SPECIALIZATION OF MICHIGAN AGRICULTURE.

CONSUMERS ASKS TO EXTEND NATURAL GAS

Consumers Power Company has asked the Michigan Public Service Commission for permission to extend natural gas for space heating service to 20,000 additional customers, of which 1,198 will be in the Jackson Division.

Division Manager H. H. Koelbel said the company has approximately 1,200 applications for service on hand now in his division, with a total of more than 40,000 applications in the company's entire gas service area. And applications continue to come in, he added.

The company has allocated the 1,198 new [illegible] customers to the Jackson Division on the basis of the number of gas customers who already are using gas for heat, Mr. Koelbel said, with the provision also that facilities now in existence must be adequate to serve new space heating customers.

He said the Public Service Commission permitted the company to add 10,000 new gas space heating customers in the spring of 1952, and 15,000 in the fall of 1951.

Consumers serves more than 350,000 gas customers in 267 Southern Michigan communities. More than 130,000 of these now use gas for space heating purposes.

If the Commission approves the request for the new allocation, applicants who are chosen from the priority lists will have 90 days in which to install or arrange to install gas burners or furnaces, Mr. Koelbel said.

Plans were also proposed for the All-Scout Talent Show which was considered by the Cabin committee at last Friday's meeting at the home of Owen Partridge.

After the business meeting Mrs. Treusdale served "deerburgers" made from a deer she shot last fall.

Running over his line-up, Lawson couldn't single out any individual star as he credited each player for his particular ability.

Jack Greenwald and Jim Wilson are both six-footers capable of playing either center or forward, both are very aggressive, both good on rebounds off either board and both good scorers. Wilson has perfected a hard-to-stop one hand jump shot which keeps him atop the scoring column with a 16.5 game average.

Albert Hart and Bill Benham are the two juniors on the varsity, both are 5'8" and both top defensive players and coming scorers. They will probably form the nucleus of next year's team.

The remaining two players were ranked by their coach as great playmakers. Wayne Patton and Bob Binns, both about 5'10" are bundles of dynamite as all-around, alert cagers who put everything they have into each game.

"The whole gang's such a clean living, and good training outfit that I don't have anything but good to say about them," Lawson added.

But getting down to finer points of basketball, the coach said his cagers have built up their 10-game streak by developing a good pattern to work the ball in and then score on a high shooting percentage. The Indians hit the nets to the tune of 35%.

Then there's the matter of a tight man-to-man defense, control of the backboards and overall team work.

In listing the total points made by each player, Lawson said he puts just as much emphasis on setting up a play, or on screening, as he does on dropping the ball through the cords. Individual totals for all 10 games played to-date:

Wilson	165
Benham	85
Patton	77
Greenwald	63
Hart	47
Binns	42

Six other substitutes make up the varsity, three are seniors Melvin Boltz, Jerry Barron and Jack Betzoldt, three are juniors Doug Hooten, Alroy Vanderpool and Tom Baldwin.

Tecumseh is sure of at least a tie for the S.E. Michigan conference and is probable champion. Lawson hestitated to predict what will happen in the remaining games and only smiled when asked if the Indians would go through the season undefeated.

After the regular season, Tecumseh vies in the annual district playoff tournament at Adrian college where the Indians go into an elimination with Blissfield, Adrian, Bedford and Hillsdale. The winner will enter district play with a state tourney berth at stake. This is class B competition with schools enrolled 325 to 799.

The Indians have romped home with the following scores so far this season:

Tec 56	Addison	50	Tec 58	Hudson	33
Tec 38	Hillsdale	34	Tec 61	Blissfield	44
Tec 67	Morenci	50	Tec 32	Bedford	25
Tec 49	Clinton	41	Tec 32	Redford	25
Tec 39	Mon. Cath.	23	Tec 55	Addison	35
			Tec 53	Hillsdale	45

GROUNDHOGS DISAGREE ON WINTER'S END

Two local groundhogs, which are woodchucks 364 days of the year, reported to The Herald Tuesday conflicting shadow stories.

One unburrowed long enough to get a glimpse of his shadow on Feb. 2, annual Ground Hog Day, while the other said the sun was under when he took a look about after a winter's rest.

So Tecumseh's weather for the next six weeks is as unpredictable as the winter temperatures thus far.

Indians Rack Up 9th Straight Win

The Tecumseh Indians proved too much for the Addison Panthers on the Tecumseh court Tuesday night of last week by winning 55-35, thus winning their ninth straight victory. Jim Wilson for the second time against the Panthers scored 22 points and Bill Benham followed with eight. Paulson copped top point honors for Addison with 11 points.

The two teams matched point for point in the first few minutes of the game with Tecumseh coming out on top at the quarter 14 to 11. Tecumseh then stretched their lead to a 32-21 halftime score with Wilson and Hart Tecumseh's top men, with 14 and 6 points respectively.

In the third stanza the Panthers outscored the Indians 8 to 7, but failed to catch up with the high-flying Indians.

The final quarter proved fatal for the Panthers with Tecumseh scoring 16 points to Addison's 6 making the final score 55-35.

Inquiring Reporter

The inquiring reporters this week have asked the question "What is your opinion of having long Christmas and spring vacations and thus getting out of school later in June?"

"I would rather have shorter vacations and get out early in June."

Connie Clark, 10th grade.

"It's alright with me the way it is."

Bob Benham, 9th grade.

"I wish we had shorter vacations and could get out earlier in the spring."

Larry Hooten, 9th grade.

"I oppose long Christmas and spring vacations. If you get out of school ten days to two weeks earlier in the spring you can get a job and work that extra time."

Paul Graham, 11th grade.

"Probably the longer vacations at Christmas and spring are good, especially spring vacation because it makes a break in the long time from January to June. I would still just as soon get out earlier in June, too, the last of May would be fine."

Irma Brollier, 12th grade.

TECUMSEH FFA NEWS

Future Farmers met last Monday for a regular business session. Attending the meeting as guests were two members of the Agricultural Advisory Council,: Mr. Schafer and LeRoy Titley. Mr. Schafer gave a few timely tips to the boys and Mr. Titley spoke about insuring the newly purchased chapter camera, and the brooder house which is in operation.

After the meeting slides on last years leadership training camp were shown by our advisor, Mr. Burns. We then had refreshments, and the meeting was adjourned.

During the week our entire agricultural class went to East Lansing to attend Farmers' Week. Transportation for the trip was furnished by Mrs. Herbert Rupert, Mrs. Wade Hendershot, Mrs. Ralph Helzerman and Mr. Burns. The boys enjoyed the dairy barns and the artificial insemination bull barns. The exhibits of the most modern agricultural machinery were also very interesting to the boys.

WIT AND WISDOM CLUB

The Wit and Wisdom Club. with 23 members and three guests, was entertained Monday evening in the home of Mrs. Hoyt Whelan. Wilfred Waldron presided at the short business meeting in the absence of the president, Delmar Crisp.

Mrs. Wilfred Waldron read an interesting letter from Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Brazee, who are spending the winter in St. Cloud, Florida. Fred Dickinson, sr., with Arthur Swartz then sang two duets, "The Hunting Song" and "The Two Beggars," which were much enjoyed.

The speaker of the evening, introduced by the leader, Mr. Dickinson, was the Rev. George Walworth who took for his topic, "Notables Born in February." He departed from the usual theme of February birthdays to speak of at least 15 or 16 people not commonly included. He told interesting and unusual stories about Dwight Moody, Charles Dickens and Thomas Edison, as well as about George Washington and Abraham Lincoln. A prayer closed a most inspiring talk.

After a stirring piano duet, "Stars and Stripes Forever" by Mrs. Wilfred Waldron and Wilfred, jr., lunch was served by the hostess and her committee, Miss Ruth Harding, Mrs. Fred Rector and Miss Gertrude Spaulding.

The March meeting will be at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth Collins.

Easy Lenten Dessert

Fresh fruit and cake go best with the main dishes of eggs, cheese and fish you'll be serving often during Lent. These have the right flavor to satisfy appetites, and they add their share of nutritive value to the menu.

Fresh banana slices overlapping each other in the marshmallow filling of sponge cake banana flips make a pert appearance at your table, and this is a dessert you'll like with any Lenten menu.

You'll find banana flips, individually packaged in cellophane at your grocer's ready-to-eat cake department. Allow one to each serving, and allow five slices of banana for each serving. Lift the top edge of the flip, arrange banana slices, and garnish with nut halves, cherries, or more banana slices.

MSC'S HANNAH NAMED U.S. MANPOWER CHIEF

East Lansing—Michigan State College President John A. Hannah is the new assistant secretary of defense in charge of manpower in the cabinet of President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Hannah replaces Mrs. Anna Rosenberg as one of the two major assistants to Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson. He was nominated for the post by President Eisenhower just prior to his inauguration.

The Michigan State president accepted the post for one year, during which time he will be on sabbatical leave from the college.

Responsible for the nation's military manpower, Dr. Hannah outlined a three point program which he hopes to put into effect:

(1) To utilize all available military manpower to the most productive extent.

(2) To introduce "relatively long term, reasonable draft policies which would allow American young men to live with the draft and to feel some security in making plans for the future."

(3) To make Army life more meaningful to men in military service by "giving more attention to teaching them their roles as citizens both in uniform and when they have returned to civilian life."

During his one-year stay in Washington, the administration of Michigan State College will be in the hands of five top officials. They are: Karl H. McDonel, secretary; Philip J. May, comptroller; James H. Denison, administrative assistant to the president in charge of public relations; William H. Combs, administrative assistant to the president in charge of academic affairs; and Thomas H. King, dean of students.

Steel Mill and Oatis

The United States recently put a $17,000,000 steel mill on sale, a mill which the Communist government of Czechoslovakia had been demanding in return for the release of William Oatis, Associated Press correspondent and imprisoned in that country on charges of espionage.

The Czech government paid for the steel mill some years ago, although the United States stopped delivery soon after the Communist coup in Prague. While the United States government is interested in gaining Mr. Oatis' release, naturally, it is thought that this act will convince the Czechs that the mill is now beyond their reach.

The action is justifiable. The only regret is that U. S. assets in Russia and her satellite countries total more than $12,000,000,000. The combined assets, in the United States, of all the Communist countries total only about $33,000,000.

Methodist Pastor Traces Tecumseh's Early Settlement

By Rev. R. A. Brunger

(This is the third in a series of historical sketches which outline the settlement of Tecumseh, founding and growth of the local Methodist church).

In that long ago year 1826, Lafayette, the famous Revolutionary hero was concluding his triumphal tour of the young republic which he had so befriended 50 years before. On July 4th, the nation had a great celebration of its 50th anniversary of independence, and on that day two Revolutionary leaders and signers of the Declaration of Independence, Thomas Jefferson and John Adams, both died. John Quincy Adams "perhaps the most scholarly and most thoroughly trained in diplomacy and domestic affairs of any American president, occupied the executive mansion." President Adams found amidst his duties ample time "for meditation, prayer, and Bible study as his amazing diary shows."

In 1826 there were only two states west of the Mississippi, Louisiana and Missouri, and the territory of Arkansas. The westward migration was now pouring into Illinois, Missouri and Arkansas, and beginning to pour into southern Michigan. On Sept. 9, 1826, the Methodists started a new paper, The Christian Advocate. Circulated by every Methodist preacher, it soon had an amazing circulation—for a time the largest in the world! In Nov., 1826, Jedediah Smith, famous mountain man, had become the first white man to cross the continent and view the Pacific. With him was his Bible and Methodist hymn book. A nation and a church, were on the march forward.

In September, 1826, the Ohio Conference increased its appointments in Michigan from two to four, creating the Monroe Circuit and the St. Clair Circuit, in addition to the Detroit City Station and the Detroit Circuit. John A. Baughman was sent to establish and work the Monroe Circuit. The year before he had been on the Detroit Circuit and had preached at Monroe, the River Rouge, Ypsilanti, Ann Arbor (a few times), Troy (in Oakland County), Washington (Macomb County), and other places.

In Oct. 1826, Rev. John A. Baughman came to Tecumseh and established Tecumseh as a regular preaching point on the circuit that he was establishing. The circuit that he set up required three weeks to travel around it, with 16 preaching places, "including Monroe, Ypsilanti, Ann Arbor, Saline, Tecumseh, Blissfield, and places near Toledo." It is said that he received $100 for a year of arduous labor.

Rev. Baughman was only 23 years old. Most of the pioneer Methodist circuit riders were young men, and many of them died when young, from the hardships which they had undergone on the circuit. The circuit-rider was often wet from rain, or from fording rivers and swamps. He made long journeys and was every day in the saddle on his faithful horse; every day he had a change of water and food—often eating scanty and poor fare in frontier cabins—and every night he slept in a different place. Fortunately Baughman was a man of "extraordinary physical strength with a loud voice, a cheerful temper, and untiring industry. He was a warm-hearted Methodist minister of strong faith, and greatly beloved by all." He is said to have been handsome, and "polished and educated . . . and refined in character and manners."

Baughman was born in Hereford county, Maryland. In his boyhood he moved to Ohio. He was admitted to the Ohio Conference on trial in 1823. He labored 12 years in Ohio and 32 years in Michigan. "He was emphatically a pioneer preacher in both states, being in many places the first man to preach the Gospel to the people."

In the Monroe Methodist church, Miss Sarah Harvey, a beautiful and gay young maiden, who had formerly been a leader of the social set, had made a profession of religion. In 1823, the young preacher of that year, Samuel Baker, was captivated by her and in August they were married. They rode on horseback down to Conference at Urbana, Ohio. Baker was taken sick at the Conference and died. She was left alone among strangers. She sought to return alone to Michigan and on the way was lost for some time in the woods, but finally succeeded in finding a way out. When Baughman came to the circuit, his heart also was captivated. They were married and she became a true minister's wife. At this time in the west, not many of the circuit riders were married, because of the hardships of their life. Yet these frontier conditions would soon pass away. Baughman not only found a faithful wife in Monroe, but he also won many people to Christ around the circuit. At the end of the year 1826-27, he reported 157 members on the Monroe Circuit! None of these were in Tecumseh, as the society here had not yet been organized.

GENERAL TELEPHONE CO. SELLS BONDS AND STOCKS

General Telephone Company of Michigan, a subsidiary operating company within the General Telephone System, with headquarters at Muskegon, announced through its president, F. E. Norris, that it had placed privately $2,000,000 of 3-5/8% first mortgage bonds with four insurance companies and had issued and sold $1,481,600 of its common stock to General Telephone Corporation.

The funds realized from the new bonds and the sale to General Telephone Corporation of additional common stock will enable the company to reduce its $3,000,000 short term bank loans by $2,500,000 and retire its notes of $1,000,000 to the parent company.

The General Telephone System, of which General Telephone Company of Michigan is a major operating subsidiary, is the largest group of independent (non-Bell) telephone companies in the United States, with more than 1,500,000 telephones served from 1,065 exchanges in 19 states.

UNIVERSITY PROFESSOR SPEAKS TO MEDICAL MEN

Dr. E. H. Watson, professor of pediatrics at the University of Michigan spoke to members of the Lenawee County Medical Society at their meeting Friday evening at the Eagles Hall in Adrian.

Dr. Watson stated that in spite of all that has been done in the way of eradication of the killers of our children, accidents not of the automobile type killed 14,000 children last year. He emphasized the point that in our interest in the dramatic illnesses we lose sight of the less dramatic but nevertheless real killers.

Dr. Watson further stated in the discussion that more children are killed by fire each year than by polio, to say nothing of the many cripples produced from burns. In light of these many factors of deaths among children, it was pointed out that because of recent advances in the field of medicine, pneumonia, cancer, tuberculosis, and heart disease are now the leading causes of death among children.

Living With Peace Of Mind

By KIRBY PAGE

Expose yourself to great music if you would experience the peace of soul which flows from the deeps of life. Through the ages man has found music to be a source of spiritual vision and power. The ancient Psalms were aspirations set to music. Charles Wesley and John Wesley made popular the singing of hymns.

Charles Kingsley found that "there is something very wonderful in music. It speaks not to our thoughts as words do, it speaks straight to our hearts and spirits, to the very core and root of our souls. Music soothes us, stirs us up, it puts noble feelings in us; it melts us to tears, we know not how—it is a language by itself, just as perfect as speech, as words; just as divine, just as blessed. Music has been called the speech of angels; I will go further and call it the speech of God Himself."

Jean Paul Richter exclaimed: "O music, thou who bringest the receding waves of eternity nearer to the weary heart of man, as he stands upon the shore and longs to cross over, art thou the evening breeze of this life, or the morning air of the future?"

Carl Sandburg shares with us this experience: "A man saw the whole world as a grinning skull and cross-bones. The rose flesh of life shriveled from all faces. Nothing counts. Everything is a fake. Dust to dust and ashes to ashes and then an old darkness and a useless silence. So he saw it all. Then he went to a Mischa Elman concert. Two hours' waves of sound beat on his eardrums. Music washed something or other inside him. Music broke down and rebuilt something or other in his head and heart. He joined in five encores for the young Russian Jew and his fiddle. When he got outside his heels hit the sidewalk in a new way. He was the same man in the same world as before. Only there was a singing fire and a climb of roses everlastingly over the world he looked on."

Soviet Commander On Korean Front

Marshal Rodnay Malinovsky, Supreme Commander of the Soviet Forces in the Far East, has reportedly completed a recent inspection of the Korean battlefront. This report came from the London Times.

It was interesting to note that the Soviet commander's visit to the front followed by only a short time General Dwight D. Eisenhower's visit. Evidently the Russians are sensitive about the Eisenhower visit and perhaps feel that it may indicate a U. N. offensive.

In fact, there have been reports that Chinese forces both in Korea and in China were being heavily reinforced. The visit of the Soviet commander shows just how thoroughly the Soviet Union is involved in the Korean conflict. The U. S. President-elect visited the Korean front as the President of the country which was bearing the brunt of the war there. The Soviet commander visits the front, shortly afterward, even though the Soviet Union is technically not supposed to be involved. This incident serves to highlight the farce which is played out often in U. N. and other international circles, when it is assumed that the Soviet Union is a neutral.

The Soviet Union is the force behind the Korean War, represents the prod that initiated the attack on South Korea and represents the force which is continuing the war while talking peace. To refuse to admit these facts is nothing less than a case of appeasement blindness.

We Need God After All

By Rev. Ronald A. Brunger

Ps. 31:1. "The fool hath said in his heart, There is no God."

A great many people today are practical atheists. If you ask them about it, they indignantly reply that of course, they believe in God. They may belong to a church somewhere. But they seldom go to church; they do not pray and read their Bibles; in the decisions of life they do not depend upon God and seek to know and do His will. Their faith is theoretical, not practical.

There is danger always, that those who do not have a vital Christian faith will fall into a heretical faith. Whittaker Chambers in his notable book, "Witness" tells us vividly how he became a communist. His parents gave him a religious preparation. His mother hated the word God, because says Chambers, "She belonged to a generation of intellectuals for whom the word God was already a little embarrasing. If there was any religion in our home, I do not remember it."

Chambers somehow kept some feeling for religion until he entered Columbia University and met up with the godless relativism of Dewey which pervaded that university, and still is so common in our institutions of higher learning. Then came a series of emotional shocks induced by the nerve wracking tensions of a godless family, the suicide of a cherished brother and other things. Ere long Chambers, hungry for a faith, had embraced communism. People without faith in God, will fall into materialism, communism, or other false faiths. Man is made for faith.

Some time ago some of us saw a motion picture put out by the American Bible Society. It told the story of one of our soldiers who was blinded in battle. After a long time in the hospital, he had recovered physically, but not mentally or spiritually. He was in utter despair and felt that it was just no use trying to make anything out of his life or to enjoy life. One evening the chaplain led a service; the other service men sang hymns of faith but the blind lad was untouched. Then the chaplain told the pianist about this lad and led her over to him. She sat down and asked him if he ever read the Bible. She urged him to try it, and put a page of the Braille Bible under his fingers.

To his astonished question, she assured him that that was her Bible. He felt a touch of human sympathy and understanding, and began ot read. Wonderful words, they began to touch his soul. New hope came to him. A new radiance and interest and friendliness began to show in his face. He began to live again.

Thus the ancient miracle was repeated again. A soul in dire need found God, and then became victorious over hard circumstances by faith. But it is not only those who have been hard hit by the chance blows of life, who need God. All of us need Him, for life is so set up that sooner or later tribulation comes to every man. In the time of trouble and in the weary round of duty, we need that victory, that faith, that makes us triumphant and happy and strong.

The people without faith in God become cynical and unhappy; everything lacks permanence and meaning. He is a fool, who says "in his heart, There is no God." God has stamped His image upon us. We cannot really live without Him.

Agitate For Stores Open Friday Night

OLD CONTROVERSY IS RENEWED, NEED FOR RETAIL ORGANIZATION

Renewed agitation to open stores in Tecumseh on Friday night instead of Saturday night developed spontaneously this week and has divided businessmen into two opposing groups.

The controversy of long years standing split retail storemen into what might be called the "Friday nighters" and the "Saturday nighters."

Both camps have projected reasons favorable to keeping Tecumseh stores open on the night of their choice. A mass meeting of retailers is evidently forthcoming and indications now point to the needed organization of a Retail Boosters group to unite and promote local store commerce through a planned effort. Such a group could act separately from the Chamber of Commerce with the primary interest of bringing store owners together regularly to outline plans for improving local trade.

The Friday vs. Saturday night topic under unorganized, informal discussion, is such a plan which needs a thorough airing. Some of the facts which have been brought to light by the opposing camps are outlined in the following highlights.

Saturday Night

Tecumseh shoppers—people in the village and in the surrounding trade area — have been trained to the Saturday night custom of buying here. This has always been a good Saturday night town, the large Appreciation Days attendance supports this.

Friday night was unsuccessfully tried in the summer of 1951, the general result was the ruination of both nights. A vote was taken after six months trial and 30 merchants voted 20 to 10 to go back to Saturday. The election was an open, democratic vote by all merchants.

The customer is the true measure of which night is better, for merchants are in business to satisfy the buyer, and 85% of the buying public have indicated a desire to shop in Tecumseh on Saturday night against 15% for Friday night.

Saturday night is the only night Tecumseh can cater to both the farmer and factory worker. Farmers still resent Adrian's closing on Saturday night and have developed the habit of coming over here to shop.

Friday Night

The modern trend is away from Saturday night shopping, it is even going beyond Friday night to a mid-week or Monday night shopping emphasis. For many, the work-week ends on Friday night, which is pay night (it used to be Saturday night) and is now a natural time to shop for the weekend. Adrian stores are open on Friday night to meet this demand and are taking business away from Tecumseh.

If Friday night had been given as much promotion, when it was tried, as Saturday night has, it would have gone over. However, during the trial period some merchants stayed open on both nights, not giving Friday a fair chance and killing both nights in confusion.

Numerous Saturday night social activities take the shopper out of the store and force him, or her, to shop earlier. Food stores have the strongest leaning to Friday as weekend grocery buying planning and buying has been moved up in this day and age of a five day work-week.

One item both sides have somehow compiled alike, is "proof" that business is better on the night of their backing. Each have facts and figures from record that show in some way that they have the "right" night.

While the opponents battle it out, Mr. and Mrs. Buying Public can sit back and be assured that Tecumseh's merchants are disputing only for the better method of serving the people. This is a healthy indication — whether Friday night or Saturday night wins the eventual meeting of minds — that customer satisfaction always comes first with the merchant who offers the best in goods and services.

My office will be closed from Feb. 15 through Feb. 28. J. C. Beardsley. adv 2/12

Former Resident Buried In Brookside Cemetery

Lee J. Ferguson, a former resident of Tecumseh, who died Feb. 6, in Arizona, was buried in Brookside Cemetery Monday afternoon. Funeral services were held in Ann Arbor.

Mr. Ferguson was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Ferguson and spent much of his boyhood in Tecumseh, leaving about 1923.

He is survived by two sisters, Margaret, Mrs. Ray Hendershot of Brooklyn, and Anna, Mrs. Frances Dachtler of Fort Clinton, Ohio; a brother, W. Ross, of Miami, Florida; five children, Frank of Vicksburg, Miss., Mrs. Walter Rikli of Pontiac, Mrs. Harold Woodside of Ypsilanti, Mrs. Albert Bigbe of Ann Arbor and Sister Roseleen of a Catholic sisterhood, and five grandchildren.

Merchants Oppose Parking Meters On Logan Street Lot

Opposing a suggestion by councilman George McCombs that meters be installed in the village-owned Logan street parking lot, are a number of merchants who have rallied in protest since the last council meeting.

Most of the opponents to the installation of parking meters are in the Logan street lot area though rumblings have been heard from more distant business locations.

The council suggestion was to improve the entire parking lot, to have the village clean it up, hard surface and mark it off for better driving and parking and put in meters. A number of other towns have established such metered lots with successful results.

Fay Whelan foresaw danger to local business in such action and asked the council to table the suggestion temporarily. He agreed that the lot needs to be cleaned up, hard surfaced and marked off, but opposes the installation of meters. He said that a group of volunteer merchants who are interested in keeping this last major parking area unmetered might donate the necessary amount of money to pay for work. Whelan has contacted village engineer Ed Nelson for an estimated cost of needed work to make the area an A-1 parking lot.

In explaining his attitude, the owner of Hoyt E. Whelan Co., on West Logan, said that this lot is a convenience to farmers who often come to town with a truck or trailer and must park off the main streets. He said the lot is ideal and favorable to Tecumseh's farm shoppers.

Village President E. C. Heilman stuck to the original McCombs suggestion in an informal interview this week. He feels that meters there would do a good job for the village just as they have done on regular business streets and have done for other communities in similar parking lots.

Whelan said he could see the village installing meters on certain free parking downtown streets before he could on the Logan street lot.

The council meets again Monday night at 7:30 p.m.

Henry J. Wilson, 69, Buried in Ridgeway Today

Henry James Wilson, 69, of 104 Outer Drive, died Monday at 6:45 a.m. at University Hospital, Ann Arbor, where he had been a patient for the past eleven days. He had been in failing health for seven months.

Employed in the plant protection department of Tecumseh Products Co., Mr. Wilson was born in Alpena, but had lived in the Tecumseh area for forty years.

He is survived by his wife, Myrtle; two sons, Harry of Ann Arbor and Carl of Deerfield; four daughters, Mrs. Irene Burleson of Tecumseh, Mrs. Harriet Bracey of Petersburg, Mrs. Edna Newcomb of Temperance and Mrs. Mary Hoch of Jackson; two stepchildren, Harold Acker of Tecumseh and Mrs. Dorothy Macham of Adrian; a half-brother, Earl Green of Monroe; a half-sister, Mrs. Clara Engel also of Monroe; thirteen grandchildren and several nieces, nephews and cousins.

Funeral services will be held today at 2:30 p.m. at the Collins Funeral Home, the Rev. B. O. Bashore officiating. Burial will be in Ridgeway Cemetery.

Dr. Arthur H. Brown's office will be closed from Feb. 8 to Feb. 12, inclusive, while attending oral surgery clinics in Chicago. 2/12 adv.

Great Need For Rentals

Foremost on Tecumseh's list of "needs today" is medium rental housing to take care of an estimated 100-150 families who would like to live here but cannot find homes.

A daily stream of house seekers pours into The Herald office with the typical question, "Do you have any places advertised for rent?"

Tecumseh was described by a repeat caller recently as "The hardest place" he'd ever seen, "to find a roof for rent".

Whether it be a roof over a home, an apartment or what have you, dozens of Herald readers are everyday looking for a place to move into. Many are desperate for they have families, others are single and only need rooms.

If you can accommodate, The Herald's For Rent column on the classified page brings quick results. Like other Herald ads, the For Rent want-ads are a surefire invitation to quick results. Advertise today for replies tomorrow!

Board Rejects All Bids For Sale Of East Branch School

East Branch school is still for sale as none of the bids received in answer to the first advertisement were accepted by the School Board at a meeting Tuesday night. New bids will be advertised at a future date.

Also Tuesday night, the board approved next year's teaching staff which is complete except for two positions. A kindergarten teacher and an elementary girl's physical education instructor are still needed. Contracts will be issued according to a salary schedule established earlier. Teachers with college degrees will receive a $150 salary increase while non-degree teachers will be raised $100, providing they have received 10 hours of college credit during the past year.

The board approved the purchase of two strips of land, one from Mrs. Harold Naser on N. Van Buren for $1,000 which leads into the Patterson school. The other strip was a small parcel which was a part of the Cubberly property just south of the new high school and will be used for a girl's locker room, a part of the gymnasium addition.

Supt. James McDowell reported satisfactory progress at both the Patterson school construction site and at the high school additions. Foundations have been poured at the high school and footings poured at the Patterson school.

HART CHAIRMAN OF LOCAL CRIME PREVENTION WEEK

Neville L. Hart has been appointed general chairman for the local observance of National Crime Prevention Week by President George McCombs of the Exchange Club, sponsor of the event.

Plans for special programs held in cooperation with churches, schools, law enforcement agencies, and other groups now are being formulated, according to Mr. McCombs.

In emphasizing the importance of the 1953 observance, Mr. McCombs cited the most recent FBI crime statistics showing a 6.4 percent increase in crime during six months of 1952 over the same period of the previous year. "Crime constitutes an unbearable burden upon each law-respecting individual and it is each citizen's responsibility to help rid the nation of crime," he said.

STORES CONTINUE TO MODERNIZE

Nearly a half dozen Tecumseh stores are now interior remodeling, redecorating and expanding facilities for shoppers.

A new drive-in type dairy service station was opened last week at Meadowridge dairy which is said to the first of its type in Michigan. A customer can drive in the rear entrance, be served with dairy products without leaving the car, and then drive on through the front exit.

An attractive addition to the business district is Dick Eggleston's new jewelry store which enjoyed successful opening last weekend. Mrs. William Kopka, Britton, received an opening day gift.

A restaurant will be established in the quarters formerly occupied by Eggleston's.

You cannot further the brotherhood of man by encouraging class hatred.

You cannot help the poor by destroying the rich.

You cannot establish sound security on borrowed money.

You cannot keep out of trouble by spending more than you earn.

You cannot build character and courage by taking away man's initiative and independence.

You cannot help man permanently by doing for them what they could and should do for themselves.

Services Held Tuesday For Mrs. Lester Reed

Mrs. Ruth A. Reed, wife of Lester Reed, 111 S. Wyandotte street, died Friday evening at 8:55, in Herrick Memorial hospital where she had been a patient for eight weeks.

Mrs. Reed was born July 6, 1907, in Franklin township, the daughter of Robert and Mary Nortley. She attended the Grub district school, Tecumseh high school and Michigan State Normal college. She taught seventeen years in the Monroe public schools.

On August 9, 1937, she married Lester Reed, who survives. She is also survived by her mother, Mrs. Mary Nortley, of Tecumseh; one brother, Percy Nortley of Tipton; three sisters, Mrs. George McKendry and Miss Alta Nortley of Tecumseh, and Mrs. Edward Overy of Tipton; several nieces, nephews, aunts and uncles. She was preceded in death by her father, Robert Nortley.

Funeral services were held Tuesday at 2 p.m. at the Green Funeral Home with Jack Warner, lay minister, of Clinton, officiating. Burial was in Riverside cemetery in Clinton. The bearers were Howard Everhart, Donald Everhart, Frank Creger, Alfred Schwede, C. E. Treat and Edward Clark.

LOCAL FIRES TOTAL SIX THIS YEAR

Two minor fires early this week put Tecumseh's total blazes for the year at seven.

A grass fire Monday afternoon was extinguished on North Occidental road near Don Purkey's residence. Then Tuesday a truck used for collecting trash at Tecumseh Products caught fire near the rubbish dump and was extinguished.

Earlier fires this year were at Dr. H. H. Hammel's where an electric motor burned out in a deep freeze, at a farm home near Ridgeway where a gasoline stove blew up, at Joe Poley's when studding caught fire while water pipes were being thawed out, at Irv Stew's where an oil stove exploded and a car fire next to Scheneider's garage.

MRS. RALPH G. BOWEN DIES IN FLORIDA

Mrs. Ralph G. Bowen of Grosse Pointe died suddenly Friday in St. Petersburg, Florida, where she had been vacationing with her husband. Mrs. Bowen has been a frequent visitor in Tecumseh with Mr. Bowen, who is a brother of Percy and Paul Bowen. He is a former Tecumseh resident, moving to Detroit about forty years ago where he has been employed by the Ford Motor Co. until his recent retirement.

Funeral services for Mrs. Bowen were held Wednesday at the William R. Hamilton Chapel in Detroit with burial in North Lawn Cemetery.

Charles C. Campbell, 22 Buried in Brookside Cemetery

Funeral services were held at 2:30 p.m. Tuesday at the Collins Funeral Home for Charles C. Campbell, who was killed in an automobile wreck on Beecher street, Adrian, at 5:45 Saturday morning.

Born December 14, 1929, at Black Oak, Arkansas, he was employed at the Tecumseh Products Co. Citizens Ask For Caucus Tuesday; People's Monday

Tecumseh's political pulse throbbed with new blood this week after a second party announced its intention to hold a caucus Tuesday night to select a slate of officers for the March 9 village election. The newly formed group carries the Citizen's Party label and has reserved the council chambers for a nomination meeting to be held at 8:15 p. m. Tuesday. The Citizen's Party opposes the People's Party which will hold its caucus at 7 p. m. Monday night, also at the council room.

No official announcement has been made as to either the supporters or the prospective candidates of the Citizen's Party, but Mr. and Mrs. Village Taxpayer welcomed news of the formation, as a renewal of competitive interest in Tecumseh affairs. The Progressive Party has dropped out of politics, leaving the village with a one party government until last Saturday when bills were posted advertising the second caucus.

Though the People's Party, now in control, has operated the village affairs on a sound financial basis despite numerous recent improvements, the new Citizen's group is direly needed to assure a contest with a balanced two-party election. It gives a renewed interest in selecting public officials.

The People's Party caucus will be held at 7 p. m. Monday, a half hour before the regular council meeting. New interest in this caucus is expected as a village president will be named to succeed retiring E. C. Heilman. A new clerk will also be nominated to fill the vacancy of Robert Kroner.

Actually both groups will come out of the caucus with a slate of nominations to fill the following offices:

President
Clerk
Treasurer
Assessor
3 Trustees

The president, clerk, treasurer and assessor all serve one year terms, the trustees (or councilmen) will be elected for two year terms.

None of the officials who are finally elected March 9 will get rich from the pay they receive in office. The president and three trustees all receive $60 a year. The clerk and assessor receive a salary fixed by the council and the treasurer receives a percentage of taxes collected.

When the nominations are completed and finally presented to the electors March 9, automatic voting machines will probably be used and selections can be made for either a straight ticket of individual candidates.

Both Monday and Tuesday night's caucus meetings are expected to pack the council room as they represent a study in political science and substitute for nomination through petition as the township recently adopted. Each caucus is open to the general public and represents a vital part of Tecumseh's form of democratic government.

March Of Dimes Closes Sunday

LOCAL COLLECTIONS OVER $2,200 MARK

As the curtain falls on another March of Dimes drive in Tecumseh, chairman Mrs. George Quick foresees a total collection exceeding $2,500 as a total of $2,200 had been tallied by Wednesday noon and 150 canisters will not be picked up until Saturday.

Most recent contributions have been received from American Legion $50; Business and Professional Women's Club $15; El Mysti Santha $5; Exchange Club from rummage sale $150; Guild Circle of the Methodist Church $5; additional contributions for the Mothers March on Dimes and Dollars $2.50; Rebecca's benefit party $21; Royal Neighbor's benefit party $7.50; Tecumseh Club benefit dance $100.50; V.F.W. Auxiliary $50; and Westminster League bake sale $41.51.

Among the benefits scheduled will be a bake sale promoted by the Reliable Circle of the Methodist Church on Saturday, at Hite's Hardware. Contributions may be left with Mrs. Quick, 837 South Union.

Mrs. Quick reports that there is a good Christian attitude on the part of the people toward the work of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis which pays all expenses of the patient from the time that the case is diagnosed as polio until no further treatment is needed. Many organizations accept the opportunity to raise funds for this worthy cause as a part of their service work and social life. All contributions spread a mantle of care around the shoulders of the patients. There have been six cases in this area during the past two years.

An unique fund raising project was completed by the Girl Scout troop 7 directed by Mary Vincze. The troop turned over half of their dues collected since last fall to the Dimes Drive, a total of $13.38. The presentation was made Tuesday afternoon.

Lenawee county is said to be running $6,000 behind its quota though Tecumseh is expected to go over the top with more than $2,500 when the drive is completed Saturday night. After this date Mrs. Quick expects to receive a number of donations from clubs and civic groups.

NO CANARY IS ROLLO CONLIN — No golden throated canary with the warble of a high powered politician is the man from Tipton who is making an honest effort in Lansing to do something about a lousy situation. Lenawee county's Rollo "Bill" Conlin stepped to the front during the current session of the state legislature with his down-to-earth proposal to get the state out of the red. He did something about the mismanagement of public money, the greatest single problem which faces the people's government — state and national — in this year of 1953.

Whether the Conlin bill, divided between sales tax diversion and the disposal of the $50,000,000 veteran's trust fund, is the exact answer to a problem written in red ink, will soon be decided by the lawmakers. Their decision may be politically biased, that's the sour grapes an honest lawmaker often gets after detailed preparation of a sound idea, but the fact remains that a homespun grass roots American deserves our laurels for a level headed effort in tackling a tough job.

The case of Conlin's touching the veteran's trust fund brought the most opposition but those who understand the situation can see the need for a change. The state has fifty million dollars of taxpayers' money invested in a trust which earns $120,000 a year. Nice, yes, to earn that amount, but this state, or any other, is not in the investment business. Why should the state loan out this big sum, then go on trying to raise millions from the people by taxation? Conlin guarantees the veterans the necessary aid out of direct taxes each year and use the $50,000,000 now in trust to put the state back on its feet financially. The trust was formed back in '46 when Michigan was rich and was paying its own way and saving some also.

The sales tax diversion is a little too complex for brief explanation, but it all boils down to a better plan of handling really a lot of money. The present method seems inadequate, costly, fouled in red tape and in immediate need of repair.

Conlin wants the people to revise the sales tax diversion amendment to put a certain percentage of the money collected by sales tax into a specific fund for the schools and to get away from this general fund idea where tax money is earmarked for a certain department but available to the first man who gets it. He would take the $50,000,000 veteran's trust fund to pay up what the state owes the schools and now can't pay. At the same time, assure the veterans of aid up to $1,250,000 a year.

That puts a double-barreled fight single handed in Conlin's lap. But he's the man who can win it, a grass roots, farm-raised courageous lawmaker who knows this money problem at Lansing from a practical view and can talk it out with the canary throated orators who have high powered the state into a deep red gorge.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN STORY — One hundred and forty-two years ago, a man who was to vitally affect the destiny of this nation was born in Hardin county, Kentucky. His story was a story symbolic of the greatness of the United States, where humble men can rise to fame and fortune. Though most readers are familiar with the outline of his life, it is well to properly observe his birth anniversary each year with a few recollections as well as ceremonies.

From a log cabin, which is still preserved today, Abraham Lincoln grew up with his father in various places in Kentucky, Indiana, and finally, Iillinois. His first business venture was a failure, and he carried the debt of a defunct general store with him until he was elected to Congress years later. Likewise, he met tragic grief in his first love. His sweetheart, whom he is said to have loved deeply, died shortly after their engagement was announced. She was Ann Rutledge. The young Lincoln was almost shattered by this blow.

At New Salem, Ill., he was defeated in his first bid for public office, failing in his candidacy for the Legislature. Thus, Lincoln found in his early adult life, the same hard road he plied as a boy. Of course he was later elected to many offices and the true measure of his ability was shown in that he emerged from repeated failures with greater stature and strength.

By the time he was twenty-nine years old, he had received the Whig vote for speaker of the Illinois Assembly and had been a member of the Legislature since he was 25. Later Lincoln was offered the governorship of the Oregon Territory by President Taylor, whom he had supported as a Congressman (he served one term in Congress 1847-48). Lincoln had sought the office of Land Commissioner in Illinois, but the greater post in Oregon was offered to him instead. His wife, the former Mary Todd, of Louisville, Ky., turned thumbs-down on this offer so the Lincolns stayed in Illinois where he retired from politics to practice law. The controversy over slavery eventually brought him back into public life.

When he was defeated by Douglas in the bid for Senator in 1858, he thought that permanent retirement had overtaken him. He said, "I am glad I made the late race. It gave men a hearing on the enduring question of the age, which I could have had in no other way; and though I now sink out of view and shall be forgotten, I believe I have made some marks which will tell for the cause of liberty long after I have gone." Of course, his speeches and position brought him the Presidential nomination two years later and his conduct and perseverance throughout the war years as President are well known.

It is a tribute to Lincoln that he is now recognized as immortal in all parts of the country and that Southerners well appreciate the fact that, had he lived, the harsh measures of the reconstruction era would have largely been avoided. From a national standpoint, few men stand with Lincoln in public acclaim. Lincoln's immortality is all the more impressive because his life is a truly Amercan story, wth a log cabin beginning.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Just a Little "Outdated"

Back in December we sent out our yearly calendar. It listed the last date for renewing drivers' licenses, and things like the dates for registering to vote, when the hunting and fishing seasons open — even suggested you note down the wife's birthday, too.

I figured dates like these were important to keep in mind—and this was a good way to do it. Unfortunately, it now turns out I never really paid close attention to my own calendar!

Not 'til today that is—so here I am not able to drive the car this weekend until I get my driver's license renewed on Monday!

From where I sit, I guess good advice, like charity, should begin at home. I'm always advising all of you to worry less about your neighbors (what they do, or say, and whether or not they should enjoy a temperate glass of beer) and pay more attention to whether you yourself are doing the right thing. Guess I'll "make a note" to follow my own formula!

Living With Peace Of Mind

By KIRBY PAGE

If we could really believe the word of Jesus about the fatherly love of God, we would recognize it as the final proclamation of Good News for mankind. Jesus not only used wonderful words about the compassion and power of God, he built his own life on this foundation. From childhood he had been nurtured on the idea that God has integrity, he is holy and righteous altogether, he can be trusted to the uttermost. He was acquainted with the word of Deuteronomy: "Be assured, then, that the Lord your God is God, a trustworthy God, who to a thousand generations keeps loving faith with those that love him and keep his commands." He had memorized the words of the Psalmist: "Jehovah is righteous in all his works, and gracious in all his works . . the loving-kindness of Jehovah is from everlasting to everlasting upon them that fear him."

Jesus supplemented the long-sustained faith in the absolute integrity of God with his own faith in the absolute love of his Father. Often had he pondered over the word of God in Isaiah: "For as the heavens are higher than the earth, so are my ways higher than your ways . . . For ye shall go out with joy, and be led forth with peace." So he placed his confidence in the love and integrity of God. Even when his very life was at stake, he learned to say, "Nevertheless, not my will but thine be done."

It is impossible to exaggerate the significance of the idea that the fatherly love of God can be trusted. General acceptance of this truth would completely revolutionize human relations over the face of the earth. The ethical teaching of Jesus, which is now widely dismissed as utopian, visionary, impracticable, would be recognized as wise counsel for men and women who have at their disposal the illimitable resources of their Father whose wisdom and power and love can be depended upon.

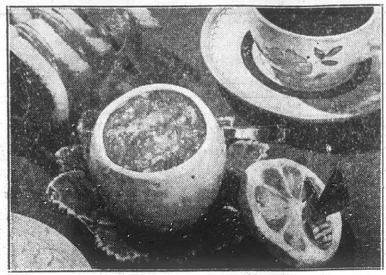
Just A Minute, Please!



By Frances Barton

Just a minute, please. Can you spare a few minutes? We think you'll be glad you did for that's all the time it takes to make a treat that will perk up the sleepy appetites of that family of yours at breakfast time.

Children just love orange marmalade. Of course, their Daddies are particularly partial to that tangy flavor, too. So, why not take a few minutes and make a bounteous supply for breakfast. Yes, that's all the time you'll need. Scientifically developed recipes featuring natural fruit pectin are a dream come true for jelly makers. Long boiling processes are gone forever. Just a one minute boil and your marmalade is complete. Can you spare the time?

ORANGE MARMALADE

Yield: about 10 medium glasses

4 cups prepared fruit (4 oranges and 2 lemons)
6½ cups sugar
1 2½ oz. box powdered fruit pectin

First, prepare the fruit. Remove skins in quarters from 4 large oranges and 2 medium-sized lemons. Lay quarters flat; shave off and discard about half of white part. With a sharp knife or scissors, slice remaining rind very fine. Add 2¼ cups water and ⅛ teaspoon soda. Bring to a boil and simmer, covered, 20 minutes, stirring occasionally. Chop pealed fruit and add pulp and juice to cooked rind. Simmer, covered, 10 minutes longer. Measure 4 cups in a very large saucepan.

Then make the marmalade. Measure sugar and set aside. Add powdered fruit pectin to fruit in saucepan and mix well. Place over high heat and stir until mixture comes to a hard boil. Boil 1 minute, stirring constantly. At once stir in sugar. Bring to a full rolling boil and boil hard 1 minute, stirring constantly. Remove from heat and skim off foam with metal spoon. Then stir and skin by turns for 7 minutes to cool slightly, to prevent floating fruit. Ladle quickly into glasses. Cover at once with ⅛ inch hot paraffin.

Note: This marmalade may set slowly—allow about 2 weeks.

Advice From The Heart (Association)

The American Heart Association recently gave a bit of advice to all those who would avoid death from break downs of the heart and blood vessels between now and the end of March. Each year during the season between now and March 31st, heart and blood vessel failures increase about thirteen per cent.

The main cause for this is that more pneumonia, bronchitis and other illnesses put a greater strain on the heart and circulation. Also, the A.H.A. points out, certain winter activities demand greater physical exertion than other seasonal activities. These include stoking the furnace and pushing stalled cars, among other things.

The advice of the A.H.A., if you would take good care of your heart, is as follows:

1. Avoid self-diagnosis.
2. Avoid over-exertion.
3. Get plenty of rest.
4. Avoid over-weight.
5. Avoid infections.
6. Don't worry.

SHRUBS CAUSE CAR ACCIDENTS AT BLIND CORNERS CLAIMS HALL

No tree or shrub blocking an intersection or drive-way view is worth a smashed fender or a child's life, warns Louis Hall, Lenawee county agricultural agent. Blind views should be eliminated and only low-growing var ieties of shrubs used along varieties of shrubs used along roadways.

More than one-third of all farm mishaps involve motor vehicles. Blind driving, because of trees, shrubs, brush and other growth hiding road crossing approaches and drives, is a big factor in this total. Suburb dwellers and city drivers out for a ride are in danger also, points out Hall.

Hedges kept trimmed low enough so they do not hide cars or children are a possibility along roadways, notes the county agricultural agent.

DETROIT—One of the nation's leading engine builders has inaugurated its return to the marine engine field with the development and production of a series of lightweight Diesel engines for the navy. Previously, Packard Motor Car company had built gas marine engines for both civilian and military use. Shown above Commander A. P. Jones, Navy Bureau of Ships, Washington, D.C., looks over the new engine with James J. Nance, Packard president.

This V-12, 600-horsepower engine, of nearly all aluminum construction, weighs about one third as much as others of its type. The development is part of Packard's expansion program which is reaching to all areas of its business. Key parts, including a unique cylinder liner-combustion chamber assembly, are completely interchangeable in different engines of the series. Such items as pistons, rods, heads and other minor parts also can be transferred.

Good News For the Housewife

A tremendous supply of beef is moving through wholesale markets and processing plants to stores at present and the price paid for much of this beef, on the hoof, was the lowest since 1949. In late January, Chicago packers were paying an average of only $25.00 a hundred pounds for steers. Only two months ago, prices averaged $32 a hundred pounds, and, in January, 1952 the price was an average of $34.25.

While the retail market has not reflected lower on-the-hoof prices for some time the long decline was finally realized in late January when a sharp wave of price-cutting swept the country's retail meat markets. In Chicago, packers expect the present trend to continue a while longer and, thus the prices of retail cuts of beef may continue to go down for a time.

As has been pointed out by many experts, appraising the job facing the new Administration, declining beef prices, and other farm prices, pose the Administration of President Eisenhower with a serious problem. However, the declining prices are good news to the housewife, who has been paying abnormally high prices for good cuts of beef in recent years. The housewife is also benefitting by decreases in lamb prices in most sections of the country.

Some of the leading packers have been selling premium lamb leg at 59c a pound, compared to a price of $1 a pound only a few months ago. Poultry prices have also dropped. Thus, the meat outlook for the house-wife is brighter than it has been in years.

HOSPITAL AUXILIARY

Herrick Memorial Hospital Auxiliary held its February meeting Tuesday evening in the Fellowship Center of the Presbyterian church with 46 members present.

The new president Mrs. Hoyt Whelan, conducted the business meeting and devotionals were read by Mrs. Wellington Wotring. The membership committee presented the following as new members, Mrs. Charles Driffel, Miss Geraldine French, Mrs. Walter German, Miss Lucille Hawley, Mrs. Ben Hammack, jr., Mrs. Stephen Illeck, Mrs. Iva Marsh, Mrs. Charles Newell and Mrs. Bob Robison.

Miss Spaulding, program leader, presented Mrs. Ronald Brunger, who gave a highly entertaining talk on her experiences in parsonages. Miss Spaulding also read a paper written by Mrs. Edward Escolme on parsonage life.

At the close of the business session refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Charles Stevenson, Mrs. Jeanne O'Neil, Mrs. Maynard Mulvaney, Mrs. Herbert Murphy, Mrs. Robert Bonner and Mrs. Homer Colson.

Floriculture

Mrs. Newrich was fond of flowers and especially liked the salvia, but was not very reliable in getting the names right.

She was giving directions to her gardener: "On this side of the walk," she said, "I want you to put out some salivas. Now what would you suggest for the other side?"

"Well, madam," answered the gardener solemnly, "maybe it would be a good idea to put some spittoonias there."

Senior Profiles

Introducing: Melvin Boltz, a 17 year old, six foot three inch senior, who is majoring in mathematics, sciences, government, and English. Melvin is an above-average student, usually making the B honor roll. He plans to attend college this fall, probably Michigan State or Jackson Junior College, where he will study, as his career, either engineering or to be a business man.

Melvin likes physics, as well as sports in general, (football the best) and he now plays on the basketball team, but he doesn't plan to take up sports at the college of his choice.

Introducing: Janet Mae Bowser, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Bowser of 1351 West Monroe Road. She is a brunette, has brown eyes, is 5 feet 3 inches tall and is 17 years old.

She has attended Tecumseh schools since she was in the sixth grade. Before coming to Tecumseh she attended school in Shelby, Ohio.

While in high school, Janet has majored in a commercial course and is planning to get a job after she graduates this June. She is now working for Tresco under the cooperative training plan.

She takes an active part in the Girls Athletic Association and was on the girls basketball team that played with Hillsdale and Morenci last year.

Her hobbies are roller skating and horseback riding which she enjoys very much.

Introducing: Robert Caryl Binns (better known as Bob), is around a five foot 10 inch senior, with the build you often imagine a football player to have. Football likely being one of his favorites as his record of sports of the following—Football 4—Basketball 4—Baseball 1—Track 1, earning six Varsity letters.

Bob is seen at and in many school activities. He has been in Student Council two years, being treasurer this year. Also a member of the Varsity Club for three years, being treasurer this year.

His majors are in these subjects—History, Science, Mathematics, and English. Favorite subjects being—Physics, Chemistry, Geometry, and Advanced Mathematics.

After graduation, among many ideas, Bob thinks he may possibly go to Michigan State College studying for the profession of teaching. But this is certainly not definite, just one he has thought about.

Bob has attended Tecumseh schools since the fourth grade, now after nine years, he is at the near climax of his attendance at Tecumseh schools, with the climax at graduation.

Bob resides with his mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. W. Hal Marshall, 317 North Maiden Lane.

Methodist Pastor Traces Tecumseh's Early Settlement

By Rev. R. A. Brunger

(This is the fourth in a series of historical sketches which outline the settlement of Tecumseh, founding and growth of the local Methodist church).

In Sept. 1827, Rev. George W. Walker was sent to the Monroe Circuit. "Monroe Circuit included the south part of the county of Wayne and all of Monroe and Lenawee counties. Flat Rock, Monroe, Raisinville, Maumee Rapids in Ohio, Kedzie's Grove, and Tecumseh, were the chief points of interest at this time. Much of this circuit was very difficult to travel because of the swamps and marshes. It was no holiday sport to make the rounds on it."

Rev. Walker like Baughman, was a young man, 23 years of age, and gifted with a strong physique and a "strong and vigorous mind." He was born in Maryland, Nov. 26, 1804. The family emigrated to Ohio in 1810. Out of curiosity his father purchased a Bible, which was read in the spirit of curiosity. First the father was converted, then the mother, and finally the whole family. George attached himself to the Methodist Church, and entered the itinerant ministry in 1826. He died in 1856.

In speaking of Rev. Walker's two years on the Monroe Circuit, the Ohio Conference Minutes states that "The West has not, perhaps opened a harder field of labor for an itinerant than Michigan at that period. But no swollen river, no dismal swamp, or dangerous fen could daunt the lion-heart that beat in the bosom of George W. Walker, He fulfilled his mission." The circuit rider had to have a zeal for souls, for these wilderness circuits offered little besides toil and suffering. The unbridged streams had to be forded or swam, and they had to wallow through the marshes and swales. Occasionally, as they passed around, as was the case with Walker on Monroe Circuit, when the water was high, slightly frozen, and bridges gone, they would be obliged to plunge in at the peril of life and limb. All this from a love of souls."

Rev. Walker later occupied important churches in Ohio, and was sent several times to the General Conference of the Methodist Church. "He was a laborious and useful man—a man of more than ordinary talents, and he commanded the respect and esteem of all who knew him; and those who knew him best esteemed him most highly . . One so devoted to his Master's work as was Mr. Walker, might be expected to find Divine consolation when he should be called to contest with the rising waters of death; so in his last sickness, he found religion to be a delightful support. He often adopted this prayer, "Create in me a clean heart, O God." Frequently adding this stanza:

"Take my poor heart and let it be Forever close to all but Thee;
Seal Thou my breast, and let me wear
That pledge of love forever there."

Undoubtedly this was one of his favorite verses.

For some 15 months there had been regular preaching every three weeks in Tecumseh. Now came advance. In January, 1828 (the exact date is not given), Rev. Walker organized a Methodist Society or Church here. There were eleven charter members: Josiah Wheeler (class-leader) and wife, Margarette Cross, Betsey Silliman, Mary Bangs, Mary Woodward, Isaac Bangs and wife, Hiram Adams and wife, and one other whose name strangely was forgotten later. The earliest records of the Church here unfortunately have been lost, and we can only surmise that this eleventh charter member either proved soon to be unfaithful, or quickly moved away from Tecumseh.

Josiah Wheeler was the class-leader. He met the class weekly, during the three week intervals between the preacher's coming. He would inquire into the state of their religious experience, and teach and exhort them. Pilcher writes: "Josiah Wheeler was a small and somewhat eccentric man, but very pious and active as a Christian." And again: "He was a very good and earnest Christian man."

Margarette Cross was a true and original Methodist. Elijah Pilcher who was her pastor in 1831-32 and knew her well, paid tribute to her Christian character: "She was a woman of sound and consistent piety, always delighting to converse on religious experience." Pilcher describes her as "a noble-looking and a noble-spirited woman, a true lady, from Ireland. She was a very intelligent woman, and has gone to join the society of the blest above." Margarette Cross was a widow, and must have been close to the age of 70. For she was converted in her youth in the Wesleyan Revival. Her husband had been a local preacher in Ireland under John Wesley and they had entertained him in their home many times, so that she was well acquainted with him. Thus in this charter member, Tecumseh Methodisism is directly linked with the founder of the Methodist denomination. What a heritage is ours!

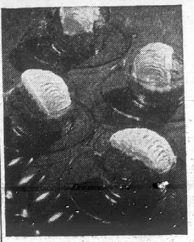
Corn Meal and Molasses Offer Valentine Treat

The versatile corn meal that kept America's colonists alive during their first winter in this country makes a delightful Valentine treat when combined with molasses, or sorghum, cinnamon, ginger and milk to make an Indian Pudding. Topped with vanilla ice cream, it is an attractive and healthful dessert, especially for the youngsters.

Indian Pudding is almost as old as America, itself, for it was another use of corn meal developed by the early settlers. Even early-day recipes specified milk as the liquid, and the addition of an egg to increase the healthful qualities of this dessert.

The ice cream, of course, is a more modern touch, but it is an outgrowth of the earlier practice of serving Indian Pudding with cool cream, or a hard sauce, poured over it. This dessert may be served warm or cold, no matter what topping is used.

Men like Indian Pudding with a big scoop of vanilla ice cream. Children will regard it as a special Valentine's Day treat if the ice cream is first shaped in a heart mold.



Indian Pudding

- ½ cup corn meal
- 1 quart hot milk
- 1 tablespoon butter
- 1 egg, well beaten
- ¼ cup granulated sugar
- ½ cup light molasses (or sorghum)
- ½ teaspoon cinnamon (optional)
- ½ teaspoon ginger (optional)
- 1 cup cold milk

Add corn meal slowly to scalding milk, stirring constantly. Heat to boiling and boil until thickened, about 10 minutes. Add butter and mix. Combine remaining ingredients except cold milk and mix with corn meal mixture. Pour into a well-buttered 1½-quart casserole and bake ½ hour in slow oven, 300° F. Add the cold milk, stir, and continue baking for 2 hours. Serve warm or cold with ice cream, cream, or hard sauce. Yield: 6 servings.

Grade School News

Central Kindergarten
Mrs. Heimerdinger

We have started our pre-reading work books. The children really enjoy doing the many interesting activities.

I have placed two big shoe pictures on our bulletin board for pictures of those who can tie their shoes. Many have learned to tie their shoes recently.

This week we have made valentines to decorate our room.

There has been a lot of absenteeism caused by flu and chickenpox. I hope that these boys and girls are feeling better and will be able to return soon.

First Grade, Library
Mrs. Faling teacher

We are proud to have finished the first half year of first grade! We feel we have really done well.

Most of us have started our second pre-primer, "We Work and Play." We enjoy reading about the funny things Sally does. We can't imagine that we ever did things like that.

In our arithmetic we are learning the place each number has in our number system. We have had a lot of fun trying to learn that no matter where 1 or 3 is, 2 is always between them. We also are trying to learn to write our numbers correctly.

We have a tadpole in our room which we are watching closely. We have named him "Spotty." He has two legs now and we hope he will have two more soon. His tail is getting shorter too.

In writing we have learned two new words. We found that the writing we do in the first grade is called "Manuscript." When we get in the second grade we will do "Cursive" writing.

David Dustin had a birthday party. He was seven years old. We enjoyed the nice cup cakes he brought for us.

We are sorry so many of our friends are sick. We had fourteen absent all week. We hope you will be better soon and back to school. We miss you.

Happy Valentine's Day from us to you!

Second Grade
Mrs. Puffer

We have two new girls in our room. Gail is from Akron, Ohio, and Shelia is from Alabama. We are glad to have them.

We have a Florida exhibit. In it are tangerines, Spanish moss, all sorts of pretty shells, sand, pecans, cotton, a cocoanut, and many pictures of that sunny state.

Now we are able to read well enough to use books in music class. We are happy when it is Wednesday and Mrs. Schippers comes for our music class.

Linda Weakly's birthday was last week. When we came in from recess she surprised us with delicious cupcakes to eat with our milk.

Fifth Grade
Miss Hopkins

Vern Steele is back in school again after a week's absence with the flu. He missed the achievement tests which kept the rest of us busy last Thursday.

Carol Wotring and her committee are busy decorating the room for our Valentine party. Some of their plans are a deep, dark, secret, but we are all sure of a good time that afternoon. Judy Palmer has her birthday then.

The moldy bread in our room is not evidence of poor housekeeping. It is most scientific mold, a project for our unit on plants.

We were all interested in Linda's letter from Florida. Her mother says that she doesn't need a coat down there until after sundown.

Billy Conklin plans to get a new horn to play in the band.

The fifth grade have begun their work on the Safety Patrol and the Service Squads. David Weakly is the lieutenant in our room. His helpers are Lee Britton, Roger Mead, and Jim Nighswander. The substitutes are Ricky Holdridge, Jim Neitling, Jim Randall, and Vern Steele.

Our Service Squad is headed by Ann Cameron. Her helpers are Kendra Ringman, Mary Seager, and Sally Vincze. The substitutes are Georgia Dinse, Harriett Blanden, Jane Harsh, and Carole Kilburn. They all enjoy their new work, even the books of rules which they need to study. Mr. Greene is giving them tests to make sure that none of their responsibilities will be neglected.

Did you see Roger Mead's picture in the Tecumseh Herald last week? We were all proud to see it there.

Several children in our room have bumps to show for their efforts to become jugglers. The assembly proved very popular. It all looked so easy until we tried it. Patricia Gurtzweiler tried it with a real egg. Can you guess the results?

Sixth Grade
Mr. Kaiser

Last Tuesday we enjoyed a very fine assembly program presented by Carl Thorson. He is an excellent juggler.

Monday we had a class meeting to plan our Valentine party. We decided to have pop and potato chips for refreshments. Teddy Kempf's father made us a very clever mail box for the valentines.

Vero Beattie made a telegraph set for our science class, and showed us how it operates. Teddy brought in an electro-magnet and gave us a fine demonstration.

The teachers and the children of the Tecumseh Elementary Schools have contributed nearly $200 to the March of Dimes fund.

D. A. R. CHAPTER

"A Valentine Afternoon" is to be the theme of the February meeting of the Abi Evans chapter of D. A. R. at the home of Mrs. Roy Whiting, with Mrs. Arthur Brown as program leader. Members are requested to bring interesting valentines of former days. This is the annual meeting, starting at 2:30 p.m.

Guests will be the club's selection of Good Citizens for 1953, and their mothers, Joan Pfaus and her mother Mrs. Walter Pfaus, and Bonnie Naugle and Mrs. Milton Naugle of Britton.

Tea will be served at the close of the meeting, the hostess being assisted by Mrs. Francis Stone, Dr. Mary Swan, Mrs. Donald F. Wright, Mrs. George Elliott, and Mrs. E. T. Armstrong.

Locals and Personals

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Walters formerly of Tecumseh now of New Hudson, Michigan, will be interested to learn that they are the parents of a son, born February 6 at St. Joseph hospital in Pontiac. Mrs. Walters is the former Mary Jane Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. William Custer entertained Mr. and Mrs. Henry Koster of Dundee and Mrs. Elberta Tiesky at dinner Wednesday evening. The occasion was to honor the birthday anniversaries of Mrs. Koster and Mrs. Tiesky.

Lt. jg Dean Jones, who has been on temporary duty for the navy in Washington, D. C., arrived last Wednesday evening for a few days visit with his sister and husband Mr. and Mrs. Laine Holden. He left at the end of the week for the west coast, enroute for an assignment in Yokasuka, Japan. While in Washington, Lt. Jones met naval Lt. Richard Williamson and Cmdr. Ferris Hodge of the navy medical corps, both of whom are stationed in that city and both of whom sent greetings to old friends in Tecumseh.

A recent caller at the Herald office and on friends in Tecumseh was Scovel S. Walker, formerly of Clinton, now a resident of Rosscommon, Michigan. Mr. Walker spent his youth in the home of an early editor of the Herald, Scovel Stacey, for whom he was named. He worked on the Herald many years and when Mr. Stacy died suddenly in the late 1880's he took over the editorship for about six months until George Stacy could arrange to take over the business. One of the things he had to do at that time was to drive, by horse and buggy, to Clinton, Britton and surrounding territory to gather news.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Clapp and Mr. and Mrs. John VanderMeer and their families are to be residents of Tecumseh for the next year. They came here from Kalamazoo and both men are connected with the construction of the new primary school on N. VanBuren street. The Clapps are living in an apartment in the old Sutton house in Tecumseh Acres, recently purchased by Paul Wolf, while Mr. and Mrs. VanderMeer and small daughter live temporarily at Wamplers Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Carey have purchased the house on N. Union street recently owned by Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Porter. The Careys, who have lived for several years at 210 N. Union, plan extensive remodeling of their new home. Mr. and Mrs. Porter and son Archie left last week by trailer coach for Florida where they plan to make an indefinite stay.

SPAFFORDS HONORED

Mr. and Mrs. John Lott were hosts to Chapter AJ of PEO Sunday evening when they honored Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Spafford who are leaving soon to make their home in Grand Rapids.

Following a buffet supper served to the thirty guests, Ellsworth Collins showed pictures of northern Michigan. The Spaffords were presented with a gift from the group.

Drive The Backboard !

(This meditation is dedicated in all humility to the group of young men, their coaches, teachers, and class-mates who have evidenced again what it takes to make a winning team-. It is not size, nor wealth of material, but the will and determination to win. We honor you regardless of the score of any game for you are Champions win or lose! And we shall stand with you in victory or defeat!)

The basketball season begins to fade somewhat as we hear talk of baseball's spring training. But before tournaments or congratulations for a great season we may well recall one of the elementary principles of good basketball. Without question, few coaches go through a practice session when the command "Drive the backboard" is not uttered in quite audible language. The best teams seldom forget these words.

"Driving the backboard" means following a shot at the basket and getting the rebound. Many coaches claim that the team that controls the backboard controls the score as well. This should prove interesting to the Church, for out of the many attempts at Christian living few really sink the basket or make a score. Therefore, if the members of the Church team are following through, — driving the backboard, those of the team who fall short, miss the mark, will be supported, caught, and given another chance.

Ask any basketball player though and you'll find it easier to follow your own shot than a team-mate's. This is the danger on and off the basketball floor — to become interested only in our own shooting. That is the primary reason for a team practicing every day and that is the reason the Church team should get together every time they possibly can. We Christians need to keep in condition for the game more than anyone else, for every game is a tournament with the championship of life at stake. As we watch a group of high school students masterfully play the game of basketball, we would do well to note how they follow through and "drive the backboard," no matter how tired they are. We would do well to get the rebounds from life's backboard with similar grace and drive!

Aye,

George E. Walworth

Candidates Clash In Village Election

People's Party Picks Joe Rohweder For President

There was an air of confidence about the People's Party caucus held Monday night in the Council building as Joseph Rohweder, outstanding village trustee was selected to fill the vacancy left by retiring president Ed Heilman. The People's Party had been in control of village politics for a number of years and during more recent times had been unopposed. Rohweder's selection was a natural one, as the Ottawa Machine Works head is familiar with all phases of village government and has served diligently on the council.

Heilman personally nominated Rohweder and praised the party's choice as "the best man for the job". His nomination was unopposed as the People's caucus hummed through a short 10 minute session in the room usually occupied by fire trucks on almost a pre-arranged routine. It was all over with before the handful of interested citizens realized a political meeting was underway.

But any air of confidence lifted when a stiff opposition developed from the Citizen's group which caucused Tuesday night and promised an end to the Russian elections Tecumseh has had since the disappearance of the Progressive Party.

The People's party stands as President Heilman stated in closing the caucus for another year, "the force which has given Tecumseh a smoothly operating, modern, efficient government". He added that the party must "keep the old shoulder to the wheel to assure a continuation of this work." Heilman's term was marked by economy and thrift though many improvements were completed.

The People's caucus was handled by Ernest Van Vleet, chairman. Sally Pope was secretary, Ellsworth Collins and John Saling, tellers.

Following Rohweder's nomination (his everyday name of Joe is known throughout Tecumseh in contrast to the more correct Joseph), Mrs. Naomi Sallows was selected as the party's choice to succeed Bob Kroner as clerk. Myrna Tingley was named to fill the treasurer's position which she already holds. Mrs. Sallows works in the village office.

Rounding out the slate of candidates are assessor T. J. Wagner and trustees Charles Mensing, Paul Clauda and Karl Schneider. The latter is new to council duty as he fills the vacancy of Carl Fosbender.

A brisk campaign, as Tecumseh has not seen in many years, is expected prior to the March 9 election though the councilman's pay is a mere $60 a year.

FIRST WEEKEND HOME WAS HAPPY ONE FOR JOVIAL BILLY STILL

After seven months of hospitals, Billy Still had nothing but smiles for the group of neighbors who provided an informal house warming Sunday in his nearly completed home on M-52 near Clinton.

"Nine-tenths of these folks I didn't know until today," the jovial polio victim said as he looked over the Good Samaritans.

It was Billy's first real weekend home since last August, although three weeks ago he enjoyed a brief outing from the University hospital that gave him a glimpse of the new one-story brick home built from donated time and labor.

But Sunday was old home week as friends, new and old stopped to express their best wishes for God-speed to recovery.

Mr. Still came home with a special mechanically-rocked bed, he breathed with the aid of a plexi-glass chest respirator.

"The big day will be in July," he told the Samaritans who are busy completing the interior of the house, "that's when I'll be home for good."

Better Garbage Collection Plans Made By Council

Dissatisfied with the present system of garbage collection, the Village Council voted Monday night to advertise bids for "garbage pick-up after April 1 on a twice weekly basis by an operator with an enclosed truck of water tight construction."

Two garbage complaints were read at the council meeting and various other expressions of public dissatisfaction were brought out as the trustees foresaw a need for immediate change.

Their present contract with Lowell Maynard runs out April 1 at which time a contract will be made with the lowest bidder who can furnish a modern-type enclosed garbage pick-up truck such as are used in Adrian and Clinton.

Such trucks take in all types of garbage and refuse which are ground up under hydraulic pressure and baled. It is a cleaner, speedier operation which will be carried on twice a week all year around.

In further action, the Council discussed a village-wide curb and gutter plan. Engineer Ed Nelson was advised to add a petition for curb and gutter on E. Shawnee between Maumee and Wyandotte to the present summer program for installation when funds are

Heilman Praises P.T.A. Delegation

In his many past years of service on the village council, President E. C. Heilman declared Monday night, "You are one of the few delegations to approach the council for permission and advice on a constructive program of your own."

The retiring President was speaking to a P.T.A. delegation of Mrs. James Elliott, Grenval Spangler, Bill Wright and James Hartsell who had asked the council's sentiments on improving the playground across the street west from Central school.

Heilman said many groups had come up to criticize but this was the first to offer a constructive plan of their own origination.

The group of P.T.A. representatives desires to have better drainage of the playground which was once village property but now leased to the school board. It was known as Monument Park for many years and was beautiful with gravel walks and grass plots. But the monument was moved out to the cemetery and the area was turned over to a parking lot and then to a playground.

Now the P.T.A. seeks to improve the play area, remove surface water and either black-top it or put in sod.

Following the council's approval of their plan, the delegation announced its intentions to approach the School Board.

Memorial Park, which was once known as Military Square, is one of four original grants to the village. The others were East Branch school property which was also leased to the school board and is now for sale, Standpipe, or Adams Park and Elliott Park.

BRYAN CATCHES ENTHUSIASM OF ELECTION ISSUE

Artist Earl Bryan answered a Herald plea for a cartoon this week which shows Mr. Average Man's enthusiasm over the forthcoming election with the masterful drawing above.

No simple job, the ink line sketch shows two Indians representing the parties involved, broadcasting the election on a billboard. But the keynote of enthusiasm is shown at the bottom where the voters are gathering to cast their all-important ballots. In this group are two hashing out the issues of the campaign.

Bryan brings the cartoon right down to Tecumseh by ably filling in with local landmarks.

Our thanks for his fine work and personal interest in the importance of this forthcoming event.

RECKLESS DRIVER PAYS $25 FINE

Fred Filber, 24, Britton, pleaded guilty to charges of reckless driving Monday before Justice Robert French and was fined $25 plus $8.50 costs. He was ordered also to spend two weekends in the county jail.

Filber was arrested at 5:45 p.m. Friday after he drove through the business district at an excessive rate of speed. He drove through a red light going west on Chicago Blvd. in close pursuit of a car in which his wife was riding.

He cut off the other car forcing it into Easton's Service Station where he broke the window glass. Police officers were called and placed him under arrest. Dr. Helzerman examined Filber and said that he had only lost his temper.

Another Britton man, Edward E. Gottschalk, was arrested early Sunday morning and charged with drunkenness. He was released on $25 bond. He appeared Monday and pleaded guilty. Fine was levied at $5 and $8.60 costs.

Four men were arrested for speeding this week, Jerry B. Cole, Tecumseh; Billy R. Tidwell, Adrian; Harry Minix, Manchester and Fartitunato Jopez, Britton.

The only fire this week was early Sunday morning when local firemen answered an alarm at the Kuehman Potato Farm on M-52. A minor blaze was extinguished in the roof of a tenant house.

Merchants Still Split Over Issue

NO MEETING HELD: VIEWS PRINTED HERE

Still split into two opposing camps, Tecumseh merchants are divided this week on the Friday vs. Saturday night issue as each stands firm with the belief that local stores should remain open on the night of their choice.

A spokesman for the Friday night camp summed up the views of his group in the following statements.

"There was little or no effort on the part of some merchants to promote Friday nights when all were on the Friday night program before. In fact there was considerable activity on the part of two or three merchants all the time to move Tecumseh back to Saturday night. The eventual move back accomplished only one thing, it thoroughly confused the buying public, they lost confidence in Tecumseh merchants, etc. That's why, this time, the move to Friday night must be a positive 100% move, with no going back. There can be no switching from the "modern" Friday night to the "old fashioned" Saturday night.

"The drawing, or alike promotion, should be put on Friday nights. The merchants of Tecumseh (all of them) should really get behind Friday nights and promote. Farmers will still trade in Tecumseh and we will hold more of the Products payroll where it belongs. It will be a step in the right direction to streamline Tecumseh's way of doing business. We have new stores, new store fronts but the same "old fashioned" way of doing business.

"Ray Herrick recently commented, 'You're asleep at the switch'. He was talking about

EARLY LANDMARK GETS NEW FACE

Probably Tecumseh's oldest business building, the original Union Hall, now owned by C. F. Sage, is undergoing a face-lifting this week. When construction is completed, the former white-fronted building which houses the Chamber of Commerce, Kerby's Restaurant and the Brown Wig, will have a modern structural glass front and new doors.

The open archway which leads to the second floor of the building will be changed to a standard doorway.

Significant of the building's early origin is the eight-sided cupola, last remaining in Tecumseh and a very old type.

E. M. Campbell Heads Slate Of New Citizen's Party

Tecumseh will have a contested village election March 9, thanks to the efforts of a new political organization which carries the Citizen's party label and is now headed by former village president E. M. "Ernie" Campbell. After a Tuesday night caucus in the council building which attracted nearly 40 supporters, twice the number on hand for the People's meeting the village was assured of a full scale political clash. Two candidates were repeats from the People's slate. Campbell praised his running mates as "all strong candidates".

His trustees are Glenn Driscoll, Clarence Beach and Vern Manwaring.

Campbell has lived in Tecumseh for 39 years and served 14 years as councilman. He was village president for two years. Now a retired businessman, he is chairman of the hospital board and active as a Boy Scout director. Beach and Driscoll have both served on the council also. Manwaring is a newcomer to Tecumseh politics. He is associated with Glenn Kohler in the real estate business.

Filling out the Citizen's slate are Harry Stanifer, assessor; Mrs. Naomi Sallows, clerk and Myrna Tingley, treasurer. The latter two are also candidates on the People's ticket.

Fay Whelan, one of the organizers of the Citizen's party, served as caucus chairman Tuesday night. George Derby and Lester Coller were tellers and Edna Staulter, caucus clerk.

In the only caucus contest, Stanifer defeated Fred C. Dickinson for the assessor's post. The other nominations were unopposed.

After the caucus, Mr. Campbell said he accepted the nomination with the foremost intent of giving the people a Democratic election and keeping the two party system of government alive. He had good words to say for the present council and felt his party's opposition was for a better Tecumseh in the long run and in no way to run down the other faction.

Campbell said Tuesday night that he was not ready to make any pre-election statements but maintained that he and his supporters were primarily interested in creating public concern over the affairs of village government.

"No more Russian rule here," he concluded.

Thar's Gold In Tecumseh

Looking back through the old Herald volumes, an advertisement of Feb. 24, 1853 proclaims, "Thar's gold for the wise who shop in Tecumseh, for the amount you save is the amount you find."

At that early day, the thriving village boasted the best bargains "this side of Monroe" in a variety of "merchantile stores which stock superior articles at prices kept constantly low."

Such was the advertising lingo of a century ago when the Herald was a mere three years old but cried the wares of Tecumseh merchants for 500 weekly subscribers who found the local shopping center a literal gold mine.

Today the Herald serves many times that number of early subscribers but the theme of every Tecumseh shopper finding gold in these 'har parts still stands as a just claim.

Especially during the village-wide Month End Clearance Sale, a merchant's invitation to thrifty bargain shoppers through next week's specials in The Herald.

Again in February, you will find that "you can buy it in Tecumseh — cheaper."

Green Tells How Community Fund Aids Heart Assn.

"While other localities are digging in for contributions to the annual Heart Drive, Tecumseh can sit back and consider its part of the national campaign is fulfilled," George Green, publicity director of the Community fund explained, as his organization gives a share of last fall's drive to the Heart Association.

Green explained that February is traditionally "Heart" month throughout the United States. The Tecumseh Community Fund Board would like to tell you about a February gift that you are already giving to yourself, your family and all your friends.

The February gift we are thinking about is the gift you gave last fall to the Michigan Heart Association. While in most communities requests are being made for heart contributions, here in Tecumseh you can consider each of these requests a "Thank you". For in this State the Heart Association is a member agency of the United Health and Welfare Fund and you supported "Heart", when you gave last fall to Tecumseh's Community Fund Drive.

And so, in Tecumseh during February instead of asking you for money, the Heart Association seeks to explain the importance of heart disease and the various research and community service programs the Association sponsors throughout the year.

During the past year a great deal of progress has been made in the heart research field. And undoubtedly one of the most important developments anywhere in the world happened right here in Michigan. And it was a direct result of the dollars you contributed during the past three years to the Michigan Heart Association through your United Campaign.

The development of the "Michigan Heart" — a mechanism that

JOINS MARTIN AS GAMBLE PARTNER

Bill Zwick, veteran of 12 years experience with Gamble stores, moved to Tecumseh this week and joined in a partnership with Don Martin. Mr. Zwick and his wife are residing at 109 W. Pottawatamie.

The new Gamble partner came here from Midland where he managed a store for nine months. Prior to that time he managed other Gamble stores in Hillsdale and Coldwater. He originally came to Michigan from Nebraska.

Earl Baldwin New Commerce Head

Earl Baldwin was unanimously elected 1953 president of Tecumseh Chamber of Commerce Tuesday night at the first meeting of the new board of directors. Clarence Beach was elected vice-president, Miss Carol Pearson, secretary and Ed Boss treasurer.

Other members of the board are Harold Easton, Glenn Kohler, Don Nixon, Bob Moore, Ray Herrick and Miss Marjorie Wickwire.

Following a treasurer's report, the group discussed plans to promote Tecumseh during the forthcoming year through a number of exchanged ideas. The directors went on record in approval of the Quaker Oats program of "Holler About Taxes."

Financial support of the C of C is divided 56% industrial, 22% retail, 13% commercial and 9% miscellaneous. The organization reports a $3,425 cash balance.

WHAT CAN WE DO ABOUT IT? — This is Brotherhood Week. We're tired of "weeks," but this one is worth a little extra thought.

America is something like Noah's Ark. It's sailing some uncharted and dangerous seas. And its passengers are an assortment of folk from every land in the world.

The promotion of brotherhood is a necessity for America. With our heterogeneous population we must try to be tolerant, to see others' viewpoints. Our nation was founded upon such principles as the preservation of the basic human rights of religious freedom, tolerance and the brotherhood of mankind.

It is indeed fortunate that a nationwide organization, the National Conference of Christians and Jews, has dedicated itself to keeping those ideals alive. Free people must never lose sight of the necessity of spreading the kinship of man under God.

What can you and I, the average citizen do about it?

Progress would be made if every American would make a point of doing one good deed, or saying one kind word, to a fellow citizen who is "different" because of race, creed or ancestral background.

Acceptance of the meaning of Brotherhood Week might be a step forward in transforming our Noah's Ark to a more modern ship whose course is charted and rides the most dangerous seas with little peril.

FOR TECUMSEH'S SAKE — One sure way to make a shopper from out of town, particularly a woman, feel at home in a community, is to provide her with a decent rest room. Such was the thought of Mrs. Helen M. Sheridan back some 30 years when she willed a sum to the village for establishing and maintaining a ladies' "comfort station." It was then built into the council building and operated for many years in the present police headquarters. As the years passed the fund ran out and finally in the '40's the rest room was closed.

A shame on Tecumseh today is the fact that there is no well kept public rest station for the many people who are now shopping here from other communities and from distant points in the surrounding area. A good job for such an organization as the Business & Professional Women? Yes and no! It might be good on their part to do a little agitation, but the problem reverts to the village council, especially for maintenance and custody, both so very important in the continued and successful operation of such a public station.

MORE CITY FACTS — Talking over the prime reasons why Tecumseh should change from the present village form of government to city form, the question came up, "Why are there so many villages left in Michigan if city incorporation is so advantageous?"

The first reason is that a minimum population of 750 is required for city incorporation. These requirements prevent many villages from incorporating as cities. The second reason is the lack of knowledge on the part of village residents as to the advantages of city incorporation. A third reason is human inertia and opposition to any change.

Fourth, there is the mistaken fear of the word "city" and the incorrect thought that it implies higher expenditures. This fear is ungrounded when it is realized that the only difference between a city and a village is that the city provides the township services. The Michigan Municipal League did a study of 1944 tax rates of 19 villages between 1,000 and 2,000 population, and 19 cities having an aggregate population substantially the same. The average tax rate for the 19 villages was $14.52; the average for the 19 cities was $15.16, or approximately one-half a mill difference. This is an insignificant difference, and when it is realized that the village taxpayers had to pay township taxes in addition to the village tax, the economy of city government is clear.

Fifth, it is sometimes argued that the change will alienate the township residents and thereby hurt retail business in the city. Experience has shown, however, that this a fallacious argument. People trade where it is most advantageous to buy or sell and do not worry as to whether or not the trading center is in the same township. Certainly almost every city in Michigan is an active trading center for the surrounding rural area. Furthermore, removal of the village from the township gives the rural people complete control of township affairs without village interference and with no reduction in state aid—the principal source of township revenue, thereby satisfying these people also.

TOO MUCH SQUAWK — The press has sometimes been criticized for squawking too much about their freedom. But it is not their own freedom in question, it is the freedom of the people to have a press which can give them all the facts on the news of the day without being subject to censorship.

Letters To The Editor

North Adams, Mich.

Editor, Tecumseh Herald:

This is to thank you for the first copies of my 1953 subscription to The Herald.

Just 40 years ago I was the boy who peddled the Toledo Blade and the Detroit Journal down the streets of Tecumseh, but The Herald was always our hometown paper!

In recent months I have been thrilled by several visits back to my old hometown—what changes in the town, what changes in me. Now through your paper I will come to know a little better the Tecumseh of today.

Most cordially yours,
Rev. Harold E. Kenrick

P. S. I saw the Indians defeat Hillsdale recently, great going.

EVEN THE MUFFLER DOES THINGS TO THE POWER

World's newest V8

BACK in the old days, any man who wanted real performance used a "cutout" on his car.

It was a device that by-passed the muffler—because mufflers have always cut down on usable power. But it made a lot of noise.

Muffling that noise — and still getting rid of exhaust gases as fast as they come from the cylinders — has stumped the automobile people for years.

Now, Buick engineers have racked up another "first."

They have come up with a muffler of supreme quiet and zero power loss—first time in history.

It is called a dynamic flow muffler. And it is one of many advances that make the great 1953 Buick ROADMASTER even greater.

For this automobile — the greatest Buick in fifty great years—has a brilliant new V8 Engine that can turn up 188 hp. And every one of its horsepowers can be delivered as usable power — since none is restricted in muffler passage.

As you would expect, there is more to this magnificent motorcar than power, great though it is.

There's a finer ride, better maneuverability, easier handling—now with Power Steering as standard equipment, and Power Brakes optional at extra cost.

And there's the amazing new Twin-Turbine Dynaflow bringing quieter, jet-fast getaway to complete and utter smoothness.

Why not come [illegible] yourself just how great the greatest Buick in half a century really is?

Elm Tree Stands As Landmark At Patterson School

When the men and women, who were once the boys and girls of Tecumseh, watch the new primary school going up in "Uncle Charley" Patterson's corn field, almost in the shadow of the "Big Elm," they feel a pang of envy for the lucky children who will next fall be attending school.

That huge standing elm is an integral part of the childhood of many. For the big tree is more than a Tecumseh landmark. Before the automobile, it was frequently included in the family's Sunday afternoon stroll and only the old hazelnut grove rivaled its popularity as a picnic spot. The cool shade of the big elm's branches as it stood on Evans creek, and their canopied silhouete against the sunset were all an unconscious introduction to beauty in an age before commercialized entertainment.

The Patterson elm stood, as it does today, with its roots in the water of Tecumseh's ever flowing creek, long before there ever was a village, although it is probably a youngster compared to the one that towers over the Branigin home farther upstream—the one that for some reason is called the "Treaty Elm."

The famous "Sentinal Oak" that stood near the Eaton farm east of the village, in whose huge hollow trunk "Sile" Doty, Lenawee's Robin Hood was popularity supposed to have hidden to escape the wrath of farmers, who did not appreciate his benevolence at their expense, was undoubtedly decades older. The oak is gone, however, and the Treaty Elm shows the ravages of age and storm but the Patterson Elm still stands vigorous and beautiful, to extend a gracious welcome to generations of pupils at the new school.

I looked straight up a tree today
From the soft, sweet grass below,
And knew how men, when they build for God,
Learned to make His cathedrals
So they can lift your heart on a soaring flight
Beyond what your eyes can see.
God drafted the plan for His House for men
Then grew it into a tree.

P. T. A. DISCUSSES ELEMENTARY PROBLEMS

An interesting and thought-provoking discussion resulted from the program at the Parent-Teachers Association meeting last Thursday evening.

Sixty-five members gathered in the Central auditorium for a panel discussion led by elementary principal Earl Greene. The general topic was Primary School Problems and its various phases were taken up by the following people: Transportation, Dr. M. R. Blanden; book rentals vs. ownership, Mrs. Murray Day; playground, William Wright; time element, Mrs. Maxine Wilson; noon hour activities, Mrs. Wellington Wotring; school finances, the Rev. George Walworth.

Mrs. Day explained how much the parents save because of the rental system of school books, Mrs. Wilson told the reasons for the accepted hours of school work and the Rev. Walworth described the difficulties of school finance.

Topics that aroused the most interest in the general discussion that followed were playground and noon hour supervision. It was brought out that the teachers donate a half hour of their time to supervise the more than 150 children who bring lunches or eat at the cafeteria each day but that from 12:15 until 12:45 p.m. there is no one to maintain order. The problem is especially acute on stormy days when the children are forced to wait in the corridors for the opening of their classrooms. Mrs. Wotring called for volunteers among the parents to donate a half hour of their time for this purpose. Anyone desiring to do so may call the school office for scheduling.

The question of improving the village-owned playground, which is merely loaned to the school, was referred to a committee composed of William Wright, Gordon Garlick, Grenval Spangler, James Hartsell and Mrs. James Elliott.

P.T.A. president Mrs. Anderson appointed a nominating committee consisting of Mrs. Ned Rosacrans, Mrs. Harold Green, Mrs. R. J. Tressler, Yale Shenefield and Grenval Spangler who are to report at the next meeting.

Mrs. Garlick was in charge of the program in place of Mrs. Lee Purkey who was ill. The next meeting, March 12 will be a program on health with Dr. H. H. Hammel as the speaker.

Awards Made At Cub Scout Banquet

Members of Cub Scout Pack No. 73 and their families met Monday evening in the Fellowship Center for the annual Blue and Gold banquet. Each of the five dens in the pack had its table decorated with hats, place cards, favors and centerpieces made by the boys in their den meetings.

Den No. 1, led by Mrs. John H. Curth, assisted by Mrs. Chester Beach, honored George Washington in its decorations, while Den No. 11, led by Mrs. R. C. Osburn, assisted by Mrs. Robert Bonner, honored Abraham Lincoln. The table of Den No. 8 was decorated in keeping with St. Valentine's Day. Mrs. Donald LaBounty is the Den Mother of Den No. 8, and she is assisted by Mrs. Luther Kemp. Den No. 3, of which Mrs. Charles Stephenson is Den Mother, and Mrs. George Meads assistant, chose as the theme of its decorations the 43rd birthday of Boy Scouting in America, while "Forward on Liberty's Team" was chosen by Den No. 5, led by Mrs. Paul Eddy, assisted by Mrs. Ralph Helzerman.

Cubmaster Gilbert J. Nighswander opened the meeting by leading the group in the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag, after which the Rev. George Walworth gave the invocation. After the dinner Mrs. Ralph Helzerman led group singing, while Mrs. Nighswander accompanied at the piano.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin E. Jones of Monroe were introduced by the cubmaster. Mr. Jones is the Scout executive of Wolverine Council, and he presented the Pack's annual charter to Rev. Walworth, who accepted it on behalf of the Westminster League of the Presbyterian church which sponsors the pack.

Two entertaining pantomines were presented by Mrs. Charles Stephenson and Mrs. James Barton. They were entitled "The Love Bug Itch" and "Glow Worm."

The following awards were made by the cubmaster, assisted by J. W. Naugle, chairman of the pack committee: Under the Wolf rank, badges to Gary Hicks, Raymond C. Osburn, Barry Kroner, Bruce Parrett, Kent Naugle, Richard Meads, Robert Richards and Larry Flowers; badge and gold arrow point to Robert Bonner; badge, gold and one silver arrow to Joel Anderson; a gold arrow point to Larry Titley, and a silver arrow point to Ross Stephenson. Under the Lion rank, lion badge, gold and six silver arrow points to Robert Dick; badge and gold arrow point to James Nighswander; gold and two silver arrow points to James Curth, and a gold arrow point to Larry Hartsell.

Announcement was made of the district Cub and Scout show to be held at the Adrian Armory Saturday, Feb. 28 from 6:30 to 10 p.m. Pack No. 73 will have an exhibit of handicraft, and the Cubs are invited to partipicate in costume in a Cub circus parade to be held that night at 7:30 p.m.

The cubmaster thanked those who helped make Blue and Gold a success, particularly the food committee of which Mrs. LeRoy Titley was chairman, assisted by Mrs. Nighswander, Mrs. Louis Richards, Mrs. David Dick, Mrs. Floyd Hicks, and Mrs. Jan Kachur.

The new "Cubby," recently completed by John H. Curth, was awarded to Den No. 5, which had 100% attendance of Cubs and parents at the banquet. "Cubby" is a life-size replica of a Cub Scout, made from tin cans.

The next pack meeting will be held March 16, when there will be a Mardi Gras for the entertainment of the Cubs, their families and friends.

If you've never tried a Herald classified, you will be surprised at the results they accomplish.

Cub Scout Pack 4 Notes Anniversary

In celebration of the forty-third anniversary of Scouting, 150 Cub Scouts of Pack No. 4 and their parents gathered for a potluck dinner in the Legion Memorial Home Monday evening.

Following dinner, Francis Packard, neighborhood commissioner, was introduced and Eli Dickerson of Adrian, Lenawee district chairman, presented the charter of Pack No. 4 to Rev. B. O. Bashore as representative of the Baptist church, sponsor of the pack. Rev. Bashore expressed his pleasure and pride in seeing the growth of the pack in the past six years from a few boys to the time when it became necessary to divide into two packs.

The theme of the program was "Famous Men Who Were Born in February." Den 9, whose den mother is Mrs. Harold Morey, assisted by Mrs. Anna Grigg, told about Lord Robert Baden Powell, founder of Scouting. Den 6, under the leadership of Mrs. Dan Betzoldt presented a skit about Buffalo Bill. Boys under den mother, Mrs. Wilbur Andrews and assistant Mrs. Donald Beevers of Den 4 showed Paul Revere in silhouette while the famous poem by Henry Wadsworth Longfellow was read. Babe Ruth came on the stage next and hit one of his home runs amid cheers from the boys of Den 2 and the tune of "Take Me Out To The Ball Game" played by Mrs. Harry Crosby. Mrs. Kenneth Rutherford is den mother of Den 2 assisted by Mrs. Ned Rosacrans. Lindbergh flew across the stage in the Spirit of St. Louis and was congratulated on his solo flight by the boys of Den 10 whose den mother is Mrs. William Underwood and assistant Mrs. Bernard Tucker.

The award ceremony was conducted by Den 7 under Mrs. Max Smith and assistant Mrs. Al Williams. Cubmaster Samuel A. Whitney presented the awards to the parents who in turn presented them to their sons. The following awards were received: Richard Socha, Lion badge, gold arrow and graduation certificate; Dan Betzoldt, graduation certificate; John Johnson, Wolf badge; Billy Truesdale, silver arrow under Wolf badge; James Bashore, gold arrow under Wolf badge; Charles Mueller, gold and silver arrow under Wolf badge; Ronald Dixon, Kenneth Beevers, Philip Head, Larry Meirs and den chief Jerry Butler received one year service stars.

Mrs. Betzoldt's Den 6 of Macon won "Cubby" with 100% attendance.

It was announced that Pack 4 will participate in the Cub and Scout show in the Armory in Adrian Feb. 28. Tickets may be purchased for 25 cents.

The next Round Table will be at the Presbyterian church in Adrian, Feb. 24 at 7:30 p.m.

ping more of the Products roll in Tecumseh. It would fol- then that the merchants in cumseh must open their doors n payroll night (Friday).

"Any store giving good service, selling quality merchandise at a fair price, backing up their sales and service with good will and satisfaction, can set their own store hours and customers will trade with them when they are open. Friday night works in other towns, why will it not here? It gives the employees a Saturday night off like all other human beings have. They feel better on Sunday, they enjoy their work more, and as a result, do a better job.

"Farmers no longer wait until Saturday night to do their shopping. They, like others, have learned that the selection of goods in not complete—everything is picked over by Saturday night—so farmers have joined the trend to shop earlier. It's the modern way to do business."

On the other hand, the Saturday night group stands firm on the facts stated last week, "Tecumseh has always been, and always will be a Saturday night shopping community. It's a habit that has been built up through the years and will never be changed."

One merchant made an inquiry of customer preference and found Saturday night to be favored "two-to-one."

What will happen over this split of main street businessmen is not forseeable, though a meeting of merchants is forthcoming to air the differences and settle the issue on the basis of which night is best for Tecumseh's continued service as a popular shopping center.

SCHNEIDERS ABOARD SHIP DELAYED IN STRAITS CROSSING

Nine hours crossing from St. Ignace to Mackinaw may be some kind of a record this year, but as far as Mr. and Mrs. Louis Schneider are concerned it represents a long, cold night on the pride of Michigan's ferry fleet, the Vacationland.

The Schneiders were returning from an upper peninsula Legion meeting with Mr. and Mrs. Paul Maroney, Chelsea, when they boarded the new Vacationland last weekend at St. Ignace at 6:05 p. m. Two and a-half miles out the ship stopped in ice estimated at 18 feet thick. Attempts to back up and strike out ahead failed as ice formed around the ship during the bitterly cold night.

Another ship started out from Mackinaw but could not reach the Vacationland. After hours of silent waiting and hoping, an ice breaking ship arrived from Cheboygan and kept circling the Schneider's ship all the way into Mackinaw. They arrived at 3 a.m.

Looking back over the experience, Mrs. Schnieder said the worst part of the waiting was hunger. The Vacationland was nearly packed, and almost none of the passengers had eaten supper. There were enough cookies and coffee to go around for the women and some bologna was divided among the men. Some of the people on board slept while the majority played cards during the long silent wait.

Some years back, the Schneiders heard a ship was stuck for six days during the crossing.

AIR PATROL EYES BIG COFFEE MAKER

Tecumseh's Civil Air Patrol squadron has a chance to acquire a 48-cup drip coffee maker by accumulating 1,000 steel bands and empty bags of Kroger coffee. The coffee maker and box to hold the empty sacks and can strips is now on display at the local Kroger store.

Bill Powell, executive officer, was in charge of Tuesday night's regular CAP meeting at the high school in the absence of commander Elmer Burleson who is vacationing in Florida.

Ernest Peters, supply officer, is taking orders for uniforms.

Membership is still open in the local squadron for both air and ground personnel. Meetings are held every Tuesday.

GLOBE TROTTERS

The Globe Trotters, a social organiaztion of our newer feminine citizens from foreign lands, which meets regularly each month, was entertained February 11 at the home of Mrs. William DePuy on W. Pottawatamie st. Nine members were present, including some from Adrian and Ann Arbor. A newcomer, Mrs. Ralph Sager, was welcomed to membership. Plans were discussed for the annual dinner meeting to be held in April. Other items of business were taken up and a social hour was enjoyed.

If you are in doubt about saying something don't say it.

To Celebrate Golden Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Petty will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary Sunday with open house at their home at 207 E. Logan street. A reception for relatives and friends will be held from two until four in the afternoon and from seven until nine in the evening.

Mrs. Petty, who before her marriage was Bessie Simerson, was born June 4, 1876, at Clyde, Ohio, and Mr. Petty, February 8, 1880, at Monroe. February 22, 1903, they were married at Riga by Justice John Mohr. Mr. Mohr was the father of Roland Mohr, of Tecumseh, whose mother, Mrs. Mary Mohr of Jackson is the only surviving witness of that wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. Petty began housekeeping on a farm in Whiteford township, Monroe county. They have lived in several localities since, coming to Tecumseh from Toledo in 1925. Since that date they have lived in their present home.

available. The petition was presented Monday night and signed by Mr. and Mrs. Bert Filter, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Dinse, Harold E. Treby, Grace Evangelical Lutheran church, Oscar D. Bryan, W. G. Waldron, J. H. Hamilton, R. Arnold, Shirley Arnold and Stephen Baker.

Plans were made to use voting machines at the March 9 village election. President Heilman appointed the following to serve on the election committee: Rudy Mead , Edna Staulter, Cecile Smith, Edna Codling, Ruby Preston, Charles Manley, John Smith, Alfred Pope, Art Harding and F. C. Dickinson.

W. D. Hite, Perry Satterthwaite and William Wright were appointed election commissioners.

Other action by the council included advertising the old fire siren for sale, turning a request for aid to Holland over to the Community Chest and approving a contract by the State Highway commission for ornamental light poles on the four corners.

One of the great defects of human life appears to be that as soon as man is old enough to know anything much, his life ends.

MUSIC CLUB

Mrs. Ellsworth Collins entertained the Music Club Tuesday evening, in her home on Union street. The Hymn of the Month, "I Love Thy Kingdom, Lord" was sung by Mrs. Perry Hayden, accompanied by Mrs. W. G. Waldron.

During the business meeting, Mrs. Wilbur Boyce was appointed treasurer to take the place of Mrs. Lester Runk, who had resigned. Miss Edith Ingersoll and Mrs. Hayden were appointed a nominating committee to report at the next meeting while Mrs. Duane Service was named chairman for a bake sale to be sponsored jointly with the Junior Music Club.

The program, which was an all Greig evening, was arranged and announced by Miss Ingersoll. It began with a piano solo, "To Spring," played by Mrs. Waldron; a piano solo, "The Last Spring" by Mrs. George Schipper; and a vocal solo, "Ich Liebe Dich," sung by Mrs. Arthur Schwartz, accompanied by Mrs. Schipper.

Mrs. P. B. Hardy then played, "Nocturne." which was followed by recordings of the last two movements of the "Holberg Suite," provided by Mrs. Collins. Mrs. Herbert Dillon and Mrs. Gerald Osworth played as a piano duet, "Asa's Death," and Mrs. Schwartz played, "Anitra's Dance." Mrs. Murray Day sang "The Solnezg Song" accompanied by her daughter, Betty; Mrs. Schwartz played "Sonata" and a vocal solo, "A Swan" by Mrs. Thomas Gallant completed the program.

Recordings of a piano concerto were played during the serving of the refreshments, the hostess being assisted by Mrs. John Wintersteen and Mrs. Nina Heath.

CHIEF TELLS EXCHANGE OF CRIME PREVENTION

"Every week is crime prevention week for the officers who enfocé the law," Police Chief George Kilbourn told members of the Tecumseh Exchange club Wednesday night, "and should also be for the citizens who uphold the law."

The chief elaborated on the many little, everyday things that many people do sub-consciously in preventing crime. He praised the Exchangites on their national program to prevent crime. This week marks the sixth annual observance of the club's annual educational work against the nation's fastest growing public burden—crime and lawlessness.

Neville L. Hart is general chairman of the local program staged from Feb. 15-21.

Mistake

Two men left a banquet together after dining too well.

"When you get home," advised one, "if you don't want to disturb your family, undress at the foot of the stairs, fold your clothes neatly and creep up to bed. It's the undressing in your room that awakens the wife."

Next day they met at lunch. 'How did you get along?" asked one.

"No good," said the other. "I took off all my clothes at the foot of the stairs, as you told me and folded them neatly. I didn't make a sound. But when I got to the top of the stairs, I found it was my neighbor's house!"

You can best be somebody by always being yourself.

Misinformation On Fluoride

A six-year experiment in the East Texas city of Marshall was recently cited as proof that fluoride in drinking water can reduce dental cavities considerably. The test, which was hailed as one of the most carefully conducted in the country, was carried on with the cooperation of the American Medical Association and the American Dental Association.

Dr. Edward Taylor, chief of the Texas Health Department's dental division, in announcing results of the test recently, said that Marshall children have had 57 per cent fewer cavities than those of the same age group in another town, included in the test, where fluoride was not provided. In fact, the cavity rate among Marshall children is reported to be declining steadily while cavities among children in the other town, where fluoride is not being used, are increasing.

Since fluoride was first announced some years ago, there has been a continuous stream of articles, some pro and some con, some conservative, and some claiming great achievements for the chemical. As with any new discovery it has seemed that a number of men in the dental field have delighted in dousing cold water on the enthusiasm about fluoride. Also there have been countless articles, saying that tests so far conducted are not conclusive.

This latest test, which covered a period of six years and which was conducted with the cooperation of both the American Medical Association and the American Dental Associaton, should settle the arguments once and for all. Every town and community in the country, which has the money, should look into the possibility of adding fluoride to the drinking water supply.

BOTH PARTIES ARE READY AT WORK ON '54 ELECTIONS

When Charles Dickens made his travels in America, a century ago, he observed that elections in this curious country are continuous—that, as soon as one election is over, the people start arguing about the next one.

Dickens' readers in the U. S. didn't like that remark, but it was true then, and it is true today. Both major parties are already preparing for the congressional elections of 1954.

Democratic National Chairman Stephen A. Mitchell says his staff will work as hard in 1953 as if it were a campaign year. He says:

"This congressional drive falls into three parts. The first is to provide all the help we can give to the Democratic members of the Senate and House — including information on voting records, on the issues, and so on.

"The second part is to raise money.

"The third part is to help local organization grow stronger and larger."

Mitchell is well aware that the Democrats came close to keeping their majorities in the Senate and the House although they lost the presidency by more than six million votes.

Wesley Roberts, the new Republican national chairman, is well aware of the figures, too. He told his party's National Committee, at a recent meeting in Washington, that its congressional candidates lagged about five million votes behind General Eisenhower in his sweeping victory in the presidential race.

Roberts warned the Republicans that they must keep their organizaton strong to hold their slim majorities in Congress.

Another Republican official brought out two sets of figures last week, on the congressional races of 1952.

William S. Warner, executive Secretary of the Republican Congressional Committee, said the G.O.P. rang up a plurality of 3,282,518 in the 342 districts where there were House contests.

However, Warner added, eighty two unopposed Democrats pollec 4,931,488 votes while eleven unopposed Republicans polled 1,409,699. If these figures are added to the totals, the results are: Republicans, 28,345,500; Democrats, 28,585,771; Democrats plurality, 240,271.

Dewey and Halley

The City of New York continues to be the scene of undignified charges between gangsters, city officials and state officials. The latest undignified exchange was between an aide to Governor Thomas E. Dewey and City Council President Rudolph Halley.

Mr. Halley evidently did not think Governor Dewey was allocating a large enough sum of State funds to the City of New York. Evidently Governor Dewey has been displeased by the way city officials have managed New York City's affairs for some time, as have other citizens.

The upshot of it all was that Halley accused Governor Dewey of "ruthlessly playing politics with the needs of our city." The statement was issued from City Hall and brought the following reply from Harry J. O'Donnell, Governor Dewey's press secretary: "Mr. Halley is as stupid and ignorant as he is shallow and venomous."

This little tidbit indicates that not only do pier gangsters and other gangsters have disdain for New York City's officials, but that Governor Dewey also looks upon the city's government with less than bristling pride.

You can help make this community a good place to live in by helping the unfortunate and refusing to spread petty gossip.

If adults did not try to make children accept all the ideas of their ancestors the world might discover the truth a little faster.

(Editor's Note: Acording to an old Michigan School Law a teacher should read to all students above the fifth grade THE DECLARATION OF INDEPENDENCE on the anniversary of Abraham Lincoln's birth. And since this week is Brotherhood Week, in each of the three tenth grade English classes every student composed an editorial on brotherhood. Many were possibly influenced by the great goals set up in the DECLARATION. The following is a composite of the comments of the first hour class, arranged and edited by members of the Editorial Staff).

"Do unto others as you would have them do unto you."

Everyone was astonished over the new persecution of the Jews (now going in Russia), but just how do we measure up? Look at the neighborhood around you. Have you spoken a kind word or done a kind deed for that new family across the street you say are "different"? Does that mean you needn't treat them as your neighbor?

Thomas Jefferson said, "All men are created equal." And Abraham Lincoln re-echoed this FACT in his Gettysburg Address. Isn't that true today? In our large cities and even in the smaller towns people are sometimes not allowed to buy homes where they want. Equality must be practiced by us since we preach it in our great and eternal documents.

This week, from Sunday (February 15) through this coming Saturday is BROTHERHOOD WEEK. During this week we should sit down and measure ourselves. What have we done to help achieve human brotherhood, and what can we do in the future? And not only for this one week, but also for the whole year—not only for people in America but all over the whole world.

We can, all of us, make the world a better place in which to live if we live up the Biblical Commandment, "Love Thy Neighbor As Thyself," no matter what race, religion, or creed, he is still our brother and neighbor.

When Protestant, Catholic, Negro and Jew can all live in peace with one another on the same street without one shunning the other, we will be nearer to both World Peace and human brotherhood.

"United we stand; divided we fall," shows what may well happen if we let religion and race stand in the way of unity.

Methodist Pastor Traces Tecumseh's Early Settlement

By Rev. R. A. Brunger

(This is the fifth in a series of historical sketches which outline the settlement of Tecumseh, founding and growth of the local Methodist church).

Margarette Cross lived with two bachelor sons, Robert and William, who had located on section eight, south of Clinton, in Sept. 1826. Until 1828 theirs was the extreme cabin of the settlement on the east side of the river; between them and Brownville were Thomas Griswold, William Smith, Hugh Hillick, and Timothy Nash. William Cross writing in 1878 states that "at least a score of Indians passed our place to one white man." In the fall of 1827, Robert and William Cross were taken sick with the fever and ague, and on writing of their condition, their mother had determined to come and keep house for them. She arrived in November, 1827.

William Cross nas written an account of going to Church in those early years. "It was the wish of our mother to go to Tecumseh on the Sabbaths to attend meeting, for once in six, then four, and ere long, two weeks we had preaching, and I being the youngest must provide a way to go. So on Sunday morning I must start out and find the oxen and yoke them to the large lumber wagon; then get mother into the wagon and start for the school house, which was also the meeting house, and by the time we reached Brownville we would have a wagon load of women and children, and the men were walking alongside. On arriving at the school house we would chain the oxen to a wheel of the wagon, seat ourselves on the slab benches, and perhaps worship as fervently and acceptably as those of us now do who have cushioned pews to rest in. After the service was over we used to ride home leisurely in the strong carriage, and get home before night." (This account was called to my attention by Miss Clara Waldron).

Betsey Silliman, the fourth in our list of charter members, was a maiden lady, a sister of the wife of Rev. Joseph Bangs and aunt of Alanson Bangs. She married late in life, a Mr. Young. Before she died she made a will, from which the Superannuated Preachers' Aid Society of the Detroit Annual Conference realized about $1200. She "was a very active and faithful Christian."

Mary Bangs, the fifth in our list, was the wife of Alanson Bangs. Mary Bangs was the daughter of Uriyon and Jane Mackey; she was born Sept. 12, 1801. Alanson Bangs, son of Rev. Joseph and Huldah Silliman Bangs, was born in tSanford, Delaware County, N. Y. (about 50 miles SW of Albany), Sept. 25, 1801. They were married there in 1824, and in the spring of 1825, with about $100 they started to Michigan, arriving in Tecumseh June 8, after six weeks on the road. Alanson expected to settle on land that his father had bought in section 32 in Tecumseh but it was covered with heavy timber and he did not like it. He therefore used his money to purchase land in section 4 of Raisin township, about two miles south of the village. Later he owned 160 acres in section 5, making a farm of 240 acres. "He was a thorough and successful farmer, an enterprising, honorable citizen and kind neighbor. In his habits he was quiet, unobtrusive, industrious and unostentatious. In his manners he was courteous, friendly and kind, but diffident and retiring. His affections were strong, and his friendship ardent. He was a devout Christian, though his extreme timidity of spirit deterred him from ever uniting with the visible church, or publicly identifying himself with his enterprises."

It appears that Alanson Bangs was a faithful Church attendant, but in his extreme humility did not feel worthy to belong to the Church. Strange, since he was the son of a fervent Methodist local preacher. Alanson and Mary Bangs had eight children: Joseph, Betsey Jane, Uriyon, Huldah, Hanna, Alanson B., John, and Mary Ellen. Joseph died at the age of four; Uriyon and Mary Ellen also died in childhood. Thus is illustrated the large families and the heavy mortality, which prevailed in early America.

Of Mary Woodward, the sixth listed charter member, nothing more is definitely known. Was she the wife of Jacob Woodard, who gave $10 to the courthouse fund?

If Tecumseh wants to go forward, it can accomplish the job but, first, the people must make up their minds as to what they want to do.

Quiet people usually know more than their loud-mouthed brethren but saps misjudge volume for knowledge.

1953 is already more than one-twelth gone and at the end of this month will be one-sixth history, proving that time flies.

ROTARY ANNS HEAR REV. HARVEY HAHN

Rev. Harvey C. Hahn, pastor of the Otterbein Evangelical United Brethren church at Dayton, Ohio, was guest speaker when Rotarians entertained their wives and guests at the Legion Memorial Home last Thursday evening.

The Rev. Hahn's topic was "Beefsteak and No Teeth," and he told in a most entertaining manner how people today should travel and enjoy life while young and not wait until later in life when circumstances may prevent travel.

A native of Cleveland, the Rev. Hahn was assigned to the Otterbein church in 1929, when it had only 81 members. After the roster was revised, today the church ministers to over 700 families. He was introduced by program chairman, Rev. B. O. Bashore.

Rotary president, Harold Kelso welcomed the 200 members and guests and the program opened with the invocation by the Rev. Ronald A. Brunger. Dinner music was furnished by the Adrian high school string ensemble. Following the dinner group singing was led by C. O. Butler and Glenn Driscoll. Fine masters for the evening were James McDowell, Richard Beemer and A. W. Merz.

Christian Assurance

Two popular questions are "Whadya know?" and "Whadya know for sure?" Just what do we know for sure?

Daniel Boone was once asked if he had ever been lost in the wilderness. He replied that he had never been lost but that there had been times when for two or three days at a time he had been a bit bewildered. Perhaps some of us are just a bit bewildered!

Charles Kettering, in a commencement address at Michigan State College, declared "We know practically nothing about everything."

On the other hand as one reads the New Testament one is impressed by the note of certainty that runs through it. We cannot escape the feeling that those who wrote the New Testament knew what they were writing about.

Christ our Lord gives us the key to this sense of certainty in the words: "If any man willeth to do His will, he shall know." (John 7:17 R.V.)

In the light of this statement let us think of several simple suggestions. First of all let us remember that we learn of the will of God by obedience to the moral and spiritual light we already have. Some one uttered a great truth when he said, "Loving obedience is a source of knowledge.

C. S. Lewis writing in his book "Christian Behavior" penned these words: "The right direction leads not only to peace but to knowledge."

You and I know that whenever we are willing to do that which we already know to be right we come to a clearer and a fuller understanding of that which is right. One reason why some people are in a moral fog is because they have wilfully disobeyed God. Some of us would grasp the will of God more clearly if we began here and now to do that which we already know to be the will of God.

Let us remember also that spiritual earnestness is essential to an understanding of the will of God. Tecumseh Public Library gives its best to those who desire its best. Tecumseh High School gives its best to those who want the best it has to offer. By the same token God gives His best to those who long for His best. If you and I are going to know the will of God for our lives then we must earnestly want to know His will. How much do we read our Bibles? How much do we pray? How much time do we spend in unhurried fellowship with God? How faithfully do we attend the means of grace at the public worship services of the church of our choice? Lukewarm water does not satisfy man and lukewarm church members do not satisfy God.

Opportunities for Christian service, as indicated by various human needs, indicate to Christian hearts the will of God. If you and I see something that very much needs to be done by Christian people, and God gives us the opportunity for a share in such work, then we may consider such an opportunity to be an expression of the will of God for us. One reason why some people never amount to very much in the kingdom of God is because they refuse to do the work at hand that very much needs to be done. Unless we are willing to work in the Sunday School or church of which we are a part, or to engage in some definitely Christian service in the community, then we are not fit for what we may consider the larger demands of Christian service. Our usefulness and fruitfulness in the Christian life ten years from now may very largely be determined by our attitude toward the call of God to service today.

Faith in God and a willingness to do His will leads to a sense of certainty and of Christian assurance.

MRS. DONALD WILSON TELLS OF SCOTLAND

Some ninety members and guests attended the sixth annual Valentine Tea given by the Westminster League of the Presbyterian church in tde Fellowship Center Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Donald Wilson, wife of a former pastor of the church, as guest speaker, gave a most vivid and informative talk on experiences encountered during the past year in Edinburgh, Scotland, where the Rev. Wilson has been studying.

Mrs. Wilson stated that while there are many shortages and some discomforts, the economic situation is not as critical as we are frequently led to believe. She said that they thoroughly enjoyed their year in Scotland but were overjoyed to see a red brick building and have fresh eggs for breakfast upon their return to the United States.

Mrs. Frederick Dickinson, jr., was chairman of the tea during which time Joan Kempf, at the piano, provided background music. Nancy Shenefield presented two novelty tap dances accompanied by Mrs. Glenn Driscoll.

Door prizes weer awarded to Mrs. LeRoy Titley and Mrs. Donald Parrett. The group netted $53.50 from the event.

Assisting Mrs. Dickinson were Mrs. Jean Barton, Mrs. Roger Linger, Mrs. Ben Gillis, Mrs. Charles Stephenson, Mrs. Wellington Wotring and Mrs. James Gabler.

THE TECUMSEH HERALD

A public record of news and advertising printed in Tecumseh since 1850.

ONE HUNDRED SECOND YEAR — NUMBER 21 TECUMSEH, MICHIGAN, FEBRUARY 26, 1953 FIVE CENTS A COPY

Election Assures Local Revival Of Political Interest

VOTING MACHINES TO BE USED; COUNCIL BLDG. FOR BOTH PRECINCTS

Democracy passed an acid test in Tecumseh during the past two weeks when two opposing parties entered the field of village politics.

Now 1,800 voters have the challenge placed squarely before them — how many will vote in the forthcoming March 9 election?

Officials feel that 50% turnout will be fair, 65% (as turned-out in November) would be excellent. Anything higher than that would be more than gratifying for both parties — as both agree on the need for local contested elections to bring the people closer to their government.

Automatic voting machines will again be in use, both precincts will vote in the Council Building (Fire Hall) between the hours of 7 a. m. and 8 p. m.

C. J. Manley, custodian of the voting machines, is changing all five over for the single contest. Next week one of these will be used as a demonstrator at the Council Building, though Manley describes voting as "extremely simple." To vote a straight ticket after closing the curtain with a left movement of the red control handle, simply pull the master handle out which bears the name of the favored party, either "People's" or "Citizen's." To vote for any individual candidate, simply pull down the small knob directly above the candidate's name. You can vote a straight ticket and still skip over for one or more candidates on the other party.

Although no controversial issues have yet developed by either party since caucus, both are primarily interested in sound government operation and management in Tecumseh. Joe Rohweder is an active member of the current council and is running on the People's ticket. Behind Rohweder are trustee candidates Charles Mensing, Paul Clauda and Karl Schneider. Naomi Sallows and Myrna Tingley are running for clerk and treasurer respectively and T. J. Wagner, assessor.

In opposition are candidates from the recently formed Citizen's Party which selected Ernie Campbell to run against Rohweder. Mr. Campbell is a retired business man, has served as both a trustee and former president. Running with him as trustee candidates are Glenn Driscoll, Clarence Beach and Vern Manwaring. Harry Stanifer opposes incumbent Wagner. The Citizen's Party has no candidates for the positions of clerk and treasurer although Mrs. Sallows and Mrs. Tingley were named at the caucus. Village attorney J. C. Beardsley ruled that no candidates could run on two tickets. Each had been named the night before at the People's caucus.

Absentee ballots for the election will be available next week at the village clerk's office.

LOHRMAN HEADS NEW MERCHANTS GROUP

Leo Lohrman, Palman store manager, was elected chairman of a recently formed Retail Booster's committee of Tecumseh merchants. Other members of the group which met last week, are Dick Jennings, Ernest Peters, Dick Eggleston, Harold Green, Fay Whelan and Earl Baldwin. The latter is Chamber of Commerce president.

At last week's meeting the group discussed various promotional plans to advertise Tecumseh. They agreed on an immediate need for more parking facilities, particularly hard surfaced, unmetered parking lots at various points in the business district. Mr. Whelan said the parking lot question is a lot bigger than the Friday vs. Saturday night issue.

Lohrman outlined a long range program to answer merchant needs along the promotion line. He plans to appoint a number of retail committees in the near future.

WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY

A closed Post Office, closed bank and two flags flying on Main street were about the only evidence of Tecumseh's tribute Monday to the father of these United States. It was Washington's birthday, a national legal holiday but not an official state holiday. Gov. Williams went Bobcat hunting, it was his birthday also, 42nd.

Rival Village Candidates

J. H. Rohweder

E. M. Campbell

Each backed by his party's slate of candidates, J. H. "Joe" Rohweder (People's Party) and E. M. "Ernie" Campbell (Citizen's Party) are rival opponents for the Village President's office in the March 9 election. Both have past experience in village government and literally "give" their time for the $60 a year job. This will be Tecumseh's first contested election in recent years.

SADIE SWIFT DIES WEDNESDAY MORNING

Mrs. Swift had lived for the past 50 years in Lenawee county. She was a former member of the Tipton Grange, the Tipton Pythian Sisters and of the Past Chiefs. She was a member of the Deerfield Methodist church. During recent years she had been living with her daughter Mrs. Ilah Mead on Oneida street.

Group recreation was conducted by Mrs. Truman Rentschler and was followed by a refreshment hour, service being by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Stanifer, Mr. and Mrs. Delmar Crisp, the Rev. and Mrs. Ronald Brunger and Dr. and Mrs. Truman Rentschler. The group will meet again March 8 when the Rev. Brunger will give a book review.

Indians Win Home Final 52 To 43

As another final curtain fell on the Tecumseh Indians' home basketball season Tuesday night, Coach Victor Lawson watched his orange and black cagers smother invading Monroe Catholic 52-43.

It was the Indian's second straight over Monroe—Tecumseh won the first clash 39-23 two months ago — and the Lawsonmen's fourteenth triumph in fifteen times out. They close regular schedule play at Bedford Friday night. On the following week the annual district tournament will be held at Adrian college for class B schools.

Tuesday night it was too much Jim Wilson for Monroe as the lanky senior dumped in 18 points, Boltz and Patton each added eight, Binns seven, Benham six and Hart five.

Scoring by quarters:

Tecumseh	11	11	17	13	52
Mon Cath	7	15	11	10	43

In the preliminary, Yokum led the little Indians to a 57-46 win over the Monroe reserves. He collected 15 points.

DON BUSH RECEIVES MSC FARM AWARD

A short course honor was brought to Tecumseh recently when Don Bush was selected as the outstanding graduate at MSC. The award is based on leadership, citizenship and scholarship after the February course was completed at State college. Don was actually selected by his fellow students though his scholarship was rated outstanding.

Don has been associated with 4-H work in Tecumseh for many years and at present is a tractor leader in this area.

TECUMSEH MENTIONED IN NEWSWEEK ARTICLE

Under the "Business" Section of NEWSWEEK magazine, Feb. 23 issue, Tecumseh is mentioned as one of the communities participating in the Quaker Oats program to "holler about taxes."

After explaining the fast-growing IGHAT movement nationally, NEWSWEEK states, "In Tecumseh, Mich., the superintendent of schools is conducting an IGHAT poster contest among students."

Rightfully entitled, "I'm Gonna Holler About Taxes," the Quaker Oats plan will swing into action nationally about March 5 with a number of other companies in support. Don Nixon has a local plan of action arranged with the posters a top feature.

Two sets of prizes (high school and grade school) will be awarded to poster winners of $15, $10 and $5. March 6 is the deadline, Mr. Nixon said.

Play Area Shows Immediate Need For Resurfacing

Tecumseh's most popular playground is again a quagmire this spring.

While school officials debate over which course to follow in cleaning up the "mess" at old Monument Park, across the street west from the Central building, boys and girls continue to literally wallow in the bottomless mud.

An interested group of PTA members took up the issue two weeks ago and received the go ahead sign from the Village Council. Their next move is to meet with the school board.

Chariman Bill Wright said he felt that if anything is going to be accomplished, the committee is going to do it themselves.

However, Supt. James McDowell has inquired from the state board of education for information on surfacing such an area and may initiate a program to black-top the muddy surface.

McDowell said that numberless loads of gravel and stone have been dumped on the playground from time to time and have actually disappeared in the bottomless mud.

WORK CONTINUES

McDowell also reported "very satisfactory progress" at the Patterson school site where almost daily changes can be noticed. Already footings have been poured and some of the foundation walls are up.

Little advancement has been made at the high school as the Miller-Davis construction firm is concentrating all effort at the elementary site.

Brick for both jobs has arrived.

MERLYN WAGNER FIRST IN DISTRICT DEBATE

"The Future Farmer and His Farm Cooperative" was Merlyn Wagner's winning forensic subject Tuesday as the Tecumseh high senior won first place in the district FFA speech contest at Britton.

Wagner will compete at a later date in the regional contest at Hanover high school.

Adrian won first and Tecumseh third in parliamentary procedure and Onsted finished first in the FFA demonstration.

Saturday Night Stays, Storemen Vote 28 - 15

Tradition withstood protest Tuesday afternoon when a spirited group of merchants voted down a proposal to change from the "old fashioned" Saturday night shopping in Tecumseh to the more "modern" Friday night.

The final vote tallied:

Saturday Night	28
Friday Night	15

But the result was not conclusive for a group of Friday nighters in the grocery business agreed only "to a point" and may at a future date band together and change to Friday night which they claim is more suited to their particular trade.

The actual vote climaxed an hour's spirited exchange of ideas and opinions on the subject before a representative group of businessmen gathered in the council chamber.

Yale Shenefield was first spokesman for the Friday night boosters and reviewed many of the facts printed earlier in the Herald.

Earl Baldwin then spoke for the champions of Saturday night and added to other facts already stated for the night of his choice, that "something is lacking in Tecumseh." The new Chamber of Commerce president was referring to "cooperation among the businessmen and promotion."

Leo Lohrman acted as moderator, and between discussions stated that "we should stop thinking about Adrian and start thinking about Tecumseh."

George French said that selection in the grocery business is better on Friday night. Jim Osborne returned that the proof shows customers prefer to shop in Tecumseh on Saturday.

Others who spoke were Mrs. Bert Ousterhout, Fay Whelan, Dick Jennings, E. C. Brandt, Harry Curry, Harold Easton, Eldon Peasley, Dick Eggleston, Ned Rosacrans, Ed Heilman, and Chet Merritt.

A proposal to close stores at 5:30 p. m. instead of 6:00 every night, except 7:00 on Friday and 9:00 on Saturday was indefinitely tabled at the conclusion of the meeting.

Local Author To Publish New Book

"AMOS BERRY" IS BOOK FIND CLUB SELECTION

Book Find Club, one of the more Book Fnd Club, one of the more selective clubs of the publishing world, is a new book by an author who is a resident of Tecumseh. "Amos Berry" is the title of a novel by Allan Seager to be published February 27 by Simon & Schuster.

In 1951, Mr. Seager published a collection of short stories, "The Old Man of the Mountain," his previous novels being "Equinox," (1943), and "The Inheritance," (1948).

He has also written about sixty short stories, five of which have appeared in the "Best Short Story" annuals and one in the "O. Henry Collection." These include the $5000 prize selection of Good Housekeeping magazine a few years ago. His work has been translated into French, German, Spanish, Portuguese, and Italian.

Mr. Seager, who has been described by publisher Bennett Cerf as one of the country's important younger writers, was born in Adrian and graduated from the University of Michigan. As a Rhodes Scholar he studied at Oriel College, Oxford, and for some time was one of the editors of Vanity Fair magazine in New York.

An associate professor of English at Ann Arbor, he teaches short story writing and through his interest and counseling follows the careers of many young writers. He lives at 309 W. Chicago Blvd. with his wife, Barbara, and daughters, Mary and Laura.

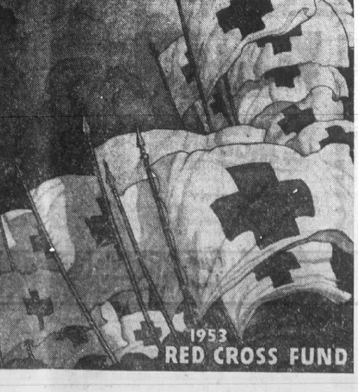
When asked who Amos Berry is, Mr. Seager said, "He is the classic American of the history books, the man trying to be free." In the novel Mr. Seager has tried to isolate the special pressures of our time that trap Amos Berry and lead him to commit murder.

During the early stages of the research and thought that went into the novel Mr. Seager characterized it as "a long, heavy, serious book that no one would read," but the verdict of the Book Find Club and book reviewers across the country together with the advance demand are disproving his prediction.

Copies of the novel, "Amos Berry" may be purchased at Wright's Drug store.

CHARLES B. O'NEILL BURIED IN BROOKSIDE

Funeral services for Charles B. O'Neill who died suddenly February 16 at his home in Minneapolis, Minn., were held Friday at 2:30 p.m. at the Collins Funeral Home. The Rev. George Walworth conducted the services and the bearers were Charles Mensing, Paul Keyser, Donald Nixon, Fred Mendez, Vincent Haight and Victor Humble. Burial was in Brookside cemetery. Friends and relatives attended from Minneapolis, Oelwein, Iowa, Chicago, Ill., Detroit, Adrian, Clinton, Tipton, Britton and Tecumseh.



The "marching Flags" poster of the late N. C. Wyeth, first used by the Red Cross in 1933 and repeated in 1947, will be used again as the poster of the 1953 Fund Campaign because of its great popularity. Repeated also is last year's slogan, "Answer the Call."

THRIFTY SHOPPERS BID FEBRUARY ADIEU

What better way to finish off the great month of February than to join the army of thrifty shoppers this week-end in "our town" and share the scores of End-O-Month bargains?

It will be fun for you, and fun for your pocketbook as the whole business district will be alive with specials and extra specials, values for all the family —— all priced way below the tags you've been used to.

When you study this week's ads and shop for the savings in The Herald, you'll feel as good as the many others who exclaim, "You can buy it in Tecumseh — cheaper".

Red Cross Drive Opens March 2nd

Tecumseh's 1953 American Red Cross membership drive opens March 2, with workers at the United Savings Bank every day, except Thursdays, during the entire month of March to receive contributions and to issue membership cards.

The need this year is very urgent — with the everpressing call for aid in Korea and the increased requests for services from our boys in this country as well as in Germany added to the relief to the flood stricken areas in Europe — the Red Cross has had to increase the quota of every chapter in the country. The Tecumseh quota for 1953 is materially increased making the problem of the committee more difficult.

Mrs. L. W. Larsen, local chairman, is confident the people of Tecumseh and surrounding area will meet this request just as they have done in past years. The Red Cross has never let the country down in time of need and the people of Tecumseh township have always upheld their share of the cost of this great humanitarian organization.

There will be absolutely no canvas this year either in the homes or on the business street in Tecumseh. Through a misunderstanding last year the correct amount allocated by the United Foundation Fund to the Red Cross was not credited to Tecumseh township. Consequently Mrs. Larsen and Mrs. Haight found it necessary to do some personal solicitation in order to meet the quota. This year the amount collected by the United Foundation from industry has been credited to Tecumseh in advance of the drive and the balance will be collected at the Bank through voluntary contributions.

Anyone wishing to contribute but unable to come to the bank may mail their check to Mrs. Larsen, or call any member of the committee and they will be glad to call at your home bringing your membership card with them.

Those volunteering to serve on this committee are as follows: Mrs. Robert Hanna, Mrs. Don Heeson, Mrs. H. H. Hanna, Mrs. Earl Wickwire, Mrs. Joe Rohweder, Mrs. M. G. Partridge, Mrs. C. Hanna, Mrs. Iva Marsh, Mrs. Edna Codling, Mrs. Paul Ammerand, Mrs. Albert Merz.

For the convenience of those living in the township because of the distance involved, Mrs. Berl Osburn and Mrs. Jack Smith will conduct a canvas.

ASSEMBLY OF GOD PASTORS RESIGN

The Rev. and Mrs. A. S. Dimbat have submitted their resignation to the Assembly of God church after four years of pastoring and building. Announcement was made at the Sunday morning service.

Mr. and Mrs. Dimbat came to Tecumseh from Toledo and were installed as pastors March 9, 1949. Soon after, they began a building program and Sunday school crusade.

With the support of many friends, members and businessmen, ground was broken in 1950 for a new church which was dedicated in October of 1951. The result is a modern edifice, an incorporated church, located on West Bidwell street.

A new pastor is to be summoned immediately. Mr. and Mrs. Dimbat's plans are indefinite at the present time.

SERVICES HELD FOR EDWARD L. MARK

Edward Leon Mark, husband of Lavina J. Mark, died Thursday morning, February 19, at his home, "Pinecroft," two miles south of Tecumseh.

With the exception of four years residence in Florida, he spent his entire life in Tecumseh. Mr. Mark owned and operated for many years the Bradley Opera House until his retirement from business.

He was preceded in death by his parents, Thomas and Elizabeth Mark, a sister Florence and a brother Leroy A. His former wife, Bessie Zimmerman Mark died seventeen years ago.

Mr. Mark is survived by his wife, a nephew Albert Leroy Mark of Ravenna; a cousin, Mrs. Lulu Mark DeShelter, of Adrian, and a sister-in-law, Mrs. Viola Mark of Tecumseh.

Funeral services were conducted Saturday at 3 p.m. at the residence by Volney T. Malott, C. S. of Second Church of Christ, Scientist, Toledo. Burial was in Brookside cemetery. Bearers were Oscar Snyder, John Lott, Clarence Wagner, Rhobe Crots, Harold Hassenzahl and Carl Gruber.

TECUMSEH KEEPS PACE AS WORLD MOVES AHEAD

With the advent of modern plumbing and the turn of a faucet that brings hot or cold water, the old cistern our forefathers deemed necessary is being discarded.

Some people try to supplement the loss of rain water for laundry purposes by the use of detergents and strong soaps which are costly and sometimes cause skin allergies.

Servisoft, Inc., originator of Soft Water Service for the home, takes pleasure in announcing that James M. McNulty has been awarded the Servisoft franchise for Lenawee County. The official name of Mr. McNulty's new soft water operation is Servisoft of Lenawee, 106 E. Logan.

Mr. McNulty will make available to the people in Lenawee county the Servisoft soft water service that has become nationally famous.

I will be at the United Savings Bank Saturday, February 14, 21 and 28 for the collection of Tecumseh Township taxes, fire insurance, and dog tax. Will also accept payments by check or money order mailed to my residence, 211 W. Brown st. Final date for payment of taxes March 1. Lawrence Mohr, Township Treasurer. 2/26

IT'S A PRIVILEGE — When you accept a license from the people of the State of Michigan (in a democracy the people make up the government whether it be local, state or national), to drive an automobile, or any other vehicle covered by the licensing law, you take the following pledge, not in so many words, but in meaning, "I understand that the license is a privilege, not a right. In accepting this privilege, I promise to obey all the traffic laws. If I disobey any, I have misused the privilege and therefore expect to lose this license."

This pledge is implied on your part when you accept a license to operate a high-powered, fast moving machine on the same highway with thousands of others. Automobiles are unfortunately built more for speed than safety. Unfortunately because highway fatalities far surpass all others.

Your newspaper joins with others in the State of Michigan to urge a real "get tough" policy on the part of law enforcement officers. They must go to the limit of their power to stop the slaughter on the highway and make driving a privilege for only those who no not misuse the rights of their license.

The Herald further advocates the immediate passage of a maximum highway speed law by the state legislature in Lansing which would make it illegal to exceed the 60 mile an hour limit anywhere in the state during the daytime and 50 miles an hour at night. It is a matter of life and death, and the hour is already late.

REPORTS RED SPOTS — Governor Williams and the public servants who have been juggling the state's money in Lansing now come up with a report that they are seeing red spots where once there were black. "The financial situation which we face is indeed a desperate one," the Governor said in his report on the Treasury. "On June 30, 1952, the state was $65 million in debt and for the current fiscal year legislative appropriations have already reached $331 million, against estimated revenues of $304 million. It thus seems probable that the state's deficit will reach $90 million by June 1953.

"The accumulated deficit cannot be ignored; but the real problem lies in the fact that, for six straight years, we have been overspending. Any real solution to our problem must close the annual gap between expenditures and revenue; we must make some provision for the orderly and gradual retirement for the $90 million deficit."

Those were the words of the man who ought to know, for his business is so close to bankruptcy that last year's money can not be spared to the financially burdened schools.

NATIONAL BROTHERHOOD — At 75, Carl Sandberg, expresses the common faith of all God's children in this very recent poem that expresses the unity that underlies the vast diversity of human life and all living things.

"There is only one horse on the earth and his name is All Horses.
There is only one bird in the air and his name is All Wings.
There is only one fish in the seas and his name is All Fins.
There is only one man in the world and his name is All Men.
There is only one woman in the world and her name is All Women.
There is only one child in the world and the child's name is All Children.
There is only one Maker in the world and His children cover the earth and they are named All God's Children."

THAT GREATER POWER — "I never behold the stars that I do not feel that I am looking at the face of God. I can see how it might be possible for a man to look upon the earth and be an atheist, but I cannot conceive how we could look up into the heavens and say there is no God." —Abraham Lincoln.

Lower Cost For Every Funeral....

... is the constant aim of the Green Funeral Home. For every funeral must have dignity and quality — we would not offer less.

Living With Peace Of Mind

By KIRBY PAGE

Calmness of soul comes from communion with the starry firmament. Wise is the man who pauses in the night for a far look into the heavens, and blessed is the individual who reflects upon distance, magnitude, speed and precision. Those twinkling rays of light, from what remote source have they come? Their long journey began milleniums before the cavemen decorated his walls with the crude gropings of his hand. How immense these celestial points of fire! How swift, how precise their eternal motion. Be possessed to the depths of your being by the majesty, the grandeur of the creative work of the living God. How infinitesimal is our knowledge of the universe! The known is washed on every shore by the unending tides of the unknown. The visible is engulfed by the invisible. Share the rich experience of Clinton Scollard!

I am an intimate of night
Its deep and dewy silences,
Its starry parallels of light—
Orion and the Pleiades.
I share the watches of the moon,
Its golden witcheries I share;
The secrets of the winds that croon
Down purple chasms of the air.
The lunar moth with emerald wings—
I know its path,
I know its goal;
The lone night-thrush's
rapturings
And all the pasion of its soul.
I am as one who walks alone
Through shadowed gardens of delight,
Seeing the Great Will on its throne—
I am an intimate of night.

Look at you -way out front!

Television treat—the BUICK CIRCUS HOUR—every fourth Tuesday.

THE GREATEST BUICK IN 50 GREAT YEARS

THE getaway of any 1953 Buick—SPECIAL, SUPER or ROADMASTER—is, in one word, dazzling.

Two things account for this. First: increased horsepowers and compression ratios. Second: Buick's new Twin-Turbine Dynaflow Drive.*

In every SUPER and ROADMASTER for 1953 is a new kind of V8 Engine—the first Fireball V8—and the world's most advanced V8, first in any passenger car to reach 8.5 to 1 compression. In every SPECIAL is a newly designed F-263 Fireball 8 Engine with the highest horsepower and compression ever offered in this Series.

To get fullest benefit from these brilliant engines, Buick engineers designed a new Dynaflow with two turbines instead of one.

Result: flash-fast getaway—less sound—and improved efficiency—added to the infinite smoothness of this power transfer. Getaway that brings the 1953 Buick SPECIAL up to 30 mph in fewer seconds than the mighty 1952 ROADMASTER.

But these Golden Anniversary Buicks put you way ahead in more than time and distance.

You're way out front in style, in comfort, in ride, in handling ease—and, very definitely, in value.

We'd like to prove that to you—while you're sampling any one of the greatest Buicks in fifty great years. Why not drop in this week?

Standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.*

Letters To The Editor

Hot Springs, Arkansas
Feb. 16, 1953

Editor, The Herald:

Received The Herald today and am really surprised at somebody bringing up that Saturday night closing subject again after the terrible flop we had when we tried it one summer not long ago.

Tecumseh is a Saturday night town and it took the "Appreciation Days" boost to bring it back after that costly trial.

Those Friday nights we were open, there was no crowd on the streets and now look at our Saturday nights, Chicago st. full of folks and they are trading.

Sorry I'm not there to give more vent to my feelings but pass this on to the meeting as my two bits and I'm sure my partner, Ned, feels as I and the majority of Tecumseh merchants feel on the subject.

Sincerely yours,
Leon Rosacrans

This was followed by a quiz program conducted by Mrs. Truman Rentschler on "Pioneer Life in America."

The club will meet at the same place on March 19 but with a potluck supper at 6:30 p.m. instead of the usual noon meal.

EXCHANGE CLUB

Members of the Exchange Club met Wednesday evening at the Country Club for their regular weekly meeting. Speaker of the evening was N. L. Stuart, field representative for Auto Owners Insurance Co. Mr. Stuart was the guest of club president, George McCombs.

BUSINESS WOMEN SEE FILMS OF FRANCE

Seventy-three members and guests of the Business and Professional Woman's Club met in the Fellowship Center of the Presbyterian church Monday evening. The program began with group singing of "America" accompanied by Mrs. Edna Staulter, followed by the invocation given by Mrs. M. G. Partridge. Dinner was served by the Women's Association of the church, an unusual touch being added by centerpieces of American and French flags.

Honor guests were Mrs. W. W. Cook, president of the Lenawee County Federation of Women's clubs and Mrs. Paul Ahleman, the Federation's vice president, and president of the Adrian Woman's Club. As two club members are candidates for village office, Mrs. Naomi Sallows for clerk and Mrs. Myrna Tingley for treasurer, campaign speeches were called for. Both complied briefly.

Corresponding secretary, Mrs. Duaine Service, reported two letters, one regarding the Adult Education Institute to be held March 13 and 14 in Ann Arbor with all day sessions. All members are eligible to attend on the payment of two dollars by the club. The second communication wa sfrom the Lenawee Chapter of the American Red Cross requesting at least five blood donors from the club. It was stressed that this is a most important cause. The president, Miss Mabel Lockwood, also reminded members to tune in station WABJ, Adrian, March 5 at 11:15 a.m. to hear Mrs. Service introduce Miss Gertrude Spaulding, the club's Woman of the Year.

It was then brought to the attention of the club that the Tecumseh Herald in an editorial concerning the need for rest rooms in our town, had suggested this as a project for the club. The president appointed a committee consisting of Mrs. George French, Miss Marjorie Wickwire and Mrs. Edna Staulter to look into the matter.

The program committee, Mrs. Dale Tingley, Miss Marie Koernig and Mrs. H. W. Truesdale then presented one of the most interesting programs of the year. Mr. and Mrs. Edward Boss, introduced by Mrs. Ray Sluyter, showed colored pictures taken on their recent trip through France. Mrs. Boss gave a running commentary and description of the scenes which covered the ocean voyage, their stay in Paris and trip through the south of France. Those most enjoyed were the panoramic views from the Eiffel Tower, the beautiful stained glass windows from within Notre Dame Cathedral, the Greek and Roman remains in southern France and the traces of prehistoric man that were the climax of the trip for Mr. Boss. The club members were most appreciative of this opportunity to visit France by proxy.

Hostesses for the meeting were Mrs. Ruth La Prad, Mrs. Rajola Laskey and Miss Myrtle Mattis.

The next meeting of the club, March 23, will be a trip through the Revco plant at Deerfield. The honor guest of this meeting is to be a surprise and the hostesses are Mrs. James Hartsell, Miss Lucille Hawley and Miss Alice Hopkins.

CHAPTER AJ. P.E.O.

Mrs. Ellsworth Collins was hostess at a dessert luncheon meeting of chapter AJ of P.E.O. Tuesday afternoon. After the regular business meeting an interesting letter was read from Nita Spangler, student at the organization sponsored Cottey college at Nevada, Missouri, acknowledging a valentine greeting from the group. She wrote at some length of the foreign student activities at Cottey.

The program was conducted by Mrs. Walter Pfaus in the absence of Mrs. John Keeney, who is in Florida, and consisted of contributions from each member about the msuic of some foreign land. Mrs. Collins then played several musical recordings, including Brahm's Symphony in D major and concluded the afternoon with some delightful recordings of bird songs and calls which have been produced by a professor at Cornell University.

The next meeting of P.E.O. will be March 10 at the home of Mrs. Earl Pennington in Ridgeway and will be the annual election and installation of officers.

NORTHEAST EXTENSION

Sixteen members of the Northeast Extension club met with Mrs. Wilbur Boyce, Tuesday evening for a special project meeting, which consisted of demonstration and practice in painting designs on china plates. This was one of the lessons given last summer at the Extension camp at Wamplers lake, and the information was brought to this group by Mrs. Elmer Wilt. The women traced patterns and painted them according to their own taste, the designs to be baked on after drying. The club will next meet at the home of Mrs. Dorothy Blanchard, March 24.

Tecumseh Cops 12th Victory

Jim Wilson led the scoring as the Tecumseh Indians skinned the Hudson Tigers 61-48 for the Indian's twelfth victory. The game was played at Hudson Tuesday night.

Wilson netted 29 of Tecumseh's points to gain top scoring honors. Sweezey of Hudson was next with 14.

At the end of the first quarter the Tigers held a slim two point lead on the Indians. But that lead didn't last long, for the Indians came charging back and at the end of the half Tecumseh led 32-18. The Hudson five came back strong in the second half, but not strongly enough. The final score read Tecumseh 61, Hudson 48.

The Tecumseh Indians rolled to their 13th victory Friday night on their home court to the tune of 63 to 45 over the Sugar Boys from Blissfield.

The third period saw the Indians stretching the lead to a 45 to 37 score with the Indians outscoring the Sugar Boys 15 to 10.

The final period saw the Indians double the Sugar Boys scoring efforts 16 to 8 for their 13th win and the second over Blissfield 63 to 45.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Wrong "Train" of Thought

Most of us knew the streamliner stopped about four miles from town last Thursday — but we didn't know why . . .

Seems the train was hurrying along, then came the screeching of brakes — some fellow had pulled the Emergency Stop cord.

When the conductor asked him why he did it, he said, "The train was just going too fast—I wanted to get you to slow down."

From where I sit, that streamliner has been going at that speed for the past seven years with a perfect safety record and the passengers have always been pleased. Now—along comes a fellow who wants the train to go at his speed. Some people are like that. Some still would begrudge another person's right to a temperate glass of beer even though that person wouldn't dream of flashing a "Stop" sign on their preference for, say, milk, coffee or tea. Respecting the rights of others is the only way we can keep "on the right track."

Grade School News

Kindergarten
Mrs. Updike

Our kindergarten had $23.11 in our March of Dimes cards. We had a real march with them too on the day we sent them all in. It made us so happy to be able to help the sick children get better.

We have had some good moving pictures that Mr. Greene has shown us. We enjoyed the one about the Eskimo children the very most. Many stories about the Eskimoes have been coming to school and we have learned the meaning of many new words such as parka, kayack, ice-berg, and igloo.

For Valentine's Day we converted our grocery store into a post office and on the day of our party we had a postmaster and mail men too.

Our chief of police, Mr. Kilbourn, came to school on Keith's birthday. He let us try on his hand cuffs and he showed us his beautiful badge too. Many of us had never been so close to a real policeman before. We had the police car parked in front of our school, too.

Our manuscript writing improves every day and the names on the number chart are growing as more of us know all the numbers on the calendar. We are reading many things about fruits and vegetables and other food that helps us grow big and strong. Our folk dances and songs are about the farmers, the sun, the rain and the animals on the farms.

Kindergarten
Miss Hammack

We are working on our word books now and we like them very much.

We have a store in our room now which we all helped build. We take turns being clerks and the rest of us buy groceries. Two of our people brought real cash registers so we have a place for our money.

A lot of our people are getting quite old. Nancy Lewis, Barry Roe, and Terry Hicks were six a short time ago and brought us a treat.

On Friday, Feb. 13, we had a Valentine party. We had lots of fun getting ready for it. We decorated our room, made valentines and chose valentines to bring for our friends. We had good things to eat and had lots of valentines to take home.

We have had lots of fun playing in the snow but we are looking forward to spring.

First Grade
Mrs. Garlick

In our reading classes, most of us have finished our Pre-Primers. We know enough words to be able to read easily in our "Happy Days" books. We do enjoy our reading classes.

We had a very nice Valentine party. Heart shaped cookies were our treat. Our room mothers brought new paper bags for us to use in carrying our valentines home. We do want to say "Thank You" to them because we did not lose any valentines on the way home.

We have had a lot of people out of school with colds and two with chicken-pox. We expect to have everyone back soon.

We have been hearing the story of "Peter Pan" during story hour. We have also listened to some records from the movie "Peter Pan." We hope to see this picture when it comes to Tecumseh.

Mary Ellen Smith brought us some pussy willows. It snowed that afternoon. We expect to have some wintry days, but we are watching for the signs of spring.

Second Grade
Miss LaPointe

Our two new pupils are LaDeana and Kenneth Southwell. They came from the Pentecost school near Tipton.

In honor of Lincoln's birthday we have read stories about his life and learned many interesting facts about him. We will read about George Washington and dramatize events of his life.

Larry McClain brought a cocoon to school. We are anxious for the moth to hatch.

About two-thirds of our class have been out of school with the chicken pox. All are back now except Deborah Holden.

We are trying to learn how to tell time since we have learned the Roman numbers from one to twelve.

We all enjoyed our Valentine party and are grateful to the mothers who sent us the delicious refreshments.

First Grade
Mrs. VanValkenburg

Many girls and boys have been ill the last two weeks. Harold Butler had his tonsil operation a week ago Friday.

We have finished another reading book, "Guess Who." We are reading our new book, "Fun with Dick and Jane" also "Happy Days." We certainly enjoy reading the funny and interesting stories in our books.

The room mothers helped Mrs. Preston with our Valentine party. We enjoyed their valentine cookies. Each of us made our own valentine box. On Valentine's Day we had a parade to show our boxes to the second grade and the kindergarten.

Second Grade
Mrs. VanWinkle

Our second grade had a very nice Valentine party. We are happy that we didn't start our colds and flu until this week, so that most of us were able to enjoy the party.

The colors red, white and blue, can be seen all around our room this month. We are, of course, celebrating the birthdays of three great Americans, Thomas Edison, Abraham Lincoln, and George Washington.

We had fun this week having a spell down, just like the children in the older grades have. We had a hard time spelling down some of our folks. We had to use words that we have not had in our spelling lessons, to do so.

Third Grade
Mrs. Buttolph

We had a nice Valentine party. Each one received many valentines. For refreshments we had ice cream and heart shaped cookies. For entertainment we watched a movie.

Our Valentine Post Office is still open for business because in language we are studying letter writing. Before we made our Post Office we visited the real one to learn many things about boxes, stamps, sorting and delivering mail.

Richard Cobb recently brought a visitor to school. It was a mud puppy. Some of us got excited when Mrs. Buttolph lifted him out of the pail so that we could measure his length. We never did get the ruler on him because he was so slimy no one could hold him long enough to measure him.

Fifth Grade
Mrs. Boltz

Our Patrol Boys for this semester are Lieutenant James Poley, Johney Green, James Curth, Ralph Helzerman, Fred Jeschke, Sheldon Nichols. The substitutes are: Richard Solarski, James Beach, Charles Baird, Donald Whelan, Harold Underwood.

The Service Squad Girls consist of: Alice Titley, Doris Oliphant, Carole Runk, with Jane Dillon, Janet Harris, Karen Hall and Peggy Robinette as substitutes.

We have been doing some interesting experiments in science. Some of them are filling a glass more than full, and lighting a candle without touching the wick with a flame.

We had a very good Valentine Day play called "The Kindly Heart." It was directed by Jane Dillon and the cast consisted of: King, Ralph Helzerman; Queen, Judy Moynihan; Pages, Doris Oliphant and Alice Titley; Painter, Donald Whelan; Poet, Carol Runk; Cutter, Lavonne Lister; Susan, Sharon Schultz; Messenger, Patty Teegarden; Dr. Throb, Christine Gainey; Properties, Sally Hunt; Curtain, Harry Naugle. The play was announced by Peggy Robinette.

Sixth Grade
Mrs. Uckele

We had a very nice Valentine party. Megene Warren and Cleo Shaw made our valentine box. Sandra Ross, Donna Spangler, Mary Lou McConnell, Katherine West, Bonnie Iseler, and Suzanne Rohweder furnished the cookies. We all made decorations for our room.

We are studying about the Netherlands and Belgium. We each made a chart. As we study we put the important things down under certain headings. It is lots of fun and it helps us remember our lesson.

Sixth Grade
Mrs. Runk

We had our Valentine party on February 13. We exchanged valentines and Donna Nixon's mother brought refreshments for us. We each had individually wrapped packages of cookies and also ice cream.

We bought an acquarium for our room and also some guppies. Bettie Kizer's grandmother gave us some of her guppies, too. We find raising tropical fish in this weather with its variations of temperature is a difficult procedure, although we now have eleven babies. Marilyn Mack brought an acquarium and other equipment, too. We are going to use this acquarium for any turtles, tadpoles, salamanders and other of nature's spring visitors which may visit our classroom.

Greg Mason is on vacation in Florida, and Gary Abner in California. They have both written cards to us, making us very envious.

We are studying European countries in our social studies class. We have written for and received many interesting booklets and maps from travel agencies and foreign information bureaus. Mrs. Colson, the third grade teacher, brought pictures taken by her son of scenes in Amsterdam and Kampen in the Netherlands, which we find most interesting.

We elected new class officers the last of January. They are: President, Nanette Walper; vice president, Sarah Wright; secretary, Sherry Tucker; and treasurer, Sandra Smith.

Methodist Pastor Traces Tecumseh's Early Settlement

By Rev. R. A. Brunger

(This is the sixth in a series of historical sketches which outline the settlement of Tecumseh, founding and growth of the local Methodist church).

Isaac Bangs was also a son of Rev. Joseph Bangs, and brother of Alanson Bangs. Pilcher tells us that he "opened his house for services." Doubtless the services conducted by the class leader in the interim between the coming of the circuit preacher, were held in homes rather than in the schoolhouse. The first quarterly meeting in Tecumseh was held in the summer of 1829 in the home of Isaac Bangs. The presiding elder was Zarah Costen of Detroit.

Hiram Adams was born in Vermont in 1798. When a boy his family moved to New York state, from whence he had come to "the western wilds of Michigan." He located in Brownville and was a maker of chairs. The 1869 Tecumseh Directory listed him as a Cabinet maker, on River Street, now Water St. between Mill and Maumee, along the River. His obituary informs us that "his house was the home of the early Methodist itinerants."

"He was a man of industry and a man of more than ordinary attainments. He had a clear, logical mind and might have won distinction in any community. But he was wedded to a fault, he always underrated his abilities and his efforts . . . He was a man of meek and quiet spirit and a good reliable citizen. He was also a worthy Christian and was truly childlike in faith and humility. He gave no offense in word or deed. In the church likewise he was modest and retiring." He quietly passed away Sunday evening Nov. 18, 1883 at the age of 84, after being afflicted for 20 years with poor health.

Elizabeth S. Adams was evidently a fervent Christian. She died on Feb. 26, 1853 at the age of 50. Her obituary stated: "Mrs. Adams has been a consistent member of the Methodist Episcopal Church in this place, since its earliest organization, and her loss will be severely felt by that society, as well as by her husband and children . . . she rests from her labors and her works do follow her."

This little handful of charter members was the nucleus of a considerable congregation which assembled in the Brownville school on the Sabbath when the circuit rider was in town. Apparently from the beginning, Tecumseh was important enough to rate a Sunday preaching date on the Monroe circuit. The service would be long, with considerable singing, long prayers, perhaps testimonials, and a long and fervent sermon. Possibly there was both a morning and afternoon service; the account of William Cross indicates that they returned home in the afternoon.

In the spring of 1828, a large number of the citizens of Tecumseh were showing their public spirit by giving sacrificial gifts for the erection of a county courthouse at Tecumseh. The Subscription paper was headed with the following:

'Whereas, the present situation of the county of Lenawee absolutely requires that a court house and goal (jail) for said county, be erected in the township of Tecumseh. We the undersigned, deeply feeling the necessity of such a measure, do hereby guarantee to pay a building committee, consisting of M. Evans, S. Blanchard, D. Pitman, M. Smith, and Thomas Goodrich, Esqr., the several sums annexed to each of our names, on or before the first day of May, 1829, in such funds, consisting of materials, labor, produce, cash, of articles which shall be signed."

The date of this paper was April 7th, 1828. Among the gifts were the following: Musgrove Evans $150.00; Wing, Evans & Brown, Bond, 600.00; Daniel Pitman 75.00; Stilman Blanchard 100.00; Jacob Woodard, in grain 10.00; Thomas Griswold, work and lumber 50.00; Alanson Bangs, in lumber or work 25.00; R. J. & Wm. H. Cross, materials or work 50.00; Joseph Bangs, to be paid in the course of one year, 5.00; Isaac Bangs 5.00." There were a total of 60 gifts listed, a notable record, when we recall that a pioneer country is poor.

The universe would be a mistake if there was no hell for selfish people.

A critic is one who cannot do anything but tell others how to do it.

The Bible

The Bible, declared to be the Word of God, is quick and powerful; it is sharp, even sharper than a sword of warfare. It pierces, and reaches the inward part of man, commonly known as the "inner man;" it also reveals the condition of the heart, and discerns the thoughts of man.

"Bible" means "The Book." It is the only one of its kind that can be classified as "The Book," or the Bible. It includes both the Old and New Testaments.

The Bible is known to be God's book given unto man to guide him in righteousness, or rightful living which is pleasing unto the Most High; also, it points, and directs him to the Way of Heaven

It is written to the Wisdom and Will of God. He knew there would be some who would not like to live by it, and would like to alter and change it — so He said to Israel "Ye shall not add unto the Word — Neither shall ye diminish ought from it."

God's penalty described in Revelation would be spiritual capital punishment. The transgressor would sure receive justice in any case.

The Bible was written under God's stewardship and the penalty of taking away from its completeness means a name erased from the Book of Life, and he forfeits his right to the Holy City.

The Bible is the oldest book in the world and has the widest circulation. It has lived through every age and generation, and survived its millions of enemies with their unscrupulous attacks. "Heaven and earth shall pass away, but the Word of God will stand forever." After heavens are passed away with a great noise, the elements melted with fervent heat, and the earth burned, the Word will be standing.

It will always survive — Infidels, Atheists have all defied God's Word; disbelieved it, discredited it, made fun of it, etc., millions died; the Bible still lives.

The Bible is spiritually, meat for the strong, and milk for the weak. It has found and stablized many a lost man. It is the most powerful and influential book ever written. Its influence is detected in governments, businesses, schools, churches, individuals, and institutions. Even those who do not believe, are affected by its existence and teaching.

Compare the citizenship of those who believe and adhere to its teaching. Study the history of the nations, and compare those who accept it, with those who do not.

There is a blessing to those who will read, study, and meditate upon God's word to man.

ONE HUNDRED SECOND YEAR — NUMBER 22 TECUMSEH, MICHIGAN, MARCH 5, 1953 FIVE CENTS A COPY

A Voter's Place Is At The Polls Monday

Monday is again V-Day in Tecumseh, a day for 1,800 registered voters to show their interest in the affairs of local government by turning out to V-O-T-E.

Last year an uninterested Tecumseh turned out but 101 strong to return the People's Party into office. There was no contest.

This year voters have a choice, thanks to the rebirth of local political interest by the recently formed Citizen's Party which opposes the People's Party.

The contest, though no dividing issues have been brought up, and the increased enthusiasm over the big business of running a village, are expected to attract a record number of ballots. In 1950 when the People's Party defeated the Progressives, 700 votes were cast.

This number could easily be doubled Monday as both parties agree on the importance of getting out the vote.

Both precincts vote at the Council Building (Fire Hall) on Monday anytime between the hours of 7 a.m. and 8 p.m.

Automatic voting machines will be in use. Custodian of the machines, Charles Manley, said that a vote can actually be cast in "three seconds," it is that simple.

A voter can either vote a straight or split ticket.

Opposing candidates for Village President are J. H. Rohweder (P) and E. M. Campbell (C), for Assessor are T. J. Wagner (P) and Harry Stanifer (C). Each voter will select three trustees from the opposing slates of People's: Charles Mensing, Paul Clauda and Karl Schneider or Citizen's: Glenn Driscoll, Clarence Beach and Vern Manwaring.

If you vote a straight ticket by pulling the large handle out, you can still vote for any of the trustee candidates on the other slate by simply eliminating a trustee on the straight ticket. The five machines are set up so that you can vote for any three trustees regardless of how their names are arranged.

A demonstration machine is set up at the Fire Hall for trial use prior to the election.

Early Red Cross Response Light

Tecumseh's response to the first week of the 1953 local Red Cross drive is reported "very light" by chairman Mrs. L. W. Larson but hopes are high for the village's whole-hearted support of the drive as in the past.

Volunteer workers are at United Savings Bank each weekday except Thursday to accept contributions. So far these have been slow but the drive continues through the month of March.

Mrs. Larson said a number of clubs and organizations have indicated their support through donations again this year.

SERVICES TODAY FOR MRS. JOSEPH VARGO

Mrs. Joseph Vargo, 225 E. Brown street, died in Bixby hospital Sunday. She had been a patient there only a few days but had been an invalid for a number of years. Mrs. Vargo was 57 years old and was a native of Hungary, coming to America when she was sixteen. The family has lived in this vicinity about 20 years.

Funeral services will be conducted by the Rev. A. Jeschke of Grace Lutheran church, 2 p.m. Thursday at the Tagsold Funeral Home in Blissfield. Burial will be in Pleasant View Cemetery, Blissfield.

Mrs. Vargo is survived by her husband, Joseph, three daughters, Mrs. Jack O'Neil of Winslow, Ariz., Mrs. Raymond DeWaegeneer of New Haven, and Mrs. Charles Kohler, jr. of Blissfield; one son, Joseph M. Vargo of Rt. 1, Adrian; ten grandchildren and her mother and two sisters in Hungary.

Council Grants Pay Boosts To Police, Firemen

KRONER RESIGNS AS CLERK, ORDINANCES CHANGED MONDAY NITE

Four policemen and two firemen, all full time village employees, were granted $5 a week pay increases at a meeting of the council Monday night. Officers who are effected are Chief George Kilbourn, Patrolmen Bob Seitz, Oliver Heberlein and Donald Rodehaver, Bob Purkey and Charles Manley are the full time firemen on duty. The rest of the force is voluntary and paid on a work-hour basis.

Also Monday night, clerk Robert Kroner announced his resignation which was accepted. He will move in the near future to New Jersey to become branch manager of a bank in Sea Isle City. Mrs. Naomi Sallows was named to fill the vacancy until after the election. She is an unopposed candidate for the office.

Kroner reported a number of interested bidders in the garbage collection contract which will be granted April 1. The village ordinance concerning garbage collection was changed to read "twice daily the year around by an enclosed truck of suitable water tight construction."

Two other ordinances were changed. One makes it unlawful to interfere with a village official or employee while discharging his duties and the other provides that it shall be unlawful to climb upon, handle or molest any village property without authorization.

A curb and gutter program was also approved and finance committee chairman Charles Mensing presented the annual village audit which shows a praiseworthy cash balance of $65,537.97 for the village general operating fund at Jan. 1, 1953.

The council denied a petition by the telephone company to install a public phone booth on the sidewalk adjoining Wright's Drug store on So. Evans street. Another petition to place a house trailer on East Cummins was denied and the owner advised to locate in a trailer park. The council discussed the ordinance dealing with unoccupied trailers kept around town and referred it to the committee for investigation.

Other matters considered were street lighting costs on Chicago Blvd., and putting up signs at the village dump. Engineer Ed Nelson presented a plan to drain the playground west of Central school.

The council concluded with a study of voting machines and called Adrian for a technician to come over Tuesday and set up the machines for next week's election.

Two representatives of the Monday Club, Mrs. Veva Connor and Mrs. Edna Codling attended the meeting. This practice will continue for each session to acquaint the Monday Club members with the work of the council.

COZY CAFE SOLD TO DON SMITH

Pearl Meyers announced this week that she has sold the Cozy Cafe to Mr. and Mrs. Don Smith, formerly of Manchester.

The Smiths take possession Sunday and expect to be closed a "few days" to make some interior changes. They hope to reopen Thursday.

Mrs. Meyers has been in the restaurant business for 17 years and in the Cozy for three. She has lived in Tecumseh for 30 years. At present she plans to continue catering to banquets. Mrs. Meyers says she has "loved the restaurant business" and hates to step out of it, but the long hours and help situation are too much today.

Don Smith has operated Don's Dairy Bar in Manchester for six years. He is originally from Detroit. In the Cozy he plans to install a new counter, new stools and an ice cream fountain. The Smiths live on the Clinton road in the house Keith Des Ermia built.

TAX REVIEW BOARD MEETINGS CONTINUE

Annual meeting of both the Tecumseh village and township tax Board of Review will continue next week Monday and Tuesday. The board met Tuesday of this week. All meetings are in the council room for the purpose of opening the assessment rolls to property owners who may be "aggrieved" over the assessor's valuaton.

T. J. Wagner is village assessor and LeRoy Titley township assessor. John Smith, Ira Ashley, Fred Dickinson and Aden Mead are on the review board.

When golf pro Leo Bishop has a few extra moments from his many duties at the Tecumseh Country Club he turns to his staff of caddies to further their training. Above David Lamkin, left, Marshall Boike, center, and Barry Packard, right, are receiving some pre-season tips from the smiling Bishop who once caddied himself. Tonight all boys interested in caddying this summer are invited to meet with their dads at the pro shop, 8 p. m.

Art Class Shows Popularity In Adult Education

By Clara Waldron

Adult Education courses which began Feb. 2, at the high school and which will continue until March 12 are showing very satisfactory progress, according to Delmar Crisp, who is in charge. This program has been tried with varying success in the past few years but Mr. Crisp feels that the change from a long period of instruction with weekly classes to more intensified courses meeting twice a week has helped greatly to maintain interest and attendance.

As in other years the largest classes are in bookkeeping, beginning typing and upholstery, with enrollments of 19, 21 and 34 respectively while the general shop course has a large group also. It is the newly offered art course, however, whose popularity has surprised those in charge. The limit of enrollment was first set at 15, but 19 are now in the class and there are others who would have entered had there been space available. The course is being taught by Mrs. Vincent Peterson, Adrian, who during the fall conducted a small private class here. As she also teaches in the Adrian evening school the group here meets only on Thursday from 7 to 10 p.m.

Of Mrs. Peterson, who studied four years at the Moore Art Institute in the east, Mr. Crisp says that her home is an academy of art in itself. Her husband and son also paint and she is at present engaged in a mural on her dining room wall depicting the setting of her girlhood home in the east.

Very few of those in the art class have had any previous training or experience but some are making remarkable progress and all are "having a wonderful time." In fact Tecumseh seems to have joined the rest of the world, along with Winston Churchill and President Eisenhower, in a wave of "self expression" through color.

This class, in fact, is only a small part of those who, more or less surreptitiously, have been indulging in an orgy in oils, some with surprisingly good results as Holler About Taxes Begins.

Today is IGHAT day at the local Quaker Oats plant where a brief unveiling joined Tecumseh with hundreds of other communities throughout the nation — here and there, they are all Gonna' Holler About Taxes.

Locally a group of women's organization leaders and a gathering of Quaker Oats employees watched the unveiling of a display of goods which the average working man could purchase with the annual $1,100 he shells out in hidden and income taxes.

Quaker Oats employees chairmen explained the purpose and objective of the IGHAT campaign and the role local people can take. "Quaker wife" unveiled a variety of other displays this morning which show the terrific load today's high taxes are to the average family

On Sunday, Don Nixon will explain the details of the scheme over the County Forum radio program.

Other merchants will be cooperating with window displays next week to show what could be bought by Mr. and Mrs. Average Family with the money they spend in taxes. A letter-to-Congress drive also follows next week when people will send letters and postcards to Congressmen.

On March 16, poster contest prizes will be awarded to students who are competing in two divisions, grade school and junior high.

The final amount received from this area will be published as soon as the Lenawee Chapter has had time to compile and release its report.

Mrs. Quick's resignation was read at the annual meeting and was accepted with praise. Paul Ahleman, county chairman, commended her on the fine work that she has done in organizing and promoting the annual drives for polio funds in this area. In return Mrs. Quick extends thanks to all who helped in any way to make the drives for funds a success during the years of 1952 and 1953. At this same meeting Mr. Ahleman was re-elected chairman of the Lenawee Chapter for another year. According to statistics, Lenawee County holds seventy-first place among 3000 counties in the nation for its giving per capita which is sixty-three cents plus.

Bishop Issues First Call For Caddies Tonight

"There is just as much difference in an excellent and a poor caddie as there is in a good and bad golfer," Pro Leo Bishop explained this week on the eve of another golfing season at Tecumseh Country Club.

LEO BISHOP

The black haired, smiling Bishop, who came up to the professional ranks via the ladder of caddie and amateur golfer, encouraged all boys, who are at least 12 years old, to meet at the clubhouse tonight, 8 p.m., to sign-up for caddying this summer.

"Bring your dads out tonight," Bishop asked all boys, new or old to the caddy ranks.

"The best caddies make the most friends and have the most fun," likeable Leo repeated from the booklet of Western Golf Association Pin Pointers.

Looking through the official caddie rules, a prospect will see such cartoon headings as KNOW ALL 14 CLUBS, WATCH THE BALL, STAND STILL, REPLACE ALL DIVOTS, KEEP UP WITH THE PLAYER MEMORIZE YARDAGE OF EACH HOLE, etc.

No simple job, caddying, but a healthful and character building summer's work in the great out-of-doors.

Himself a perfectionist (Bishop shoots a par busting game), the local pro insists upon the very best training for every caddie. Those boys accepted start out with a B rating. When they gain 100 points and, as Bishop says, "know more than the golfer knows," the caddie advances to an A rating.

Then there is the honor caddie, cream of the crop. Last year eight boys earned the honor title. They were Dick Mohr, Tom Neitling, Roger Hart, Gary Hizer, Jackie George, Harold Robinson, Junior Lopez and David Lamkin.

Tonight's get acquainted session is of special importance to Bishop who sees beyond the caddie chores to a far-sighted program of "building better men out of better boys." For while a youngster roves the scenic Tecumseh course carrying golf sticks, he is one of 147,633 lads who are learning the golf game from the bottom up.

They play golf themselves, join in local tournaments and receive professional instruction. "It's an important road leading from juvenile delinquency," the pro said.

Tonight Jerry Osworth, caddie committee chairman, Herb Dillon and Willis Porter will be on hand to handle the caddie candidates and explain this year's program.

IN THE RIGHT DIRECTION — Tecumseh's Business & Professional Women took a step in the right direction at their last meeting when they got behind one of the village's top priority problems — no public rest room. Leave it to the gals, when they set out to do something it gets done, and the sooner that comfort station is constructed the sooner Tecumseh will show its welcome to out-of-town shoppers, particularly women from distant points in the trade area.

IN THE WRONG DIRECTION — At this writing village officials are pondering a way to eliminate confusion over voting for candidates at next Monday's election, a further proof that the purchase of automatic voting machines was a foolish undertaking and the complicated robots will never rightfully replace the paper ballot.

Just how the confusion will be settled is hard to predict right now for the demonstrator in the council building has the dummy ballot so arranged that it would be impossible to vote for any two opposing candidates who are named directly above or below each other. The Herald hopes that some simplified way is worked out so that a write-in or other awkward answer is not used.

Anyone who thinks the voting machines are a time or money saver is all wet. Their initial investment is so tremendous, plus the upkeep and need for change-over and repair, that you'd think public officials would stick by the tried and tested ballot. And in addition it takes just as large an election crew, if not larger, to handle the voting with machines. And then they don't have the ballots down in black and white when it's all over. It is hard to say just how many thousand moving parts are in each machine, but get just one off and the whole tally is inaccurate. The democratic way is the paper and pencil way.

LABOR GETS REWARDED — Most of us will agree that the quality of national labor leadership has not always been what it could have been. Not only has racketeering been allowed in many unions, but there have been disclosures of Communist activities during post-war years. There are also reports of improper accounting systems in many unions and the election of officers in many of them is not conducted in a democratic manner.

The answer does not lie in passing legislation, reducing the bargaining power of the unions, but in passing laws to clean up the labor unions from within. Reports now indicate that the poor leadership which some unions have suffered under for some years is beginning to pay dividends. One of the two largest unions is reportedly in danger of disintegration, although this is officially denied. The Congress of Industrial Organizations, which only recently elected Walter Reuther as its president, is a matter of widespread speculation today. It is said that the Steelworkers Union, second largest of the CIO, may pull out and join the AFL. If this happens, smaller unions may follow suit and the trend may develop.

This speculation comes at a time when the CIO and AFL are negotiating on a possible merger and, naturally, increases the bargaining position of the AFL which has enjoyed a preference by the new administration. It is now becoming obvious that President Eisenhower, and his aides have not forgotten the active policy of the CIO in opposing him as a presidential candidate in 1952.

Generally speaking, the Reuther faction is considered to have more radical ideas than other factions in the CIO, including those of David J. McDonald of the Steelworkers and Allen J. Wood, the candidate Reuther defeated for the CIO presidency. The desire for more moderate leadership is said to be one of the reasons a split in the CIO now appears possible.

Events have not yet crystalized enough to forsee what will develop, but it is evident that there are leadership problems in the unions. Whether the tactics followed by some prominent labor leaders in recent years have been wise, and whether the average worker in some unions supports the positions taken by the leaders, may be determined in the next year or two.

PRAISES ADVERTISING — "One of the safest ways for a business man to invest money is in newspaper advertising," Roger Babson said after finding that the nation's most successful firms spent $6-million for newspaper space last year. "Newspaper advertising is largely responsible for the fact that our wages and standard of living are so much higher than that of any other country."

MONDAY CLUB

A preview of spring styles in dresses, suits, hats, shoes and accessories was provided for thirty-five members and five guests of the Monday Club at their meeting at the home of Mrs. Hoyt Whelan.

Mrs. Thomas O'Hara presided at the business meeting, during which the report of the committee on the revision of the constitution and by-laws, headed by Miss Edith Ingersoll, was accepted. Another committee, consisting of Mrs. Edna Codling and Mrs. Iva Marsh was appointed to look into the situation regarding a rest room for the town.

The program, under the direction of Mrs. Howard Truesdale, was opened by Mrs. Albert Merz singing two songs, "My Alice Blue Gown" and "All Dressed Up To Smile," accompanied by Mrs. Fred Dickinson. The style theme was further carried out by a reading given by Mrs. Whelan, "What the Choir Sang About the New Bonnet."

With Mrs. Truman Rentschler as commentator, and with background music provided by Robert Barnes of Adrian at the piano, models then displayed spring styles provided by three Tecumseh stores. Those modeling for the Watkins Shop were Mrs. Faye Whelan, Mrs. M. G. Partridge, and Mrs. Ned Baldwin, for Palman's Store, Mrs. William Powell, Mrs. Gerald Driscoll and Mrs. Kenneth McEnroe and for the Merritt Shoe store Mrs. Jack Morehouse, Mrs. John Wintersteen and Mrs. Faye Whelan.

The last number on the program was a piano duet, "Stars and Stripes Forever" by Mrs. W. G. Waldron and Wilfred Waldron, while Mrs. Herbert Murphy read the closing prayer.

Tea was served from a table decorated in the St. Patrick Day motif, and was poured by Mrs. Robert Bonner and Miss Lillian Cannon.

A trip through Boysville in Macon will be the club entertainment on March 16 and members are requested to meet at the Methodist church by 2 p.m. Transportation will be arranged by Mrs. John Wintersteen.

WIT AND WISDOM CLUB

Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth Collins, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Faye VanValkenburg, Mrs. Earl Wickwire and Miss Marjorie Wickwire were hosts to forty members and guests of the Wit and Wisdom Club Monday evening. A brief business meeting was presided over by the vice president, James McDowell, during which announcement was made of the following committees appointed by the president Delmar Crisp: Nominating, Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Laidlaw and Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Dickinson; arrangements for May Banquet, Mrs. William Beck, Mrs. John Lott, Mrs. Fred Rector, Miss Gertrude Spaulding and Mrs. Charles Branigin, and banquet program, Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Partridge and Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Mast.

Mr. Collins, as program leader, then introduced Walter Nichols, who after an introductory description of the 3,000 mile trip he and Mrs. Nichols took through Mexico last October showed several reels of colored film taken by Mrs. Nichols. Mr. and Mrs. Nichols went far beyond the usual radius of tourist travel and met and learned to know Mexicans of all classes. The pictures included primative homes and farming activities of the peasants and the luxurious way of life of the wealthy landowners. Especially enjoyed were the flower pictures, the grandeur of the mountain views and the scenes of native boating on a tropical inland lake. Mr. Nichols concluded the showing with pictures of a little known waterfall that were of breath-taking beauty.

Refreshments were served from a table decorated with a centerpiece of white and green carrying out the St. Patrick's Day theme.

The Club will meet in April with Mr. and Mrs. James McDowell, when Delmar Crisp will be leader of the program. It is anticipated that Mr. and Mrs. William Berkhof will then be guests and that Mrs. Berkhof will give a book review.

The spot where the remarkable British navigator, Captain James Cook, was slain by natives in Kealakekua Bay, Hawaii, is marked by a bronze tablet placed under water. This memorial is visible only at low tide, and is probably the only one of its kind.

Grade School News

Third Grade
Mrs. Ward

We have many people absent because of the flu.

Jamey Sue Gabler has been out of school because of a tonsillectomy.

Jay Andrews went to Texas with his grandparents. He has been gone about three weeks.

Edsel Brooks spent three weeks in Florida.

Robert Jedele has been out of school because of severe burns. We are very glad to have him back.

Maxnie Fouts has missed almost a month of school.

Jamey Sue Gabler brought us pictures of George Washington. We put them on the bulletin board.

We have studied multiplication using the tables of threes and fives.

Nearly everyone is now reading a third reader and some have almost finished their second third reader.

Fourth Grade
Mrs. Osburn

Bradley Bruce's cat, Duffy, visited us last Tuesday forenoon.

We are learning to give book reviews in our language work.

Walter Girback is back in school after being ill with chicken pox.

This week we planted some tobacco seed that Linda Wilson's grandmother sent to us from Tennessee.

Our raw and manufactured materials are in the display case this week.

Wednesday we enjoyed a movie called "Wild Life" that John LeBaron brought to school.

Fifth Grade
Mrs. Whiting

In social studies we are now learning about Alaska, the Hawaiian and Virgin Islands, and Puerto Rico. Our library is full of books about these countries and we have all been giving reports on the location, climate, people, cities, transportation, surface, size, crops, history and government of these possessions of our country.

For our opening exercise each morning our teacher is reading the exciting book "The Last of the Mohicans."

The boys put on a musical show and comedy for us one day last week, and the girls are planning a puppet show. The boys hope to put on another prgoram soon.

Fourth Grade
Mrs. Baily

We did not have any children absent for two days this week. This is the first time we have all been present for several weeks. A lot of us have been ill.

We, along with all the other boys and girls in the fourth grade also the fifth, sixth, seventh, and eighth graders, are working on Poppy Posters. There is a contest again this year.

Tuesday we all changed seats. We do this every few weeks. This way we have different neighbors near us.

In science we have been studying about the sun and earth. We have found it very interesting to learn about these things, especially how far away the sun is and how much it does for us.

Fourth Grade
Miss Baker

We have really been traveling in our room. In social studies our first stop was New York City, the largest city in our country. From there we hopped a plane and flew to New Orleans. We found how sugar cane was grown and milled. We were sorry we could not see the Mardi Gras but our plane was waiting to take us to Seattle where we became lumberjacks and fishermen. Now we are in Minneapolis, our bread and butter city. Minnesota sure raises a lot of wheat.

Geography has taken us from the Congo Basin in Africa to Egypt. We now know why the Nile River is called Father Nile. It brings water to this very dry land.

In science we have been finding out about the earth—how it gets its light, what makes days and years, and how it is like a clock.

Our valentine party was fun. We made our own boxes and a prize was awarded for the best one. Camilla Grigg won the prize.

Our bulletin board for February was in charge of Betty Bishop. They have pictures of Lincoln, Washington, and some hearts on it.

Helen Hicks had her appendix out. We are glad she is feeling better.

Many of us have been out with the flu but we are almost all back now. We hope you are enjoying the nice weather as much as we are.

Art Class Shows

was disclosed a couple of years ago when the county Federation of Women's Clubs held an amateur art exhibit here. Some local painters, to be sure, have progressed far beyond the amateur status, Earl Bryan and Elmer Harper being examples; while Clare Camburn, former leader of the high school band has exhibited some outstanding oils and Mrs. B. B. TurnBull has long ago earned for herself the affectionate title of "Tecumseh's Grandma Moses." Definitely in the professional field, Malcolm Duncan, who graduated from Tecumseh high school a few years ago is making a name for himself in the field of commercial art.

During the past three years Tecumseh has been host to two talented artists. William Boyhan, previously resident artist at Siena Heights College, painted the pictures in St. Elizabeth Catholic church and did a few portraits of local people. Educated in Italy, Mr. Boyhan won the coveted Prix de Rome award and his work has a feeling of the Italian primatives.

For three summers a New York artist, a Mr. Steinchke, has lived on the shore of the Red Mill Pond and reproduced some of its quiet beauty.

This realization by many people that they can paint if they try is not entirely new, although during the early years of this century in Tecumseh it seems to have been confined largely to the gentler sex and manifested itself in water colors or china painting. Two local women attained an almost professional status in the latter art. Bertha Smeltzer McClure and Mrs. William Fisher produced and sold quantities of beautiful work, examples of which are still treasured in Tecumseh homes.

Earlier, however, in the 1880's and 90's ART, in capitals, was rampant in the community as many a victorian attic bore witness. Then no young laides' education was completed until she could paint water-lilies on felt table covers, roses on satin sofa cushions or produce at least one "winter scene" or "classic" landscape in colorous greens for the parlor wall. Frequently she was the pupil of Cornelia Howland, a popular teacher of that brand of art.

But the principle exponent of the painting of that period was a man whose work, discarded and ridiculed in the years between, is beginning to be regarded with some respect. LaVern Wheeler made his living as a photographer but considered painting as his vocation. Where he received his training is forgotten now but he was prolific in his results. He seems to have been especially good in his portraits of children and, possibly for sentimental reasons those are the examples most commonly preserved, although some of his landscapes still exist.

When the Sutton Opera House had its formal opening in 1878 with almost as much fanfare as a Hollywood premier, the curtain and scenery were the work of Mr. Wheeler. An item in the Herald of 1880 records that he had just returned from several weeks in Hudson where he had painted the scenery and drop curtain for that town's new theater, adding that Hudson was much pleased with the results. A picture of Bloods bridge, which hangs in the Library is credited to him but is probably a copy by one of his pupils, as Mrs. John Murphy has one of the same scene signed with his name, and of better workmanship.

Two large landscapes from his brush, one entitled "The Artist's Dream" which includes everything from weeping willows to broken columns, are the prized possessions of Miss Edith Ingersoll and, indicative of the monetary rewards of art, both were won in a raffle by her father in his bachelor days.

Mrs. George Rathbun, Mrs. R. K. Anderson and the Misses Beth and Geneva Satterthwaite have examples of his child portraits, all appealing and with much interesting death.

Probably the paint Wheeler and his pupils used so lavishly has helped to kindle many a house-cleaning bonfire but specimens still linger in Tecumseh attics. If the houses of seventy-five years in the future have attics, who knows what gems may be unearthed as a result of the upsurge of art in 1953.

Locals and Personals

Mrs. Gerald Allen spent part of last week in Marion, Mich., called there by the death of her grandmother, Mrs. Etta Hatt. Mrs. Hatt died at the home of a daughter in Owosso but her body was returned to Marion for burial. While in Marion, Mrs. Allen visited her mother Mrs. Mack Hatt.

Five members of the Herrick Memorial Hospital Auxiliary will go to Lansing Thursday to attend a meeting of the State Association of Hospital Auxiliaries. Mrs. Hoyt Whelan, Mrs. Paul Eddy, Mrs. Charles Mensing, Mrs. Hugh Andrews and Mrs. James Barton will attend the session held from 10 a. m. to 2:30 p. m. at the Kellogg Center on the campus of Michigan State College, when the problem of the pressing shortage of nurses will be considered and plans made for a state wide Hospital Day. Three members of this group, Mrs. Whelan, Mrs. Mensing and Mrs. Eddy were in Detroit two weeks ago for a meeting of the Detroit Area Council of Hospital Auxiliaries held at the headquarters of the Wayne County Medical Association.

From the People's Party to the Voters:

We CAN'T say: "Don't change horses in the middle of the stream!" Because we ARE NOT in the middle of the stream. Your village is in very sound condition.

We CAN'T say: "Don't vote for the Citizen's Party!" Because all their candidates are good men.

But we CAN say: "Look at our record of the last three years" —

We have streamlined the Village Government and have brought its laws and procedures up to date.

We have built the Sewage Disposal Plant

And about three miles of curb and gutter

And installed a floridation plant

And have equipped Sunset Meade with sewer and water

And YET we still REDUCED TAXES. In 1950 we dropped the Village tax rate to 14 mills and maintained that figure through 1951. Only in 1952, because of the Disposal Plant, did we go back to the 1949 level of 15 mills. (So far as we know, Tecumseh is the only organization in the world to reduce taxes under current economic conditions.)

DAUGHTERS OF ST. PETER'S

Mrs. Louis Schneider was hostess to the Daughters of St. Peter's Tuesday evening. Mrs. Cecil Smith was in charge of the devotions, which opened the meeting. During a brief session, it was voted to donate $5.00 to the American Red Cross and plans were made for participation in the rummage sale to be held at the church starting at 12 noon, Thursday, March 12, and continuing for the rest of that week. An interesting and timely talk on "Spring Flowers" was then given by Mrs. Lyman Curtiss with special emphasis on the care of bulbs. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Schneider with the assistance of Mrs. Earl Lindsley.

Tecumseh BOOK SHELVES Library

Tecumseh's Library has received several shipments of new books in the last few weeks as reported by Miss Ruth Harding, librarian. Some of the more noteworthy are listed here.

New books for children cover a wide range and include: 'Tommy-on-Time" by Virginia Novinger; "The Little Ballet Dancer" by Monica Stirling; "Prairie Shadows" by Ella Porter; "Northward the Whalers Go" by John Douglas, and "The Landing of the Pilgrims," written by James Daugherty.

For adult fiction readers there are: "Steamboat Gothic," the latest production of that popular writer, Francis Parkinson Keyes, the life story of a boy who goes from rags to riches through gambling operations on the Mississippi and buys the plantation with the biggest Gothic house in the delta area.

"The Galileans" by Frank Sluaghter, a fictionalized version of the life of Mary Magdalene.

"The Comancheros" by Paul Wellman, a swashbuckling tale of early California.

"The Velvet Doublet" by James Street, a quasi-historical biography of Christopher Columbus.

"Desiree" by Selinko, written about one of the beautiful women in the life of Napoleon Bonaparte.

For those who wish more serious reading there are: "Psychology, Religion and Healing" by Leslie D. Weatherhead, D.D., a physical methods of healing. This will be especially interesting to those who studied under the late Rev. Norman McNaughton, who was an admirer of Weatherman.

"Courtship and Marriage" by critical study of all the non-Dr. Sadler, of particular interest and value to the younger adult reader.

"The Republic and the Person" by Chalmers, based on the premise that fundamentally they are one.

"My India," one of several books on that subject, by Jim Corbett.

"The Magnificent Matriarch" by Mellon, the life of the last queen of Hawaii, for those who are fascinated by the exotic past of "the Islands."

"The Law; It's on Your Side" by Frank Denman, a slim, but reassuring volume, which treats of the fact that the law was made for man, not man for the law.

These are a few of the newer books which does not mean that they are necessarily the better ones. The library can provide many that the years have proved of infinite value to mankind. Browsing through the stacks might be more rewarding than waiting impatiently for the latest best-seller.

WESTMINSTER LEAGUE

Mrs. Joe Springer entertained the Westminster League of the Presbyterian church Tuesday evening, assisted by Mrs. Douglas Hall, Mrs. Herschel King and Mrs. Arthur Schwartz. After the meeting was opened by the group repeating the Lord's Prayer, the Rev. George Walworth addressed the group.

It was voted that the League would serve dinner for the Business and Professional Woman's Club, March 23. Mrs. Fred Dickinson conducted devotions to close the meeting and refreshments were served by the hostesses.

PRESBYTERIAN LEAGUE

The March meeting of the Presbyterian League was held at the Herrick Park home of Mrs. Kenneth Hall Tuesday evening, with thirty-two present, including two guests from Clinton. Co-hostesses with Mrs. Hall were Mrs. Albert Bagshaw, Miss Mary McWilliams and Mrs. Sam Shervino.

Miss Marie Koernig was in charge of devotions and Mrs. Wade Hendershot presided over the business meeting, during which it was voted to sponsor a Mother-Daughter Banquet to be held in the Fellowship Center May 1. It was also decided to put on a bake sale March 14.

An informal program of "Hobbies" brought forth varied and interesting activities on the part of members, many of which were connected with their work in the church. Included in the display of articles were specimens of ceramics that were the result of the skill of Mrs. Ethel Truesdale.

GOLDEN RULE

The March meeting of the Golden Rule Division of the Presbyterian church was held at the home of Mrs. Ralph Helzerman on West Chicago Blvd. Tuesday evening. Mrs. Paul Eddy and Mrs. Hugh Andrews were assisting hostesses.

Mrs. Guy T. Pocklington, as guest speaker entertained the group with an account of her recent trip to the Presidential Inauguration in Washington, D.C. Her description of the ceremonies and the parade was most informative and graphic. Mrs. Frank Smith, in charge of devotions, read excerpts from "Religion and Health" by Charles Allen and "What do we Know about Calvary Love?" and closed with a prayer. Announcement was made that Presbyterian women are holding group Lenten meetings for meditation and prayer.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. Gordon Garlick on N. Democratic st. with Mrs. Louise Lawson and Mrs. Anne Rovelle, assisting. In June there will be a joint meeting with the Presbyterian League.

The Indians in their first year in the newly formed Southeastern Michigan Conference led the four team league with six wins and no defeats.

Jim Wilson, the Indians' high scoring senior finished the 16 games with a sensational 304 points by scoring 17 in the final contest. Wayne Patton, a Tecumseh regular, paced the Indians with 25 points. The Indians scoring dropped a little in the third stanza with the team getting 16 points to Bedford's 11 to increase their runaway lead to a 59 to 36 score.

In the fourth period the Indians were outscored 26 to 24 by the Bedford team which was not enough to catch the league leading Indains who by this time led 83 to 62 which proved to be the final score.

KROGER EMPLOYEES SPLIT OVER MILLION DOLLARS

More than $1,715,043 from 1952 profits of the Kroger Co. has been credited to the profit-sharing accounts of nearly 16,000 Kroger employees, it was announced by Carl S. Fuller, Kroger Toledo branch manager.

Approximately $42,171 of this amount will be credited to accounts of employees in the Toledo branch area, according to Fuller. This includes the branch's stores in this area, and the branch office and warehouse in Toledo, as well as an egg processing room at Hudson, Mich.

"The year 1952 was a good one for Kroger and for us," said Fuller, "and we think the profit-sharing plan has been an important incentive. All of us take a greater personal interest in doing a better job when we share in the results accomplished," he added.

Approximately 95 per cent of eligible employees have enrolled and are participating in the plan, with savings now running at the rate of nearly two and a half million dollars a year. All employees 21 years of age or older who have had two or more years of continuous service with Kroger are eligible to participate.

World's newest V8
UP GOES THE POWER OF EVERY BUICK-
Special Super and Roadmaster!
Television treat— the BUICK CIRCUS HOUR— every fourth Tuesday

It's more than pride that makes a man want a lot of horsepower beneath the hood of the car he owns.

For the real point in reaching record horsepowers and compression ratios goes beyond miles per hour. It steps up performance and economy in normal driving.

That's what Buick engineers did when they upped the power and compression of each 1953 Buick — SPECIAL, SUPER and ROADMASTER — to the highest figures in Buick's fifty-year history.

In the SUPER and ROADMASTER, they put a new kind of V8 Engine—first passenger-car V8 with 8.5 to 1 compression, and a long list of other major engineering advances.

For the SPECIAL, they redesigned the famed F-263 Fireball 8 Engine — gave it shorter flame travel, faster firing, higher horsepower and compression.

And to these spirited engines they coupled the new Twin-Turbine Dynaflow Drive* that adds flash-fast, quiet getaway to utter smoothness.

Just to give you an example of what all this means: The 1953 Buick SPECIAL with Dynaflow can beat the mighty 1952 ROADMASTER on getaway—can reach 30 mph (when the law allows) with a combined speed and jerk-free smoothness no other car can equal.

Of course, there's far more to these new Buicks for 1953 — some seven dozen new features alone.

But why not come in and see for yourself that these are the greatest Buicks—and the greatest values—in fifty great years.

*Standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.

Methodist Pastor Traces Tecumseh's Early Settlement

By Rev. R. A. Brunger

(This is the seventh in a series of historical sketches which outline the settlement of Tecumseh, founding and growth of the local Methodist church).

At the close of the Church year 1827-28, Rev. George Walker attended the Ohio Conference on Sept. 18 at Chillicothe. He reported 250 members for the Monroe Circuit. He was returned to this difficult circuit for a second year, certainly to the joy of the Tecumseh Methodists.

In the autumn of 1828, Tecumseh Methodism was greatly strengthened by the addition of Rev. Joseph Bangs, "a very useful local preacher and brother of the celebrated Nathan Bangs D.D." His coming had been anticipated. He had taken up land here among the early owners in 1824 in section 32; when son Alanson came here in the spring of 185 he was expected to settle on his fathers land, but did not as we have seen. Abbi Evans in her letter on June 13, 1824 wrote: "Amnog the number who have purchased there are two Methodist ministers, who expect some of their families will come on next spring, themselves the spring after." Joseph Bangs was a fervent, old-fashioned Methodist, whose experience illustrates these early times.

Joseph Bangs was born in Stratford, Conn., April 25, 1775-6, in the early days of the American Revolution. He married Huldah Silliman, daughter of Isaac and Mary Silliman, of Delaware County, N. Y. She was born April 5, 1783 and died in Tecumseh Oct. 25, 1850. They resided at Hobart, N. Y. (50 miles SW of Albany) before moving here. They had eight children of which Alanson was the oldest.

Joseph's brother Nathan was "led to the Saviour" while teaching school in Canada. Immediately after his conversion, he wrote his brother Joseph an account of his experience, occupying several sheets of paper. While reading this, Joseph was awakened to a sense fo his sins and a need of a Saviour, and was soon after converted, whereupon he joined the Methodist Episcopal Church, in which he continued a faithful and honored member and "laborer till his death" at Tecumseh, Jan. 7, 1848. He was licensed to preach as a local preacher in the latter part of the year 1802, and continued as a local preacher for 45 years.

We are told that "everybody liked to hear Father Bangs preach. He was universally esteemed in the community." He strongly supported Methodist doctrines and discipline, but was friendly and charitable to other Churches. He loved to discourse on Christian purity or sanctification and could say: "I love God with all my heart; the love of God casts out all fear, that has torment; I know the blood of Jesus Christ cleanseth from all sin."

During his late sickness, "his physician, who was somewhat skeptical as to experimental religion, and who had often heard him express his confidence of future bliss, when he told him there was no hope of his recovery, asked him how he felt about the future. "Doctor," said he, "I have not neglected that matter till this time. That (a preparation for the future life) was attended to long ago, and I have no fears." As he uttered this, a smile of joy lighted up his countenance, as if he already tasted the joys of heaven."

The strong denominationalism of the times and the ready wit and tongue of this early local preacher is illustrated by the following incident which may have occurred in the middle 1930's. The Episcopal Bishop had preached in Tecumseh and Mr Bangs was present to hear him. Afterward he was introduced to the bishop as a Methodist preacher, and he expressed his kindly feelings toward the Episcopal Church. The Bishop remarked: "You ought to feel well towards us, and respect us, as Mr. Wesley was always one of us, and he was your founder." "Yes," said Mr. Bangs, "and you ought to think much of us, as you are indebted to him, under God, for all the religious life you have in your Church."

Locals and Personals

James Barton, in company with Floyd Billington of Tecumseh and Chauncey Pentecost of Onsted, returned Friday from a week of ice fishing in the Upper Peninsula. The men stayed at the Billington cabin at the Hiawatha Club near Engadine and report much enjoyment and considerable success spearing pike.

Miss Ellen Snedecor, who teaches in Auburn Heights, spent the weekend at her home here with her sister Miss Vie Snedecor. She was accompanied by Miss Naomi Dickason who teaches in the same school.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Larsen entertained Mrs. Larsen's sister, Mrs. A. McLain of Chicago last week.

Tecumseh friends have learned that John Scarlett of Toledo is a patient in the hospital there as the result of a heart attack. With Mrs. Scarlett (the former Alice Combs) he was preparing to leave on a vacation trip to Florida when stricken. Mr. Scarlett will be remembered here as the son of the Rev. George Scarlett of Ridgeway and a graduate of Tecumseh high school with the class of 1906.

Miss Lillian Cannon was in Toledo Saturday to visit Mrs. O. W. White who had recently been released from the hospital after undergoing surgery.

Miss Ruth Foster of Los Angeles, Calif., Dr. Helen Foster of Toyko, Japan, and Arnold Mason of the University of Illinois, at Urbana, were guests Saturday evening of Miss Edith Ingersoll. Dr. Foster is on leave from the U. S. Geological Survey in Japan and with her sister was called to Adrian because of the death of her mother, Mrs. Stanley Foster several weeks ago. Mr. Mason was a co-worker with Dr. Foster in Japan, having been with the Survey for five years.

PETTY CASH.....

Some loose change . . . a few dollar bills . . . in a little tin box. In business, they call it "petty cash." Every home has its "petty cash" too . . . maybe in Mother's sugar bowl . . . maybe in Dad's back pocket. And isn't it amazing how low "petty cash" gets by the time next payday rolls around? If you figure on saving "what's left," you may not get very far. Try this better way: Deposit a fixed amount in your savings account FIRST, then spend "what's left." Before you know it, your cash in the bank will be far from "petty."

Cable Splicer Bill McCann says: "This new cable does the same job but costs over three times as much as in 1940"

Cost comparisons of telephone cable in place

	1940	1952
Cable with 102 wires, per foot	24¢	75¢
Cable with 202 wires, per foot	35¢	$1.51
Cable with 404 wires, per foot	48¢	$1.74

The telephone cable Bill McCann is holding may be installed in a dial exchange or in a manually operated system. But regardless of whether the central office equipment is dial or manual, this new cable costs us more than three times its 1940 price. This is one of the many reasons why the cost of providing telephone service has increased in all of our exchanges—even though the type of equipment in service may be the same.

Do You Ever Feel Forsaken?

It's rather difficult to realize that anyone could be lonely these days—isn't it? Yet quite often one meets folks, in the midst of confusion and excitement and people,—very lonely.

That FORSAKEN feeling!

Jesus our Lord, possessed of ALL POWER, sensed the obligation of doing His work alone. A work indeed no other could do. As the Son of the living God He became the Redeemer of life.

Some time ago I had the opportunity of hearing Dr. John R. Mott tell that shortly after the Second World War he visited a little French village—and had opportunity to visit some of the schools of the village. Upon one of these visits Dr. Mott saw a teacher, who had obtained some food, give the food to the hungry children. First, she talked to them—some nine or 10 years of age who looked as though they were 90—then distributed the food. They ate as though they had not eaten in weeks. When the food was gone the children sat, saying nothing, but in their faces were these questions, "Is that all there is? Are you going to forsake us now?"

"Man does not live by bread alone," you know. What about your neighbor who may be longing for a friendly word of cheer from YOU. What about the person whose soul is longing for the comfort and joy of knowing Our Lord—and You know Him—why not share the Joy of the Master with that FORSAKEN friend? During Lent avail yourself of the Joy of pointing someone to the "Lamb of God that taketh away the sin of the world."

A mason working on the steeple of a church fell from the scaffolding. At that moment a shepherd was leading his sheep by the church and the man fell on one of the lambs. The lamb was killed but by a miracle the mason was not hurt. Climbing to the steeple he carved the image of that lamb for everyone who passed that way to see. And underneath were these words, "Behold the Lamb that saved my life." When you, my friend, are feeling forsaken and forgotten, turn your thought and life to "Lamb of God."

Supt. McDowell Opens Fire On Tax Distribution

LOCAL SCHOOLS HAVE LESS MONEY THAN IN ANY PREVIOUS YEAR

By James McDowell

I'm gonna holler for OUR children, 'cause they can't and you apparently won't! Oh yes, I'm gonna holler about taxes too, but not so much on How Much as How Distributed!

First though, let's consider Tecumseh children and our schools. We, in this community, are striving to give our children the best possible educational facilities and instruction. We provide property taxes of 8 mills for operation and 13 mills at present for debt retirement. This is considerably more than many communities in the State. Why then are Tecumseh schools whose Board and administrative staff are carefully chosen, as well as hundreds of other well managed and efficiently directed schools, forced to handicap our children for lack of funds? Why may we be forced to limit our educational opportunities by closing early or limiting our staff and running part-time sessions?

I will make no attempt to point the way towards a solution, but a way does lie entirely within your hands. As Superintendent of Schools, I feel I would be remiss in my duties should I make no attempt to point the immediate need for additional funds for schools here, as well as throughout the state. Also, to attempt to bring before you the fact that the basic reasons for this present need lie in the method of distribution of school moneys by the State as well as financial difficulties at the State level.

Today, we have in our Tecumseh schools an increase of 145 elementary and 53 secondary pupils over last year. The State bases State Aid to schools on our 1951-1952 average membership, thus we are educating a total of 198 additional pupils this year for which we receive no state aid. Should we have been paid on our current enrollment, which would only be good sense (the Conlin Plan would at least have done this), we would receive $31,354.00 additional from this source only. We are now forced to educate these 198 additional pupils at a minimum cost of $191.11 (per child last year) or $37,839.78. We receive none of this from State funds. Actually we should be spending more than this for current costs are higher. Most of this $37,839.78 increase in costs for these pupils must be borne by the local property tax.. The total current property tax for operation is only approximately $53,822.00; therefore, the major portion of local tax must be used to educate the 198 additional pupils rather than in giving increased opportunities to those already within our schools. Should the method of distribution have been on current basis only approximately $6500.00 of the current property tax would have been used for these additional pupils and the balance used for increased educational opportunities for children now in school.

The second reason a great many rapidly growing schools, such as we, are low on funds lies in the fact that the primary school funds and sales tax revenue apportioned to schools are based on the school census of two years ago rather than the present census. Any rapidly growing community such as Tecumseh will, therefore, be penalized heavily by this method. Our census for 1951 was 1104 and our census for 1952 was 1246 or an increase of 142 pupils. Using the 1952 census rather than the 1951 would have given Tecumseh schools approximately $2982.00 in primary money and $3692.00 or a total of $6674.00.

Summarizing, should the State have relinquished funds to schools on a current basis this year Tecumseh schools would have received approximately $38,000.00 in additional revenue which would have barely covered the cost of educating our additional 198 children. This would, however, have left Tecumseh schools with all of its local operating money for meeting rising costs of education and for providing additional educational opportunities for our children.

In addition to the above inadequacies, the legislature cut 12½% from tuition which schools may charge for non-resident pupils this year. Because of the fact that, as explained above, it was necessary to operate Tecumseh school during 1951-1952 with inadequate

Tecumseh probably became as tax conscious as any community of its size in the nation as 13 retail stores unveiled window displays this week to show Mr. and Mrs. Taxpayer what they could have purchased last year with the money they paid out in hidden and direct taxes. Under the national sponsorship of Quaker Oats Co., and the local direction of plant manager Don Nixon, Tecumseh's IGHAT program is in full swing. Sixty-eight school posters are now being judged for six prizes and a club is being formed at the Quaker Oats plant with the top member calling Senator Homer Furgeson March 15. Nixon said IGHAT display can be seen at Butler's, French's Moore's, Green's, Wolf's, Baldwin's, Anderson's, Sluyter's, Kroger's, Wright's, Hite's, Rosacrans and Camera Shop. Letters and post cards to Washington are part of the "I'm Gonna Holler About Taxes" program.

How Times Change!

Operating expenses were somewhat different for Tecumseh schools back in 1905 when the total faculty payroll for the year amounted to a mere $6,700.

Of course there were only 15 teachers and the highest paid received no more than $1050 and eight received less than $400 for all nine and a-half months.

Those were some of the interesting facts E. C. Heilman came upon recently while rummaging through the basement of his jewelry store. Mr. Heilman found an annual school district report, July 7, 1905, signed by L. G. North among some old papers of interest.

The report lists the following local teaching staff of Flora Hartbeck, Orrin Winter, John Reincke, Edna Peck, Nellie Mingay, Harriet Murrey, Alice Wimple, Louise Payne, Edyth Cotton, Cora Crego, Ethelyn Garlinghouse, Beryl Hurlbert, Maude Richardson, Loana Cowan, Martha Caldwell and Raye McKenzie.

Most of the academic study was the same as today except for German. There was bookkeeping but no typing or shorthand.

Approving North's signature at the bottom of the report are George Howell, J. H. Smith and Seaton W. Anderson.

MERLYN WAGNER IN STATE FFA FINALS

A Tecumseh high senior, Merlyn Wagner, advanced to the state Future Farmers of America speech contest finals by winning the regional championship at Hanover high school Tuesday. He was accompanied by Ag instructor Paul Burns.

Merlyn is the son of Clarence Wagner. Last year he was regional FFA reporter and this year is both local chapter president and student council president.

Topic of Merlyn's winning speech at the regional meet was "The Future Farmer and His Farm Cooperative" for which he received a gold first place award. Second place went to a Jackson FFA delegate and third place to Don Girback of Saline.

Before an FFA student is eligible to participate in a regional contest he must first win on a local level and again in a district contest. Merlyn won at the district meet held Feb. 24 at Britton. Eight schools participated.

On March 26-27 he will represent the entire region at the State Convention which will be held at MSC. Merlyn will compete with all the other regional winners.

Eugene Withrow and Allen Rupert will also attend as local chapter delegates. Mr. Burns and Mr. Moeckel of Onsted will be advisor counselors for Lenawee county.

PROPERTY TRANSFER RECALLS OLD ROAD

A transfer of property on the Raisin Center Highway, two miles south of Tecumseh, has recalled the original, but long forgotten route followed by that road.

Mr. and Mrs. Carlo Mobley have sold their house on South Democrat st. and purchased an 80 acre fruit farm lying between the river and the railroad from Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Frederick of Jackson. Owned for a long period by the Ford interests, it is part of tract bought from the government by the Sisson family in 1831 and occupied by them for three generations. The house, apparently the first built on that site, is now situated about a quarter of a mile back from the road. Badly vandalized during its long vacancy, it has been restored and modernized by Mr. Frederick. Like many of that period it is "insulated" with a layer of brick in the walls and has woodwork and floors of maple. Until a relatively recent time its water supply came from a spring that flows, winter and summer, beside the house.

Traces of a bridge across a ravine near by mark the first location of the road which is now beside the railroad. Both north and south of Tecumseh the earliest roads ran along the high ground skirting the river basin, probably following Indian trails that were nearly always found beside streams. As was natural, roads then led from one house to another, following the line of least resistance, and it was not until 1835 that they began to be surveyed along section lines as they are found today. The Tecumseh-Clinton road was moved away from the river at that time and it was probably the building in 1838 of the Palmyra-Jacksonburg Railway, as the New York Central branch was then called, that caused the abandonment of the winding river road south of the village and the isolation of this and other homes built along its route.

Mr. and Mrs. Mobley will move to their new home about the first of April and Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Thorpe will occupy the one they are leaving.

New Steel Light Poles Will Soon Decorate Main St.

Tecumseh will be one of southern Michigan's best dressed towns after a diversified summer program of road building and street lighting is completed.

A number of merchants and store owners have indicated their personal plans to add to the program by putting in new sidewalks.

Probably the first step in the direction of modernizing the business section was a volunteer movement that started a year ago when nearly a dozen new store fronts went up. Two of these new fronts are in progress now at the Sage building and the United Savings Bank addition. Others are unannounced but may follow in the future.

Consumers Power said this week that final plans are nearly completed for installing 18 new ultra-modern metal electric light poles along main street. These were ordered this week, Dick Beemer said. They are 25-footers to be bolted down to cement piers. They have an over-hanging light fixture bracket that directs all the illumination downward. Overhead wiring will be used.

But on the main intersection of Chicago and Evans the State Highway department will put up four higher poles which will be sunk eight feet in the ground and stand without guy wires. This intersection is the junction of state highways M-50 and M-52.

These four tall poles are only a small part of the work state engineers will direct here this summer as all of Chicago blvd. will have a new surface of bituminous concrete, a high grade of blacktop.

New downtown sidewalks to complete the job of dressing up Tecumseh will have to be poured at the property owner's expense. Village engineer Ed Nelson will assist in furnishing specifications and essential information.

The state, meanwhile, faces another big project in completing the paving of Monroe road from west city limits to Billington's corners this spring.

o

Recognized In Writing Project

That seven students from Tecumseh schools found recognition in the 1953 Scholastic Writing Project in competition with 5,000 from other and much larger schools, is a wonderful record in the opinion of English teacher, Mrs. Lois Service.

The writing project is sponsored by the Detroit News and the 5,000 entries are from the southern Michigan area, for which Mrs. Service has been one of the judges for several years.

This is not strictly a contest, for the material, consisting of essays, poetry and short stories is selected by the teachers from regular classroom assignments. Entries are divided into grade classifications and awards are golden keys, honorable mention or certificates of commendation.

In the Essay Junior Division Joseph Hayden, seventh grade, received honorable mention and Betty Day, ninth grade, commendation. Nancy Jean Smith, ninth grade, received commendation in the Poetry Division while Sharon Claxton, seventh grade, and Mary Pat McCann, ninth, attained commendation for their short stories. The seventh winner for Tecumseh was Jean Conlin, twelfth grade, who received honorable mention in the Essay Department.

This writing project has been sponsored by various Michigan papers for several years but this is the first time the Tecumseh schools have made such an excellent showing.

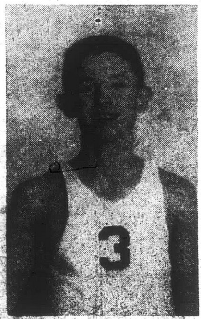
Wilson's Weird Shot Resounded As Phenomenon!

TIME magazine called High School principal Neville Hart early Monday morning for details on a freak basketball incident during last Friday's district game at Adrian.

Tecumseh was playing Hillsdale and faring poorly as the Indians trailed 35-33 with two seconds remaining.



WILSON — MADE HISTORY

What happened in that split remaining moment made news from Chicago to Charlotte as newspaper wire services ate up the "impossible" and radio stations blurted a sports phenomenon that only Robert Ripley could believe.

For Tecumseh's lanky forward Jim Wilson, probably playing his poorest game of the season, unleashed a weird 70-foot left handed desperation heave that said nearly the full length of the Adrian college gym and without as much as touching the rim, ripped through the net to tie the game 35-35!

The final horn sounded while the ball was in midair, but had been "shot" in time to count.

Tecumseh won the overtime 41-37 and then lost to Adrian in the district finals as the Lawsonmen were "cold" during the tournament. Tecumseh won 16 out of 18 games this season and walked off with the Southeastern Michigan cage title but the glass backboards and the big college concrete court caught the Indians on the down grade.

After Wilson winged the ball for that game-tying desperation heave he fainted in the astonishing excitement to add to the completeness of the story which millions of people either read or heard.

The story was reported carried in a Greensboro, N. C., paper, in a Detroit, Chicago and numerous Ohio papers as "a weird sports phenomenon." Little did Neville Hart realize the proportions the story had grown until TIME magazine called Monday.

Wilson shrugged the whole thing off a fluke, said he couldn't do it again if he tried for 50 years and that he was actually "aiming more at those darned glass backboards than at anything else."

New Slate All Elected, Ernie Campbell Village President

Tecumseh showed its eagerness to maintain a democratic two-party system of local government Monday by electing the entire slate of Citizen's Party candidates into public office.

E. M. "Ernie" Campbell, retired businessman and veteran village official, led the newly formed ticket to victory in the lighter-than-expected vote. Only 365 turned out in both precincts, 1,800 are registered. However, another 100 were turned away as they had not registered in the village prior to the Feb. 9 deadline.

The new slate scored an overwhelming landslide with Campbell holding the widest margin, 237 to 126, over opponent J. H. "Joe" Rohweder of the People's Party. Clarence Beach, Glenn Driscoll and Vern Manwaring, all of the Citizen's Party, won trustee seats over Charles Mensing, Paul Clauda and Karl Schneider. Here is how the vote tabulation is recorded:

	Pct. 1	Pct. 2	Total
President, 1 year
E. M. Campbell (C)	79	158	237
Joe Rohweder (P)	36	90	126
Clerk, 1 year

Karl Schneider (P)	41	88	129
Assessor, 1 year
Harry Stanifer (C)	51	133	184
T. J. Wagner (P)	59	116	175

The newly elected officials take office April 1 and will be installed on Monday, April 6 at the first meeting of the village council that month. Tonight the old council meets to approve the vote and Monday they hold their final session under the direction of retiring president Ed Heilman. Holdover councilmen are George McCombs, Howard Truesdale and Joe Rohweder.

Mrs. Naomi Sallows, who is filling the vacancy of Robert Kroner as clerk and Mrs. Myrna Tingley, incumbent treasurer, won unopposed victories.

Harry Stanifer defeated former village assessor T. J. Wagner by the close margin of nine votes.

Newcomers to the village may be interested to know that the poll books are open at all times for registration at the clerk's office except during the last month before election. Registration for township, county, state and national election is separate from the village under the present law.

FIFTY CENTS GATHERS DUST

There were no tears visible when she stood at the "catch all" desk that day, with the neatly written scrap of paper and the request to "please put this in the paper."

"Lost—a Black Scottie, male. ."

It was a tragic moment and in a mistaken effort to relieve it, the one behind the desk asked, "A black Scottie? I wonder if that could be the one that chased my cat up a tree this morning?"

For a moment hope dawned in the not quite tearful eyes. "What part of town do you live in?" Then she realized it was only a joke and a pretty poor one. How much will it cost?" she asked severely, paid the fifty cents requested with dignity, and walked out, the tears still unshed.

But they were in her voice, joyful ones, when she called later that day to report the Scottie had been found and "we will not need the piece in the paper." So the ad was "killed" and the fifty cents joined the flotsam and jetsam on the desk to be called for.

That was more than a week ago and it is still there, vastly unimportant now the Scottie is home again. Perhaps it is a thank offering for that homecoming. Should it, perhaps, go into the canister to swell the fund for a shelter for other Scotties that do not come home?

JOIN IN SUNDAY SCHOOL CONTEST

Beginning Sunday and continuing until April 19 the Sunday school of the Friends church will be engaged in a contest with seventeen other Sunday schools of the Ohio Yearly Meeting of the Friends church. These Sunday schools are in class B, with an average attendance during 1952 of between 100 and 199. The average of the Friends Sunday school for 1952 was 182. Since the contest is very largely based on the percentage of gain in attendance, it is a real challenge to this local Sunday school. Many interesting plans are being worked out by different committees and a cordial invitation is extended by the pastor, Rev. Edward Escolme, to all in this vicinity who are connected with a Sunday school to visit during the next six weeks.

PTA Backed Plan Nears Reality

Thanks to the efforts of a PTA delegation which Tuesday night made its second public appeal — this time before the School Board — Tecumseh's youngsters will soon have a well-drained and usable playground at muddy Monument park across from Central school.

The committee of Mrs. James Elliott, Grenval Spangler, James Hartsell and Gordon Garlick told the school board of the PTA's desire to have a "dry, playable playground." Members of the board discussed a plan of cutting out the center trees in the playground, grading the old park high in the center, adding gravel and top sand plus drains.

Supt. James McDowell said, however, that the park was village property and the PTA should refer back to the council, which they had appeared before a month ago. McDowell said the school board should do their share in the improvement.

Also Tuesday night the board decided to discontinue the Veterans Institute as only four students remain. They will be sent elsewhere for training.

Plans for purchasing furniture for the new Patterson school were made. The board decided to double the size of the present high school band to 60 members. The board also talked of pur-

PEDDLER PROBLEM — There's one problem that this newspaper thinks is of Tecumsehwide importance and should be given prompt consideration. What can be done with transient peddlers who are "working" our town in increasing numbers? They pose more of a problem than a casual observer realizes until after "the horse has been stolen." Let's lock the barn now and do as other communities have done by enforcing a get-tough policy with the out-of-town peddler.

Maybe you haven't had any trouble with them recently. But if you have, you know how The Herald feels. We're referring, of course, to the one-stop, here today, gone tomorrow, high pressure sales artist who locates nowhere but sells everywhere. You know the kind, magazine crew salesman, smooth talking courtier of imported linen, expert roofing and siding dealer, etc., the man who comes in to glean and go.

Now many of these men (and women) may be honest in their sales and stand behind their products, but to safeguard first, the home-owner and the housewife and second, protect the local merchant, let's get these outsiders registered and either require a substantial bond or peddler's fee.

Competition, of course, is the American way, but these transient salesmen have neither price, goods or service that can't be obtained right here at home better. Remember these traveling people have a lot of extra costs to meet.

If you buy at home you are dealing with a merchant who is here to stay and stands behind his sales after delivery. But it's not just these firms that need protection, it's the housewife who has a high powered, well trained hawker in the house the moment she opens the door. The first thing she should be able to say, "Have you a Tecumseh peddler's license of identificaton?" If not, the salesman is trespassing. He should be in violation of a public law and prosecuted for such. It should go right into the hands of the police. Some salesmen have worked the village and gone on unknown to the parties they called upon and sometimes sold. If anything is amiss after they leave, or the imported linen turns out to be Nitro, W. Va., rayon, there's no way to correct a bad situation. If we enforce the registration and license, the above-board, top quality salesmen will not mind and the fly-by-night will be eliminated.

The village council thought along that line a month or so ago when they asked for ideas about revising the outmoded ordinance which dates back many years and read in part . . . "Peddlers or any transient merchant or trader going about said village of Tecumseh on foot, from place to place or from door to door, or with any vehicle drawn by team, horse, mule or other means of locomotion, or propelling by cart, wagon or barrow, carrying with them or selling or offering for sale any articles or property, shall pay a daily license fee . . . ."

A new law is necessary, right now. Unlicensed peddlers are coming through Tecumseh every day, and there's no local protection. Our government is really a government of the people, so those interested should give their ideas to the Council, which is always eager to carry out the best plan for the community.

LENT — "Even when we are at our prayers, the flies of distraction buzz around us. We may be repeating the Lord's Prayer with our lips while thinking of next day's dinner, or whether a coat will carry through another season. Then we come to ourselves at the words that God is the kingdom, the power and the glory, while our realm has been limited to a menu or an outward appearance." — Bishop of Gibraltar.

ANOTHER VALVE CLOSED — President Eisenhower is plugging up a leaky valve in Washington which has been draining far more tax money down the rat hole than our state men in Lansing ever thought of. And Eisenhower isn't doing it alone, either, the air of our new Congress is "get tough on waste." Incidentally, Congress has refused to make his $50,000 expense allowance tax-free. Though Truman had enjoyed such and even recommended to Congress that Ike should have the same privilege, the new solons in Washington showed their Republican ways and refused.

Ike's $50,000 expense account is thus reduced from $50,000 to $11,000, since about $39,000 of it will be paid to the federal government in taxes. It seems fairly obvious that a $39,000 tax, out of a $50,000 sum is excessive. With American boys dying in Korea, such a tax rate can temporarily be justified. However, in ordinary times, there is no justification for such a rate and the danger in establishing such rates is that removing them always proves far more difficult than establishing them.

Bishop Marshall R. Reed of the Methodist churches of Michigan is bidding farewell to his assistant, Dr. Glenn M. Frye, and Mrs. Frye. They leave Friday by air for a two months tour of Mission work in South America. Michigan Methodists are currently engaged in a project in Chile of helping build a dozen Chapels, Churches and Schools, besides Scholarships and other interests. Mr. and Mrs. Frye plan to bring back human interest stories and pictures of this work.

D. A. R. CHAPTER

Mrs. Orville Laidlaw entertained the Abi Evans chapter of the D.A.R. for their March meeting Friday afternoon. Mrs. Burtsel Claus, the outgoing regent, installed these new officers for the ensuing year: Regent, Mrs. Joe Rice; first vice regent, Mrs. Francis Stone; second vice regent, Mrs. Charles Branigin; chaplain, Dr. Mary Swan; recording secretary, Mrs. Arthur Brown; corresponding secretary, Miss Ethelyn Garlinghouse; treasurer, Mrs. Roy Whiting; registrar, Mrs. Lyman Curtiss; historian, Miss Edith Ingersoll; librarian, Mrs. Vergil Deming, and directors, Mrs. Kenton Hunt and Mrs. LaVern Russell.

Announcement was made that Mrs. Faye Whelan will take the club's Citizenship girls to Saginaw Friday for the State D.A.R. conference, when recognition will be given to all girls chosen throughout the state.

Mrs. Fred Dickinson as leader, then presented a program under the direction of Duane Furbush, "Forward with Youth." It consisted of a declamation by Gary Hiser, a humorous reading by Janet Bashore, two interpretive readings by Betty Greene and Doris Tressler and an extemporanious speech by Merlin Wagner. All are students in the high school speech course and all showed talent and excellent training.

Mrs. Laidlaw, assisted by Mrs. Lyman Curtiss, served refreshments from a charmingly decorated table, gay with spring flowers.

In April an evening meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Floyd Elliott under the leadership of Mrs. Burtsel Claus. The program will be "Mexico, Our Neighbor" by Dr. Arthur E. Jervis of Tipton.

MRS. SCHNEIDER HONORED

Mrs. Jack Osburn and Mrs. Robert Laidlaw entertained last Thursday evening at the Laidlaw home, 409 W. Brown st., with a stork shower honoring Mrs. Karl Schneider. Games were the entertainment for the occasion and the prizes, which were won by Mrs. Robert Bowers, Mrs. Lillard Brown and Mrs. Richard Allen, were presented by them to the guest of honor. The shower gifts were arranged on a table decorated by a large stork. The hostesses served refreshments at small tables centered by bouquets of spring flowers in containers appropriate to the occasion. Mrs. Richard Allen of Ann Arbor was an out of town guest.

ENTERTAINS AT SHOWER

Mrs. Thomas O'Hara was hostess Wednesday evening to a bridal shower in honor of Mrs. Barbara Briggs Schulze, whose marriage to Wayne R. Schulze took place Sunday.

Games planned by Mrs. Darwin Creger were the diversion of the evening and prizes went to Mrs. Hugh Schulze, Mrs. Norman Glancy and the honored guest, who was presented many beautiful gifts.

Lunch was served by the hostess from a table centered with spring flowers and decorated with spring colors. Guests included co-workers of Mrs. Schulze at Tecumseh Products Co.

RIDGEWAY COUPLE OBSERVES ANNIVERSARY

The fifty-fifth anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Wright of Ridgeway occurred March 1, and even though it had to be observed in Herrick Memorial hospital it was a happy occasion, for Mrs. Wright has improved in health during her four weeks as a patient there. Mr. and Mrs. Wright were married in Britton by the late Rev. Charles I. Deyo. Most of their married life has been spent on a farm in Macon but since 1920 they have lived in Ridgeway. They are the parents of two sons, George of Tecumseh and Charles of Ridgeway, who, with their families, helped to make the day a pleasant one.

A Difficult "Situation"

Did you see that "Classified Ad" last week? The one that wanted a farmhand who had to be "an expert agriculturist, sheep herder, tractor driver, bridge player," plus being "an authority on chemistry and mathematics"?

Slim Thomas, who ran that ad more or less as a joke, called and said, "I got 23 answers and almost every one claimed they could meet all those qualifications! That means I want to keep the man I have—'Handy' Peters.

"He was thinking of quitting but now I've got to talk him into staying. Handy never pretends to be an expert, he's just a good all-around hired hand."

From where I sit, Slim's smart to be wary of people who consider themselves to be all-around "experts." Some folks will "expert" on anything—from the clothes a man should wear to whether he ought to drink beer or buttermilk. Personally I don't want to "classify" myself as knowing all the right answers.

Living With Peace Of Mind

By KIRBY PAGE

Worship in the sanctuary of the church changes human desire and provides God with opportunity, and God never misses an opportunity. Desire may be high or low, strong or weak, as determined by stimuli, from without and from within. When desire is exalted and mighty, God is able to enrich human life.

In public worship attention is centered in God and a feeling of awe and adoration is engendered. This changes what a man wants. The expression of gratitude in hymns of thanksgiving is warming, mellowing, and changes desire. Awareness of guilt and confession of sin and petition for forgiveness make strong aspiration and yearning. The challenge of the Bible passage, the sermon and the hymn of commitment open wide all human faculties to the holy activity of God. The prayer of intercession creates a feeling of human solidarity and mutual dependence upon God.

To all this is added the moving impact of great music, the influence of noble architecture, the beauty of light through stained glass, the melting power of sacred memory, the pulsing of common emotion through the congregation. With ample justification did Jesus promise, Where two or three are gathered together in my name, there am I in their midst. And out of the experience of the Psalmist came the cry:

As a deer longs for the watercourses
So my whole being longs
for thee, O God.
My whole being thirsts for
God, for the living God . . .
O God, thou art my God,
I yearn for thee,
Body and soul, I thirst,
I long for thee,
Like a land without water,
weary, dry.
As I have seen thee in the sanctuary,
With visions of thy power
and majesty,
So will I bless thee while I live,
Lifting my hands in prayer to thee.

GENERAL TELEPHONE CO. MAKES SCHOOL PAYMENT

General Telephone Company reported this week the payment of $295,106.40 into the State Primary School Fund during 1952. It was explained that the Company pays a state property tax earmarked for the primary fund in lieu of other property taxes.

While General Telephone Company operates in only 32 counties of the state, all counties share in School Fund taxes paid by the Company since allocation of the fund is on a state-wide per capita basis. This means that 1,519,514 children between the ages of 5 and 19 will share in the benefits from the payment, reported to be the largest in the Company's history, Ernest G. Greene, local manager explained.

A Health Report

One of President Truman's most controversial recommendations was for a compulsory health insurance program. During his entire stay in the White House, Mr. Truman kept up the chatter for such a program, but he never went into details, never offered a specific plan which he termed "it." Recently, however, a group he had appointed a year ago reported on the health problem (and there is one in this country).

This fifteen-man commission was composed of doctors, social workers and laymen. The commission did not recommend President's proposal for compulsory health insurance. Nor did it go along with the American Medical Association's exactly opposite view, in favor of an all-voluntary program. Instead, the commission recommended an extension of present health insurance prepayment plans operated by both federal and state grants. The program would include those unable to make premium payments and this is a controversial issue.

The commission also recommended creation of a Federal Health Commission, which would report annually to the President and Congress, increased federal appropriations for medical research, hospital construction, etc., and creation of a Cabinet post of Health and Security.

The report may have little effect on any one. The new administration is not likely to follow the recommendations of a commission appointed by President Truman. The report will be treated, probably, as so many other reports are treated in Washington. It will be filed away. But some day this one will probably be dragged out again, since the cost of medical services and attention is getting to be a problem with more and more people

Some people give so much time to attending to the business of others that they forget to attend to their own.

Eisenhower And The Farmer

President Dwight D. Eisenhower's message to Congress, his first address dealing with domestic, as well as foreign problems, has been accepted by the majority in both parties as a successful opening speech to Congress. Of necessity, the new President could not be specific about all of his domestic proposals, since details on many of them are yet to be worked out.

Perhaps the most pressing problem on the domestic scene is the situation which faces farmers in many areas of the country today. Although taxes and a balanced budget are also major concerns of the new Administration, a way must be found to prevent farm prices from continuing to decline while prices paid by the farmer remain at high levels.

The new President indicated he would support the price-support law on the books through 1954. This law guarantees ninety per cent parity price support to major crops and—if left in effect—will provide a smooth transition from Democrat to Republican administrations in the farm field. What the President will recomment to replace the present price support law is a matter of speculation.

The last time the Republicans were in control of Congress, in 1946 and 1948, the price support percentage was placed on a declining schedule. There is strong sentiment in Congress today for such legislation.

The President did not mention specifically what he had in mind as a solution if farm prices continue to decline. Instead, he promised that the Department of Agriculture was giving the matter intensive study and that any such program, in detail, would have to be presented later. This is an honest report, even though some farm-State senators and congressmen might have been mildly disappointed.

Don't worry too much about your boy or girl—just be sure their parents set them an example worth following.

AVOID TROUBLE WITH NEW SAFETY THEME

"You can't go wrong if you follow the advice given in the theme of the new national traffic safety campaign, 'Know and obey the traffic laws'," according to Sergeant Claude Bartell, commander of the Clinton post of the Michigan State Police.

"That's the title selected by the National Safety Council and a good one it is," said Sergeant Bartell. "And the campaign slogan fits right in, 'Don't learn traffic rules by accident'."

In Michigan the campaign is sponsored by the State Safety Commission, with municipal, county and state police cooperating as well as safety organizations and others.

"Just knowing the traffic rules is not enough," Sergeant Bartell stated: "You've got to obey them. Even the unintentional and thoughtless violator causes just as bad a smashup as does the deliberate, reckless driver. And seven out of every 10 fatal accidents are the result of violations on the part of one or more drivers.

"Last year 49,000 persons were killed or injured on Michigan streets and highways. That's equal to the population of a good sized city. There were 165,000 accidents.

"The only sure way we have at present to reduce this terrible toll is by drivers themselves being more faithful in obeying the rules of the road. If every driver practiced courtesy, caution and common sense we wouldn't have these accidents. He should not only know his job, but keep his mind on doing it the right way. That's his best guarantee of staying out of trouble."

Conquering The Flu

The Executive Board of the United Nations World Health Organization recently announced that medical science is about to conquer influenza. The Board believes the year 1954 will see announcements of great significance in this direction.

The major hope seems to be based on a series of vaccines, each designed to combat a specific type of the disease. The complication is that there are so many variations of influenza that the suitable vaccine is somewhat difficult to determine.

The recent epidemic, for example, was termed the A-Prime virus influenza. Once it was identified, a vaccine was prepared and was used with some success in the fight against the threatened epidemic.

There are three main types of influenza, termed A, B and C types. If the type can be recognized early enough, proper vaccines can be made in time and an epidemic avoided. The Executive Board of the U. N. Health Organization believes that, by 1954, sufficient research will have been done to enable quick identification and mass distribution of suitable vaccines to combat influenza epidemics. This should be excellent news to all those who have sampled the latest flu epidemic in the United States.

funds, the 12½% reduction in tuition authorized by the legislature actually reduced our tuition rates $38.00 for elementary pupils and $44.25 for secondary pupils. Now, the legislature is contemplating cutting an additional 12½% from the maximum tuition which a school may charge for 1953-1954. At present tuition is figured on the per capita cost which includes no costs of buildings, old or new, or other capital outlay. This method seems unfair to the school districts which operate high schools and are morally bound to accept non-resident pupils. Should the legislature remove another 12½% this year, Tecumseh schools will suffer. Acquaint our legislature with this fact!

Tecumseh schools are now operating on less money per pupil than in any recent year. In the face of rising costs for almost all materials, the scarcity of teachers, inadequate salaries, and overloading of classes, it is imperative that our schools be placed upon some sound method of financing. Next week I will write concerning teacher shortages, need for additional training, pupil needs, and our responsibility to see that funds are made available NOW to educate our children.

Installment Buying Up

Recent figures show that U. S. families have piled up an installment debt of over $16,000,000,000. This represents a rise of $3,000,000,000 in 1952, which was the largest increase ever recorded in one year—even larger than the buying-spree year of 1950, when the Korean war began.

The rearmament boom and plentiful money has naturally resulted in an installment buying boom. Bigger incomes and a new optimism have led many families to purchase goods on a monthly payment basis who would not otherwise have been in the market. New automobiles, of course, have been the biggest single factor, and it is estimated that Americans owe over $5,000,000,000 on automobiles being purchased on the installment plan.

Of course, the main thing to keep in mind, when considering the $16,000,000,000 - installment debt, is the fact that wages and income may go down and pinch the family buying on credit and paying so much a month. Since 1953 will probably be the peak year of the rearmament boom, it would be well for Americans to watch their installment commitments more closely. The intelligent American will not allow himself to be saddled with a total of payments which cannot be met in the face of ordinary adversities which may occur from time to time in a changing economy.

Defense

Not long ago in a little town in Southern Pennsylvania the postman went for a walk on Sunday afternoon. He wore his grey postman's uniform and walked out into the country. He never came back.

Several days later an old Yankee farmer came to town and during a conversation was heard to remark: "When I was a huntin' t'other day I seen one o' them Confederates in the woods, so I shot 'im."

Communist School Teachers

In Washington, a sub-committee has been looking into the countrys schools and has found that a total of 34 out of 41 New York teachers have refused to give a yes or no answer to the question whether they had been, or were, members of the Communist Party.

The teachers who have refused to answer have accused the committee of debasing the Senate, of invading the rights of academic freedom and of doing damage to the teaching profession and also harming pupils. Some of the teachers concerned are college-level teachers and others teach in elementary or high schools.

Perhaps the main contention of many of the teachers has been that their qualifications are a matter for the schools employing them to determine and pass upon and not a Senate investigation sub-committee. However, in view of the fact that the Communists profess a desire ot overthrow this government, the jurisdiction of the sub-committee, which has questioned these teachers—an Internal Security sub-committee—is certainly involved.

Congress is naturally interested in what young people of this country are being taught, especially if there is a chance that teachers and propaganda are being planted in colleges and the schools in an effort to gain converts for the Communist Party. In this connection, we see no objection to the sub-committee, or to the school involved, querying teachers on past or present Communist affiliation. And when any teacher fails to answer this question, the school concerned should take proper steps to satisfy all possible doubts or relieve him of his duties.

HOSPITAL AUXILIARY

The March meeting of Herrick Memorial Hospital Auxiliary was held in Fellowship Center of the Presbyterian church Tuesday evening, with the president, Mrs. Hoyt Whelan in charge. Mrs. Charles Stevenson read the devotionals and Mrs. Charles Mensing gave a short resume of the discussions which took place at the Detroit meeting of the Michigan Association of Hospital Auxiliaries, which was attended by five members of the Tecumseh organization.

Mrs. Dale Bowen, finance chairman, gave a report on the money raising projects to be undertaken during the coming year. At the close of the busines ssession the meeting was turned over to the program chairman, Miss Gertrude Spaulding, who introduced the guest speaker, Miss Ella McNeil, professor of Public Health Nursing at the University of Michigan. Miss McNeil, who is an acknowledged authority on the subject, spoke on the serious shortage of nursing personnel in all its fields, and stressed the fact that the situation could be remedied if the public were made sufficiently aware of the dangers involved.

After the formal meeting was adjourned, refreshments were served by Mrs. Gerald Baker and her committee, Mrs. James Hartsell, Mrs. P. H. Kinietz, Mrs. Yale Kerby, Mrs. Sidney Wilson, Mrs. Paul Clauda and Mrs. Floyd Bryan.

CIVIL AIR PATROL

Tecumseh Civil Air Patrol. Squadron 6317-4 met Tuesday evening in the basement of the Central school building with 20 members in attendance. Forest Abner reported on the progress being made in locating a building site for the projected headquarters of the organization and plans were formulated for a scrap drive to be held from March 14 to 21 inclusive, the proceeds of which would be used for the building fund. Anyone who has old iron to contribute is requested to call Earl Roe and arrangements will be made for picking it up. Drivers for the pick-up will be Louis Greenman; Earl Roe, Elmer Burleson, Leslie Calhoun, James Smith and A. H. Roe.

Capt. Miley, communications officer for group 613, gave a very interesting instruction on "Communications in Relation to the Civil Air Patrol." Elroy Vanderpool was then sworn into the squadron as the first cadet, after which the women of the squadron served rolls and coffee.

Next Tuesday night Capt. Miley will give instruction on radio-telephone procedure and a film will be shown on the subject.

HUMANE SOCIETY

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Hamaker were hosts to the Lenawee County Humane Society at their home on Mill street Tuesday evening.

The president, George Bean of Adrian presided over the business meeting when a report was given on the progress of the organization toward the realization of its goal, a home for neglected and lost animals. It is anticipated that the farm property on the Adrian-Tipton road, two and one-half miles north of Adrian will be taken over this weekend. A committee to have charge of its operation was then appointed, consisting of Miss Ruth Cargo, E. L. Peters and Miss Hope Lowery. They have been largely responsible during the past year for the care of nearly 2,000 stray animals most of which have been placed in new homes.

Gifts of $230.00 were acknowledged at this meeting, which brings the contributions to date to a total of $5,100. It was announced that several Tecumseh people have been very generous in this regard and the society feels very gratified over the success of the project.

FLORENCE WELD GUILD

Miss Mary Whitelock and Mrs. Fred Rector were hostesses for the Florence Weld Mission Guild Monday evening at the home of Miss Whitelock. Thirteen members and one guest were present. A social hour followed after which the hostesses served refreshments. The next meeting April 13, will be at the home of Miss Edith Ingersoll when the devotionals will be in charge of Mrs. Jennie Satterlee. Miss Ingersoll will be assisted by Mrs. E. E. Davis.

Mrs. Brown presided over the meeting, which was opened by devotions in charge of Mrs. Harwood, which consisted of the reading by Mrs. Emma Day of the prayer spoken by President Eisenhower at his inauguration ceremonies, and a following prayer by Mrs. Harwood. The theme of the program, conducted by Mrs. Mary McLain was "Building for Total Abstinance Through the Printed Word" and was carried out by readings by Mrs. H. H. Loveland, Mrs. McLain and Mrs. Gillen, some of which were excerpts from the organizations study book. Ten members of the union were present.

Senior Profiles

ED CLARK

For four years now a grey '38 Ford with red painted grills has been slowly crawling to Tecumseh high on school days. The young man who is carefully driving this car is Mr. Ed Clark. Ed has a head of long, eye-catching blonde hair, two large devilish blue eyes, and can hardly squeeze his 167 pounds and lanky 6 foot body behind the steering wheel of his car.

Ed lives with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar J. Clark in Macon. Macon is the large metropolis approximately seven miles from Tecumseh. Ed attended grade school and junior high at Macon.

Ed enjoys football some—so in his freshman year he went out for the reserve football team. He has taken cooperative training for last three years. At the present he is working at Tecumseh Farm Equipment Co.

Ed will graduate with a major in history and English. He has also a minor in math.

For the future Ed plans to continue working after he graduates. That is until—until the draft catches up with him—then he will happily take his place in Uncle Sam's Army.

JIM STUTESMAN

Jim is 17 years of age, very modest and has a lot of friends. He has brown hair and brown eyes. Jim weighs 145 pounds and says, "When I am in condition, I weigh 135."

Jim has attended Tecumseh high school four years. His favorite sport is football and he has won two reserve and one varsity letter. When asked, "what do you think of girls?" Jim answered, "Where would this world be without them?"

After finishing high school, Jim plans to attend a Bible college in Chicago.

Indians Down Hillsdale 41 - 37

In their first district tournament game at Adrian Friday night the Tecumseh Indians took the sting out of the Hillsdale Hornets by downing the Hornets 41 to 37 in a thrilling overtime.

Both teams started slow with Tecumseh taking a slim 6 to 5 first period lead.

In the second quarter the Hornets outscored the Indians 13 to 10 to lead at halftime 18 to 16.

In the third period the Hornets looked headed for a win increasing their lead to a 28 to 23 score.

The Indians began a fourth period drive that knotted the score 35 all ending with a spectacular heave the length of the floor by Jim Wilson that sent the game into overtime.

The Indians proved too much for the Hillsdale quintet in the three minute overtime finally winning out 41 to 37.

Jim Wilson and Bill Benham stole top scoring honors for the Indians with 11 and 10 points respectively.

Diethrich led the Hornets with 10 points.

The Indians will meet Adrian Saturday night for the District Championship.

Sherman L. Loupee, M.D., Dowagiac, named Michigan's Foremost Family Physician by the Michigan State Medical Society House of Delegates, will receive a scroll on March 11 in Detroit during the three-day Michigan Clinical Institute. The scroll will be presented in recognition of Dr. Loupee's valued service to the health of the people of Michigan. Further recognition was given Dr. Loupee by the Michigan Legislature meeting in joint session, March 2. At that time Dr. Loupee, a former Legislator, was presented with a resolution passed by the House and Senate.

FARM BUREAU

A meeting of the Tecumseh-Raisin Farm Bureau group was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Faye Van Valkenburg Monday evening. It was called to order by the president, Steve Anton, who introduced Merlin Wagner, a member of the Future Farmers of America, who explained the work of that organization in this locality and spoke on the subject, "The Future Farmer and His Farmer's Cooperative."

In the absence of Carl Rieves, Clarence Wagner led a discussion on the topic, "Does Michigan Need a Toll Highway System?" It was the general opinion of those present that such a system does not as readily fit in with the geography of Michigan, due to its being a peninsula, as in other states, and therefore we should not act too hastily until more need is felt.

The hosts served refreshments at the close of the program. The next meeting of the bureau will be held April 13 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Rieves.

CHILD STUDY CLUB

Mrs. Robert Manchester, Mrs. Delmar Crisp and Mrs. Owen Partridge were the hostesses for the March meeting of the Child Study Club at the Methodist church parlors Monday evening. It was family night with a pot-luck supper. A number of recitations and songs were contributed by the children present and they in turn were entertained by a program of magic presented by Carlos Jones. The April meeting will be with Mrs. Harold Treby, with Mrs. Russell Cooper and Mrs. Robert Williamson as co-hostesses.

Grade School News

Kindergarten
Mrs. Heimerdinger

During our February holidays, we talked about Abraham Lincoln and George Washington. We made silhouettes of Washington and hung them on our bulletin board. I read stories and poems about our two patriots and discussed the American Flag and its beginning. Along with this we learned the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag.

I have coordinated our work books with the film strips available. The children seem to enjoy the pictures before doing the work involved in the Kindergarten.

We made seasonal charts with appropriate pictures for each season. Each table was responsible for one season and cut and pasted pictures on one big chart.

We are learning the alphabet. Each child can recognize the first letter of his name.

We received new rhythm band instruments last week. We are enjoying the band experience very much.

First Grade
Miss Warner

We are learning about the weather and the seasons in science. We cut pictures out of magazines showing the different kinds of weather. We are making a weather chart, too. Every day we put a picture on it showing what kind of weather we are having.

Barry Seidel brought us some pussy willows. We listened to a poem about the pussy willow cats who ran away and left their toes behind.

We colored pictures of toys. We have made a toy parade across our black board with them.

Second Grade
Mrs. Puffer

Linda brought a cocoanut to school. Mr. Atkinson removed the outer husk and opened the shell for us. We were surprised to see what a great amount of husk one cocoanut has.

We are learning the importance of keeping our teeth clean. Every morning the boys and girls who brushed their teeth before they came to school write their names with pretty colored chalk on the board.

Now that we are having so many indoor recesses because of the muddy playground, we are learning several new games. Our favorite is "Fruit Basket Upset."

We are mostly over the flu and colds now, and are all back in school. Joel was absent longer than anyone because he had chicken pox.

Third Grade
Mrs. Colson

Our room had the display case last week. We used pictures of two great Americans, Washington and Lincoln. Some of the children drew pictures and made posters. We made Lincoln's home of logs, and Mt. Vernon of cardboard.

We have been studying transportation and communication and have made booklets showing many ways of travel. We also saw some film strips of trains, boats, and planes.

In science class we are finding out how plants grow. We are planting some seeds in different kinds of soil to see which kind of soil is best for growing plants.

Nancy Beland, Arthur Collingsworth, and Melvin Smith celebrated their birthdays last Friday. We all enjoyed the ice cream and cakes and had fun with the balloons.

Fifth Grade
Miss Hopkins

This week we have begun our new reading book, "Days and Deeds." It tells of a pig that smiles from ear to ear. Most of us have never seen a pig smile.

The flu has not yet left us. Eleven of us have missed more than five days each since Christmas.

Several interesting sets of specimens of rocks and of sea shells were brought to school recently; also a piece of skull from which we learned how bones protect the eye. The leg-bone which Terry Hendricks brought had shallow sockets at the end for the next bone to fit into.

It was a pleasure to have Sandra Howard's mother with us Thursday afternoon. She said that she enjoyed our book-reports, even though we couldn't tell her exactly what a Palimino is. The fact is, she already knew! The dictionary didn't help us but Ann Cameron came the next day with a volume from her World Book Encyclopdia which had a picture of the horse and a short description of it. They are a beautiful golden color with white mane and tail. The hunt gave us all some valuable practice in research.

Our long branches of pussy-willows are beginning to lose their flowers. But they are still lovely after two weeks in a warm room.

Billy Conklin brought some white soap which his grandmother had made. His report on soap-making was very interesting.

We have made a good start in our Health Books which we began as soon as we had finished our science course. For just this once we are to receive grades in both science and in health on our report cards.

The boys' gym class is taking up boxing. Some of them claim to have been knocked out.

We have posted under President Eisenhower's picture, the card of thanks which we received for our share in the March of Dimes.

Our Social Studies class is shivering on Alaskan glaciers and icebergs. We want to stay there until we can tell them apart.

Seven boys and girls in our room have been bringing in reports and exhibits from their parents or other relatives who have taken trips to Florida or to the West.

Sixth Grade
Mr. Kaiser

Teddy Kempf has returned from a trip to Florida. We wish that we could have gone with him. He reported that the swimming was fine.

We will all be happy when the playground is in condition so that we may have recess again outdoors.

After reading the story "A Letter for Nikias," we divided the class into two groups. Each group then dramatized the story, and presented it for the other group. We hope to dramatize another story soon.

Marilyn VanCamp has had an operation on her foot. Jerry Fox had his tonsils out last week, and is still absent.

We have two new students in our room. They are Rebecca Armstrong and Robert O'Neill.

The tulips in our room are growing rapidly. We hope that they will blossom before spring vacation.

First Grade, Library
Mrs. Faling

We really have news for you this week. Spotty has got four legs now! He has almost lost his entire tail. We certainly are surprised that he is no longer a tadpole. We have had a lot of fun watching him change right before our eyes.

Our reading groups are all in the 'We Work and Play" books now. The "Space Cadets" are soon going to begin their next pre-primer "We Come and Go." We are all trying ot read faster and also trying to read as we think the people in the story are talking. Some of us make excellent Dicks, Janes and Sallys.

In arithmetic we are learning the number words. We did so well learning our color words that we feel confident we will learn these even faster. So far we have learned through six. We now can do seat work from the board because we can read so many words.

We certainly like to work in our writing books! We are proud to know that we can spell quite a few words without looking at them. We use a rubber ball which helps us learn to spell. This is really fun. We are making a spelling list of all the words we can spell.

David Dustin just returned from Florida. He was gone ten days. He had a lot of nice things to show and tell us.

Peggy Morris and Phyllis Brooks had birthdays last month. They are seven years old.

Jay Osburne is a new boy in our room. He came from the Central building. Now we have twelve boys and twenty-three girls.

Methodist Pastor Traces Tecumseh's Early Settlement

By Rev. R. A. Brunger

(This is the eighth in a series of historical sketches which outline the settlement of Tecumseh, founding and growth of the local Methodist church).

Rev. Joseph Bangs remained a local preacher, and never became connected with the Conference. He continued to work at his trade as a blacksmith and at farming, and preached as the occasion offered which seems to have been very frequent in the early years. One historian writes: "The first religious services in Macon township were held by Joseph Bangs, a Methodist minister, in a log house near Pennington's Corners."

And again we read: "The grave of Benjamin B. Fisk was the first dug in the old burying ground (at Clinton), and the cemetery was laid out . . . the day following Mr. Fisk's death. Elder Bangs, the first Methodist minister in Clinton, preached the funeral sermon." Bangs was a great power for righteousness and the Methodist cause in these early years. Today, rather large gravestones for that time, mark the graves of Elder Bangs and his wife, in the west side of Brookside cemetery.

We are told that the first Quarterly Meeting, the first visit of the Presiding Elder of Tecumseh, was held here in the summer of 1829 and conducted by Zarah H. Coston. Apparently a communion service and testimonial meeting were features of the quarterly meeting. Pilcher tells us that: "Those who had come into the country from the East had expected to be deprived of such privileges for years, but, being supplied with them so soon, their hearts overflowed with gratitude to God for them. This gratitude burst forth in songs and expressions of thanksgiving."

Rev. George W. Walker was closing his two years labor on the Monroe Circuit. William Cross writes of his work: "His circuit was very extensive. It extended to the Auglaize river in Ohio, Fort Defiance, Maumee, St. Lawrence and Vistula (now Toledo), Erie, Monroe, Tecumseh, and Blissfield. In making his circuit he traveled a distance of about twelve hundred miles, and was obliged to ford or swim the Maumee river twice. He was a muscular, sturdy, earnest, devoted preacher, and had a voice that could be heard for a half mile or more when preaching, or singing his songs of praise in the forest temple." Pilcher pays this tribute: "He served the Circuit faithfully and well, performing great labor, and enduring much privation, exposure and suffering for the sake of the cause. He was a man of sound and deep Christian experience—confiding in the atonement—and of much resolute perseverance."

In Sept. 1829, Jacob Hill was sent to the Monroe Circuit. A few families had settled at Adrian in 1827 and John Janes of the Detroit Circuit, had preached there that autumn. Jacob Hill in the spring of 1830, made Adrian a regular appointment, coming once in four weeks on a week night. He organized a society of five members there in the summer of 1830.

On Sept. 8, 1830 the Ohio Conference met at Lancaster. James W. Finley was appointed to the Monroe Circuit. Finley wrote a heroic chapter of devotion and zeal. The Circuit extended from Defiance, Ohio, to Monroe and Tecumseh. On this extensive circuit, Finley felt keenly that one break in the chain of appointments "must occasion several, hence, whatever might be the condition of the unbridged streams, he felt he must go.
